Church Softball

Record-breaking rains caused two more nights of postponed games in the South Side YMCA Church Leagues during the week of June 16. In games that were played, St. Leo won first-round honors by defeating Oakwood Methodist. Other games in the Monday Junior loop saw Frebis Avenue Church of God winning its first game of the season by outclassing Gates-Fourth in a hard-fought game, and Washington EUB scored the upset of the day by downing Livingston in a real thriller. In the Monday Night Intermediate game, Livingston's sluggers found their hitting eyes and, behind Nunn's effective hurling, topped the boys from Emmanuel, to stay in the thick of the fight for the championship trophy.

In Wednesday's play, St. John with Koetz and Campbell getting four hits apiece, downed Thurman and Ohio EUB slugged its way to a convincing win over Southwood—could be the boys from Church of Christ were too busy admiring their new shirts). In other games Al Passante's midgets tasted victory for the first time by nosing out Emmanuel in a game that was not decided until the final out of the game and St. Leo continued undefeated as it again blended good pitching by C. M. Schneider with timely hitting to overcome an aggressive but outclassed aggregation from St. Paul E&R.

July 4th Fete—

plete first-aid unit in case of emergencies.

The Council of South Side Organizations has suggested that residents stay off the highways and by-ways and celebrate a safe and sane Fourth with your neighbors at Southview Park. The displays will open at 2 p.m. and the fireworks will start at dusk. There will be no parking worries, as there are plenty of parking lots available at no charge, and police protection will be provided by the Auxiliary Police Association.

Location

Southway Park is located just east of the Greenlawn-av project and just west of S. High-st. Turn west on Greenlawn-av and cross the bridge. The park begins, on the left, just after crossing the bridge.

Questions Answered

Does your son or daughter want to know more about armed forces service life? All the questions will be answered at the park, as all the armed forces will have displays showing the various phases of peace and wartime duties.

The navy will feature several units, with one coming in from the Naval Training Station showing a complete navigation unit, a 20 millimeter cannon, and a depth charge. The marines will have a parachute-packing display and several information booths showing boot camp life. The army will have several displays, including a set-up showing various dangerous war souvenirs. The air force will have such displays as a crash unit from Lockbourne Air Base and the equipment that a pilot wears while flying a jet.

Appeal

This is your day at home and it is all made possible by donations to the Council of South Side Organizations by various local business and civic organizations, a spokesman said. In the event of rain the displays will be set up the next day, on Saturday, July 5, with the same program.

A dozen large eggs must weigh at least one and one-half pounds. A dozen medium sized ones will weigh between one and one-fourth and one and one-half pounds. Small eggs will weigh a little over a pound per dozen.

Summer Playgrounds

The schedule for the coming week is: Thursday, June 26, Dodgers vs. Redlegs and Braves vs. Jets.

Wednesday, July 2, Pirates vs. Jets and Giants vs. Cardinals.

Any father interested in helping coach a Little League team please contact the playground.

All boys and girls should come early and sign up for all the sporting events.

Karns

The Little Jet League is being held in two sections this year. The eight and nine year old boys play at 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and the 10-12 year olds play at 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. Players are still needed.

Softball teams are now being formed for both boys and girls, ages eight to 18. The girls Intermediate softball team will practice every Thursday at 1 p.m. while the Junior girls' team will practice every Tuesday at 1 p.m. Games will be announced.

The Arts and Crafts period will be every day from 3 to 6 p.m. A variety of activities will be offered then.

A pet show was held Wednesday evening and the South Side sectional pet show is being held tonight at Schiller park. It is open to all.

Day camp will be held the week of July 14. Registration may now be at the playground. It is for children eight through 12 years old only, and will cost $2.50.

Physical fitness tests are being given Monday afternoons, and track practice and instruction will also be given for boys and girls of all ages.

Karns Playground is open Monday through Friday from 12:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. The leaders are Miss Shirley Lantz, Norman Cohagen, and Harold Scheiderer.

South East Lions

By Shirley Chancellor

Summer vacation has finally arived at Southeast Lions playground where hundreds of youngsters — packed with vim and vigor — are meeting daily with new recreational leaders Norman Ward and Shirley Chancellor.

The summer-long program will offer special events such as ball tournaments, lantern parades, a junior olympics, picnics, day camps and movies.

The playground is open daily from 12:30 to 8:30, with basketball, horseshoes and quiet games available daily. The wading pool also will be open for youngsters 12 and under.

Prospects for the baseball teams are currently being signed up.

Southeast Lions playground will participate in the pet show being held at Schiller Park tonight. Boys and girls still can enter their favorite pets all day, today. For instructions they can consult their leaders.

Facts of the Matter Restudied

Dog is not man's best friend.

David Postle, public relations poet laureate of the Borden Milk Co., gave all the reasons Tuesday in the weekly luncheon meeting of Southern Kiwanis.

"Not dog, Postle said. "It's the cow . . . has been since Biblical times . . . and probably will continue."

Postle compiled hitherto secrets of all sorts to bulwark his thesis. For example, did you know that King Solomon attributed his numberless family and military achievements to the "foster mother of mankind?"

Those who don't are in a class with Ponce de Leon, who, it's said, wasted his life in America in search of the "elixir of youth," while it grazed peacefully in the side pasture back home in Spain.

June is National Dairy Month.

Falters Match Hits With Margulis July 4

Baseball All Afternoon

Falters Packers will be one of the teams playing at Southview Park on Greenlawn-av when the Council of South Side Organizations touches off its biggest Fourth of July Celebration "ever."

They'll meet Margulis Department Store team. Also playing for baseball minded picnickers will be two teams from the American Legion, and local girls teams.

The fete begins at 2 p.m., will conclude at dusk with fireworks. Plenty of picnic space is available for families.

Fourth Party Fused With Fun Tomorrow At Southview

There's A New Day Coming —

The first of 76 parking meters for S. Parsons-av was installed Wednesday morning of last week along the West side of the street near Schottenstein's Department Store.

The move was made at the direction of the Columbus Traffic Commission as the first in a program series aimed at relieving congestion in main South Side thoroughfares.

There will be more meters installed in weeks ahead.

Studies already made indicate that long-time parkers are responsible for much of the congestion. It is now expected that meters will make off-street parking lots a next requirement

"There's a new day coming," was the approving exclamation voiced last week by many South Side merchants.

It has been said that city officials have no current plans for transferring street parking to off-street areas, but it has also been said the new time limiting regulations will, in time, prove the feasibility of new parking areas, and perhaps suggest a practical program.

If these new areas should become reality, it is expected they will be metered for long-time parking.

New regulations now prohibit parking on the east side of Parsons-av between 7 and 9 a.m. every morning except holidays and Sundays. Officials say the regulations will be enforced.

The meter installation started last week will be carried out on a continuing basis, or as ship-

Certificate Awarded

Traffic Engineer James V Musick was notified last Friday that the City of Columbus has been awarded a certificate of recognition from the Institute of Traffic Engineers in Washington, D.C.

The award was made for meeting or surpassing 85 per cent of the recommended performance standards of the institute. Musick was informed that Columbus was one of 53 cities of varying sizes to receive the award.

The Little Jet League opened its season last week with three scheduled games. The Braves, piloted by the pitching of Pat Parker, won over the Phillies, 9-0. Confederate $$ To Be Awarded By Leader

Now listen to this you all Southerners!

"Confederate" money is going to be good again . . . that is, the kind that's printed by The South Side Leader will be good . . . and just as good as gold . . . when you spend it in stores advertising in The South Side Leader.

How do you get this money? Well, it is all very simple if you are a regular paid subscriber to The South Side Leader.

Starting this week 10 copies of the Leader will contain a small insignia like the one shown here. The ones containing the $1 insignia are worth $1 in "Confederate Money." Any paper containing the $5 insignia will be worth the amount currently in the Leader Jack Pot. This week the Jack Pot will start off worth $5. It will grow by this amount each week that the jack pot is not claimed.

The "Confederate" insignia will always appear in ads in the Leader. They will be easily recognized and will often be printed in special colored ink.

Persons who have a "Confederate" insignia should take their entire copy of the Leader to the Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av, no later than noon Saturday where they will be paid in Leader "Confederate" money which may be spent with any advertiser in that week's Leader

Read about the "Confederate" Money awards each week in The Leader. Search the Leader ads each week in quest of your award. But by all means be certain that you pay your Leader carrier boy because if you don't you will not be eligible to win the award if the insignia appears in your paper

South Siders 'New' July 4th Mixes Rides Exhibits, Fireworks

Members of the general committee of the Council Of South Side Organizations announced completion today of details for the greatest Fourth of July celebration ever held in the South Side.

The program for the day's affairs are printed herewith, and it will be a help, the committee suggested, if Leader readers cut out this program and the maps on this page as a guide for making a tour of Southview Park exhibits.

The program begins at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon and continues officially until 9 p.m.

Family picnics are invited. There will be plenty of space, and facilities already are prepared. Everyone is urged to be present when the flag is raised by Southway American Legion Post.

As usual, the TB Society X-ray will be on hand to give opportunity for many to check their health, and without charge of any kind.

The armed forces "delegates" will contribute greatly to the success of the day. They are listed in the program on this page. They will be engaged in what is routine work to them, but activities of the most important kind, according to those who know. The military, it was said, will give fully of its support to making the day one to be long remembered.

Then there are the games—girls' softball, when St. Leo girls meet St. Paul E&R girls. Both teams are reported in first-class condition—"pink" of condition, they said.

The day will be "fully full" from the moment when the flag is raised until the National Anthem is sung at 9 p.m., by Helen Wohlfart.

The Council of South Side Organizations has made the program "reality" because it feels the South Side needed a new kind of close-to-home celebration — a safer less-traveled Fourth of July.

The day's fun for everyone will be its achievement.

It has been made possible only through the generous support of merchants and other friends of the South Side.

As fun day nears, they have a single thought . . . a single voice: "South Siders, this is your own fete. Attend it and enjoy it."

Program For July Fourth

Flag raising by Southway Post American Legion

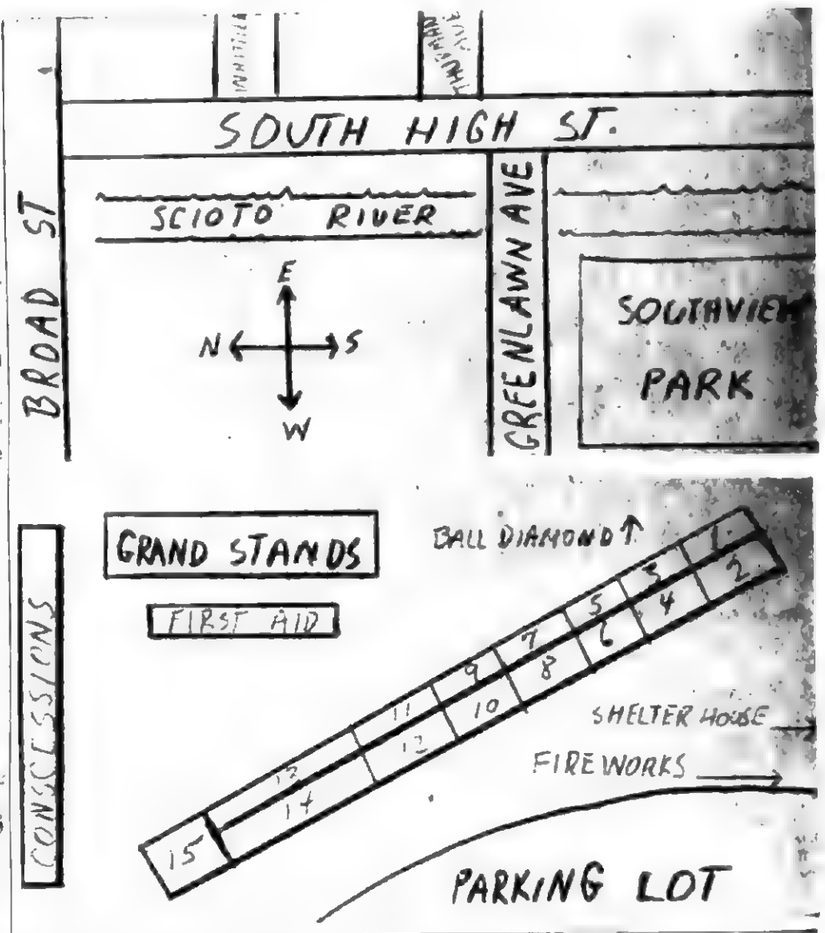
4:30 p.m.—Girls' Softball, St. Leo's vs. St. Paul E&R.
6:30 p.m.—Games for children, ages 12 and under.
7:30 p.m.—Men's Softball, Falter Packers vs. Margulis Department Store.
8.50 p.m.—Prayer, Rev. Paul C. Koefer, St. Paul E&R; National Anthem, Helen Wohlfarth, accompanied by Evan Kress, accordionist.
9:00 p.m.—Gigantic Fireworks Display.



Demonstrations and Exhibits

The following exhibits and demonstrations (as shown on the map diagram at right) will be moved into Southview Park this week and made ready for opening at 2 p.m. (All exhibits are free)

(1) Lockbourne AFB Fire Department, (2) U.S. Marine Corps Recreation demonstration, (3) Marine Corps Air Reserve, (4) Marine Corps Reserve, (5) U.S. Wac display, (6) Ordinance demonstration, (7) Lockbourne AFB, (8) National Air Guard, (9) Columbus Motor Speedway, (10) Naval Reserve, (11) Boy Scouts, (12) Naval Air Station, (13) Fire Prevention, (14) Red Cross, (15) TB Society, and (16) First Aid.

Fourth Of July Sponsors

See page 10 for a complete listing of firms and individuals whose donations will make the bigger and newer South Side July 4 Fete the best ever.

SSL Carrier Hurt Playing Rough 'Commando Tactics'

A rough game that got out-of-hand brought serious injury recently to a popular South Side boy, a Leader carrier.

From the accident comes a warning to all young fellows tempted to play "big", and also a warning to those persons who congregate at the scene of accidents and hamper the work of emergency squadmen.

Ralph Hammock, 595 E. Whittier-st, is now in Children's Hospital, hospitalized for an indefinite period with a broken jaw bone and badly lacerated chin. He was hurt and knocked unconscious by a playmate who practiced a "pressure hold" after the manner of properly trained "commandos."

Ralph will recover, but he has his teeth wired together and must live on a liquid diet for six weeks.

The warning to on-lookers at the scene of accidents is straight talk from the squadmen themselves. Ralph's parents had to fight there way through a mob to get assistance.

In passing it must be noted that Ralph was a trusted carrier of the South Side Leader. And such a good carrier that he has been carrying a double route for over a year.

His route is in good temporary hands. Buddies Tim Casto, 625 Whittier-st, and Briley Richardson have taken over his routes until he returns.

Hitting, Hurling In — First Game

Frebis Avenue Church of God, Washington EUB, and St. Leo won their initial games in the second round in Monday-night play in the South Side "Y" Church Leagues. Each of the winners showed strength in the hitting department and their hurling staffs left little to be

PASTE POT HINTS

An Easier Way . . .

Inquiries as to proper methods for sending news to the South Side Leader are occasionally made at the Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av.

The way is very easy. Write (print names) or type the news items and either mail or leave them with us. They can be put through the letter slot on week-ends

Deadline for news copy should be on Tuesday afternoon, the week of publication.

Picture deadlines: Monday morning. Things submitted a week early can be handled with greater efficiency.

Leader reporters in search of feature story material are interested in visiting with South Siders who have colorful histories, interesting hobbies, etc. . . with those who excell in athletics and other skills, with outstanding young people and kind old folks.

News from churches, clubs and social groups is always important to us as it is to other South Siders.

Phone is HI. 4-9262.

Registration for the pet show was held on the southeast lawn where visitors, parents, kids and pets assembled amid a cacophony of animal noises. Left to right, with pets in front, Vickie Skinnza 2262 S. Sixth-st, and her dog; Paula Kirk, 2398 Dearing-rd, and her turtle, and entry in the "smallest" class; Tom Gillidon, 226 S. Fifth-st, with two rabbits (in box); Darrell Hughes, 1649 S. Third-st, with kitten (seated); Elora Baker, 1651 S. Third-st, with her big white rabbit. Bob Moore, 2405 S. Sixth-st, sits on the big rock where a commemoration to Franklin County soldiers of the Mexican War has been inscribed.

Pet Show In Schiller's Play Garden

Schiller Park, down through the years, has been a vacation time home away from home for numberless South Side youngsters and their pets.

Last Thursday night they revisited—all of them it seemed—when the city recreation department held a district elimination in search of the "largest, smallest, cutest, best dressed . . .etc." children's pets.

The program began about 6:30 p.m., was concluded several hours later after a wonderfully exciting adventure that included recorded music from an amplifier specially set up, a cacophony of animal noises from the tiniest meow to a barrel chested protest from a jumbo German Shepherd.

There were line-ups, registrations, parading on leashes, etc., and finally the judging and the awarding of oversized ribbons.

A pet show is a noisy place where fun flirts with defeat . . . where a child's love for his pet suffers a terrible growing pain

Few places make so suitable a setting as Schiller in early evening.

Someone made Schiller Park an untroubled play garden years ago. The young men and women of the city recreation department are currently giving their vacations — some give careers—to administering programs that teach . . . bolster . . . soften the kids, must be given passing recognition for this and other summer-long activities.

Llewelyn Vows To Fight Gravel Veto And Redick

City Council president W. Wesley Llewelyn averred that Service Director Floyd C. Redick is now exercising dictatorial powers over the city of Columbus, after he alleged that Redick had applied pressure on Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner to veto an ordinance aimed at permitting the Visintine Equipment Co. to dig gravel on a Frank-rd tract of city-owned land.

Council has passed the measure over the objections of both the Parks Division and the Planning Commission. Parks Division has voiced a desire to turn the plot into a nursery.

Llewelyn has said he will try to muster enough strength in Council to override the veto.

The Southern Kiwanis Little League "Splashers" may be the team to beat this summer in the six team independent league organized for vacationing boys in the Smith Road, Clarfield, Scioto Trail, George C. Beery and Heimendale schools.

The Splashers may have the big equalizer in pitcher Fritz Eckert. In the game played Thursday with last year's league champs, the Panthers from Fornof School, Fritz threw a sensational no-hit, 15 strike-out game. Final score was 11-0. Eckert's team mates played errorless ball behind him.

The Crystal Swimming Club sponsors the Splashers in the 4-year-old league which was organized and sponsored by Southeast business and industrial firms. Now partially self-supporting, the league has picked up the support of the newly organized Southern Kiwanis.

Bible reading at this meeting was led by Robert Fischer; a demonstration was conducted by Larry Gaffin; games were led by Don Miller.

PEAR CROP

Ohio's pear crop is estimated at 60,000 bushels for 1958. This is up nine per cent over 1957.

Horn flies pierce the skin of cattle and suck blood, causing pain and annoyance. They commonly are a problem in the spring and early summer.

Ohioans are becoming concentrated in and around metropolitan centers and differences between rural and urban people are decreasing.

Southview Restaurant Opens

Chef Pantanella has opened his new Southview Restaurant at 809 S. High-st. Tom Sharp photo

Chief Pantanella, a long time favorite with folks who relish the finest in Italian foods, has opened a new restaurant at 809 S. High-st. The restaurant will be called "SouthView Restaurant." It will feature old-country style delectables for both dining out and taking home.

The take home feature is an altogether new idea. Chef Pantanella has perfected a way to package such good things as chicken cacciatorre, spaghetti, and a dozen other Italian foods so they may be stored in the home freezer and refrigerator.

An opening day feature of the new Southview Restaurant will be "all the spaghetti you can eat.' 'Read advertisement on page 12 of this newspaper and use the coupon.)

Joe Mesi, owner of the Southview Bar, next door to the new restaurant, confirms everything claimed for Pantanella's culinary skill. Said he: "Visit both of us next Monday . . . we compliment each other wonderfully.'

Troop 113 Makes All-Day Trip To Y-Park; Tag Trees

By Elizabeth Smith
HI. 3-1184

Twelve Girl Scouts from Troop No. 113 had a cook-out and field examination in a recent outing to Y-Park.

In the afternoon, the girls, with the help of Mr. Di Gioia of South Parsons Nursery, name tagged about 35 trees in the park.

Jane Reese finished her requirements for the five-point program during the day. The girls tagged trees so that visitors could easily identify them.

Margie and Dick Foreman attended the South Side Optimist charter party at the Fiesta Club on Saturday night.

Mrs. Freda Pearrell is still in Mt. Carmel Hospital, Room 341. She is responding to treatment and hopes it will not be much longer until she can come home.

Carol Scheiderer, Linda Kleinlein, Phyllis Lattimer and Pat Smith had a going-away surprise party for Mickey Fishking on Sunday evening at Phyllis' home. About 20 of his friends attended and had a very nice evening of games, dancing and, of course, eating. Mickey is moving from Marion Franklin district and will attend Eastmoor High School next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boren and boys spent the past week-end visiting relatives in Portsmouth.

My brothers, Robert and Harry McQuiniff, and their families and I had ourselves a picnic at Griggs Dam and a visit to the zoo on Friday. This is the first time all three have been able to be together since Harry decided to make his home in Florida.

Jerry Crabtree was brought home from Grant Hospital last Friday, but will be readmitted to the hospital again today for further treatment and will be there for at least a week more. He wants me to thank everyone for the cards he received last week, for they helped a lot in keeping his spirits up while he was not allowed to have visitors. So now that he has to go back to the hospital, let's keep the cards of cheer going to him. He is making progress in his recovery from the serious operation, but the progress is very slow.

Mrs. Zigmond Fuleki, 1637 Frebis-av, is a patient at Grant Hospital.

Sharon Pearrell spent a couple of days last week visiting Pat Smith.

South High EUB Church members and friends are planning a picnic and vesper service for June 13 at our cottage near Ash Cave. The Youth Fellowship will be in charge of the evening vespers. A picnic dinner and supper will be enjoyed by all those going.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lambert and daughter, Beverly, and Janet Goodfleisch, are touring points of interest in the state of Ohio for a couple of days this week.

Newcamp Tire Co. Officially Opened

Golden scissors in the hands of Columbus Councilman Ralston Westlake officially opened the newly enfranchised Walter Newcamp Firestone store last week. Located at 1635 E. Livingston-av and Fairwood-av, the gala three-day open house was attended by countless youngsters and oldsters who were on hand for the drawing of grand prizes, and other entertainment. Left to right, above, Newcamp, Firestone's District Manager Gerrould, and Westlake. Whitehall Mayor Moling drew the grand prizes (1) for Paul Sullivan, Jr., 506 Lilley av, (2) Billy Hasbrook, 1760 Forest-av, and (3) Donna Ryan, 981 Fairwood-av. Photo by Tom Sharp

Rescued On Parsons-av

A South Side Leader photographer sat in front of Hoermles Appliances last Thursday waiting to catch the dramatic moment when Parsons-av was given its first parking meters . . . when along came the wandered shown in the hands of the boy above.

Barely able to fly—and certainly not able to cope with Parsons' traffic—he was rescued by the lad and thus saved from smashing by cars barreling past.

It had been said several times that morning "that it isn't safe crossing Parsons-av now—not even for a bird."

The Camp Fire Girls of Columbus and Franklin County are fortunate in having two types of camping offered them each summer. The Camp Fire Girls' resident camp is located in beautiful Hocking County near the State Park Region. The day camp site is located at Blendon Woods.

Camp Wyandot has 252 acres of wooded hills, field, and stream to make an ideal camping spot. The campers live in screened sleeping cabins, each cabin housing six girls and two members of the staff. A huge log cabin is the dining and recreation lodge. In addition there is a beautiful nature cabin, a hand craft cabin, a camp craft cabin and first aid headquarters. The swimming pool, completed in 1950, is one of the many attractions at Camp Wyandot.

Camp Wyandot will again be under the direction of Miss Norma Dusi. Miss Dusi is a registered nurse and head of the science department at Grant Hospital.

The camp is open to girls who will be between eight and 15 during the calendar year. There are eight periods during the summer. Periods start June 22 and end Aug. 23.

An advanced camping unit has been set up this year for girls with camping experience who would like to learn greater outdoor living skills.

Camp Fire Day Camp at Blendon Woods is known as Camp Cherokee. The program is made up of activities that feature real camping: living out in the woods with a small group of girls the same age; developing a camp site, cooking, learning to use natural materials; going on discovery trips, and making nature trails. Day Camp can bring a girl eight days packed full of fun and adventure. There are four Day Camping periods to accommodate all the districts.

Hope Lutheran

Four visitors who also attended were Jane Corbett, Pam Wilson, Pam Barnes, and Connie Graham.

Judy Sager and Judy Girard went with the girls.

A Dedication To Freedom

The Fourth of July is more than a name.

The title was born in the minds of heroic men who found in the term a hard core of decency and respect for human rights which has constantly, through eons of time, given substance to the values which have grown up and become what we term, with gladness and with joy, "free people" . . . free in thought, and free, within reason, in law.

A people adequate to the task of projecting, in its early nativity, the spirit which would create solid and dynamic thinking, hearts filled with thrill at opportunities where the common good had ascendancy in plans to bring the world a giant whose power was at the command of the downtrodden . . thoughts whose seeds would have spread across many lands and project the spirit of Liberty as exalted by the patriots of the Revolution . . . a dedication of the people to freedom, education, liberty without interfering with others, to build intellectually and physically. The end product has passed in review before us, and the whole wide world, in these many years.

Here we dedicate ourselves to Freedom!

Fire Prevention On Vacation

Each year during the summer months people everywhere take trips, getting out of the city for picnics or other outings, or going on extended vacations. The Columbus Fire Prevention Bureau advises four simple precautions that may help you have a safer time this year.

1. When leaving home for an extended vacation, be sure that all gas appliances are turned off, or that the main valve is shut off at the meter; disconnect all electrical appliances and lights, or pull the main electrical switch; unplug all drains and shut off the water at point of entry into the house and leave word with your neighbors that you will be absent.

2. If you plan to build a fire on your outing, clear the area of all combustibles, make a small fire suitable to your cooking needs, and above all, make sure the fire is out before leaving the site.

3. Use the ashtray in your car instead of throwing that cigarette out the window. Many forest fires have been started by carelesaly discarded smoking materials.

4. Remember, this July 4, that fireworks are illegal in the State of Ohio (with the exception of caps and toy cap shooting devices). Many injuries occur each year among people who disregard this law. A million fires occurred last year in our country, with nearly 12,000 persons killed by fire. Only through cooperation by everyone, can this figure be lowered

It takes over 20 million cows to produce milk in the U.S.

Report Usefulness Of Good 'Backseat Driver' On Trips

Mr. Traffic Accident should be well-rested by now after his busy Memorial Day weekend and in fine shape for his Fourth of July ordeal.

The Columbus Automobile Club has come up with some unique ideas about the advantages of good "backseat drivers" and their potential asset to safe, enjoyable motoring on holidays and during general travel.

Actually, statistics from the Ohio Department of Highway Safety show that Mr. Traffic Accident has had a fairly light year thus far in this state.

May's 141 traffic fatalities including Memorial Day figures, have slacked off 22 percent from last May and 13 per cent from the same month in 1958. Good backseat drivers can help keep this coming weekend's fatalities at a minimum too.

"Backseat driving, done intelligently, can be a big help to the driver of a car," states Russell H. Campbell, general manager of the Columbus Automobile Club.

He added, "In fact, the passenger who supplies useful information without irritating the driver and distracting him from the job of watching the road can contribute much to safe and enjoyable motoring."

Campbell suggested the following "do's and don'ts" for non-drivers while sitting in the passenger's seat:

"Never startle the driver. Don't shout look to call the driver's attention to a beautiful sunset or some scenic attraction. As his involuntary reflexes snap his head around at your exclamation, the car ahead may suddenly slow down, or another car may pull out from a side road.

"Don't irritate the driver by continuously pointing out hazards, traffic signs and driving conditions that are perfectly obvious to him.

"Learn to read maps. If possible, take the full responsibility for navigating on long trips. Read road signs and other bits of interesting information aloud.

Don't just point them out to the driver and cause him to take his eyes off the road.

"On long trips, don't fall asleep. Stay awake and keep the driver company—or he may join you in slumber, with disasterous results!

"Converse with the driver, but don't argue, shout or get him angry.

"Be helpful. Light the driver's cigarette, tune the radio, unwrap the candy bars. If the driver tries to do two things at once, they may be the last things he ever does."

"Too many people take driving for granted," Campbell said. It's a full-time job for one man, but if the passenger will think of himself as a co-driver he will make motoring easier for everyone," he added.

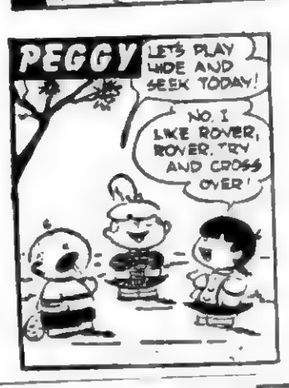
Advertising is the good servant of those who really know how to use it.

Bible Comment

Science Supports Genesis

The story of creation in Genesis, some allege, comes into conflict with science. But there is no real conflict if the story is properly interpreted. On the contrary, there's very real agreement.

The story of Genesis was written before the days of scientific investigation, before the testimony of the rocks was discovered or understood. Scientists have probed the records that God has written in nature, in the rocks, and in various other manifestations. We know that man's roots are a great deal further back than was formerly supposed.



What Genesis teaches is that creation was a process of bringing order out of chaos and this is exactly reinforced by modern science. Scientists have discovered a great many details concerning that long process but, so far as the essential truth is concerned, science has not gone beyond the Genesis story.

This fact is strongly emphasized in a book, "The Days of Creation," by Willy Ley, written from the standpoint of science. The writer has stressed the general parallelism without going into detail.

The great mistake was in reading with narrow literalism what is really the great poem of creation. The marvel is that this poem, written ages before the era of scientific discovery, should be confirmed in the general conception of creation.

Dear Son

Vernon Is 'Visiting' Chittlin' Jail

Chittlin' Switch,
Sunday afternoon.

Dear Jason:

I was reading in the Daily Bugle yesterday that your old buddy, Vernon Stench, was arrested again for drunken driving. Vernon has been up in front of Judge Potts eighteen times in the past year and the Judge has come to dislike him. Anyway, he was found not guilty of drunken driving and then the Judge asked him what he was doing for work these days. Vernon told him he was working at the General Hospital as an orderly. When the Judge heard that he gave Vernon six months for panhandling.

For years your father has tried his best to become a member of the Moonshiner's Benevolent Society over in Pasture Flats but he wasn't very successful. Last week he found out that at their weekly meeting he was nominated as a club member and I thought that he'd be real happy about it. However, after thinking it over, he says that he doesn't want to have anything to do with the lodge whatsoever. Paw says that any organization that is low enough to accept him as a member he wants to steer clear of. Your Paw is a man of principle.

Speaking of principle, I had to have a good heart-to-heart talk with your sister, Ophelia. I told her that she'd simply have to get her mind off of the boys and get busy with her school work. She's not too smart in school and if she wants to get promoted to the fifth grade next year she'd better begin to learn. The other day the teacher called on her to spell Mississippi. Ophelia asked her which Mississippi. The river or the state.

Guess that this is all for now. Oh, yes. Here's a very funny story I heard that you might use the next time a conversation gets dull. Like when you're at a luncheon at your Captain's house. Ask him if he ever heard the joke about the two blood corpuscles who loved in vein. It's a gasser, son.

Write soon.
Your loving,
MOM.

HOW TO PICK YOUR PICNIC STEAKS

What kind of meat to buy for picnicking this weekend is the No. 1 problem for many food shoppers. Will it be steak for your family, regardless of price? If so, meat experts have some suggestions.

For broiling over a charcoal fire these meat experts say a well-marbled steak is essential. By marbling they mean steaks with fat interspersed within the lean. A well-marbled steak will usually be tender and juicy when broiled . . . if it comes from a young beef animal.

You have no way of judging this last point, but federal meat graders do . . . and you can take advantage of their knowledge by using U.S. grades as a guide in picking your picnic steak.

USDA Prime and Choice grades provide steaks which are good for broiling. You can easily tell if beef is federally graded. On the fat covering you will find one or more purple shield-shaped stamps enclosing the grade name and the letters USDA. This shield grade mark is registered in the U.S. Patent Office for your protection. If you are buying pre-packaged steak information is on the label.

Selecting the appropriate cut is just as important as knowing quality when you're buying beef for broiling. Porterhouse, T-bone, sirloin and club steaks are the best. However, a rib steak compares favorably with these in tenderness and flavor, and usually costs less per pound.

Ground Beef — May be the choice of many of us who need to keep an eye on the budget. Try shaping the beef patties ready-to-cook the night before, then refrigerate. You'll find they hold together better for broiling.

Try Filled Hamburger Patties

For filling, use grated cheese seasoned with chili sauce or catsup, and thin slices of onion. Broil or pan-broil.

FRESH FRUITS FOR DESSERT

You can always rely on fresh fruit as a popular dessert for the picnic menu, and the easiest one, too. The fresh fruit market has improved from last week. In addition to the ones listed above you'll find more peaches and plums of better quality, and easier on the budget. The supply and quality of honeydew melons are improving. The eating quality of watermelons is excellent. Both fresh lemons and frozen lemonade are bargains for making all the cold lemonade you can drink.

CROP SUSPECTS

General crops prospects are quite favorable over most of the nation. Natural hazards are still a factor, though, especially the severe infestation of grasshoppers in the Plains area, and flooding in the east and south.

S. Kiwanis Little League Openers

The Southern Kiwanis Little Leagues got off to a flying start on Monday, June 23, at Marion-Franklin High School diamond.

The opening game scheduled the Yankees from Clarfield against the Sabers from Smith Road. When the dust cleared away the Yankees were on the long end of the score by a 2-1 margin.

The game was a well played contest. No runs were scored until the fifth inning.

Walter Clark was the big noise for the Yankees. He pitched a consistent game and although he got into several tight spots, he always managed to get out of them, limiting the Sabres to only five hits.

Cards, Hawks

On Tuesday, June 24, Sheldon Johnson's Cards from Scioto Trail met Bob Miller's Hawks from Heimendale. The Cards took "them to camp" by the score of 20 to 3.

The cards took a liking to the offerings of the Hawks' pitcher and proceeded to score almost every inning.

The regularly scheduled game for the 25th was rained out and then rescheduled for Thursday, June 26. Evidently that extra day of rest is what Fritz Erckert needed, because he pitched his "Splashers" to an 11 to 0 victory over the Panthers. He not only led his team to a victory, he pitched a no-hit game and struck out 15 of the opposition.

Standings July 1

Team	W	L	Pct.
Cards	3	0	1.000
Splashers	1	0	1.000
Yankees	1	1	.500
Hawks	1	1	.500
Sabres	0	1	.000
Panthers	0	2	.000

Games for the week are: July 7, Sabres vs. Panthers; July 8—Hawks vs. Splashers; July 9—Cards vs. Yankees.

One dozen lemons will make about 16 glasses of lemonade.

Today there will be a doll show for the girls from 6 years old and older at the playground at 2:30 p.m. Three prizes will be awarded. One to the largest, the smallest, and the prettiest. Judges for the doll show will be members of the boys' softball team.

Special attention is being given to the boys and girls participating in Smith Center's physical fitness program.

All boys and girls 6 to 15 who participate and meet the required tests will receive a certificate of completion. These certificates are offered in cooperation with the Amateur Athletic Union. Monday evenings from 7 to 8:30 o'clock has been set aside for this program.

Next Thursday, July 10, the Junior Olympics track and field events will be held at South High School. Everyone is welcome.

A special treat is in store each year for the boys and girls who register for Indian Village Day Camp. Smith Road is open for registration to children from this area. Ages eight through 12 years may go to camp. The fee is $2.50 per week. Children will have fun in swimming, outdoor activities and nature hikes.

Southeast Lions

Softball takes the spotlight at the playground this week. Boys' and girls' teams, after a week of practice, will play a total of four games in their respective leagues. The girls' team plays at Fornoff and Lincoln Park and the boys at Karns Playground and Southview Park.

Basketball also comes into the picture as the boys' playground team, composed of recent high school stars and those still in school, play a similar team at Mohawk playground. Southeast Lions have a very formidable team, built around the capable ex-South High stars, George Develin and Ron Wilkie. Any group wishing games with this team, games to be played on playgrounds, are asked to contact Norm Ward at Southeast Lions grounds.

The pet show, one of the first of the many varied activities for the summer, was very good. Many and all types of pets were shown by the children. Barbara Ziegler, with her dog Lassie, won third place in the most obedient class for dogs.

Thursday, July 3, the traveling circus will visit the Southeast Lions playground at 4 p.m.

The playground will be closed on July 4.

Applications are now being filled for the South District track meet, to be held at South High July 10. Both boy and girl events will be held. For further particulars contact the directors of Southeast Lions playground. Instructional classes will be held for those needing some help in the field of track.

Boys and girls are reminded to prepare for the annual lantern parade, to be held soon.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors

By ROD COCHRAN

As you read this many of you will be making plans for the long Fourth of July weekend coming up. A subtantial number of you will spend part of your weekend holiday near the water—swimming, boating, fishing, camping, or picnicking.

Most of us are aware of the safety rules connected with swimming, but when it comes to boating we're prone to blame accidents on kids, bad weather, or fire. The results of a recent survey prove otherwise. The Outboard Boating Club of America found that boating accidents are caused by foolish operation, overloading, standing up in the boat, unbalanced load, and turning too sharply. These are what cause drownings, and turn a holiday into tragedy.

The survey was based on an analysis of newspaper reports of boating accidents over the country in a six-month period. Storms caused more than nine per cent of the accidents and collisions rated almost nine per cent.

Anglers Biggest Casualties

Fishermen were involved in proportionately more fatal accidents than boatmen engaged in other forms of boating activity. Since, fishing, as an activity, does not require high speed operation, the speed factor must be discounted as a major contributor to fatal accidents, said Guy W. Hughes, OBC executive director.

All these statistics are rather dry, I realize, but if you heed their warnings they will keep you from getting wet. There have been many boating rules spelled out, but safe boat operation is a combination of "horse sense" and experience.

Important rules given

While it is not possible to list a safety rule for every situation facing a boat operator, here are a few starters for beginning boaters: Be sure your boat has air chambers if it is made of non buoyant material; never overload; be sure your motor is fitted to your boat, too much power will swamp you; carry extra gas in a safety can—never in a glass jug; carry a fire extinguisher; equip your boat with running lights if it is to be used at night; carry a life vest or buoyant cushion for each passenger aboard; do not buzz other boats, swimmers, docks, or fishermen; never venture out during rough weather or during a storm.

Keep these rules in mind — they will guarantee a happy holiday, and they may save your life.

McCall - Montenaro Bout 4th

The best plans of matchmaker Jimmy Rodgers to compound the finest in exciting wrestling at Jones Park has gone almost out of hand this week. Repeated efforts to put Irish Mike McCall and Silent Montenaro in the same ring for a stipulated time limit has resulted in unlawful riot and mayhem.

This Friday night the men go at it again according to the rules of boxing—in ten rounds—with gloves.

Last week, Montenaro suffered strangulation with a towel when a few casual cutting words were bandied about. Vengeance on Mike is now due, most wrestling fans agree. Montenaro was heavy weight Golden Gloves champ a few years ago.

In German Maneuvers

Two Army men from Columbus recently participated in a field training exercise conducted by the 4th Armored Division near Grafenwohr, Germany. The men are regularly assigned to the division's 50th Infantry in Erlangen.

Pfc. William V. Macioce, son of Mrs. Loretta Macioce, 671 Thurman-av, is a vehicle dispatcher in the infantry's Headquarters Company, near Grafenwohr, Germany. He entered the Army in July 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Hood, Texas. The 21-year-old soldier is a 1956 graduate of Aquinas High School. He attended Ohio State University. His father is deceased.

Pfc. Donald Ratcliff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Ratcliff, 757 Thurman-av, is an automatic rifleman in the infantry's Company C. He entered the Army in May 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Hood. The 23-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate of South High School. He was employed by Johns-Manville Sales Corporation in civilian life.

Contract Is Let For Base Homes

South Side businesses are expecting a new Lockbourne Air Base building program to help spread considerable prosperity here.

The building program as announced last week calls for the erection of 400 new residences at the base, according to the announcement late last week. The contract has been let to a New Jersey concern, it was said. It is considered likely that the contractor will sublet some of the work to contractors and suppliers here.

The new houses will provide homes for 240 airmen and 160 officers. Work is expected to start in August and be completed about June next year.

Kelley-Goodfleisch Nuptials June 21

Miss Carole Francis Kelley, 130 Obetz-rd, became the bride of George Robert Goodfleisch, Saturday, June 21, in services conducted at South Congregational Church.

Carole Francis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelley, Obetz-rd; Mr. Goodfleisch is the son of Mrs. Augustine Hale, 1615 E. Cooke-rd, and Robert S. Goodfleisch, 3224 S. High-st.

The bride wore a gown of rosepoint Chantilly lace and tulle which swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms.

Maid of honor was Miss Sharon Kelley, sister of the bride; the bridesmaids were Miss Maureen Kelley, a sister, and Miss Terry Huiss, Mrs. Janet Lockett and Miss Lois Riffle.

Attendants wore ballerina length gowns of petal pink, embroidered nylon sheer over taffeta and matching hairbraid half-hats with circular veils.

Flower girl was Miss Judy Williams; bestman was Jan Hale. Ushers were Donald Kelley, Timothy Kelley, both brothers of the bride, Roger Lemon and Lewis Pfeiffer. Mickey Hale was junior usher and Jerry Williams was ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore pink sheath with tiers of lace and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore yellow silk dress with matching accessories.

Mrs. Goodfleisch attends Ohio State University. The bridegroom was graduated from Linden-McKinley High School and is enlisted with U.S. Navy Reserves.

One of our dearest friends was scheduled to go into Doctors Hospital the first of this week for an operation so we're hoping she'll soon enjoy the best health she's ever known. Virginia Leonard, 515 Forest-st, is the patient. Markham Theatre patrons will recognize her as the one who sells them their tickets, incidentally.

Nancy Paulus, 68 E. Welch-av, had a pre-birthday treat when she attended a youth conference in Dunkirk, N.Y., last week, as a representative from St. John's E. and R. Church. Nancy's birthday was an event of last Monday, June 30. Sally, Nancy's sister also was in New York, but in the Big City itself. We haven't talked to her since her return, but we're sure the South High School senior is chock-full of impressions and anecdotes.

Congratulations to Dr. James Vickers, 1403 S. Worthington-av, who was appointed as a veterinarian for the Columbus Zoo recently. Dr. Vickers is a spring graduate of OSU. He will be in charge of preventive medicine facilities to protect the $250,000 worth of zoo animals, in addition to his regular duties.

Some recent birthdays that we want to acknowledge are those of Ronnie Berger, June 23; Bonita Metzger, June 25; Gordon Bartee, June 24; Gerry Baughman, June 27; Peggy Grady, June 26; Sharon Coffman, June 23; and the invalid mother of Dorothy Husse, June 22. Sorry we didn't have time to get all the details, but we know Dorothy held an open house at the Deshler-av residence for her mother.

St. Ann's Guild 23 will meet July 8 at 7:30 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Bernard Klarman, 685 Thurman-av.

Today is the last day to take advantage of the "Roses for Donors", a joint endeavor of the Columbus Allied Florists Association and the Red Cross. It seems a pity that folks have to be "gimmicked" into doing such a thing, when so many of us would love to participate and can't! Operating hours today are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., for qualified donors. The regional center is at 812 E. Broad-st.

Independence Day has a double significance in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. McCabe, Sr., 647 Southwood-av. It is their wedding anniversary and this year they will celebrate their 41st year of wedded life. Pearl Loudermilk is one of our convalescing South Siders, who recently underwent surgery in Doctors Hospital. We're not sure of her address, or we'd pass it along.

A month's vacation in beautiful Wisconsin . . . doesn't it sound delightful? Such was the vacation this year of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCallis, 263 Woodrow-av.

Firecracker "birthdays" for this time of year: Mary Milligan, 1689 S. Fourth-st, July 4; Linda Hunter, 1353 City Park-av, July 7; Mary Whittaker, 43 Innis-av, July 4; Bryan Sherman, 408 Welch-av, July 8; Pamela Buchanan, 56 E. Moler-st, July 5; Tommy Jeffreys, 49 W. Welch-av, July 9; Karen Taylor, 151 E. Hinman-av, July 9; Donna Smalley, 34 Woodrow-av, July 7; Beverly Sherman, 406½ E. Welch-av, July 8; Judy Ward, 60 E. Moler-st, July 6; Dana Donley, 367 E. Moler-st, July 7; Gary Brown, 44 W. Neff-st, July 9; Joyce Neighbors, 1522 S. High-st, July 9; Brenda Cothran, 29 W. Neff-st, July 6; Lewis Harrold, 82 Hanford-st, July 4; John Whitacre, 158 Southwood-av, July 6; and Beverly Oursler, 42 W. Markison-av, July 3.

Circle 3, Women of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, will meet July 8, 6:30 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Paul Wiegerig.

One of our chief "hecklers", "Dicky" Moore, is now a resident of Champion-av, near the Crystal Pool, so we'll warn the residents out that way to beware! Incidentally "Dicky", WHAT is your real first name?

Talked to Pauline Allen, 692 Thurman-av, last week, getting a participant's relayed version of the recent Buckeye Girls' State, held at Capital University. The participant was blonde Betty Sue Edwards, daughter of Mrs. Allen. Betty Sue is a South High senior. She had a grand time, naturally, and was kept quite busy in the mythical state. Here were some of her "offices": fire chief of Sullivant City, deputy sheriff of Gray County, board of liquor control and one more we don't dare mention because we'd look funny without a head! (No comments, please.) An interesting fact we found out while talking to Pauline was that Betty Sue's cousin was a participant of the Buckeye Boys' State.

Sherman and Edith Larimer, 1312 Parsons-av, are baby-sitting their grandson, Ronnie, while the baby's parents are vacationing in Canada. Ronnie's mom and pop are Janet and Ronnie Smitson.

Early July birthdays are those of SuEllen Jayne Ross, 746 Thurman-av, on July 8, and Pamela Knore, 499 Gates-st, a July 4 "firecracker." Scott Snyder, 175 Deshler-av, celebrated his July 1 birthday in a boy's camp in the eastern part of the country. Scott's two brothers, Carl and Larry, are also spending the summer in Vermont, acquiring tans and vitamin "sunshine."

Fred, Fay and Judy Grace, 737 Hanford-st, took off for an enjoyable vacation earlier this week, heading first for Gatlinburg and Chattanooga, Tenn. From there they will proceed to Charleston, Mo., and visit their home folks. Fay will participate in her high school class' 25th reunion. Plans for her class include a banquet, attending church in a group, and a reception. To quote Fay, they will get to "show off their kiddies" at the reception. Fred's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Grace, will accompany them on their return home. While she is in this part of the country the elder Mrs. Grace plans to take a jaunt up to Detroit, Mich., and visit relatives there.

Two July 5 weddings are included in our notes for today. Barbara Sestito, 762 S. Fifth-st, will wed Rocco Amorosso of Closter, N. J. Beverly Ann Wyman, 1017 Lockbourne-rd, will become the bride of Harley David Ranft, 656 Reinhard-av.

Circle 5, Hope Lutheran Church, will meet on July 7 at 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Ray Ward, 1231 Forest-st.

In last week's wordage, we mentioned a letter from Helen Jones Rea, director of public relations with the Swan Cleaners, and promised to tell about it today. We received the "making" for one of the story-book dolls that the counter girls are wearing this summer, to remind the customers that cotton needs professional care to keep it at its best. The dolls represent such characters as Little Red Riding Hood, Alice in Wonderland, Queen of Hearts, Goldi-Locks, Heidi and many more. The doll heads and patterns may be secured by going into any Swan Cleaning establishment.

We were glad to have Betty Sue Edwards call us just before we sent the column over to the Leader office and tell us the names of the three other South Side girls who participated in the Buckeye Girls' State. We didn't have space enough to insert their names in the earlier section about Betty, but certainly didn't want to by-pass them either. The girls were Rosemary Brenbeck, 1519 Champion-av, director of mental hygiene and correction of St. Mary's High; Rosemary Ebelberger, 140 Hanford-st, sheriff of "Gray" County, of Rosary High, and Peggy Glenn, 885 Jenkins-av, Sherman City's recreation commissioner.

Do have fun on the Fourth, and be careful. If you're home, display the love for your country by showing your flag. Of course, when you're away from home, it's impossible. It's a wonderful country, as a first generation American has been reminded so often by foreign-born parents! Till next week, then, 'tis . . .

October Wedding In Detroit

Mr. and Mrs. Marty Ebstein of Detroit, Mich., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Lou, to Sanford Goldston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Goldston, 1286 Studer-av.

Miss Ebstein is a graduate of Central High School in Detroit and will be a September graduate of the Shapiro School of Nursing in Detroit.

Mr. Goldston is a graduate of South High School and Ohio State University, where he was affiliated with Tau Epsilon Phi and Beta Alpha Psi Fraternities. He is now a public accountant with Haskins & Sells, in Detroit.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 12 at Mayfair House in Detroit.

Martin Luther Ladies Aid

On June 25 the Martin Luther Ladies Aid held its annual mother-daughter social in the church basement. Preceding the social, a brief Ladies Aid meeting, presided by Mrs. Richard J. Brown, was held.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. John Anthony, who conducted the games for the evening.

A musical program was given by some members of the Chancel Choir under the supervision of Miss Dorothy Keller. Children participating in the musical program were Rebecca Miller, Donna Miller, Diane Blum, Deborah Factor, and Marsha Ulrich.

Corsages were presented by Mrs. John Factor to the oldest mother present, Mrs. Martin Lochner; the youngest mother, Mrs. Elaine Wright; the mother with the most children, Mrs. Stanley Pierce.

The highlight of this affair was the presentation of two life membership pins, honoring two faithful members of the society. Mrs. John Zimpfer, life membership chairman, presented the pins to Mrs. Ruth Miller and Mrs. Betty Brown.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Zimpfer, Mrs. Carl Blum, and Mrs. J. B. Wilson, with a social hour following.

In the Tuesday night girls' play, St. Paul E&R and St. Leo continued on the victory trail by beating Corpus Christi and St. John E&R respectively. Southwood Church of Christ crushed Oakwood and Hungarian E&R outlasted a scrappy Livingston team in a real thriller in other games played by the fairer sex.

Thunderstorms won out Wednesday night as all games were washed out, but there was plenty of action in Thursday's Intermediate session as St. Paul E&R continued undefeated by downing Hungarian E&R, and Livingston outslugged South Methodist, while Emmanuel nosed out Washington in a real pitchers' battle. Good pitching highlighted play all week, with Merchant of St. Paul girls getting 13 strikeouts in her first effort of the season. Dave Spanner racked up 11 strikeouts and helped his cause with a home run, and Bob Bateman (junior, hot pop) allowed only five safeties in his first start for the Lutherans.

The complete installation of all meters has been delayed this week because a parts shipment —the collectors or "heads" — has not been received. Installation of the standards will proceed according to schedule.

The total of 76 meters is believed sufficient to relieve the immediate press of congestion in the Steelton area, the city officials said.

Oakwood Change . . .

Oakwood Methodist Church, at Oakwood and Newton, will change to summer schedule this Sunday, July 6, according to a church announcement.

The new schedule calls for beginning Sunday School at 8:45 a.m. with worship service at 9:30 a.m. Minister is William C. Seitz, 1226 Oakwood-av.

Her Love Lasted Long

'I'm Over 21' . . .

"Her children shall call her blessed," is the way Grandma Clara Nolan has been described by one of her daughters.

"An ideal mother," she said.

An ideal friend, too. The army of her friends on S. Parsons-av know her kindness . . . her constant inquiring thoughtfulness about others . . . her snappy pep and spirit.

Grandma Nolan is 82 years old. She lives at 1543 S. Parsons-av, just across from the Leader office.

As shown in the picture above, she visited Oliver Gedeist, Leader editor, a few weeks ago to describe the South Columbus scene in years long past to tell us of a hard traveled pilgrimage to Columbus by her and her husband in search of a home, to tell us of hard times and fond recollections.

Clara Nolan was not hesitant about telling Mr. Gedeist why she came to Columbus. It would delight all who think in terms of filial attitude in marriage: "I came to Columbus from Ashland, Ky., so I could be with my husband, who had come here to get a job and make a living for both of us."

She came to join the husband whom she loved — a love that lasted through the years.

[illegible]

The little woman was not hesitant in telling us "Why I came to Columbus." To our question came instant answer and it would delight all who think in terms of filial attitude in marriage: "I came to Columbus from Ashland, Ky., so I could be with my husband, who had come here to get a job and make a living for both of us."

She came to join the husband whom she loved — a love that lasted through the years.

Vigor Shown

There was vigor in Grandma's explanation: here's Grandma, our good friend, instantly recalling the delight, the affection, the sparkling joy when they were together although lack of finances would not permit large indulgencies. They were happy together, they were married, and she came to Columbus apparently with unbounded conviction that her husband would find a way to provide for them. With equal vigor, too, Grandma says, "And he did, too!"

At Steel Plant

The husband worked at the steel plant, then occupying the property now belonging to the Seagraves Corporation. They lived at 1857 Parsons-av, Grandma said, and afterward went to High-st between Moler and Hanford. Five children were born to the couple at this address.

The Children

Living now are Wilmer Nolan a son, in Zanesville, and another son, Garlen, at 2774½ W. Broad-st; Paul Nolan, Detroit, Mich.; Homer is deceased; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Williams, Neil-av.

The subject of this story still finds pleasure in the ties that bind her to Ashland, Ky. Just recently she returned from a visit there.

Traveling is not as easy for her as it was a few years ago. On a trip to Ashland last year, she fell while stopping off in Circleville, cracked ribs and had to return home, vacationless.

Mrs. Ruth Williams, 2167 Neil-av, Mrs. Nolan's daughter, has added the following information to Mr. Gedeist's interview.

"We call her blessed because she truly is," Mrs. Williams said.

Mr. Nolan died while the children were quite young. There were five children, three stepchildren to raise in times when security was never real.

Mrs. Nolan "took in washings and ironings" and did day work.

"She often had no more than 7-8 hours sleep a week," Mrs. Williams said. But work she did . . . without complaint or dispirit. Her zest for life continues.

A favorite expression (when asked how she feels) is: "With both hands, of course."

"I'm over 21," she says.

Circle Date

Ohio-av EUB Circle No. 2, will meet at the church Tuesday July 8, at 10 a.m. Mrs. Nola Martin has charge of devotions. Work at Children's Hospital will be discussed. Mrs. Mildred Eisnaugle is chairman of the circle.

Pastry 'Daffy-Dillies' Complement Baked Ham

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

A brown sugar-cured baked ham is delicious garnished with little petal-shaped cheese pastry cups filled with hot pineapple orange sauce.

Daffy-Dillies With Baked Ham
(8 servings)
Cheese Pastry Cups

One-half cup shortening, 6 tablespoons shredded sharp cheese, 1½ cups sifted flour.

Blend together the shortening and shredded cheese. Add flour and cut it into the cheese mixture, using a pastry blender or fork, until the mixture is the consisteney of corn meal and small peas. Form into a roll about 1½ inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper or foil. Chill at least 1 hour.

To form each petal cup, slice off from roll six thin (⅛-inch) slices. Place a slice in the bottom of a medium-sized (2½ inches in diameter) muffin cup Arrange the five remaining slices around side of cup, overlapping each slice petal-fashion. Press lower edges of petals against bottom slice to seal the cup. Prick bottom slice with fork.

Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool. Remove cups from pan. Fill with hot sauce just before serving.

Orange-Pineapple Sauce

One 9-ounce can (1 cup) pineapple tidbits, ⅛ cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup water, 1 tablespoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 medium orange, 2 drops almond extract (optional).

Drain the pineapple and combine the pineapple juice, orange juice, lemon juice, water, sugar, salt, and cornstarch in a saucepan. Stir and cook about 10 minutes.

Peel, section, and slice the orange. Add pineapple tidbits and orange slices to the sauce. Heat. Add almond extract, if desired. Keep hot.

Fourth Of July Sponsors

The following sponsors are responsible for making donations to the Council of South Side Organizations in support of its program to make this year's celebration one to lure most everybody in the South Side.

There will be a slight shortage distributed here and there in the program, but the result of the donations is closely comparable to original estimates of what would be needed.

Officials and members of the CSSO expressed gratitude this week for the inspired cooperation.

Washer Sale Proves Value Of Advertising

"I could have sold a dozen washers," was the delighted comment of Mrs. Stella Harris, 133 S Harris-av, on the effectiveness of Hartley Newspaper want ads.

Try this super sales service as a means of profitably disposing of "white elephants."

Alarm Has No Morning Message . . . George C. Berry Will Retire

George C. Beery is going to change his "way of life" beginning Sept. 30. He has lost interest in his alarm clock and its urgent morning message.

Fishing, too, will see more of the Franklin County school superintendent than it has for a long time past. He and the fish have a rendezvous and he is anxious that he shall not disappoint the finny tribes of the waters. He's "way behind," he said. He also said that he has gotten behind in his reading.

Resignation

The county superintendent of schools steps out of his official position on Sept. 30. That is the date upon which his resignation will take effect and it is the same date upon which another South Side man will step up into high responsibility.

Thomas J. Quick will succeed Beery as county school superintendent.

George C. Beery

Thomas J. Quick

He and his wife, Clarabelle, live at 184 E. Frambes-av. They have a son, Dr. William R. Beery of Canal Winchester, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert O. Beck, Worthington.

Long Background

Thomas Quick has had more than 20 years of teaching and school administrative experience. He was executive head of the Marion Local School District for two years before the district was annexed to the Columbus school system. He has been a teacher and administrator at Granville, Sisterville, Alexandria, and Utica. He holds bachelor and master degrees from Ohio State University, where he has also taken graduate work.

Mr. and Mrs. Quick are residents of 1123 E. Woodrow-av. They have a son, Donald, 19, who is serving in the navy at Concord, Calif. Daughter, Anita, 16, is a junior at Marion-Franklin High School.

History is wrapped around the lives and activities of the two men. It was 34 years ago when George C. Beery, now 68, became county superintendent of education at the age of 34. His successor, who previously was principal of Barrett Junior High School, is 47 years of age. In the years during which the retiring superintendent served, he later observed, he has seen 42 one-teacher, one-room schoolhouses banished, the school areas coming into the City of Columbus. This meant the building of larger school facilities. Beery, before becoming county superintendent, was English and speech teacher for four years at South High School. He had also taught in Groveport.

Vendors File Sales Tax By 31st

All persons having Ohio vendors' licenses are required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by July 31 for the period Jan. 1 to June 30, according to announcement by the department of taxation, division of sales, excise and highway use taxes.

Returns mailed to the treasurer of state should be postmarked not later than July 31 to avoid a $1-a-day charge for delinquent filing.

To assist vendors with these returns, the department of taxation has arranged to have an examiner or examiners stationed as follows:

Groveport, Groveport Hardware, Wednesday, p.m., July 30; Canal Winchester, Shade Restaurant, Thursday a.m., July 31; Grove City, Broadway Restaurant, Thursday p.m., July 31.

Examiners will be available at the first district office, 240 Parsons-av, CA. 1-1265, Ext. 243, and the central office, 68 E. Gay-st, fifth floor, to assist vendors from July 1 through July 31, daily 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday hours (at 240 Parsons-av only), 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Vendors seeking assistance from examiners will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, such as a copy of their return for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales and a record of taxable sales of 41 cents or over for the period Jan. 1 to June 30, 1958.

Vendors will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the first half of 1958.

Vendors are no longer required to have sales tax returns sworn to before a notary public or a representative of the department of taxation. The vendor, however, is required to sign the declaration on the return that the information given is true.

When completed, all returns must be filed with or mailed to the Treasurer of State, P. O. Box 1799, Columbus. If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, remittance in the amount of tax due should accompany the return, made payable to the Treasurer of State, either by check, draft or money order.

CSSO Casts Watchful Eye On Frank-rd Gravel Issue

In Contention

This Scioto River scene in southwest Columbus stands out as a beauty spot near the gravel area which is in contention between South Side community leaders and City Council. It is insisted that commercializing the neighborhood is unfair to people and the beauty spot. See page 7 for site pictures.

More Investigation Urged To Protect Playground Plan

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner's recent veto of what has been labled as the Frank-rd "Gravel Lease" Ordinance has received the support of the strong Council Of South Side Organizations, whose purposes are to look after the interests of the people of the South Side of Columbus.

There was an indicated belief that the move to lease or sell the "gravel pit" had not had sufficient investigation and that the ultimate purposes of the proposed measure would not be in the interest of the people as a whole, nor of the people living in the near-by areas.

CSSO Action

The Frank Road Gravel Lease Ordinance was discussed by members and it was felt that the lease and contract are ambiguous in nature and do not specify in regards to the top soil. It was felt that should a lease be considered, bids should have previously been accepted.

It was moved and seconded that a letter should be sent to the mayor and each councilman as being in accord with the mayor's veto "in regard to the leasing of city acreage west of the Scioto and north of Frank Road for gravel."

(1) Due to prior recommendations and approval by the parks commission, recreation commission and city administration, that the acreage should be used for a tree nursery and for badly needed additional playground area.

(2) It would be a beauty spot for users of the expressway in contrast to the ungainly sight of an open area such as a gravel pit would make.

(3) By all means it would be better to make a mistake in income in favor of a nursery and playground area in preference to a hazardous and ungainly sight, and remembering that the gravel would always be there for sale.

The council asked that all organizations stand in readiness in case of a need to circulate petitions in opposition to the ordinance.

'Confederate' Insignia Is Valued At $10 Today

No claimants on prizes in the "Confederate" money game, started last week in the South Side Leader, has increased the value of today's jackpot insignia to $10 in "Confederate" currency.

An additional ten $1 insignia, printed on ads in ten other copies of this issue, give ten more subscribers an opportunity to cash in on the game.

Printed in distinctively colored ink, in plain view on ads, insignia are always in plain view.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Newspapers containing the insignia may be redeemed for "Confederate" currency by presenting the entire copy at South Side Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av, before Saturday noon.

"Confederate" dollars may be spent at face value with any advertiser appearing in the current issue of the newspaper.

Bleak Summer . . . Comic Cards?

Michael Jack

Michael Jack, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Jack of 62 E. Welch-st, has several virtues, of course, at his time of life. But the particular virtue under consideration at the moment is that of being able to look Adversity straight in the face and keep on smiling (see photograph).

The young fellow did not miss a single day in the most recent school year—he was a good pupil and liked his studies, his playmates, and all the other important third-grade fellows and girls.

But look at Michael now! He's lying down most of the time—he's in a cast, the result of an accident while playing recently. His aunt, Mrs. Donald Spring, of 75 Southwood, says Michael's summer is to be bleak. Maybe a number of comic cards will help absorb some of the bleakness and keep the young fellow happy.

St. Leo Grabs First; Holds

In pre-Fourth action in the South Side Y Church Leagues, St. Leo went into undisputed first place in the Monday Junior loop by defeating Washington in a well-played game.

Theado twirled a nifty two-hitter, while Garcia and J. Diamond got two hits each for the boys from Hanford and Bruck. Pence's triple and home run helped Livingston score a victory over Church of God and Tidwell's hitting and mound work stood out for Oakwood as they topped Gates-Fourth in other wash-day clashes.

In the Monday night Intermediate game, St. Paul E and R continued in first place by downing Washington EUB. Doug Childers, with two extra base blows, and Tom Bolin, who hit a homer, took hitting honors for the Saints.

The Tuesday Girls' League saw St. Leo stretch its winning streak to five straight, by outclassing the lassies from Oakwood and thus setting the stage for the "game of the year" with St. Paul E and R scheduled for July 15 at Southwood field.

Corpus Christi blended hits and walks together to produce enough runs to defeat the cuties from Hungarian E and R, while St. John's well-balanced attack was too much for the dolls of Livingston to match.

St. Leo, although idle because of a bye, continued to gain ground in the race for top honors in the Wednesday Junior League, when Emmanuel upset the second-place St. John team.

In other games, Ohio's small warriors continued to be the surprise of the league by downing Thurman. St. Paul Lutheran continued its upswing with a solid victory over South Methodist and St. Paul E and R went hit-happy to score a well-deserved win over the lads from Southwood Church of Christ.

Only one game was played in the Intermediate League on Thursday. Emmanuel Lutheran outscored Hungarian E and R in a real old-fashioned slugging bee.

Local Kids To Enter South High Field Meet

The Columbus Recreation Department will conduct a playground track and field meet at South High School Thursday, July 10. Designed to give boys and girls 17 years old and under, an opportunity to compete in track and field events, this meet will be conducted in two sections.

Boys and girls in the 11 and under and the 12 and 13 year old classifications will compete at 1:15 p.m. The 14 and 15 and 16 and 17 year old groups will meet at 5:45 p.m.

Events will include 50, 75, and 100 yard dashes, standing and running broad jumps, high and low hurdles, shot put and discus and relays.

This event is open to children from playgrounds in the South, East, and West Sides of the city, or to any individuals living in these general areas.

Last year a new record of 1455 event-participants was set at this annual playground meet at South High.

Lantern Parade

One of the biggest and most spectacular playground events sponsored by the Columbus Recreation Department—the Lantern Parade—will take place at Schiller Park, Thursday, July 17, at 8 p.m.

This fantastic event, once held at Central High School, has been divided into a sectional parade in order to accommodate the numbers of participants.

Children throughout the Columbus playgrounds are now constructing their lanterns in the ingenious and creative way of children. Lanterns of all shapes and sizes with the most fantastic designs will be part of the parade. Some children constuct lanterns from boxes, ice cream or oatmeal cartons, tin cans and papier mache over wire. Other children will help carry large lanterns which are cooperative playground projects. Each playground has chosen a theme for the parade—story book, songs, Mother Goose, nature craft, patriotic, or outer space.

Participation awards will be given to each playground and recognition awards, first, second, and third, will be presented to the playgrounds for the best and most original theme.

Emceeing the event will be Jerry Fedderson; the judges will be Ollie Olgitz and Clovis Nogawick.

Local Nazarene Pastor to Report

Rev. D. E. Clay will give his sixth annual report as pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of the Nazarene at the 15th annual assembly of the Central Ohio District next week, July 15-18. Services will be in the denomination's Morse-rd Campground Tabernacle in Columbus.

Each of the 127 churches of the district is entitled to five or more delegates. Each pastor is a delegate by virtue of his office.

The district missionary convention will open the week with services all day Monday, July 14. Miss Mary Scott, Kansas City, Mo., secretary of foreign missions, will be chief speaker.

Dr. G. B. Williamson, also of Kansas City, will be the presiding general superintendent. Dr. Harvey S. Galloway of Columbus (see picture) will make his 15th annual report as district superintendent.

One More Year

He has one more year to serve on a three-year recall voted in 1956. He is the first and only superintendent the district has had since its organization in 1943, when it had 77 churches and about 7,500 members. It has now grown to 127 churches with 11,000 members and is one of the strongest in the denomination.

The 33d annual district camp meeting will follow the assembly, with preaching services three times daily, July 18-27 inclusive.

A First Time Ever For Mike

The water was warm . . . the sun bright and summery . . . kid's laughter inviting, but four-year-old Mike Schneider found himself at halfway point in Schiller Park pool last week—friendless and without consolation. Mike followed Janice Carver into the pool because excitement at pool's edge was pretty frightening itself. But once in, he wanted out. Water is just six inches deep. Mike lives at 247 Stewart-av, Janice at 999 Lockbourne-rd.

Summer Playgrounds

. . . The South Side Report

Smith Road

By Mari Ann Saurias

Last Thursday, a doll show was the attraction at Smith Road playground. Winners were: Sherry Falters, the cutest doll; Candy Hackett, the smallest doll; Vickie McDonald and Debbie Jackson, the largest doll; Elyse Dent, the most unusual doll; Sue Woodgeard, the prettiest doll. The judges for the show were Rickey Kremer, Butch Smith, and Ronnie White. These boys are members of the boys' softball team at Smith Road.

Tuesday, July 8, a picnic was held on the playground. Everyone was invited. The picnic turned out to be a great success, and we hope to have more in the next few weeks to come.

Today the Junior Olympics—track and field events—are being held at South High School.

In the last few days much time is being spent on the upcoming Lantern Parade. The special event will take place Thursday, July 17, at Schiller Park. The boys and girls are making lanterns from boxes to be carried by wire handles. The designs will be covered with colored paper. This is one of the many special events that will take place during the summer months.

Southview Park

By M. F. Colley

Southview Park's Little Jet baseball program has provided spectators with occasion to cheer good play and good sportsmanship on the part of the youngsters during first-round play. The Indians are currently leading the league with an excellent 2-0 record behind the fine pitching of 10-year-old Ron Skillman. This week's feature game finds the Indians opposing the second-place Yankees (2-1) Wednesday at 6:15 on the Southview diamond.

Why Do Fish Hit Lures?

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Most fishermen assume they catch a fish on an artificial lure because the fish is hungry enough to eat it. Fred Heddon's research staff comes proof that hunger is only one of many reasons a fish hits plugs.

Take for example, occasions when staff members have caught largemouth bass and found their stomachs so full of crawfish that the last one eaten still protruded from the bass' throat.

And, white bass caught while raiding schools of minnows were so full that numerous minnows spewed out of the bass' mouths when laid on the bottom of the boat.

So, based on the assumption that when an animal's stomach is full hunger is sated, it appears that some urge aside from hunger moves these fish to feed voraciously. It could be the killer instinct, inability to know when its belly is full, or just plain cussedness.

For another example take the trout—a fish looked upon as one of the daintiest feeders of all game fish. Purist fly fishermen take them on tiny flies about the size of a match head, at the end of leaders nearly as wispy as a spider web. They believe all this necessary to fool these smart, sharp-eyed, wary fish. Then, along comes someone who didn't know how smart, sharp-eyed, and wary trout are. He hangs a half dozen monstrous, spinning spoons behind each other, weighing about a half pound and making nearly as much commotion as an outboard motor. Behind these he ties a fly and trolls the whole mess behind his boat. Result: he caught a lot of trout.

Couldn't Be Hunger

Why? Well, certainly hunger didn't bring the trout running to look at that dangling hardware. Nothing it eats looks like that. So, it must have been some urge like curiosity, sound attraction, or fighting instinct.

There are reports of a fish in a test tank that would not feed on any food offered. Yet when a mirror was lowered into the tank, so that he could see his reflection, this bass promptly plastered the lure he previously ignored. Hunger? Nope, more than likely it was greed to keep that "other bass" in the mirror from beating him to it.

How can you profit from these observations? Simply by trying new things that might excite a new emotion and start fish feeding. Like reeling a lure very fast, then stopping it. Or working a topwater lure with more commotion than usual. Perhaps trolling so fast that your bait almost pops out of the water. Or instead of retrieving a lure steadily, jerk it occasionally to make it dart.

In other words, fish are like people, they're funny, meaning peculiar. Be the same way, and you'll catch more fish.

FISH REPORT

Muddy water for the past few weeks has slowed local fishing. Mixed catches are reported from Madison Lake, including smallmouth bass, largemouth bass, bullheads, bluegills, and crappies.

Here are a few recent entries in the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Contest there: Charles Barrett, 3683 Briggs-rd, smallmouth bass; J. B. Bishop, 23 N. 32nd-t., bullhead; Laura Montgomery, 347 Pasadena-av, New Rome, crappie; George Fausey, 2010 Main-st, Galloway, largemouth bass; Florence Emrich, 144 S. Westgate-av, crappie; Steve Bell, 706½ S. Ninth-st, bullhead; Mrs. W. M. Feeley, 290 S. Main-st, London, crappie; Harry Rollins, 618 Lee-st, Connersville, Ind., bluegill.

Summer Beckons . . . To Library

The story of the editor of a small, independent newspaper is told in A. J. Cronin's latest novel "The Northern Light," now available at the Parsons Branch Library.

Henry Page, the paper's editor, finds himself engaged in a struggle to preserve the integrity of his paper against the attacks of the powerful newspaper syndicate. Typical of Cronin's books, it is a wonderfully warm story of the faith and courage of a dedicated man.

Mona William's new novel, "The Marriage," paradoxically begins with the story of a divorce. Amy Styron obtains a divorce on the grounds of cruelty when she finds her own life made miserable by the complete domination of her husband, a willful and powerful man. The strange effects of the divorce upon Amy and Sam Styron and upon their three children are skillfully told by Miss Williams and carried to a conclusion which is inevitable yet surprising to the reader.

The Escape

"Escape of the Amethyst," by C. E. Lucas, Phillips is the true story of the remarkable escape of a British frigate from Red Chinese territory. The "HMS Amethyst" was unexpectedly fired upon by the Chinese Communists on a peaceful day in April 1949 on the Yangtze River. When both diplomatic and rescue attempts failed, the young crewmen of the tiny ship were forced to rely upon their own ingenuity for their escape from their precarious position.

Emily Hahn tells the heartwarming story of her two British daughters on their first trip to America in her new book, "Kissing Cousins." Readers will enjoy the delightful accounts of the girls' impressions of their travels in the vast and varying land that is the United States and of their meeting with the American branch of the Hahn family.

Nazarenes Start 33rd Camp Series

The 33rd annual Central Ohio Nazarene camp meeting, made up of Gospel preaching and singing that exalt Christ as the Saviour of mankind, will start Friday night, July 18, and continue through Sunday, July 27, at the Morse-rd camp grounds in Columbus.

The Central Ohio camp meeting is known coast-to-coast among holiness followers and evangelicals, and the men who will carry the load of the preaching this year are in its finest tradition, according to officials in charge.

They are Rev. Mel Thomas Rothwell and Rev. Charles Hastings Smith. Dr. G. B. Williamson, Kansas City, who was the presiding general superintendent for the district assembly, will deliver three messages the first weekend of services.

Prof. Curtis R. Brown will be soloist and song leader. The Treble Tone Girls' Trio will provide special music for the young people's services. Dr. J. Otis Sayes, youth worker, and the trio represent Olivet Nazarene College at Kankakee, Ill.

The tabernacle has seating accommodations for about 3,000. Some 1,000 can be accommodated overnight in motels, tents, cottages, and dormitories. A modern cafeteria is maintained on the grounds.

Dear Son:

Uncle Lushmore Makes CPA Rate

Dear Jason:

Haven't heard from you for a couple of weeks and if I don't hear from you soon, I am going to write to your Commanding Officer. I shall inform him that just because he saw fit to promote you to full seaman, you can't do all the work by yourself. The next time you're having lunch with him, ask him to appoint you an assistant to help you with your chores.

Your Uncle Lushmore is now a full-fledged CPA (Cess Pool worker of America.). Last week his lodge had a convention and they held it at that new hotel in Polecat Junction. It's supposed to be an air-conditioned place but your Uncle said that the air-conditioning broke down. However, the management lived up to their slogan, "Kool Kumfort." Every hour they sent the bell boy up to blow through the keyhole.

It won't be long now before we have to take your poor old grandmaw to the hospital. Her gall stones are acting up on her something terrible. As a matter of fact, she had another attack of them last week. Poor grandmaw has gallstone trouble so bad that when she gets her rocking chair going good, it sounds like there's a crap game going on.

Getting back to your Uncle Lushmore, I am proud to say that he now has a new position he's standing up. While he was in Polecat Junction he made the town richer by some two hundred dollars he paid off in drunk fines. Your uncle doesn't have his suits cleaned any more—he has them distilled.

As far as I can see, your little nephew Cheddar will never get out of grade 2-B. The teacher asked him the other day to tell the class what he knew about the Eskimos. Cheddar told her that he only knew one thing about them — they made swell ice cream pies. Your brother, Zeke, was always good to Cheddar. If the kid wanted five bucks Zeke would go down in the cellar and print him one. Zeke is now with the F.B.I. He was caught yesterday.

Paw is trying out a new scheme to lose weight which he thinks is a good one. He claims you can lose weight by eating a lot. When I asked him how it was possible to lose weight that way he explained it all to me and it really sounds very simple. Paw says that when you eat a lot you get fatter; more fat will make you lazy; when you're lazy you don't work; when you don't work you lose your job; when you lose your job you don't eat and when you don't eat you lose weight.

Prbably your old man should have been a doctor. He has his own theory about giving milk to a child before the kid goes to bed. He says not to. Paw says if you give a child milk before it goes to bed the kid tosses in his sleep, the milk turns to butter, the butter turns to cheese, the cheese turns to starch, the starch turns to sugar, the sugar turns to alcohol, and the first thing you know the child wakes up with a hangover.

You remember that grass widow that moved here from Brooklyn about a year ago? I met her on the street the other day and her dress was so short and cut so low I thought she was wearing a belt. She thought she was catching the Asiatic flu and was on her way to old Doctor Tench's office for an examination. I understand that old Doc took one look at her and told her to go home, take two aspirins, put on some clothes and go to bed.

Guess I'll close now. Bilge Pooser, the lad you used to run around with, got himself a job as an apprentice to the village blacksmith. The smitty was instructing Bilge in his new duties. "Son," he said, "I'm going to bring this horse shoe from the fire and put it on the anvil. When I nod my head, hit it with this sledge hammed." Bilge did just as he was told and now Bilge is the village blacksmith.

Write soon.

Your loving,
Mom

The Rural Fire Department: They Come When Called!

The article here is offered readers of the South Side Leader as a sort of get-acquainted feature. Fast growing Columbus shares many civic problems — occasionally trades services — with fast growing south and southeast villages. Recognition for ambition, thoughtful selflessness on the part of volunteer fire departments, is within the field of newspapering. Let's call it: "Know Your Neighbors." Other stories of this kind may be offered from time to time.

Most rural fire alarms are telephoned to a central point such as the firehouse or the chief's residence. Mistakes in directions are often made by excited callers. The Ashville village department and Harrison Township departments operate from a single house where an electrified map of the township simplifies and speeds trips across back road short-cuts. Each township residence has a number for emergency use. When a call comes in, both location and number are lighted. Firemen then plot the best route.

Speedy city emergency services such as that furnished by the Columbus Fire Department are sometimes taken for granted by Columbus folks.

The ever present — near and quick — medical ambulance and the big water throwing pumpers give us comfortable feeling. Should disaster, accident, and sudden illness ever strike us, we know that a magic telephone number, CA. 1-2345, will bring a legion of skilled men able to save a life or soak out a fire.

Rural communities seldom enjoy comfortable feelings in matters of public safety.

Said a Fairfield County neighbor this week: "We worry about fires all the time . . . must be ready to fight fires anytime."

The threat of accident and injury, and illness, is no less remote in the country than the city. However, doctors and hospitals usually are. The threat of fire in farm buildings is probably less than in the city, where industry and private dwellings create their own dangers, but the farms are located dangerous miles-minutes from the nearest fire department.

The history of fast spreading country fires, far from fire house and good water supply, is a constant reminder that rural folks must create their own protection.

They mix worry and constant concern with an abundance of "do something about it."

The "something" they do is usually energetic and industrious — it has been that way since the villages were raised in forests — by a stream, later a canal.

The push carts and man-drawn tank wagons, the bucket brigades, are all products of bitter experience and stubborn

Extremely cold weather increases the threat of fires. Madison Township No. 1 firemen (Groveport) are shown here fighting a farm fire in 4 degree weather. Another busy season is spring, when the brief period between freeze-up and green-up makes grass fires a special danger. Many spring fires are set when rubbish and field burning get out of hand.

Dedication of Hamilton Township's new firehouse will be held in a few weeks. It was built last summer, has facilities for cooking and sleeping, a central communication system, can accommodate the latest in fire fighting vehicles. Dedication was held up when a funds levy was defeated by voters last November. Money is needed to pay the salary of two regularly employed firemen. The department serves Obetz and a large area on both sides of Route 23 from Williams-rd on the north to the Pickaway County line on the south, and west to the Scioto River.

Summer Day Camp—

10, with the $2.50 fee for the week at camp.

The bus will pick up children at Schiller Recreation Center at 9 a.m. each day and return them by 5 o'clock each afternoon. Children should bring their own lunch (write their names on it). Please do not send soft drinks with child's lunch, as milk will be served at lunch and at another period in the day. Each child should bring a towel and swimming suit. Children should dress for outdoor activities and should not bring to camp any articles of large value which may be lost, such as bracelets, pins or money.

Most people are ready to take a chance if it costs them nothing.

Medical assistance and modern save-a-life techniques and equipment have become as much a part of rural fire department work as the fire run. Men shown here are volunteer members of Madison Township No. 2 (Canal Winchester) on a Friday and Saturday night work training program at Columbus' St. Anthony Hospital. Mercy and Grant Hospitals accept a large number of patients brought in by neighboring village emergency ambulances.

Rauch Preaches

Eric Rauch, a graduate of South High School in the class of 1953, a graduate of Capital University college in 1957, and a student at the Theological Seminary of Capital University will preach at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av, at both the 8 a.m. and the 10:15 a.m. services on Sunday, July 13. His topic will be "The Great Ifs." Mr. Rauch is substituting for the pastor, Rev. John O. Lang, who is on vacation.

'Pilots' To Play

Pilot Club of Columbus held its annual picnic July 8 at Byers' cottage, Buckeye Lake. Arrangements were in charge of Miss Mildred Schwab, 111 S. Dawson-av, Miss Dorothy Egger, 331 Thurman-av, and Miss Cleo Braun, 255 Wetmore-rd.

Boating, swimming and games were part of the entertainment. Dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. Pilot International is a classified service club of executive and business and professional women.

Stress Importance Of Zone Numbers

Is there much difference between "Columbus, Ohio" and "Columbus 4, Ohio?" Many residents ask, "Is it really very important whether or not we stick that little number '4' or any other zone number in the address of a letter or package?"

According to the United States Post Office Department, that "little 4", or zone number, means better, faster mail service and easier handling for postal clerks.

Postmaster Allen M. Rowe said last Wednesday that the Post Office department is aggressively sponsoring a program on a nationwide basis to promote the use of zone numbers and earlier mailing.

He reports that in connection with this program every postmaster in the nation is directed to distribute a notice to every addressee receiving mail through his office.

This notice stresses "you get better mail service by using zone numbers. Be sure to indicate the proper zone on all mail." The circular will also carry a list of cities where zones are used.

Residents will also receive a form notifying them of any zone changes in their area and emphasizing their particular zone number. Reportedly, this effort constitutes the largest single saturation mailing ever attempted.

Postmaster Rowe said that the mailing public should become "zone conscious" and in addressing their mail should consider the zone number a part of the address the same as the street number.

He also urged the public to mail earlier in the day when at all possible, and to separate into "local" and "out of town" bundles when ever there is a considerable quantity of mail.

Street zone guides and bands or labels for use on local or our of town bundles of mail may be obtained by writing or otherwise contacting the office of the General Superintendent of Mails, Room 103, Columbus 16, Ohio, CA. 1-6411, extensions 202, 204 or 205.

Postmaster Rowe further pointed out that any separations of local and out-of-town mail that can conveniently be made will save at least on handling of the mail and thus speed delivery.

Therefore, all mailers are urged to mail early in the day, use "local" and "out-of-town" bands or labels on their bundles, and separate into "zoned" bundles whenever the quantity of mail warrants such separation.

BIBLE COMMENT

Interpret Parables Liberally

We are familiar with the parables and we realize that they have a meaning apart from any question of literal interpretation.

The story, for instance, of the woman with the 10 pieces of silver who lost one does not depend on whether in an actual place at a precise moment the thing happened in real life. It is the sort of thing that can happen anywhere anytime.

When such stories are narrowly interpreted, they tend to lose their larger truth and meaning to become just stories and nothing more, whereas the moral and spiritual teaching is what's important.

This is particularly true concerning the story of original sin and the part that the serpent plays. The writer expresses some facts about sin that we may miss altogether if we read too literally.

Sin, it is pointed out, has its origin in disobedience. This doesn't mean that all disobedience is sinful, because sometimes there are commands and rules that have no moral or logical justification.

Eating the forbidden fruit is represented as bringing in the knowledge of good and evil. One can see evidence in the world that the fall was a real one, and that sinful disobedience does bring to man tragedies of suffering and degradation.

DEEP-DISH CHERRY PIE IS GOOD FAMILY TREAT IN ANY SEASON!

BY DOROTHY HADDOX

For plain good eating—spring, summer, fall or winter—there's nothing better than warm deep-dish cherry pie covered with thick cream.

Cherry Deep-Dish Pie
(5-6 servings)

Three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 3 cups drained canned pitted red sour cherries (water-packed), 1 cup cherry juice, 2 tablespoons butter, pastry for one-crust pie.

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, cherries, and cherry juice. Turn mixture into deep 8-inch square baking dish. Dot with butter. Roll pastry ⅛-inch thick and cut several 2-inch slits or fancy designs near center. Fold pastry in half or roll loosely on rolling pin; center on filling. Open slits with a knife. (Well opened slits are important to permit escape of steam during baking.)

Trim pastry, allowing it to extend ½-inch over rim. Fold pastry over edge of dish and press to rim. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 45 to 50 minutes or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst. Serve warm, if desired. Note: If syrup-packed, instead of water-packed, use only ¾ cup sugar.

Apple Tapioca (6-8 servings)

Three cups sliced tart apples, 3 tablespoons butter, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon, ⅛ cup quick-cooking tapioca, 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2½ cups water, 1 to 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Arrange apples in greased baking dish. Dot with butter and sprinkle with cinnamon. Combine remaining ingredients in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Pour over apples in baking dish. Cover and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25 minutes, or until apples are tender. Remove from oven and stir. Serve warm with cream.

Pour some heavy cream over that deep-dish cherry pie and then sit down and start eating.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits—Raspberries, cherries, watermelon, cantaloupe, bananas.

LUNCHEON MEATS ARE EASY

Some of you will recall the expression, "No matter how you slice it, it's still bologna." Meat packers have changed that by developing a wider variety of ground meat mixtures which they pack in casings of one kind or another. A more accurate term for these meat products is "sausage meats."

What Is Sausage Meat? — It is defined as minced meat, or a combination of meat, blended with various seasonings and spicings and commonly stuffed into a casing or container. Because of variations in proportions of beef, pork, veal and lamb, fineness of the chop or grind, seasoning and spices, smoking, degree of cooking or drying, the variety of sausage meat is almost unlimited.

Ease-to-Serve Sausage Meats lend themselves well to summer meals, for they are quick and easy to prepare and are popular with everyone. Many of them may be served hot or cold, alone or combined with macaroni, rice, or vegetables.

Buying Guides — A sausage is no better than its igredients. Appearance is not enough to guide your choice. The best guides are:

Federal Inspection stamp which reads, "U.S. Inspected and Passed," shows that the meat product has been made from wholesome ingredients and processed under sanitary conditions.

Label—it will give the list of ingredients in the order of their predominance, name of product, packer's name, weight and price.

Brand Name—will generally be the same each time it is purchased. Brands may be a good guide in satisfying family likes and dislikes.

Compare Cost—When buying luncheon meats be sure to check weight of package and then compare cost per pound, remembering that all is edible meat. In Columbus the following comparison was recently made for bologna:

Type	Wt	Lb.
Chunk bologna	1 lb.	83c
Sliced bologna	1 lb.	63c
Sliced Bologna	8 oz.	78c

BERRY PICKIN' TIME

You'll be delighted with the berry selection in markets this week. Blueberries, red and black raspberries, blackberries and dewberries all make delicious salads and desserts.. If you sweeten them at all, try honey for a blend of flavors the family is sure to like. Since the bulk of all these berries is marketed in July, don't wait too long if you plan to freeze some.

The largest crop of Ohio sour cherries since 1952 is ready, too. Bing cherries are in good supply. Peaches are earlier than normal and excellent crops are being harvected in Georgia and the Carolinas. The price and quality are very good for so early in the season.

Schiller Concerts Near Shelter House

Carl L. F. Robinson, immediate past conductor of the Aladdin Temple Shrine Band, and currently conductor of the Columbus Maennerchor Band, held a program of selected numbers from Broadway musical plays Sunday evening at Schiller Park.

Schiller concerts are being played from a temporary site adjacent to the shelter house pending completion of the new musical center.

The number of musicians in the band has been increased to 50. This permits a wider choice of instrumentation, a band spokesman said.

The concerts are free. The public is invited to attend.

Construction work on the music center should be completed by Aug. 1, he said.

Ohio Gas Asks For Rate Raise

Ohio Fuel and Gas Co. last week applied to the Public Utilities Commission for the authority to raise gas rates of residents living in unincorporated areas of Franklin County.

Those residents affected should the raise come about would pay approximately the same rates as users in incorporated areas near them.

The proposed hike would call for a cost to users of 30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1000 cubic feet; 7.3 cents per hundred cubic feet up to 50,000; and 6.5 cents per hundred for all over 50,000 cubic feet.

Under this plan the average monthly cost of the new rates would be $5.92 to county, not Columbus, users.

The Rural Fire Department: It Comes When Called!

Easter egg coloring for Madison Township youngsters is tradition in the Groveport firehouse. Several of the younger men shown here hunted eggs on Groveport school lawns a few years ago. Activities such as this encourage children to study safety and first aid—sometimes taught in the schools by the firemen—and provides a casual recruitment as they grow older.

determination that followed as the towns grew.

Rural communities like Obetz, Groveport, Ashville, Canal Winchester, Carroll, Lithopolis, and Edgewater Park — Southeast neighbors to Columbus South Side — now have volunteer fire departments which can do their assigned work almost as well as Columbus.

They have superb equipment, exceptionally well trained men, good leadership — and an exemplary spirit of cooperation.

When the big siren alarms sound, the trucks roll.

Manned by men who are grocers, farmers, mechanics, and carrying all sorts of modern equipment, they can put out electric fires, aircraft fires, the common around the home and farm fires.

Emergency medical service also has been developed in rural villages: ambulances carry oxygen, stimulants, blood stopping tools. First Aid has been made a regular study — and tested — requirement for all rural firemen.

"Progress in treating accidents and illness is made every day," a fire chief said this week. "We stay abreast of the developments."

"On the other hand," he said, "The chemistry of fires has remained unchanged. What we do now . . . we have been doing for years."

Equipment, however, is usually better.

And more costly, too.

For example, Groveport (Madison Township No. 1) began years ago with a push cart, lanterns, an extension ladder, two axes and 30 feet of rubber hose. Now they have a truck that carries 850 gallons of water, has both high and low pressure pumps, and equipment for gasoline and electric fires. Cost is $10,000 each. They also have an ambulance with acetylene tools for auto, industrial and aircraft accidents.

Canal Winchester and Edgewater Park (Madison No. 2 and 3) also have big fire trucks.

Neighboring Hamilton Township has similar equipment, plus an extra water tank truck, and a new firehouse built last summer.

Lithopolis, in Fairfield County, has a pumper and tank truck stationed in the municipal building on instant call for all Bloom Township, and in support of Madison departments, the Greenfield Township department at Carroll, and sometimes the Ashville-Harrison department in Pickaway County.

Carroll's department, incidentally is one of the finest rural volunteer groups in Central Ohio, and serves a large farming area on both sides of US Route 33.

Training for the firemen is usually undertaken by the state fire marshal's office, sometimes by Columbus Fire Department. This is supplemented with short courses from time to time, with bulletins mailed from the state office, and by constantly rotating instruction within the departments themselves.

New legislation, very recently enacted, now makes instruction an authority of local school boards: for example, township funds for instruction is turned over to the school board which, in turn, makes payment to authorized instruction agencies.

Most Southeast firemen carry a certificate of achievement from Kent State University which, by invitation and authority of school boards, sends traveling specialists to conduct seminars in fire fighting.

This collective education — for all men as a team — has increased immeasurably the protective potential of the departments. Enthusiasm seems ever increasing, too — especially among the younger men, and especially since the war years.

But funds are usually short. Budgets are maintained only from regular township funds, and from fund raising benefits such as fish frys and euchre parties, sometimes door to door solicitation. Pay for the firemen sometimes doesn't cover the cost of special clothing — and never pays for the time lost from jobs.

Special tax levies are frequently put on ballots (from $1 to $2 per thousand dollars valuation), but not always approved.

And despite all the good equipment and well trained skill, rural villages and communities always pay more for their fire insurance. (For example, Columbus which has class five insurance, Groveport and Canal Winchester has seven). Not all of these villages have water systems and fire hydrants, however.

Hard fact and painful history have made Columbus suburban neighbors realists of the first order. A farmer, who lost a $60,000 brand new barn two weeks ago, described his township fire department this week.

Said he: "We have a wonderful bunch of boys . . . we lost the barn (destroyed before the department was called) — but they saved the milking parolr and silo." (The holocaust lasted 11 hours).

"We still depend on our good neighbors," he said. "And worry about fires all of the time."

The rural fire departments are called on for all sorts of village services — even entertainment. The water fight is a high spot in Ashville's annual July 4 celebration. The trick is to get the steel drum pushed across a goal line. Water is taken at normal pressure from the Ashville system.

Rabbit Show Is New Feature At '58 Franklin County Fair

Rabbit breeders in Central Ohio for the first time will be able to enter their prize specimens in the annual Franklin County Fair to be held Aug. 11-16 at Hilliards.

G. A. (Les) Burke, a breeder and licensed judge of commercial rabbits, announced that judging for the show will begin around noon, Thursday, Aug. 14 in one of the livestock tents on the fairgrounds.

So far the following breeds have been entered in competition: New Zealand Reds, and Whites, Checkered Giants, Dutch, Californian, Champagne, and Flemish Giants — which attain a weight of 20 pounds at maturity.

Burke said that these rabbits were bred primarily for meat yield, explaining that breeders strove for heavier, meatier loins and hindquarters in their animals. The rabbits are painlessly disposed of, and their pelts are often processed and sent to hatters, milliners, and furriers. Usually only solid-colored pelts are used for the latter purposes.

All the entries are pedigreed, some having bloodlines accurately traceable back for many generations.

The main reason the animals haven't been shown in previous years was due to the heat during the week of the fair. Burke stated that rabbits can live very comfortably in cold weather, but suffer considerably in hot weather.

The showier breeds, which are not necessarily commercial rabbits, will probably not appear at the show. This is due, said Burke, to the fact that almost all of the "fancier" rabbits are in the West.

There may be a maze of pipes beneath a city lot. When something goes wrong, it's necessary for repairmen to dig down to the source of trouble. Don't plant your flower bed over these areas.

It is not a good idea to plant thorned bushes along the paths leading to your house. They may grow out far enough to catch on clothing.

Have you ever met anyone who had nothing to complain about?

The Gadabout

Priscilla LaRue Lenox
HI. 4-1651

Quite a few birthdays to acknowledge today, so we'll start with them. Pamela Canterbury, 1718 S. Sixth-st, is celebrating her natal day today, July 10, as is Betty Drugan. Virg Lenox will add a few more gray hairs tomorrow. Nan Buchan, Columbus' Loretta Young, had a birthday on July 6, and July 7 found Shirley McCaffrey a year older. Sylvia Lynn should have been included in the July 10 celebrants. Marsha Huston, 167 E. Mithoff-st, celebrated her July 3 birthday at the Girl Scout Day Camp. Marsha was nine years old. Cathy McGrath, 353 Siebert-st, will be 10 years old tomorrow.

A sweet little girl was numbered among Ye Gadabout's visitors last week. Little Pamela Haynes, a former South Sider, was our visitor. She and her brother, Kirk, flew up from Coca, Fla., to spend their vacation with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rodenhouser, of S. Front-st.

Lots of vacationers to report about at this time. The Crabtree family, 148 E. Welch-av, has spent its vacation time in Tennessee. Virgie, Mae, and "Dad" Dean were among the first "outlanders" to use neighboring Michigan's new five-mile bridge that connects the upper and lower peninsulas. They left July 4 and will be gone until July 19, spending their time in northern Michigan. At last reports their daughter, Jill, was to stay with her grandmother while they were gone. The grandmother is Mrs. Vance of Siebert-st.

Also in Michigan but not as far north, are Bill and Marge Hoptry. The Hoptrys expect to get a lot of fishing done, as do the male Deans.

Ed Day, 489 E Southwood-av, is in Montana this summer, but not exactly for a vaction. Ed, an OSU student, is working there. We got a large charge from his address: Spotted Bear Ranger Station, Hungry Horse, Montana. We're real proud of Ed's 3.5 grade last quarter, and we know his folks are, too.

A happy silver wedding anniversary is wished for Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Walsh, 634 Southwood-av, who will reach their 25th year of wedded life on July 14.

The third square dance of the summer season will be held by the South Side "Y" on July 11.

A new little boy is the "bringer of joy" to Mr and Mrs. John Gaal.

Roger Brown, 552 E. Southwood-av, will be a regular member of the Marine Corps after he completes his senior year at South High School. Roger was sworn into the Marine Reserves a week ago.

St. Ann's Guild 38 will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. A. Nicolini, 919 Reeb-av.

Pretty postal cards are a welcome item in our mail box for they keep up informed of our friends' whereabouts plus furnishing us with news for the column. Three postals that we have at this time come from Bertie Blackburn, Lana and Lorraine Itskin, and Frank and Jean LaRue. Bertie finds it's nice to have a married daughter at vacation time. The Jaeger-st resident is in Chicago, Ill.

The Itskins, 1713 S. Third-st, are heading out west and were in Montana when they mailed their card. Lana said she saw antelope, buffalo and deer and was looking for bear in Glacier National Park. Frank, Jean and Byron LaRue were on a theater tour to New York and crowding as much as possible into their spare time. They were to be on the "Big Pay-Off" TV show, but time ran out before they could be seen.

Birthdays for the younger generation . . . Brenda Kirby, 123 E. Woodrow, July 15; Robert Taylor, 1528 S. Fourth-st, July 12; Deborah Gibbs, 1457 Parsons-av, July 11; Diana Jacobs, 1607 Parsons, July 15; Karen Hiser, 28 W. Welch, July 12; Brenda Taylor, 1528 S. Fourth-st, July 12; Stephen Ullman, 1445 S. High, July 14; George Knapp, 1291 S. Pearl-st, July 10; Robert Truax, 67 Hanford, July 14; Stephen Toth, 1524 S. Fourth-st, July 12; and William Warner, 1571 S. Sixth-st, July 12.

The Southwood Church of Christ's Mother's Club will hold its family picnic at the South Side "Y" park tomorrow 5 p.m. until dark. The affair will be potluck style.

On our ailing list at this time is James Rothwell, 140 E. Morrill-av, who entered St. Anthony's Hospital last week.

The Oakley family, 333 Frebis-av is spending its vacation visiting relatives. First stop on the list was Madelyn's sister, in Warren, O. Madolyn was looking forward to seeing her little niece when we talked to her last week. The second portion of the Oakley's vacation included a trip to West Virginia to visit Madelyn's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Loska, 184 E. Gates-st, were planning to go to Niagara Falls for the July 4 week-end, the last we heard. Jim and Mary Claar, 80 E. Frebis-av, were deciding whether or not to go to the Smokies and we didn't hear whether that came about or not. They're planning a junket to Florida the last of the month, we do know that. Currently in Florida are Mary and Leonard DeMatteo, 1582 Studer-av, with their son. Their niece, Irene DeMatteo, also a Studer-av resident (1402), accompanied her aunt and uncle.

A tender portion of the anatomy and mountains of dirty clothes are reminders to the Gadabout that she too, was among those on the nation's highways last week-end. The Lenox family and Don Dicke visited Niagara Falls, Old Fort Niagara (far superior to the Falls in interest, we think), looked on three of the Great Lakes, (Erie, Ontario, and Huron), stayed in Canada one night, and plowed through Detroit as the major points of interest. When we reached Toledo, instead of continuing home on Route 22, we went over to Lakeside and visited our daughter, Priscilla Dicke, who is a "working girl" up there this summer. While in Buffalo, N.Y., we spent Friday evening visiting Chuck and Yolanda Kothen. Chuck took his college work at OSU and Yolonda was the organizer of Trudeau Guild 23. Yoli is teaching in a parochial school at Buffalo, while attending college as well as raising three lively youngsters. (She has a degree in social service work, but prefers doing something that won't keep her away from the kiddies so much). It was a wonderful trip even if our neck wasn't built on a swivel so we could see everything at once!

Patty and Mabel Trigg, 1291 S. High-st, are enjoying their annual outing at Indianola camp this summer, and right up the street, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Graumlich and their granddaughter, Kathryn Mason, of 1351 and 1357 S. High-st, respectively, are anticipating their quick trip to Yellowstone National Park. The three will fly there and back.

As far as we can ascertain, we've reached the end of today's items, except one. Virginia Leonard, 515 Forest-st, is not doing too well and cheery cards would be good for her right now. Her room at Doctor's Hospital is 319 S. Do remember her won't you? Till next edition, then, tis

Mercy Introduces A Tradition

Miss McKeever, Miss Erlenbusch

Mercy Hospital has announced the addition of a tradition to the food serving and catering division of the hospital. The "tradition" added is in the person of Miss Florence K. Erlenbusch. She is pictured above with Miss Christine McKeever, Mercy's chief dietician.

Miss Erlenbusch is the granddaughter of the founder of the R. H. Erlenbusch's Son Co., thus thus bringing the tradition of proper food handling to what was generally loose handling at that long-ago time.

Miss Erlenbusch's distant kin founded the business, at 456 S. High-st, in 1859, conducted a thoroughly clean institution that grew into bigness because of the way it handled food, Miss Erlenbusch said.

Good food preparation is the first love of Miss Erlenbusch, she having had her first training under the supervision of her mother. Preparing Sunday dinner was a special phase of this training while still of grade-school age. This training was the foundation of the future Erlenbusch food service.

Superintendent Charles Beard says the administration is happy to bring the influence of the Erlenbusch Quality Food into its dietary department. Miss Erlenbusch is giving special supervision of food preparation in the new and modern kitchens of Mercy Hospital.

Site For Playground? . . . Gravel Pit?

The Dump

A South Side Leader photographer presents this view of the "dump," which is a part of the "gravel pit" area made an issue recently in Columbus City Council. Some folks say the area should be developed for playgrounds, could be used as a city nursery.

The Pit

Pictured is the gravel pit just west of the Scioto River which City Council recently voted to lease for commercial purposes followed by Mayor Sensenbrenner's veto.

Schiller 'Home' To Eight Little Jet League Teams

The Schiller Park Center has eight Little Jet League baseball teams this summer. The Columbus Recreation Department furnishes the equipment and the Southway American Legion Post No. 144 will furnish the T-Shirts with the team names.

The Pirates and Indians are in first place, with 3 wins and no losses. Some of the games have been very close. There has been one no hitter so far.

The games have been well attended, and the "young fry" are having a grand time.

Chuck Kline, a teacher from Whitehall Yearling High, and Chuck Burcher, a Bliss College Senior are in charge of the supervision of the teams.

Games are played every evening during the week, except Monday, at 5 and 6:30 p.m. The public is invited to all these games.

Leo Rodriguez Jr. Can Say 'Play Ball . . . And That's All!

The traveling life of a baseball player and his family taxes a person's ability to adjust to new surroundings enough without the added disadvantage of not speaking the same language.

This problem is the one being faced now by Leo Rodriguez, his wife, Beatrice, and their children, Leo jr., 4, and Norma, 5, all natives of Mexico. They are residing at 2190 Safford-av.

Leo, shortstop for the Jets, has picked up a fair command of English during his eight years in baseball but he still has some difficulty in explaining himself.

Mrs. Rodriguez speaks only a few words of English. Leo, jr. can only say "play ball" but that made him an instant hit with the Jet players. Norma seems to be interested in just the bare necessities — she can say "your welcome, thank you, okay and shut-up!"

This is Leo's first year with the Jets. He said (in a combination of Spanish and English) that he likes the team and the city. He added that the other players have been helpful and understanding concerning his language barrier.

Leo plays baseball in the United States about six months each year. He then plays in the Mexican Coast League for several months in the fall. Following this he takes his family home, which is in Torreon, Mexico, for a little relaxation.

The Rodriquez family prefers baseball life in California because there are more Spanish-speaking people there. However, Leo said they have found several families in Columbus who speak their language which keeps them from getting too homesick.

Leo signed a contract to play professional baseball right after graduating from high school. He said he became interested in the sport through two of his uncles who also played professional ball.

His goal is to play in the big leagues. When his playing days are over, Leo would like to go into coaching or teaching. He said, however, that when he is through with American baseball he and his family will return to Mexico to live.

Jets Call This Area 'Home' — For Awhile

Pettit's Wife Says, 'Being Traded Is Like A Vacation'

by Roy Shaffer

Ever wonder what life is like for a baseball player's family? To be swapped with another team in another part of the country? To have "pappa" be a hero one week and a louse the next in the eyes of the sports fans?

Mrs. Paul Pettit, whose husband was recently traded to the Columbus Jets from Salt Lake City, can answer these and other questions as a ball player's wife and mother of four small children.

"I don't mind being moved around when Paul is traded — it's a lot like being on a vacation. However, our oldest son will start to school this fall and I will hate moving him from one school to another," said Mrs. Pettit.

"I don't care for being traded around," said Paul, "we just get settled in one community and get to know our way around and then bang — we get sent to another team and a new city. Sometimes the team will only give you two or three days notice. It wouldn't be so bad if I weren't married but its rough with a family."

Paul, a native of California, is a first baseman and outfielder for the Jets. He came to the team June 15 this year. Pettit, his wife, Shirley, and their children, Paul jr., Mark, Cindy and Timmy, are residing in Westgate Manor.

The Pettits own a home in Lomita, Calif., near Hollywood, where they manage to live six months each year. While there Paul or "Lefty" as his wife calls him, goes to college where he is preparing to be a physical education teacher. He plans to become a teacher when his baseball days are over.

Takes Careful Budgeting

Mrs. Pettit said she enjoys the life of being a baseball player's wife. She likes visiting new places and meeting new people. "But it's a real business," she said " and the men have to work hard to stay in the game. The pay is good, but then six-months out of the year there is no paycheck and believe me that takes real budgeting!"

When the players are on tour, Mrs. Pettit said their wives take the opportunity to do some house-cleaning and a little socializing among themselves. She said she likes baseball but with four children the only player she keeps tab on is her own!

The Pettit youngsters are proud of their father but they don't boast to other children. They keep their dad busy though — signing autographs for their little friends!

Paul has loved baseball since childhood and signed his first contract to play professional ball upon graduation from high school in 1950.

Praises Team, Bosses

Pettit said, "the Columbus Jets is made up of a swell bunch of guys. The men in the 'front office' are terrific too—which is unusual in this sport!"

Mrs. Pettit's only gripe about their traveling life is the problem of renting nice homes or apartments. "Baseball players' wives are always cleaning up someone else's house! Westgate Manor is the greatest! It's one of the nicest, cleanest places we've ever rented," she said.

"I like the Hilltop area very much. I especially appreciated the Welcome Wagon caller. The only other place we ever received a community welcome was California. I think it's a terrific service because it makes you feel at home in a new area right away," said Mrs. Pettit.

Hard work never killed anybody — but why take a chance being the first victim.

Hello!

Flowers are traditional for the perfect birthday gift. And did you ever send your Mother flowers on your birthday. That is really giving thanks for the privilege of being here. To cheer the shut-in or hospital patient, what better medicine is there than beautiful flowers?

We often fill an order for an anniversary gift of a rose for every year of marriage. Flowers play a big part on the wedding day and bring back tender memories on the anniversaries. New babies mean loving gifts of flowers from proud daddies, beaming grandparents, aunts, uncles and friends. We do love to make up those pretty baby arrangements.

No matter what the occasion, flowers are the right gift. We strive to have every order leave our shop as fresh and well-designed as possible. Call us the next time you need flowers.

split in games last week with Southeast Lions and Smith Road. The Intermediates dropped an 18-8 decision to Southeast Lions on Wednesday but the Juniors evened the count against outside opposition by drubbing Smith Road 19-5 on Thursday afternoon with both Jim Honold and Jim Clark collecting four hits each.

The Intermediates will try to even their record on Tuesday at the expense of once-defeated Smith Road. The Juniors are idle this week but will seek victory No. 2 next week against the Lincoln playground.

South end track and field finals are scheduled for Thursday at the South High School field. All interested in competing should register at the playground on Wednesday.

Next week's Lantern Parade on Thursday evening at Schiller Park promises to be a big success. Southview's boys and girls are working hard on their projects during arts and crafts sessions directed daily by the playground supervisor, Roxie Bonar. Judging from early progress this will be a colorful spectacle everyone will want to see.

Those interested in attending day camp the week of July 14 should register now.

Lincoln

The week of JULY 4 closed with a doll show on the playground. There were 25 dolls in the show. Of these, 12 were given ribbons. There were three categories, large, medium, and small. The three outstanding first prize winners were Margie Rose with a large doll, Sue Cramer with a medium doll, and Jane Fluhart with a beautiful small doll.

Starting Monday, July 14, the South Side section playground children, including Lincoln Park, have an opportunity to go to Day Camp at Indian Village for a whole week. A child, boy or girl, must be 8 to 12 years old. The children must take their lunch, but milk is furnished. They will meet the bus at Schiller Park in the morning and the bus will return them that same afternoon. Be sure to come to the park to register for Day Camp.

The children at the park are parparing for the Lantern Parade July 17. Bring a box and hurry to the park.

Lincoln's softball teams were both victorious last week. Lincoln's Junior team won over Karns No. 1 by the score of 15 to 8. Leading hitters for Lincoln were Bobby and Danny West, Mike Markus, Carter Camper, Bud Pierce, and Danny Sells. The winning pitcher was Danny Sells. The intermediate team won by a forfeit over Karns.

There will be a track meet Thursday at South High School. Anyone who would like to participate see Clyde or George at the playground.

Karns

By Shirley Lantz

The South Side track meet is being held today at South High School. Children 11 through 13 years old are participating in the afternoon, starting at 1, while the ones 14 to 17 years old participate this evening, starting at 6 p.m.

Karns Junior Girls' softball team defeated Fairwood last week, 33-2, and the Girls' Intermediate team defeated Southeast Lions Playground 25-24.

This week the Juniors play Fornof, while the Intermediates play Fairwood Friday at 3 p.m. at Karns.

Registrations must be in this week to the playground leaders for day camp which starts this Monday, July 14 and lasts for one week. It is held at Indian Village, near Columbus. There will be swimming, hiking, nature lore and much fun in store. It is for boys and girls ages eight through 12 and will cost $2.50. Transportation is furnished each day from Schiller Park.

Karns Playground is now busy working on its project for the lantern parade to be held next Thursday at Schiller. The playground will close at 5:30 that day so that everyone may attend the lantern parade.

A doll show will be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock. All dolls are welcome.

Physical fitness tests and track practice are now being held in the evening at 7:30 when the weather is cooler.

Cold Facts About Cooling

It is a little-known fact that fans can be used to control humidity as well as temperature. The summer of 1958 has been unusually wet in many areas of the county, and promises to be more humid than usual. High humidity can cause mold and mildew damage in upholstered furniture, rugs, books and many other household items and affects the press of clothes hung in closets.

In the winter, with an average inside temperature of 75 degrees, the relative humidity is negligible. In the summer, however, there can be nearly eight times as much water vapor both in the air and in such absorbent materials as rugs, draperies and upholstery. Even at inside temperatures of 80 degrees, for example, with a relative humidity of 70 per cent, there is a full gallon of water in the air in an average five-room house with 1,000 square feet of floor space and eight-foot ceilings.

Electric fans can be of definite value in reducing this inside humidity. Even during continuous humid weather, the rise in temperature during the day lowers the relative humidity. For this reason, a 20 inch window fan, used to exhaust the air from the house during the day, will effectively rid the house of much of the excess moisture that has collected during the night. In fact, in a house of the type described above, one 20 inch fan can remove as much as a quart of water vapor per minute! The addition of smaller circulating or oscillating fans, placed in closets or other out-of-the-way places, can help eliminate the threat of moisture damage even during the most humid weather.

Enough time should be allowed, however, for the moving air to remove heat and moisture stored in furnishings and even in walls, floors and ceilings.

DIAGNOSIS

A friend of ours recently visited a doctor to see what could be done about a rash on his arms.

"Ever have this before?" asked the doctor.

"Like I said, Doc," our friend answered, "it comes and it goes."

"Hmmn," the doctor concluded, "looks like you've got it again."

Following The Observance Of Independence Day Is An Appropriate Time To Read The Famous PRIMER FOR AMERICANS

You live in the United States of America. You are an American.

Most Americans like their country. They are proud of it. They think it is a good place to live. And they want to keep it good—to keep it getting better all the time.

Why is America the way it is? What makes it a good place to live? The answer is simply this:

Throughout our history most Americans have believed that every person has certain rights and duties and responsibilities.

Americans have believed that there are certain things people should do, and things they should not do.

They have also believed in certain things that people are, and are not.

These things that people believe are called principles. This book is an attempt to state the Principles of America in simple, primer fashion so that you can understand them, learn them, and remember them.

This is important. It was because earlier Americans believed in these principles and guided their lives by them, that America has grown to be the good place it is.

If all of us learn and remember these principles—if we also guide our lives by them—then we can help to keep America growing better, and better, and better.

And if we follow these Principles of America, we can help make the world a better place to live in, too.

The Principles of America are these . . .

1. Each Person is of Importance and Value as an Individual.

This is the cornerstone . . . the foundation of all our other beliefs in a person's right to live his own life, to speak for himself, to choose and change his leaders.

From it comes our belief of those "isms" under which the individual has no value or importance as a person, but is only one of many unimportant people who have to live the way their leaders tell them to.

Coming directly from that first principle are two others that are also part of the foundation of Americanism.

2. We Believe that All Men should Enjoy Personal Freedom.

3. We Believe that All Men are Created Equal.

It is worth noting that the Declaration of Independence expressed the belief that "all men are created equal." It did not state or imply a belief that men develop equally or have equal ability, or that they should ever be forced to an exact equality of thought, speech or material possessions.

That would be equality without freedom. Americans have always believed the two should go together.

In our Constitution, and in other laws of our land, there are set down principles to protect the rights and freedoms and equality of individuals.

4. The Right to Freedom of Speech.

This includes freedom of the press, of radio, of motion pictures, of every means by which man may express his thoughts.

5. The Right to Freedom of Assembly.

As we believe in the right of individual action, so we believe that individuals should be free to act together.

6. The Right to Freedom of Worship.

Not only is the individual free to worship as he will, but religious denominations are free and equal.

7. The Right to Security of Person and Property.

Not just one, but three Amendments to the Constitution (4th, 5th and 14th) protect against illegal search and seizure, or loss of life, liberty, or property, without "due process of law."

8. The Right to Equal Protection before the Law.

As individuals are equally important, so laws must apply equally to all, without special privileges for any group.

9. The Right to Freedom from Slavery.

This includes "the right to quit," for no individual may be forced to work for another.

10. The Right to Petition the Government.

The right of the individual to "petition the government for redress of grievances" is evidence of the American belief that government is the servant, not the master, of the people.

11. The Right to Vote for people of your choice.

This is the individual's most potent weapon in the protection of his rights and freedoms . . . a weapon that to be effective must be constantly and wisely used.

Other Principles hold that every man has . . .

12. The Right to a Good Education.
13. The Right to Live where he pleases.
14. The Right to Work where he wants to.
15. The Right to Belong to an Organization.
16. The Right to Own Property.
17. The Right to Start his Own Business.
18. The Right to Manage his Own Affairs.
19. The Right to Make a Profit or to Fail, depending on his Own Ability.

There are other, similar rights of individual action which are Principles of America, but all of these individual rights may be combined in these two broad principles . . .

20. Every Man is entitled to Freedom and Equality of Opportunity.
21. Every Man may Earn his Living When, Where, and How he wants to.

There are also Limiting Principles . . .

Principles of individual freedom sometimes clash with those of individual equality. Therefore our rights as individuals must be limited, and those limitations are themselves principles.

22. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with those of Other Individuals.

Your right to swing your arms stops where the other fellow's nose starts.

23. The Rights of any Individual shall not Interfere with the Welfare of the People.

Freedom of speech does not give the individual the right to shout "fire" in a crowded theatre.

24. Every Individual owes Obedience to the Laws under which he Lives.

The individual has the right to talk against a law, to work and vote to change that law, but NOT to disobey that law.

Principles that are Patterns of Behavior . . .

Many of our principles of individual freedom and equality are guaranteed to us by law. But we have other beliefs, other general rules of action and conduct that have grown to the status of principles. And these too, are foundations of Americanism.

25. A Man shall be Judged by his Own Record.

A man's family background, his race or his religion, is not as important as what that man himself can do, for Americans believe a man must stand on his own feet.

26. A Man is Free to Achieve as much as he can.

We believe that where any boy may become President, where any man may achieve greatness, there is the greatest incentive for every man to do his best.

27. To Achieve anything, a Man should be Willing to Work.

Americans have always known that "you don't get something for nothing," that to get anything takes a willingness to work.

28. Achievement also Depends upon the Ability to do a Good Job.

Add to "willingness to work" the ability to produce results and the combination is the basis for most individual achievement in our country.

29. Every Man has the Right to a Fair Share of the Results of his Work and his Ability.

Because of this belief, America has not only produced more goods, but they have been more fairly and more widely shared by more people than in any other country.

30. Security is the Ability of a Man to Provide for himself.

The only true security for any individual is the opportunity, the ability, and the determination to work and plan and save for his own present and future. Self-reliance is vital to individual independence and personal freedom. No man can be "proud and free" who depends on others for his security.

31. When an Individual cannot Provide his own Security, the Responsibility should be Assumed by Others.

We believe that no one should starve or be without adequate clothing and shelter, so those who have more than their basic needs share the responsibility of providing the essentials of security for those who need help.

32. Each Individual must Deal Fairly with others.

Honesty, fairness, and personal integrity are virtues that help free and independent individuals get along with each other without losing their independence.

33. Fair and Free Competition is a Good Thing.

Americans have always believed that competition among individuals or groups encourages greater effort which in turn brings greater benefits to all.

34. Cooperation among Individuals is Vital.

Professor Emmerson has said: "The freedom to compete vigorously accompanied by a readiness to cooperate wholeheartedly for the performance of community and national functions, together make our system the most productive on earth."

Principles of Individual Responsibility . . .

Freedom for individuals carries with it an equal responsibility to use that freedom wisely. If we wish to remain free, we must faithfully fulfill this responsibility.

35. The Individual is Responsible for himself and his Family.

He must protect them and provide for their present and future well-being.

36. The Individual has Responsibilities to the Groups of which he is a Part.

He must give of his best to his community, his church, his employer, his union, and to every group in which individuals cooperate for their mutual benefit.

37. The Individual has Responsibilities to his Country.

He must be an active citizen, interesting himself in local, state, and national government, voting wisely, thinking and speaking and acting to preserve and strengthen freedom, equality and opportunity for every individual.

38. The Individual has Responsibilities to the World.

Man's horizons have expanded. What happens in the world affects him, and his actions can affect the world. Today, therefore, each man has a responsibility to act—and to encourage his country to act—so that freedom and cooperation will be encouraged among the people and the nations of the world.

For America's Future

Most of us have faith in our country's ability to move forward, to improve, to grow, to provide more and more individuals with more and more of everything they want and need in life. . .

If we, the people of the United States, want to have more material benefits, we must believe in and follow these two principles:

39. The only way we can Have More is to Produce More; and
40. As we Produce More, we must make it possible for More and More People to Enjoy that which we Produce.

If we, the people of the United States, want to have a better life, spiritually as well as materially . . .

41. We must stand firmly for our Beliefs, our Rights, our Principles.

There are those who would chip away our confidence so that their special brand of tyranny might creep into America. They must not succeed. So, let us ask of every plan, or act, or idea . . .

Is it With or Against the Principles of America?

Progress Report: Rainfall In Race With First Day Of School

Deshler 'Brand New' And Growing

Rainfall had chased workmen away from the construction work on Deshler School when the photographer arrived to record the progress on the addition announced by the Leader early this year. Although Deshler school is "brand new," being one of the newest schools in the Columbus education system, expanding population compels additions.

Barrett Junior High Growing

The same population increase brought about this new and modern addition at Barrett Junior High School as shown here, by a Hartley Newspapers photographer. This new phase of the school's growth is an addition in the southeast area of the new section which was completed in time for the opening of school in September of last year.

Historical Society Plans Two-Day Kentucky Tour

A two-day tour to historical sites in Lexington and Berea, Ky., including a performance to Paul Green's prize-winning outdoor drama, "Wilderness Road," will be conducted by the Franklin County Historical Society the weekend of July 19 to 20.

Chartered air-conditioned buses will leave the Greyhound bus terminal at 8:30 Saturday morning and are scheduled to return to Columbus at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. Cost of the tour is $18 to members, $20 to new members and $14 to children under 12. These prices include round trip bus fare, admission to historical sites, including Duncan Tavern at Paris, Ky., and a reserved seat to Paul Green's historical drama, "Wilderness Road," at Indian Fort Theater near Berea. Members pay their own meals and overnight lodging at Berea College residence halls.

Deadline for reservations (priced at $14, $18 and $20) is noon, July 16. For details call CA. 1-7467 week-days. Evenings and week-ends call HU. 6-3226 or AX. 4-1027.

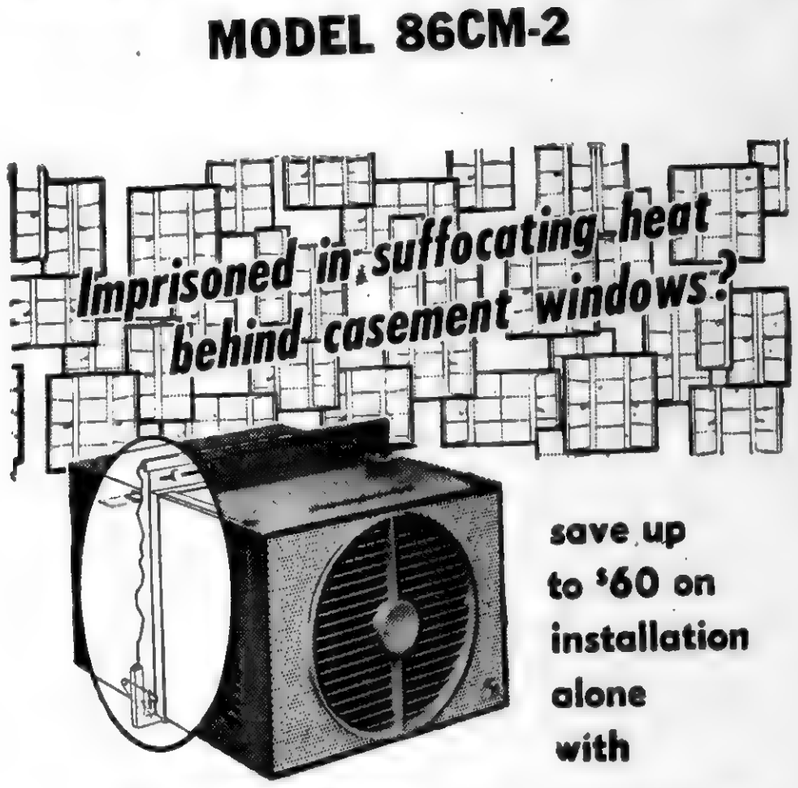
DOERS

What can I do? I can talk out when others are silent. I can say man when others say money. I can stay awake when others are asleep. I can keep on working when others have stopped to play. I can give life big meanings when others give life little meanings. I can say love when others say hate. I can say every man when others say one man. I can try events by a hard test when others try them by an easy test.

What can I do? I can give myself to life when other men refuse themselves to life.

Claimants Needn't Rush For Extended Benefits

Claimants who wish to take advantage of the Ohio Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation Act, which becomes effective Sunday, July 13, need not crowd into the local Bureau of Unemployment Compensation office on Monday, July 14, said Manager Ralph E. Gabele.



Gabele added that claimants should come to the office on the day of the week assigned to them under their former claim. In this way, they will not need to wait in line.

Individuals are also requested to bring their claims record books and any other forms or notices pertaining to their exhausted claim.

The act, which was signed by Governor C. William O'Neill on June 28, will effect those persons who have, since June 30, 1957, exhausted all rights to state benefits. They may be eligible under this temporary program to receive 50 per cent of the amount payable under such exhausted claims.

Washer Sale Proves Value Of Advertising

"I could have sold a dozen washers," was the delighted comment of Mrs. Stella Harris, 133 S Harris-av, on the effectiveness of Hartley Newspaper want ads.

Skip-Hop View Of Friendly America By Swedish Student

School Students From 30 Lands Stop Here On Cross-Country Jaunt

Christina Manheim is a 17-year-old native of Sweden—a ruddy, blond girl with fresh, athletic charm—a sort of Bergman without tears—brighter, more gay.

She was a guest of Marion-Franklin's Pat Smith, 300 Williams-rd, last weekend while she and more than 60 other young high school studentes stopped over in Columbus while enroute to their homes after a year's study and graduation from high school in Oregon.

For more than a week they have been skiphopping in lazy day-long bus trips from Portland to New York City, staying overnight with American families in cities and towns along the way.

They arrived Friday in big cross-country buses, were met at Franklin County line by motorcycle police who accompanied them down West Broad-st, with wound-up sirens, stopped cars, waving passersby . . . the turn in at the Red Cross Regional Blood Center where a huge crowd had assembled, the flashing cameras and handshakes—all this was a reminder that a twelve month sojourn in the United States was barely more than 48 hours from sudden end.

Some of the students probably will never visit the United States again; whatever they have learned about us—and we from them—will have to do for a life time.

Other students will probably return again and again as active leaders in a more knowledgeable and understanding world.

Chrintina probably will be one of those who will return.

With high school unquely behind her, she'll now enter college in Sweden to study foreign relations, languages and psychiatry.

"We're leaving the United States with mixed feelings," she said Saturday. "We've missed our families . . . are terribly anxious to see them." (for Christina, a mother, dad, and two brothers).

She enjoyed the United States too, and like most of her fellow students — superior kids in many ways, she liked all sorts of things: the malted milk which they don't have in Europe (fast becoming a symbol of our way of life, it would seem), the wide selection of good TV programs (not generally available in Sweden), and the "friendliness of everyone here.

But home, more adult things, her career, now beckon.

In what ways and thing is Sweden superior to the United States?, we asked. Not an indelicate question apparently, because Christina had frank answers).

"We are less mechanized at home," she said. "We live more out of doors . . . walk more, ride less, do more things without conveniences.

"Our holy days are more serious," she said. "And they last longer. Christmas is observed with more tradition and lasts for three days." (Christina belongs to the Swedish Lutheran Church).

"Our women folks stay at home, are busy with house work and raising the children, she said."When they visit or "go out" they go as a family member. (most activities are enjoyed together by the Swedish family, she said).

"Sweden is more traditional in all things . . . is more conscious of "manners" and propriety, she said.

The American Field Service was founded in 1915 as a volunteer ambulance service with the French Armies. It served again in World War II.

In 1947 it began a new program of educating teen-age exchange students.

It has no affiliations with any religious, political or other organization.

Eagles Plan Big Picnic

Columbus Aerie No. 297 FOE will hold the annual Eagle's picnic at Powell Speedway picnic grounds, located 1½ miles east of the Columbus Zoo on Route 750, Powell, on Sunday, July 20, it was announced by Worthy President, Clarence Lindholm.

The general chairman, Roy W. Clouse, announces that it will be held rain or shine since there is plenty of shelter in case of rain. He also announces that there will be rides and other concessions on the grounds. For the kiddies, there will be a separate playground equipped with swings, merry-go-round, sliding boards where they can have fun. Plenty of free parking. Dancing will include both round and square in the afternoon and evening and entertainment. The committee is planning a well-rounded program of activities for the families. It will be fun to get away from the hot kitchen and spend a full day in the country having fun.

For those who do not bring their picnic baskets, food will be served by the Ladies Auxiliary at reasonable prices. This picnic is for all Eagles, their families and friends, the announcement said.

Pennsy Picnic . . .

Dom Tiberi, chairman of the annual family picnic, Pennsylvania Railroad, has announced a change this year in the location of the picnic. The affair will be held, the chairman said at Oak Park, 5440 Sunbury-rd. The date as announced is Sunday, Aug. 17.

Jackpot Insignia Worth $15 'Dollars' This Week

One copy of each week's issue contains a jackpot insignia, valued at the amount currently in the jackpot, and $1 insignia are printed in ten other copies.

All advertisers appearing in the current issue of the newspaper will honor "Confederate" money for any purchase made in their stores.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Subscribers finding a lucky insignia may redeem the newspaper at South Side Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av.

Employes or carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are not eligible.

Complete rules and exact size replicas of the insignia are shown in the box located on page eight.

Catch— Sgt. Garcia! Worth $10

Sgt. Garcia, the channel catfish worth $10, is still on the loose in the Schiller Pond.

Sixteen of the 100 tagged fish in the pond have been caught, including Wyatt Earp and Cheyenne, each worth $5. The other 84 are still waiting for some young angler to hook them and register the catch with any of the staff at Schiller.

Any boy or girl 14 years of age or younger is eligible to join the South East Lions Junior Fishing Club and enter the fishing derby at Schiller, which will continue all the rest of the summer. A big party on the final day, Aug. 15, is being planned with the awarding of prizes for all the tagged fish that have been caught during the summer plus a grand prize drawing for a bicycle. Application blanks for membership are available at Schiller Playground.

'Jet' Night By Kiwanians

The 13 Kiwanis Clubs of Central Ohio's 10th Division, which includes the Southern Kiwanis Club, will sponsor the annual "night" at Jet Stadium Wednesday, July 23. That evening the Jets meet Rochester in a twin-bill. The first game begins at 6:30.

Musical entertainment will highlight the program.

Tickets can be purchased from the ticket chairman, Albert S. Justus, or from Kiwanis Club members at the prevailing prices.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be used to send underprivileged children to the Big Brothers Camp in Hocking County.

Peace Reigns

Gravel Issue Goes To A Future Date

The "gravel fight" is ended, temporarily at least, if city council's Monday evening action is a forerunner of future action. This, of course, has reference to the Frank-rd gravel lease, which has caused considerable apprehension in the South Side and west of the Scioto River. Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner recently vetoed what was called the "gravel lease" and when council convened Monday evening of this week there was general understanding that council would attempt to pass the "gravel lease over His Honor's veto.

Previously a large number of points were developed indicating the undesirableness of letting the area for commercial sale of gravel. The price which had been set was considered unfair to the city, and members of council had said that the lease had been badly drawn and failed to give the city the protection required in good business transactions.

Other members of council had expressed the thought that more time should be given to consideration of the various factors involved in the proposed transaction.

Surprise

Members of council did not wait long to put an end, at least temporarily, to the leasing program. This program involved the proposed lease of 40 acres of city-owned land to the Visintine Equipment Co. for gravel extraction.

Council voted after representatives of Marble Cliff Quarries and American Aggregates asked the city to take competitive bids on the proposed lease.

More Study

Council President Wesley Llewelyn suggested postponement, saying that the debated issue required more time for consideration. He gave assurance that at a future appropriate time he "would definitely reintroduce" the measure.

Nice Guests . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kuhn 614 Seibert-st, have invited the Columbus Chapter 1, American Gold Star Mothers, to their cottage at Buckeye Lake today, Thursday to honor members who have birthdays during the month. There will be a potluck dinner at noon and each one will bring table service.

Request New Name For Marconi-Blvd.

The Lincoln Historical Association of Ohio, Inc., 280 East Broad-st, has filed a petition with the Columbus City Council requesting that Marconi Boulevard be renamed Lincoln Boulevard. The organization hopes that this change can be effected in time to coincide with the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Celebration scheduled for 1959.

Council was unable to rule on this petition in its Monday, July 7 meeting, but the request remains on the dockets to be taken up later.

The Lincoln Historical Association is currently sponsoring a tree-planting campaign throughout Ohio in a two fold effort to commemorate Lincoln's life and works as well as to refurbish the State's natural resources.

The petition to change the name of Marconi Boulevard is one more step in the organization's efforts to perpetuate Lincoln's memory and to honor Ohio's war dead.

Five Local Groups Share In United Appeal Service

Five community service agencies located in the South Side are included in the United Appeal goal for $3,388,470.

The drive target, set this week, will be sought during the annual appeal next fall.

The goal is 3.25 per cent more than raised last year, the smallest increase in UA's seven-year history.

Agencies located in the South Side are St. Stephen's Community House, South Side Day Nursery, South Side Settlement House, South Side Branch YMCA, South Side Community Center.

Amounting to $106,000 over last year's total, the quota was recommended by the UA citizens' screening committee after a month's study of agency needs and the community's economic conditions. The committee is made up of volunteers representing givers in industry, business, labor, and the professions.

Charles W. Medick, drive chairman, called the goal "reasonable and attainable."

"I am well aware," he added, "that we are not fully meeting agency requirements with this goal. However, in view of today's economy, the goal is as fair as can be when we balance needs against the public's ability to give."

He concluded, "I am sure that people of good-will will pick up for those who can't.

Cruiser Coming!

South Siders are invited to have a free chest X-ray when the Christmas Seal X-ray Cruiser operates at the following locations:

Thursday, July 17, Oak-st and Wilson-av; Friday, Miller-av and Main-st; Monday, July 21, 18th and Oak-sts; Tuesday, Kelton and Livingston-avs.

All operating hours will be 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Everyone over 15 is welcome to participate. Preliminary reports will be made on all suspected chest ailments, including tuberculosis, within two weeks.

Hobby Show Chairman

Mrs. Frank E. Young, 296 Innis-av, has been named area chairman of the 10th annual Golden Age Hobby Show to be held at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts on Sept. 19-21.

The Golden Age Hobby Show is given annually under the joint sponsorship of the Columbus Citizen, the Columbus Recreation Department, and the United Community Council, a United Appeal agency. Exhibitors are limited to residents of Franklin County and surrounding communities who are 60 years of age and over.

The hobby show is the largest affair for senior citizens in Franklin County. Last year a record crowd of 3,579 attended the event. Ranging in age from 60 to 95, the 201 exhibitors displayed approximately 600 exhibits of handwork and collections.

Anyone over 60 who has a hobby, collection, needlework or handicraft that he or she would like to exhibit is asked to contact Mrs. Young at HI. 4-5652 for a copy of the rules and procedure governing exhibits.

Long In The Romance That Is India, Minister, Retired Bishop, Speaker

Bishop J. Waskom Pickett, a retired bishop of the Methodist Church, and perhaps the best-known American in India, will be the guest speaker at Hansberger Methodist Church at 6 p. m. and at Livingston Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m., on Sunday, July 20.

Bishop Pickett is now serving as professor of missions at Boston University for one semester each year, and is a consultant on evangelism for the Broad of Mission of the Methodist Church for the remainder of the year. He recently completed a tour of missions in six countries in Asia and three in Africa, and will return to Africa and then go to South America in late 1958.

Son of Texas

A son of Texas by birth and of Kentucky by boyhood residence and education, Bishop Pickett has spent 46 years in missionary service in India, 21 years as bishop. In his addresses here he talks about important aspects of life in Asia, Africa, and America—aspects which he says are usually dealt with in newspapers on magazines.

Bishop Pickett went to India in 1910 in Mission work and 25 years later he was chosen one of its episcopal leaders. In the interim he had served as pastor and administrator in Lucknow and Arrah, India, as superintendent of the Arrah District, as secretary of the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Church in India, as manager of the Methodist Publishing House in Lucknow, as editor of "The Indian Witness." He was also secretary of the National Christian Council.

Major Contribution

One of his major contributions to the Christian cause in India was made more than 20 years ago, when he studied the so-called "mass movements" to Christianity—especially of the depressed or outcast people—for the National Christian Council and the Institute of Religious and Social Research, founded by John D. Rockefeller. The study is still an authority in the field of Christian approach to peoples who may be wavering on the edge of the Hindu faith.

Recently

In more recent years, Bishop Pickett served as president of the National Christian Council of India, resigning that place in 1947 so that an Indian might head this highest evangelical body. During the post-partition months in India, when hundreds of thousands of refugees moved from India to Pakistan and from Pakistan to India, and there was tragic hunger, disease, and homelessness in the lands, Bishop Pickett organized and was chairman of the Christian Committee for Relief, an agency that has been credited with saving the lives of many thousands on both sides. The work of this Committee resulted also in a new understanding of an appreciation of Christianity among both Hindu and Moslem peoples, and the Government of India formally thanked the Committee for "its notable work."

TJ Merchants Win 24 to 10

Thurman Jaeger Merchants played their second game at Lincoln Park last week in the City Inter-Center League, defeating Lincoln 24 to 10. John Schumacher won his second game in a row; allowing four hits and walking 13. Ronny Emerich hit a three run homer to help Schiller's TJ Merchants to victory.

You may find whole, half, or sliced frozen strawberries. Since more uniformly sized berries are needed for a whole or half berry pack, they sell for a higher price per package than sliced.

The Gadabout

Priscilla LeRue Lenox
HI. 4-1851

A long and interesting letter from Ed Day, 489 Southwood-av, made his surroundings seem quite vivid to ye Gadabout upon perusal. Ed is working in Montana this summer, between quarters at Ohio State. We know Ed won't mind a few quotes from his letter, as he's already given his permission. To quote "I'm stationed at the Spotted Bear Ranger Station, which is way out in the middle of nowhere, about 56 miles from the main highway over a gravel road that twists and winds its way around the mountains. The towns out here still look like towns of the Old West. I think there are more bars along the main street than all other kinds of stores put together." I'm sure Ed would love to hear from any of the readers who would care to write . . . he goes to town only once a week, so the evenings stretch rather long in camp. His address is Spotted Bear Ranger Station, Box 378, Hungry Horse Mont. (That address gives me an idea . . . a collection of post marks with "animals" in them!)

Mid-summer birthdays are celebrated by these smaller fry . . . William Rice, 1741 S. 6th-st, July 22; Mary Mulholland, 1411 S. 4th-st, July 17; Linda Clark, 1461 S. Wall-st, July 23; Larry Miligan, 1659 S. 4th-st, July 21; Ilona Massie, 305 Southwood, July 23; Michael Mulisano, 43 Jenkins, July 18; Donald Branham, 1673 S. 4th-st, July 21; Marsha Wright, 364 Sheldon-av, July 22.

Nice timing on the part of the Southwood Church of Christ officials permits the Junior Department to participate in the church picnic July 19 at the South Side "Y" Park, then journey up to Round Lake on July 20 for a week of fun. The church picnic will start at 1 p.m. and continue till 8 p.m. There will be games, contests, and prizes for everyone. Among the juniors who will enjoy a week of fun at Round Lake are these: Carol Doran, Carla Jividen, Jean Hendricks, and Tom Lenox. Rev. and Mrs. Ellis Wesner will be there, with their two small fry. Mrs. Oscar Brown will be there as a cook, and camp nurse will be Mrs. Carl Jividen.

Elected and appointed officers of Trudeau Guild 10 are as follows: chairman, Mary Clarr; vice chairman, Donna Hampton; treasurer, Margaret Miller; secretary, Martha Thomas; project, Mary Eichel; ways and means, Virginia Leonard; expansion, Frances Paulus; San Aire, Priscilla Lenox, telephone, Cleo Canter; patient adoption, Marge Hoptry; calendar, Essie Buller; sunshine and entertainment, Madeline Oakley; service, Dorothy Whitacre.

Two weddings-to-be on our item list include the July 19 ceremony that will unite Donna Lee Baker, 326 E. Deshler-av, and Robert Sabo, 327 E. Innis-av in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. On July 20, in Miller-av EUB Church Sonja Marie Peck will exchange her vows with Edwin Marburger in an open church ceremony. Miss Peck is a resident of 944 Reinhard-av and her bridegroom-to-be resides at 1209 Fairwood-av.

Our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Starkey, 423 Sheldon-av, who lost their two-year old son so tragically.

An attractive post card from Winston Salem, N.C., and sent by Glenna Edwards, 66 E. Innis-av, told us that she and Dale were vacationing "South" this year. Also delivered to our mail-box by Jack Wardlow were pretty cards from the previously mentioned vacationing Deans, Triggs, and DeMatteos.

Another couple in the "PG" Club . . . former South Siders, Margie and Ronald Dunham, this time. The Dunhams, former residents of Bruck-st, entered the "magic" circle on June 26, when Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dunham introduced seven pounds of masculinity to this world. The new Dunham will answer to Judson Scott, in the years to come.

On our ailing list for today are Josephine Farnsworth, 1821 Oakwood-av; Rose Stewart, 342 Jenkins-av; Virginia Leonard, still in Doctor's Hospital. (Virginia definitely is in need of "cheering up" at this point. If you'd like to send a card, her room is 219 S.)

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Oberkonz, 60 E. Jenkins, were hosts to New York visitors in the recent past. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Herr, of Huntington Station, Long Island, stopped in Columbus for a short visit before continuing on to Kansas City. "Skipper", grandson of Mrs. Herr, accompanied the Empire State residents. Mr. Herr, a retired policeman with 32 years of service, helps his wife run a gift shop on Long Island.

We certainly hope the weatherman co-operates in making the New York City vacation trip of Marian Schrader and Edna Albrecht a pleasant one. Marian and her mother are currently in the Big City taking in five of the top plays, such as "Music Man," "My Fair Lady," etc. Marian is a resident of 1619 S. 3rd-st, and Edna lives at 1407 S. 6th-st. Edna would have been in this week's column anyway, as she will be having a birthday the first of next week.

A family dinner at the Jai-Lai will mark the July 18 golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Harkless, 1621 E. Kossuth-st. The couple has seven children, 20 grandchildren, and 3 great grandchildren.

Virgil Lenox and Betty Dean were birthday celebrants last week. Betty, a resident of 898 Studer-av, proved she has stamina, for she survived ye Gadabout's cake and the Irishman's 35 mm slides last Saturday.

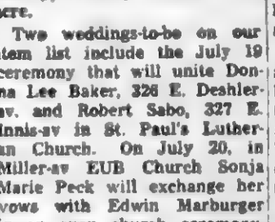
Our sympathy to the families of Ernest Knepper, 193 Frebis-av and Charles Nader, 621 Mithoff-st.

Litchfield, Ill., and Hollywood were scenes of weddings involving some of our local residents in the recent past. Well known Jim Wagner, of the South Side "Y", bestowed his name upon Ruth Hesterberg of Litchfield in a July 12 ceremony. Their home will be at 1299 Innis-av. Barbara Cheek, 462 S. 18th-st, a South High grad, exchanged her June 30 vows with Darrell Fraser, who is a Grandview Heights and OSU graduate, in the Little Chapel of Hollywood's First Presbyterian Church. After the ceremony the newly weds left for Havana Cuba, and then to Port-au-Prince, Haiti, where they will make their home.

Lots of July birthdays to acknowledge this week . . . Alberta Blackburn, Dona Hampton, Essie Buller, Edna Hudson and Patti Hampton. Chuck Walters had an earlier birthday too, so we'll include his natal, good wishes.

This could happen to any of us, but it's still funny to the scribbler of these words . . . a friend is one of those contest and "puzzle" fans, who's mailing entries all the time. She mailed one to herself, accidentally, so now the mailman asks her daughters, "Does Prize Word Jack" still live here?"

The Ward family, of E. Moler-st, spent a few days in West Virginia, visiting relatives.



Herb and Dee Dee Germaine, 252 E. Gates-st, are relaxing in the Fairfield Beach portion of nearby Buckeye Lake.

Guess we've used all our items for this time . . . so till next time then, tis

Jim Wagner Takes Bride In Illinois Ceremony

Miss Ruth M. Hesterberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hesterberg, Route 1, Litchfield, Ill., became the bride of James L. Wagner at a 7 p.m. ceremony Saturday, in Zion Lutheran Church, Litchfield. The bridegroom is the son of C. M. Wagner and the late Mrs. Florence Lorena Wagner, and is a graduate of Marietta, O., high school and Ohio State University. Officiating minister was Rev. C. L. Klewer.

Altar vases and floor baskets were of white gladiolus and mums, palms, and candelabras.

Wedding selections were "Whither Thou Goest" and "O, Perfect Love," and Harold J. Repp was organist. Vocalists were E. W. Boeker and Paul Steinman, the latter from Hamel, Ill.

The bride was given in marriage by a brother, Alfred Hesterberg, and a sister, Mrs. Allen Peters, was bridesmaid.

The bride chose a gown of white chantilly lace over satin designed with a sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirts worn over hoops and crinolines swept into a court train. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was secured to a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisy pompons and showers. She wore a white gold necklace and matching ear-rings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Attendants wore gowns of orchid chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned with scopped necklines and cap sleeves. The full skirts were held wide by crinolines. The gowns were complemented by wide crushed satin cummerbunds, ending in large bows in back. Matching crowns with veils adorned their heads. They carried cascade bouquets of pink and white daisy pompons. Candle lighter was Miss Myra Jane Baltz, Smithton, Ill. She wore gown of green chantilly lace over taffeta, fashioned with a scooped neckline and cap sleeves, with a wide crushed-satin cummerbund, ending in a large bow in back. She wore a wrist corsage of yellow daisy pompons.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, sr., Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson jr., and daughter Holly, Miss Virginia Barch, Herman Kuehn, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony DiGioia all of Columbus.

Southeast Lions Outfit Junior Ball Teams

Shown above is a group of boys who received caps and T-shirts last Tuesday, courtesy of the Southeast Lions Club. Approximately 150 boys received the uniforms at both Kerns Park and Lincoln Park. The boys comprise various baseball teams that will compete in summer recreation programs. The uniforms have the name of the team on the front and the Southeast Lions Club emblem on the back. According to a spokesman for the Lions, this is another project made possible by monies raised from the sale of the Southeast Lions Roar newspaper each December. You too can help these projects by buying a copy or advertising in roaring report of Lions activities, in, for, and with Southsiders. —Photo by Tom Sharp

Schiller Little Jet League

Last week there was a big game. It was a battle for first place between the Pirates and Indians. Each team had won 3 and lost none.

Mike Rickard, 1004 Bruck-st pitched for the Pirates and David Smith, 262 Siebert-st, pitched for the Indians. The game was 0 to 0 going into the last half of the last inning. The Indians were batting. Larry Smith, 262 Siebert-st, brother of the Indian's pitcher, led off with a double. With two outs David Smith won his own game by driving in the only run of the game, with a solid smash into center field. This put the Indians in first place.

Chuck Kline, in charge of the Southway American Legion Little Jet Baseball League, said that the game was one of the best games played so far this year. There were four hits by the Pirates and three hits for the Indians.

Hot Weather Fishing Can Be Worth While

The weather is hot, so this is about hot weather fishing.

Phil McGinnis, 640 S. 18th-st, knows as much as anybody in these parts about catching bass on sultry summer days. I had a little chat with Phil last Monday, and he told me that he really starts fishing during July and August—it's the best time. Phil had just completed a full weekend of fishing, and had caught 30 largemouth bass ranging from two to three pounds.

He caught them at his favorite fishing hole, the Sciote River above O'Shaughnessy Dam. McGinnis has fished extensively in the midwest, and believes the Sciote provides some of the best fishing in the country. It's pretty difficult to argue with him — where else could a man average 20 bass per day through the hot season?

Phil fishes all day long, right through the heat of the day. His theory is that bass will congregate in the shade, under logs and bushes, and behind rocks. There is little deep water in the upper end of the O'Shaughnessy, so the shady spots provide the only opportunity for fish to escape the heat. Phil makes short casts with a dark-colored plug that he makes himself. He throws it under all manner of stumps, snags, and brush. He fishes water other fishermen avoid because they are afraid of getting hung up and losing baits.

Speedboats May Help

Another McGinnis theory is that the wash from speedboats helps fishing. He claims that the wave action washes crawfish loose from the rocks, and that the bass go on a little feeding spree every time a big boat goes by. When fishing gets a little slow, Phil will run his boat up and down the shore a few times to stimulate the bass.

McGinnis shows the symptoms of a hot weather fisherman—his arms and face are sun-tanned the color of shoe leather. When fishing all day in this weather he takes an ice chest well supplied with drinking water. Sweat streams down his face, but he hardly notices it when the fish are hitting.

So you think fishing isn't any good this time of year? Well, think again. The bass are there for the angler willing to go after them. Oh yes, Phil claims this is an off year for O'Shaughnessy. Last year this time he was catching 25 to 30 bass a day!

Vacation Time Provides Opportunity For Some Profitable Brainstorming

By Ray Shaffer

A "vacation with pay," and a "vacation that pays" are two very different things. The latter can be just as relaxing as the first but certainly much more profitable.

More often than not, a vacation with pay merely means a few weeks away from the plant or office. The employe gets paid for doing absolutely nothing and for turning his thoughts to anything other than his occupation.

A vacation that pays is basically the same with one exception—while the body may shy from any laborious activity, the mind does not completely close shop! The employe or employer taking his or her leave, whether at the beach, at a resort or just in the back yard, uses the leisure hours to reappraise business and collect fresh ideas on improvements and promotions.

We would like to stop here, to say that this article will probably attract irate letters from men and women working for other people. "Why, after devoting 50 weeks each year to help make money for someone else, should I spend my measly two-week vacation thinking of ways to make more money for my boss?" This would be the common complaint of an employe.

The answer is plain. If in any way, or through any suggestion, an employe can aid his firm build a better and more profitable business, then he will naturally benefit by improved working conditions, larger salary and possibly a promotion.

The "get away from it all" vacation usually ends with its participants glad to be home again and badly in need of several quiet weeks in a sanitarium.

However, this "vacation that pays" thing works a little differently. The vacationing worker, in this case, does not usually spend half his well-earned leave driving his baggage-laden car from one end of the country to the other. Driving these days, requires the complete concentration of the motorist and leaves little time for serious thought involving the job back home.

He and his family may stay home most of the time and take several short trips to grandma's farm or to the lake. A few weeks spent in a rented cottage near a beach can be just as relaxing. At any rate, the worker takes it easy, enjoys life and does a little painless thinking.

Experts say that despite the "recession," potential buyers are still "out there." It's up to good business men and merchants to go out and get them with a fresh approach, better promotions and more advertising.

The worker or business owner who returns from a vacation that pays will not come back tired or dreading that first Monday morning on the job. He'll come to the office or store eager to talk to fellow employes about his new ideas and set them in motion. His pecuniary returns from his summer leave will, we believe, far out-weigh the initial vacation pay check he received.

BIBLE COMMENT

Phophets 'Lived' Writings

It is necessary, when reading stories such as that of Cain and Abel, to realize that these stories have a moral and spiritual significance far beyond that of historical events.

We must realize that before the Bible could be written, it had to be experienced. There are moral conceptions that, as originally perceived by saints and prophets, might be compared to the products of the great inventive genius in the physical world.

Try to dismiss from your mind the development of the ages; try to visualize what it meant for men originally to preceive these things. They were spiritual discoveries.

The first is the sacredness of human life. The second is that man has responsibility for his fellowman, that he is his brother's keeper. Millions of men have not discovered that and will not acknowledge it today. But the author of the story of Cain and Abel realized it clearly ages ago.

Then there is the concept of mercy. Even for Cain, who had committed a foul murder, there was the possibility of forgiveness and protection from the vengence of his fellowmen. The mark of Cain was the mark of sin and violence, but it was also a mark to protect a man from mob violence.

How far ahead of our life today was the man of spiritual and moral vision who wrote this story? How far the world must go before it catches up with him.

Food Markets This Week by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits —Watermelon, cantaloupe, lemons, frozen berries.

Other Foods — fryers, ground beef, arm roast, ham, milk.

SEASON FOR SALADS

It's the season for salads—and a time when meal planning should be simple but can be extra special because of the great variety of fresh vegetables and fruits available. One way to please your family and beat the heat is to plan one main dish and for the other half of the meal—a huge tossed vegetable salad.

Summertime Greens — There are many to choose from so get acquainted with all your market offers. The fastest salad bowl sellers are lettuce, tomatoes, celery, cucumbers, peppers, escarole, endive and cabbage. Most any combination of these greens makes a good start for a tossed salad. Lettuce is the most widely used as a base but remember to add some darker greens such as spinach, romane, or watercress for vitamin A. Combine less expensive ones with the higher priced greens. A prepackaged salad mixture is often more expensive than its main ingredient — cabbage.

When Selecting Greens, freshness is first — look for crisp green leaves free from blemish. The greener the leaf the greater the food value. A cool counter at the store is necessary to keep salad greens fresh. What happens between harvest and the time vegetables reach your family meal table decides how much vitamin C they still have to offer. If they have wilted, it's a safe bet that not much of this fragile vitamin is left. Even if they are revived or "crisped" in ice water or in the refrigerator, their vitamin C is not restored. Once they're washed, drain and pile lightly in a vegetable crisper or plastic bag to insure crispness.

Make It a Specialty—A salad can be as creative and colorful as you choose—so here's your chance to toss it to your own taste. Don't overlook the old stand-bys as carrots, radishes and green onions to give variety in color, texture and flavor. Experiment with different or favorite salad dressings. If you're going gourment—any number of herbs, tarragon, rosemary or sweet basil will do the trick. Or add bits of cheese, chicken, tuna or ham for a heartier salad.

CABBAGE IS GOOD NOW

Cabbage is available most of the year; however, local domestic cabbage comes to market about the middle of July and is in good supply until autumn when Danish cabbage is available. An important crop economically, cabbage is also important nutritionally. Vitamin C is abundant in cabbage. One-half cup of raw or cooked cabbage will furnish one-third of the vitamin C recommended for one day. Yet a half cup contains only 12 calories. You can serve one-half cup shredded cabbage for one to two cents at the present time. It should be cooked in a minimum amount of water to preserve the vitamin C.

Liquor License Money Distribution Announced

Municipalities and townships in Franklin County received $512,684.60 in liquor license fees from the state during the fiscal year ended June 30, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reports.

Municipalities received $469,941.34 and townships $42,743.26. 72.426.

The state collects the license fees from the permit holders, but returns the full amount to the political sub-divisions from which they came. The money is distributed four times a year by the state auditor and goes into the general fund of a city, village or township for general operating expenses.

The total of such fees distributed in Ohio between July 1, 1957, and June 30, 1958, was $8,271,220.75. This was $92,828 66 less than the state distributed during the previous fiscal year.

The amounts going to political sub-divisions in this county were:

To municipalities: Bexley, $550; Canal Winchester $150; Columbus $441,772; Gahanna, $1,950; Grove City $5,915; Groveport $150; Hanford $1,150; Hilliards $1,055.

New Rome $1,750; Obetz $300; Reynoldsburg, $1,400; Upper Arlington $450; Urbancrest, $2,050; Whitehall $10,448; Worthington $850.

To townships: Blendon $35; Clinton $8,455; Franklin, $12,479; Hamilton, $1,490; Jackson $650; Jefferson $450; Madison $10; Mifflin $1,605; Norwich $215; Perry $3,400; Plain $100; Pleasant $1,200; Prairie, $5,376; Sharon $3,040; Truro 4,235.

Ohio Peaches Best In Years

Ohio Crop Reporting Service has announced that favorable June weather swelled the size of the 1958 peach crop to an extimated 1,100,000 bushels.

This total has been exceeded only once in the last ten years, in 1954, and is 200,000 bushels over last year's totals.

July 25 is the estimated picking date for southern Ohio growers, and Aug. 1 is the guess for central and northern Ohio peach growers.

'Dear Son'

Chittlin' Switch Sunday afternoon

Dear Jason:

Well, son, sure hope you had a nice Fourth of July. The Mayor of Chittlin' Switch passed a law where fireworks would not be allowed to be sold in town as they were too dangerous and I'll tell you, things would have been dull around here on the Fourth except for the fact that your paw's still exploded in the woods around midnight. That sort of livened things up for a spell.

Not too much has happened since I wrote you last week. I really think your married brother Zeke is finally off his rocker. One of those high pressure salesmen stopped by his place the other day and sold him six of those electric milking machines. As you know, Zeke is usually always broke and anyway he didn't need the six automatic milkers as he only owns one cow. The salesman out-talked your brother into taking the machines without any money and he took the cow as a down payment. Now Zeke will have to go and get the place wired for electricity.

Becky Plunkett, the assistant librarian at the Polecat Ridge Free Library is getting married next week for the sixth time. I just couldn't believe her when she tpld me the reason she got married so many times was because she just hadn't found the right man. I've come to the conclusion she's fickle. Last Saturday I went with her to the Bon Ton Department store to help her pick out a wedding dress. After she tried about ten on that were too tight, she finally struggled into one that didn't look too bad. She told the sales girl she'd take the dress if the store would guarantee that the dress was washable.

Your cousin, Herkimer, the one who was enrolled in that correspondence course school to be a doctor, flunked his final examinations and has to start all over again. Just to give you an idea how dumb he is, one of the questions in the examination asked him to describe a skeleton. "A bunch of bones with the people scraped off" is not the right answer.

Clem Snodgrass and his wife Ocolie opened up a combination lunch room and gas station down Racoon Junction way. His wife did the cooking and Clem pumped the gas and they really had a good setup but business was terrible. They hired one of those city fellows to come down and tell them the reason they were not having any folks in the lunch room was due to the electric sign they had up in front of the place. The sign kept flashing on and off all night long: EAT HERE AND FILL UP WITH GAS.

Guess that I'll have to close now as I've run out of news. Oh, yes, probably you saw on television where your cousin, Prunella Becker from Pasture Flats won first prize. They had a beauty contest there and Prunella won with no strain at all. Between you and me it wasn't her pretty face that got her first prize but she was the only one who could get that big ribbon across her chest which read: "Miss Pasture Flats of 1958".

Write son.
Your loving,
MOM.

GETS CLAGGETT FUND AID

To Be Self-Supporting Is Goal Of Man Living In Wheelchair

Wanted. About 20 goodwilled persons who have need of a 24-hour telephone answering service and a desire to help start a handicapped man in business.

That, in a nutshell, is wish of several groups who have the facilities and the money to help a confined South Sider earn his own way.

A cripple since birth, Bob Rogers, 23, lives in a wheelchair in his mother's home at 54 W. Kossuth-st. His joints are rigid . . . calcified. Only his left shoulder and jaws are free. Chewing gum isn't just a pleasure to him . . . it's a necessity to keep his jaws functioning, according to his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Whitehead.

Bob has been under the care of Dr. E. E. McNamee, 2453 Sullivant-av since infancy. For many years the doctor has treated him for something resembling advanced rheumatoid arthrisis. Wracking pain and fever was an everyday occurrence until miracle drugs came along. He's on Cortisone now and will depend on it for the rest of his life. The pain is practically gone but Bob will always remain in the wheelchair the Southern Kiwanis club recently gave him.

As his patient has grown, Dr. McNamee has hoped Bob could become self supporting. Profits as a wrestling promoter have been spotty and office work is a welfare office provided an income next to none. "Despite those popular "hire the handicapped' promotions, the going has been tough," said Bob.

Several groups stand ready to help young Rogers in the answering service venture, first suggested by his doctor. Financial backing is provided by the Ira Claggett Trust Fund, established according to the will of a physically handicapped Hilltop businessman who died seven years ago. The doctor himself is one of the trustees of the fund, along with Charles Campbell and Attorney Phil Stout.

With a boost from Hilltop Kiwanis club they have promise of a six months lease on a S. High-st office two blocks from Bob's home and have furnished it. The telephone company is ready to install a 10-line switch board and help sign up the first customers.

Bob says his service would benefit a wide range of businesses. Calls to wrecker service anytime day or night would be received and dispatched immediately. Similar service could help plumbers, TV repairmen, veterinarians, photographers . . . even doctors and lawyers.

Many of the calls to overloaded offices in daytime could be relayed to him. His rates would be $17.50 a month for 24-hour service or $13.50 for office hour calls.

Bob has been disappointed in first attempts to enlist customers. In 1000 contacts he didn't find a subscriber. "If they only knew that one missed telephone sale might pay for the service I think they'd sign," he smiled.

Bob apparently is used to obstacles and is determined to get started somehow. For those who are interested his number is HI. 4-7654.

Exchange Student . . .

Another loaded question: compare the schools of Sweden and the United States?

Christina without reserve said simply: we work harder at home . . . study more . . . have more discipline in our schools.

What about lazy, easy-going, informal United States?

"Your knowledge of music impressed me," Christina said. "Everyone likes to sing . . . so many more choruses . . . so much spare time for it."

Basketball?

"I love it," she said. "It's quick — like tennis." (She's seen high school, college teams and the Harlem Globe Trotters.

"It scared me the first time I saw a game . . . it's awfully rough. Everytime everyone falls down," she said.

The Rocky Mountains?

"Beautiful . . . like Northern Sweden."

The Mississippi River?

"We crossed it in Minnesota . . . not at all like our geography books describe it."

Ladies' fashions?

"We had the chemise last year."

Food?

"I didn't know what to do with my first ear of sweet corn."

Christina left early Sunday morning for New York City and an airplane trip that has probably already brought her safely back home to Sweden.

Her visit with the Richard Smith family was pleasurable for all concerned, from beginning to end, exactly as was intended.

The American Field Service sponsored her year stay in the United States, and sponsors corresponding programs for American students abroad. The Southern and Eastern Kiwanis sponsored the local trip and stay-over. Among those participating were the Al Justice family (he's first vice president of Southern Kiwanis) who entertained two boys — from France and Italy, and the Homer Bohl family, who hosted a girl from New Zealand.

Said Bohl: "These youngsters lost a year of study in their own schools back home. It's a tribute to their interest in the United States."

Said Jusice: "We were sorry to see them go . . . they're stay was too short."

An interesting aside was lodged with both Columbus families. According to the students, they fear they may have lost their ability to concentrate on school studies. The United States invites distraction, they said.

Summer Playgrounds

. . . The South Side Report

Southern Kiwanis Little League

League standings as of July 8

Cards	2	0	1.000
Splashers	2	1	.666
Hawks	2	1	.666
Yankees	1	1	.500
Panthers	0	2	.000
Sabres	0	2	.000

The regularly scheduled game of Monday, July 7, between the Panthers and Sabres was postponed due to wet grounds. This game was made up on Friday, July 11.

Tuesday evening, July 8 found the Splashers and the Hawks locking horns and after six full innings of good hard played ball the Hawks came out victorious by the score of 3 to 2.

The Splashers scored the first run in the third inning, but the Hawks were not to be denied and they tied it 1 to 1 in their half of the fourth inning. Once again in the fifth inning the Splashers went ahead by the score of 2-1.

And it was not until the last half of the sixth inning that the Hawks caught fire and, after receiving two free tickets to first base, they took advantage of several infield miscues on the part of the Splashers and scored two quick runs, winning 3-2.

May we suggest that some evening (Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday) when you are looking for some good entertainment, you drop down to Marion Franklin High School (6 p.m.) and watch the boys in action. We'll bet you will love it. Take the boys to the game, don't send them." — Harold Miller, secretary.

Southview

In Little League action at Southview last week, 12-year-old Donny Davis hurled a brilliant no-hit game against the first place Indians. [illegible] struck out 18 men and issued no walks in his perfect game effort. The win advanced the Bears to first place with a 4-1 record. Second round play begins this week. The Little Jet League standings are as follows: Bears, 4-1; Yankees, 3-1; Cubs, 3-1; Indians, 2-2; Colts, 1-3; Braves, 0-5.

Southview's Intermediate softball team suffered its second set-back of the season at the hands of the Smith-rd nine the score 21-5. The Intermediates, still looking for their first win, will oppose Fornof Park on the home diamond Tuesday at 1:15.

The Juniors, victorious in their first outing, were idle last week, but this week take the field against Lincoln Park. This game will be played at Southview on Thursday at 1 p.m.

Southview is well represented at Indian Village Day Camp this week, with nine children attending. Those participating are Laura, Mary, and Julie Welch, Jane Slavens, Virginia, Linda, and Billy Herbert and Jack and Billy Fleming.

The annual South Side Lantern Parade will be held Thursday, July 17, at Schiller Park. Southview Park will close at 5:30 and participants should be at Schiller Park by 7:30 p.m.

Last week the Dodgers defeated the Yankees 7 to 3. Leading hitters were Ralph Denny of the Dodgers and Jerry Sopher of the Yankees, with two hits each. One of Sopher's hits was a two-run homer.

The Braves behind the 5 for 8 hitting of Marty Komives defeated the Pirates 10 to 8 in extra innings. Leading hitter for the Pirates was A. M. Kiloe with 4 for 5.

The Cardinals defeated the Redlegs behind the fine pitching of Jim Cook and Steve Jackson. Leading hitters were Jackson of the Cardinals and Kenny Thacher of the Redlegs.

In softball both the junior boys and the intermediate boys went down to their first defeat. The junior boys were defeated by Karns 5 to 2. Outstanding players were Bobby and Danny West. The intermediate boys were outscored 84 to 11 by Schiller. Ronnie Bobo blasted a home run for Lincoln.

Ron Bell of Lincoln Park took first place in both the 100 and the 220 yard dash at the South sectional track meet.

The arts and crafts project for this week at the playground is the making of lanterns for the lantern parade at Schiller this Thursday.

Wilson's Grand Opening

Ed and Jeanne Wilson, shown above, are planning a gala grand opening for the week-end of July 26 and 27 at the new Wilson's Confectionery, formerly Wilson's Pharmacy. Otto C. Wilson founded the store in 1909. It has been recently renovated and changed over to one of the few stores in the South Side with a fountain. Ed stated that he big feature item of his grand opening will be fountain specials along with door prizes and gifts for all attending.

Mrs. Jeanne Wilson is planning to have sandwiches and luncheons available by the time school opens. The store now carries such items as photographic supplies, patent medicines, toys, foods, picnic supplies, and sundry items, all aimed at providing a service for the community. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have asked that everyone watch for their big ad next week and take part in their grand opening, July 24 and 26. Special hours for the opening feature all items from 12 noon until 6 p.m., both Saturday and Sunday.

Chef Patonella and Joe Mesi Try Some Of Chef's Cooking

Shown above is Chef Patonella and Joe Mesi, who own the Southview Bar, trying some of the chef's real Italian food. Waitress Gloria Browning is taking their order for one of the many styles if real Italian food cooked by the chef. Patonella states that he "has cooked enough spaghetti to stretch around the world several times."

Joe Mesi owns the bar and carryout-out next door to the new Southview Restaurant and can verify as to the goodness of the meals new being served as the newest restaurant in the South Side. Such foods as chicken terstazzini, lasagne, and spaghetti can be eaten on the premises or taken home. All the foods served by the restaurant can be bought already frozen and taken home to store in your freezer.

Eat here, take out, or have it frozen, the chef says. He also suggests you "try our Italian foods and you'll stop looking for real Italian meals." The restaurant is located at 809 S. High-st.—Photo by Tom Sharp

Gutter-To-Gutter . . . Deluge In Bucketsfull

Ever wonder where all of this week's water went? According to the picture above, most of it arrived in bucketsfull at the corner of Markisen and Parsons-av. Mario Tesi, with a true feeling of South Side citizenship, did what he could to put everything in its right place (and got soaked while doing it), and thwart the cresting dangers of high water. Picture was taken at 1:15 Tuesday afternoon when it was difficult to find even the gutter. Photo by Tom Sharp.

Columbus Played A Part

Man From Illinois

Interest in the emergence of Abraham Lincoln, the sudden fruition of his political career, will become increasingly spotlighted as the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the Civil War approaches.

Lincoln scholars are ready. The big years will be 1959-61.

Charles Jones, whose many community interests include hard work for the Columbus Hospital Federation, has been a Lincoln scholar for years. A member of Downtown Kiwanis, too, he visited Southern Kiwanis Tuesday, and delivered a sparkling account of the Lincoln-Douglas debates which, Jones said, has no equal in historical importance than the Declaration of Independence.

Few people heard the debates, he said. However, the thesis (principal) that slavery should not be extended into territories (denied by Douglas) became widely disseminated in booklet form.

Where were the books printed? Right here in Franklin County, in a print shop in the basement of a building on the present site of the Neil House hotel. The printing was undertaken at the insistence of Columbus friends of abolition. Lincoln's nomination for the presidency was thereby made possible, Jones said.

Lincoln was a political nobody at the time, Jones said.

Proof: In 1859, barely 18 months before nomination, Douglas (then the leading Democrat and plow horse in the Senate) visited Columbus for a Saturday afternoon talk. About 1000 people attended. Quickly called in on the following Saturday Lincoln drew only 100.

There probably would have been no Lincoln without the debates, Jones said. And without Lincoln, probably no United States as we know it—but rather a partitioned loosely arranged federation of independent countries.

Jones also reminded that Lincoln entertained no notion of race equality, nor of the legal right of Congress to order abolition. His view was essentially moral; he felt that time could take care of slavery.

His great contribution: intellectually whipping the outstanding political mind of the day, and preserving the Union against secession.

Health Causes Editor's Resignation

Oliver Gedeist

Oliver Gedeist, South Side Leader editor for the past three years, has announced his resignation, effective about the first of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Gedeist expect to go to Oshkosh, Wisc., where they previously lived and where a home is waiting for them.

Gedeist, who had previously retired when he came to the South Side Leader in 1955, is again retiring, with limited lectures his only form of activity. Mrs. Gedeist has been a teacher here, serving first at Heimandale Elementary School and, during the last year, at Southwood. Their son, John, is attending the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis., and daughter Clareece will continue her studies at Ohio State, where she is in her senior year.

Health has been a major factor in the decision to again retire from activity. In the statement announcing his retirement, Gedeist asked that the following statement be made:

The Statement

Circumstances make it desirable to leave the editorship of the South Side Leader and the good people of the South Side. It is my desire to bid adieu to the several thousands of people who read the Leader carefully and who have been so generous in supplying us with news, and to the many who have in numerous ways shown kindness and generous cooperation with me while I have tried to do a good job in this community. To all I extend my heartiest thanks and my best wishes for happiness for all of you in the future. You will find the South Side Leader, always your personal friendly friend.

Drama Festival

Schiller Park will be the place for a Drama Festival during the week of July 28.

Schiller has a short skit called "The Surprise Party" written by Chuck Kline, the new drama director at Whitehall Yearling High School. The skit has seven in the cast. Nancy Krumm, 946 Ellsworth; Sandy Guinn, 1065 Bruck-st; and Mel Wishon, 439 Kossuth-st have major parts in the skit.

There will be organized games and relays along with the skits. Don McCaulsky, athletic director at Barrett Junior High, will supervise the Southside Drama Festival and Play Day.

Le Roy Wise, Summer Director of Schiller Center will be in charge of the festival.

Newspapermen, traffic police men, physicians, bull-pen pitchers, flag pole sitters, and advisors to presidents, baseball managers and football coaches are generally agreed that one should never put off until tomorrow.

Do it today, they say.

The Schiller Park "Twilight Time Rum, Euchre and Liars Club" is just such an organization. It meets nightly — just after supper — neath the cool shade of Schiller whenever the weatherman and fair weather observe a happy accord.

The club's purposes are varied and unrehearsed, its principles are democratic, its heroes are common folk residing just a bit left of center among such other heroes as Patrick Henry, John Brown, Abe Lincoln and John McGraw.

In the course of a nightly session between second coffee and sun-down, the private opinion is rendered fresh and manageable.

An eavesdropper can learn most anything worldly, wise and timely: for example, how to rotate pitchers — a secret knowledge (let's face it) still laying fallow in countless professional minds. Or, better still, how much and how many and when to stop communist inspired overthrow of small democracies.

• Should the United States wait for UN intervention in the Middle East?

• Have the Pirates a moral right to take-up youngsters needed right here by the Jets?

• See answers below.

These are serious matters. They call for seasoned, experienced judgement — seasoned to constantly reoccuring problems of silly sameness . . . constantly repeating and restarting . . . old problems, new teams.

The unjaundiced and benign eye of the SPTTRE & LC collects ALL; renders it potent with a special dialectic calculus. It's been trained by passing scenes and newsprint, disciplined by indifference . . . but with a spirit still fresh, lingering from days when ALL was new, unhurried and untrammeled. The vow now; preservation of free speech given ungrudgingly.

The truth shall never be derelict.

30 'Dollars' Offered To Subscribers

Subscribers have 30 reasons for reading the ads in this week's issue with a watchful eye.

Today's jackpot insignia is valued at $20 in "Confederate" money and the usual 10 $1 insignia, each worth one "Confederate" bill, are also printed on ads in 10 other copies of the newspaper.

Insignia, never hidden nor hard to find, are always placed in plain view on an ad.

Advertisers in the current issue of the newspaper will accept "Confederate" currency for any merchandise in their stores.

Subscribers may redeem their copies of the newspaper, containing the lucky insignia, for "Confederate" money before Saturday noon of the week of publication by presenting the newspaper at South Side Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Employes or carriers of Hartley Newspapers and members of their families are excepted.

Minors To Celebrate

When people have been married 48 years, it is a good time to have a celebration. That fits the way things are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Minor, 1155 Heyl-av.

The Minors were married on July 28, 1910. They are active and do not permit the accumulated years to slow them up too much.

The Minors have two children, Carl, at 2233 Grasmere-av, Columbus, and Mrs. Roy Carl, 1718 E. 85th-pl, Chicago. The lady in Chicago gives mother and father frequent reason for traveling. Mr. Carl likes to fly, and he does. Mostly Mrs. Minor likes the train better, and takes it when she runs over to Chicago to see their daughter.

They're not making a big fuss they said. The date rolls around each year and they are used to it.

Swiss Picnic

The annual Swiss picnic will be held this year on Sunday, Aug. 3, at Catalpa Park. Herbert Kunzi, honorary chairman; Otto Kuepfer, jr., chairman; Dorothy Kuepfer, co-chairman, are in charge of the arrangements.

The picnic is open to the public, it was stated.

Council Will Act On Malodorous South Side Air

City Attorney Russell Leach was requested by City Council to look into the possibility of filing an injunction suit against a Frank-rd rendering plant, which would enjoin the plant from causing the air on the South Side to be permeated with a terrific stench.

Councilman Robert Van Heyde suggested the action after receiving numerous complaints from residents of the area.

Back To School Soon!

Barrett School To Be Open

Principal Kenneth Olbert of Barrett Junior High has announced that the junior high school building will be open every day and all day during the week of Monday, Aug. 25, the week before the school year begins.

The principal, vice-principal and school secretary will be on duty during that week for the purpose of registering new pupils, not already enrolled in Barrett Junior High School.

"New pupils," Principal Olbert said, "can do themselves a great favor by being registered during the week before school starts. Each year there is a great number who come into the building the first day of school and spend that day just getting in. Then they come to school the next morning one day behind their classmates in the business of the class. They can avoid all this and do themselves the favor of starting even with the class on that first day.

"They can also do the school a favor by early registration as that saves the principal, vice-principal, secretary and teachers the time and task of taking care of late registrations when they ought to be taking care of a school which is a going concern."

It is recommended that Barrett's new people take advantage of the open building during the week of Aug. 25, the last full week before the fall term starts.

Eagles To Fly High At Chicago

The funds are for the Grand Aerie convention to be held in Chicago on Aug. 6 to 9.

Lecture

"The Healing Power of Divine Love" will be the topic of a free public lecture on Christian Science to be given in Columbus Aug. 5 by Albert Clinton Moon of Chicago.

Mr. Moon will speak under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist in the church edifice, 457 E. Broad-st, at 8 p.m.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Moon is on a nationwide speaking tour. A native of Lorain, O., he withdrew from business in 1933 to devote his full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing. He has been an authorized teacher of Christian Science since 1948.

Euchre Party

St. Mary's PTA and PCCW will sponsor a euchre party Tuesday, July 29, in the high school at 685 Mohawk-st. Time is 8:30 p.m. and admission is 50 cents. Door prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

Picnic Day

The Franklin County Democratic Council will hold its annual all-day picnic and barbecue on Sunday, July 27, at Hanford Village Park, beginning at noon.

Tickets for the dinner and admission are $1.25 for adults and may be obtained by calling CL. 8-9856 or at the gate at Hanford Park on July 27. Children will be admitted free.

Special areas will be set aside for those wishing to bring their own picnic dinners with them. In case of rain a shelter area will be provided.

Dedication A Near 'Mist' But The Band Played On

Dedication was conducted by Parks Commissioner Ray Dietz who introduced his "parkmen" and others at the program. Rev. Paul C. Keefer, pastor of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church made the invocation. City Safety Director Floyd C. Rodick made an address. "Cap" Hoover, executive secretary of South Side Branch YMCA, also spoke.

New Schiller Music Center To Be Stage for Sunday Evening Concerts

A week-long invocation to the powers that regulate weather was unanswered Sunday night when Schiller Park and city fathers held the dedication for the new Schiller Music Center.

The morning dawned dismal and damp, the afternoon passed by similarly, but the dedication was held according to schedule. Despite all—and already delayed several weeks—the new center was given a grand opening.

On hand were brave music lovers, representatives from the city recreation department, South Side YMCA, and others. A newly expanded orchestra from the Columbus Federation of Musicians was combined with exemplary leadership by Robert A. Westrich, a member of the faculty at Otterbein College, Westerville.

Soloist for the evening was Ray Seelinbinder, music director at neighboring Hamilton Township High School and a South Side resident.

The new music center has been built on the site of the old one. It has been made a bit lower, been given acoustical "wings" to insure better listening pleasure, and completely wired with electric lights for both the musicians' and audience's convenience.

Other improvements to the facade and setting will be undertaken in weeks ahead.

Concerts will continue on Sunday evenings, and will be announced by the Leader, throughout the summer. All concerts begin promptly at 8 p.m.

Concerts are presented on Sunday nights by musicians from the Columbus Federation of Musicians, are conducted by guest musicians. Programs are varied and interesting. Concerts are free of course. All music lovers, the South Side and neighbors are invited to attend. Benches are set up in comfortable ear-pleasing, eye-easy array before each performance.

March Of Progress . . . 'Mud Village' Has Its Day

Progress cannot be stopped, according to an ancient adage. That's about the way it is on Greenlawn Avenue, where a "made" village with barely 10-years history soon will be torn down.

Built as a means of combatting slum citizenship, and of giving newly returned veterans a chance for a home of their own, Greenlawn Village has been caught-up in the maw of progress.

Families who live there now are wondering out loud: "Where shall we go?"

(Both rental and purchase properties are being built in the South Side under provisions of Federal Law called "221 housing.")

It has been happily reported that many of these families will be transplanted to other areas. With a "step-up" in living standards, an urban redevelopment official said.

The areas shown above are south of Greenlawn-av, west of the Scioto River, east of Southview Park.

The old-Greek-like masonry is part of the huge operation now fighting the deluge of moisture — but still moving ahead — that will be called "expressways," and soon will give Columbus and Franklin County an encircling and crisscrossing system of speedy convenient highways.

"One of the finest in the country," city officials said.

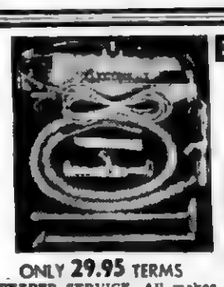
Much of the vacated land will be redeveloped as an extension of Southview Park, they said.

Greenlawn Avenue project was built after World War II by the Federal Government, and given into the custody of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority to be administered to the needs of the young veteran families.

After 10-years housing need of this kind has diminished been called "mud village" by some, will now be torn down, at a time when traffic creates a pressing necessity. What has

Not a left-over Greek play palace, but the beginning of a gigantic expressway installation, which bucket by bucket of concrete, is encroaching on the Greenlawn-av scene.

Lt. Wellnitz Ends Course



Second Lt. Jerry N. Wellnitz, son of Mrs. Mildred D. Wellnitz, 687 Frebis-av, recently completed the officer basic course at the Army Engineer School, Fort Belvoir, Va.

Lieutenant Wellnitz was formerly a mechanical engineer with Incho, Brand and Incho. He was graduated from Central High School in 1952 and Ohio State University in 1958.

Progress Report: The Rest Will Stay

". . . . protests from the South Side."

Livingston Park: to the postulate are added promises and deeds. The controversy which raged in the chambers of City Council — and most of the byways of the South Side — a month or so ago, did little to preserve the original dimensions of Livingston Park.

But at least promises were elicited that original park purposes of recreation and relaxation would be preserved in full measure.

Then along came work crews bent on improving and changing. Four trees were felled. Protests soon became lodged with everyone — including the staff of the Leader.

The official explanation for publication: it has been necessary to reduce the number of trees by four, one of which was in excellent growing condition, one of which should have been felled before storms and winds did the job dangerously, and two which could be spared. The remaining trees will stay, will be "welled" when parking lot surfaces are laid.

In addition, a number of new plantings — such as shrubs — will be planted "on orders."

The explanation is passed on to readers from the office of Ray Dietz, head park man for the city, to whose desk most protests eventually are referred.

Favors Reject Of Name Changes

Rejection of a proposal to rename Marconi-blvd in honor of Abraham Lincoln, was recommended by city engineer Robert Werner in a letter received by City Council Monday night.

Change of the name is sought by the Lincoln Historical Association.

Werner pointed out in his letter that seven other streets or avenues in the city and county are named after Lincoln.

News 'N Notes From Southside Businessmen

Mr. Solensky Nearly Ready

Mr. Solensky of the Thurman Jaeger Hardware announced this week that the last step except for finishing the painting has been completed in the renovation program with the installation of a Westinghouse air conditioning system installed by Seneca Appliances. A local boy, Don W. Mason, 250 Mithoff, has been hired to assist Solensky, and as soon as the new lines of merchandise have been filled in a full-scale grand opening celebration will take place.

Mr. Solensky is a former structural engineer and states that he knows his hardware and is prepared to assist anyone who needs information as to just the proper hardware for the particular job.

The grand opening will be announced in this newspaper in the near future, but the store is now open for business and has set up a new pick-up and delivery service for prompt delivery of merchandise.

Plan Concert

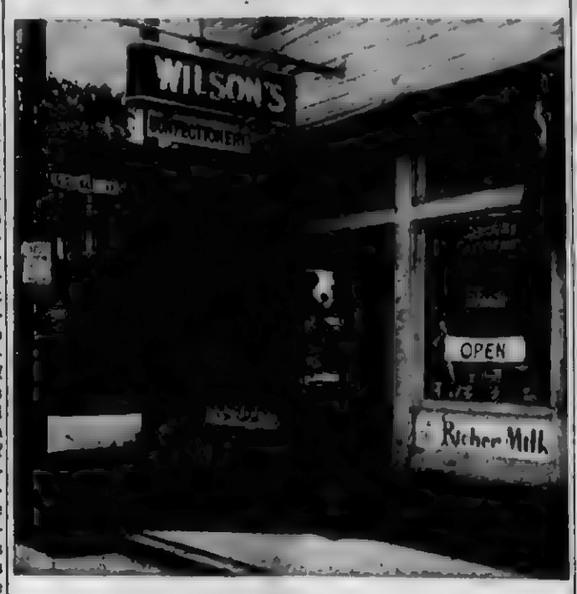
On Aug. 3, the Naval Air Cadet band from the U. S. Naval Aviation Station in Pensacola, Fla., will present a concert at the Park of Roses at 7 p.m. at Whetstone Park, Acton-rd and High-st.

The charge will be only the admission charge to the Park of Roses, which is 25 cents per adult and 10 cents per child under 12 years of age.

This will be the first appearance in Columbus for the band, which consists of 80 members. The concert will last one hour.

Builder Sets New Quota; 75 New Houses

W. E. Wittmann, president of Virginia Homes, today announces the acquisition of additional land adjacene to their Hillgate project. The new development, to be known as Hillgate II, will have approximately 75 additional single-family apartment units. Wittman said the sale of the first 100 homes in the Hillgate subdivision was completed in a two week period, which shows public acceptance of the type of house which Virginia Homes designed, as well as the need for housing on the far South Side. The development of Hillgate II will mean an additional $1,250,000 to the Columbus housing boom.. Hillgate II will contain the same three-bedroom, full-basement homes as were built in Hillgate I, as well as a newly designed house which Virginia Homes will announce at a later date. Company officials feel that this new home will have public acceptance in excess of the already popular full basement homes they are now building.



The sale of the homes in this second section will start in July. Construction will start on or before Sept. 15. As in the past, Virginia Homes will offer a complete living unit at a price attractive to the lower-middle-income families.

Completion and occupancy of the first 100 homes in Hillgate I will be accomplished by Sept. 30 and the occupancy of the second section completed by late December.

Woolen clothes should not be stored in a cedar chest during hot weather unless extra moth protection is added. Cedar loses much of its concentration after a short period of time.

Farmer And Motorist Urged To Use Caution

The Old Gray Mare isn't what she used to be. Still, Ohio's 200,000 farm tractors haven't nearly enough horses to safely keep pace with high-speed traffic on the state's highway system.

Farmers and motorists are urged to use caution and courtesy to avoid the hazards found this summer with a number of these 200,000 tractors hauling machinery on the highway.

These are reminders from Ohio's highway safety director Gordon Jeffrey and W. E. Stuckey, safety extension specialist at the Ohio State University, who issued a joint statement warning of dangers to all concerned in observance of National Farm Safety Week July 20-26.

Last year farm tractors were involved in 332 auto accidents on Ohio's highways, 10 of which were fatal collisions, according to a report by the department of highway safety.

"Motorists must constantly expect to encounter farm tractors moving on the highway this time of year and be prepared to slow down, exercising caution and courtesy," the officials stated.

"Tractors, corn - pickers and hay bailers are going to be out on the highways and have every right to be there, provided they move with maximum safety," they said.

Jeffrey and Stuckey offer this five-point program for traffic safety precautions:

The farm machinery operator should try to keep off main highways and thoroughfares when possible, and use less traveled routes.

"When traffic becomes lined up behind slow-moving farm tractors and other equipment, the driver of such equipment should exercise courtesy and pull off the highway at the first convenience and allow the line of traffic to pass.

"A red flag should be displayed on a large vertical pole mounted on the rear rig of equipment. This will serve as a warning to motorists approaching from over low hills and curves where the view is obscured.

"When it is necessary to move farm equipment at night, be sure it is properly lighted in accordance with Ohio vehicle lighting regulations.

Either use the berm or the right lane for travel. Traveling in the middle gives motorists false appearance of three - lane highway, creating hazards."

Here's the Answer

BIBLE COMMENT

Man And God Cooperation Is Imperative

What is the nature of God's covenant with man? Is it some edict of privilege and grace pertaining to certain individuals or to a particular time? Men have tried to limit it to that but God's covenant with man is as large as it is permanent.

It is an agreement for man's welfare and enrichment. The Bible in almost all its passages proclaims the economy of abundance and prosperity. These are associated with peace and righteousness. But in the ancient world as in our modern world, too often prosperity led to forgetfulness of God and the betrayal of man.

The false use of prosperity, however, should not blind us to the true and solid ideas of human welfare. Only we ought to remember that there is no true human welfare unless all have an opportunity to share in it.

God's covenant is represented as having its token in the rainbow. This may be an ancient accounting for a natural phenomenon which science now explains, but this doesn't alter the significance of the token.

The rainbow is possible because of sun and moisture, and both are a part of that covenant with man that God has made in His eternal laws. The gist is that if man will do his part, God will cooperate to insure man a happy and prosperous life.

It is the failure on man's part to recognize the covenant that is at the bottom of so much human misery. Alike in nature and in grace, God has made rich provision for human life. Will man some day learn to fulfill his part of the agreement?

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits — watermelon, cantaloupe, transparent apples, peaches.

Easy-to-serve melons are favorites for folks of all ages. This summer is a special one for melon lovers because there are so many varieties of watermelons, muskmelons and cantaloupes on the market at low prices. The melons on the market now are from the southern and western states but improved transportation makes it possible to leave them on the vines longer than in former times. Their eating quality is excellent. Local melons will be ripe in August and September.

When selecting any melon, look for well developed size, color and fragrance according to the variety. The outside appearance doesn't tell everything, but it is a good guide to quality.

To keep the high quality of melons at home, wash and dry them before storing. Wrap ripe melons in waxed paper or plastic bags to keep the fragrant odor from mingling with other foods in the refrigerator. Melons that are not fully ripe can be ripened at room temperature if they are not too immature. It is desirable to chill melons at least 12 hours before serving.

Low in calories — Cantaloupe, honeydew and watermelons are rich in vitamin C and cantaloupe and watermelon are also good sources of vitamin A. All melons are low in calories.

Ways with melons — For easy eating try slicing watermelon in rounds and then slice through like the spokes in a wheel. These little wedges are easy to pick up and eat with the rind serving as a handle.

For a party-type dessert, fill a cantaloupe with ice cream, or you may prefer assorted fresh fruits as orange sections, grapes, bananas, berries, cherries — topped with lemon ice.

SWEET CORN

This is the third week of the season for local sweet corn and the quality so far is very good. Much of this corn is either hydrocooled or iced to retain the sugar content — which means good eating quality.

Peaches Will Be Plentiful

This year's freestone peach crop is king size—biggest since 1947. Most of the southern peach crop will be harvested by August when local peaches will be coming to market.

Southway Post Dresses Jet League

Officials of Southway American Legion Post visited Schiller Park's Little Jet League baseball teams this week to dispense jerseys and other odds and ends of proper dress for budding diamond stars. The league enjoys the sponsorship of the Legionaires and the city recreation department.

Hitters' Explosive Power Hi-Lites Week's Games

The Little Jet Baseball teams in the Southway American Legion Post No. 144 League have gone on a hitting spree which has differed from the shutouts and pitching battles that have been common in the past few weeks.

A fine example of the explosive power of a little Jet Leaguer at the plate was displayed here at Schiller Park last Thursday in a game between the Braves and the Giants; the Braves won by a score of 30 to 15 behind the batting of Joey Poeschel, 37 East Stewart-av and Tom Sauer, 760 South Third-st.

Poeschel had a perfect day with 5 hits for 5 times at bat. Four home runs, a single, a walk, and hit with a pitched ball, placed Poeschel on base each time at bat. Sauer, who led-off the batting order, had 7 hits for 8 times at bat.

The losing giants also found the leather and hammered the "Ole Apple" for 15 runs, their entire score, in the first three innings, but Roy Constable, the Braves pitcher, 934 South Highst, poured on the coal and shutout the losers from the third inning until the final gun.

The teams have been rounded out this past week by strengthening the weaker teams and the spectator attendance proves the Little Jet Leaguers are playing the competitive type baseball that makes the game our National sport.

Yankees	3	2	.600
Giants	2	4	.333
Braves	1	2	.333
Cubs	1	5	.166

The games scheduled for this week are:

Tuesday, 4 p. m., Cubs vs. Tigers; Tuesday, 6 p. m. Braves vs. Yankees.

Wednesday, 4 p. m., Indians vs. Braves; Wednesday 6 p. m. Tigers vs. Braves.

Thursday, 4 p. m., Yankees vs. Braves; Thursday, 6 p. m., Indians vs. Tigers.

Friday will feature a play-off for the leading two teams if, per chance, the Indians win their two games scheduled this week. This play-off will mark the completion of the first half season schedule, and the last half season schedule will begin next Tuesday, July 29 and will end Friday, August 15.

Chuck Burcher, Bliss College Senior, and Chuck Kline, teacher at Whitehall Yearling High, supervisors of the Southway American Legion Little Jet League, have planned a championship play-off for the teams which is scheduled between August 18 and August 22.

This will climax a very successful season of Little League Baseball at Schiller Park.

South Side People Join Huge Jehovah Witness Meet

About 900 of Jehovah's Witnesses from the Columbus congregations will attend an international convention in New York City July 27 through Aug. 3.

Howard M. Snyder, presiding minister of the Columbus congregations, in announcing the plans of the local delegates, said that a limited number of meetings will be held at the Central Congregation Kingdom Hall 22 W. Naghten-st, for those unable to attend the Christian assembly. All other interested persons in the area are invited to attend these meetings.

From Foreign Lands

Snyder said that the local delegates attending the international gathering will benefit greatly not only from the rich spiritual provisions, but also from Christian association with Witnesses from foreign lands. The convention, he said, will further the understanding and good will among the various races and nationalities of Jehovah's Witnesses, and will also determine how the Bible message and Christian living can unite people from all walks of life, regardless of race or other backgrounds that tend to divide the world.

Record Attendance

When questioned about the expected attendance, Watchtower officials in New York pointed to the record attendance of 165,000 at the 1953 international convention in New York City's Yankee Stadium. At that time several overflow areas provided space for the Witnesses and interested persons. Yankee Stadium has again been secured, but because of the cramped quarters of the previous assembly the Polo Grounds will be used in addition. The program will be presented by the same participants following the first presentation in Yankee Stadium.

Private Homes

Most of those from this area will be staying in private homes in New York City and nearby areas. All hotel accommodations will be filled, according to the Watchtower rooming committee, and the majority of attenders will be placed in homes following a gigantic house-to-house effort to find available accommodations.

Among those from the South congregation who will attend the convention are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Brehmer, 2080 Studer-av; Mrs. Pearl McCulloch, 260 Sheldon-av, who will be a guest at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel; and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Suttle and son, Michael, and daughter, Connie, 1224 S. Washington-av.

Egg production dropped four percent in the first quarter of 1958, compared to the same period last year, according to Ohio State University Extension economists.

'From Such Unlikely Place As City Park-av'

Candle lighted lanterns depicting the sputnick age were an award winning production of a clever Livingston Park group. The rocket was mounted on a float and led by a spaceman junior.

If purple people eaters had dropped-in on Schiller Park from some outland place last Thursday night, their surprised Eah Ah Oh Uu would have added remarkable confusion and plenty of nose counting in the ranks of the twinkling candle-lighted lantern-carrying playground youngsters.

It was time last week for the summer Lantern Parade held each year at Schiller by the combined South Side playground kids—and time to mark the progress of youthful imagination in this year when mysteries from outer space are getting about as familiar as juke box tunes.

Land bound people eaters — South Side variety — were abundantly on hand. They exploded out of the darkness in twinkling ragged lines and random sizes from such unlikely places as City Park Avenue, shuffled up past Schiller pool, the music center and shelter house, and finally past a shadowy assembly of judges and spectators amid wild partisan applause.

There were 12 or 14 or 16 playgrounds represented. Each had picked a "theme" or idea to express, and each youngster had made a lantern from card board boxes and colored papers. Windows cut in the sides let light shine through colors.

Some playgrounds exercised thoughtful interpretation of things like animals, and fairy tales. Others built rockets. Livingston Park dressed a tyke in spaceman's uniform. It was a sight beholden to everything creative and enthusiatic, everything sensitive and youngish.

Schiller has something for most any kid . . . a way for oldsters that can be rediscovered endlessly.

Vegetables respond to large applications of commercial fertilizer, even though the soil may be high in organic matter, say Ohio State University Extension horticulturists.

"A surprised Eah Ah Oh Uu and nose counting in the ranks . . . " the purple people eaters were a production of Southview Park.

Serve Sweet Potatoes With Sausage Patties

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

Browned sweet potato halves go beautifully with sausage patties. They can be cooked together in same skillet.

Another good dish is potato and pea chowder. Canned peas are in abundant supply now and should be a budget item.

Jersey Sweets and Sausage Patties (Serves 4)

Three New Jersey sweet potatoes, boiling salted water, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, few grains nutmeg, 4 sausage patties.

In a kettle of boiling, salted water cook the sweet potatoes until tender. Drain, peel, halve and place them on a shallow dish. Sprinkle the combined lemon juice, brown sugar and nutmeg over the sweet potatoes.

In an electric or heavy skillet cook the patties over medium heat until browned on one side. Turn and then add the halved sweet potatoes. Brown the patties on the other side and the halved sweet potatoes. Turn the sweet potatoes occasionally. Serve.

Pea and Potato Chowder (4 servings)

Four tablespoons ham fat, butter or margarine, 1 large onion, sliced; 1 No. 2 can peas, 2 cups diced potatoes, 3 cups milk, 1 cup diced cooked or leftover ham, salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Add onion to fat in large saucepan and cook until tender, but not brown. Drain peas and add pea liquid to saucepan. Bring to a boil and add potatoes; cover and cook 10 minutes. Add peas, milk and ham. Heat thoroughly. Add salt to taste and pepper. Add parsley and serve.

Jerelyn Thompson, 169 Jenkins-av, will be a year older on July 28. She and her family are currently in Cedar Point, enjoying the fun to be had at the Lake Erie resort.

Betty Justus, 1447 Wilson-av spent four days last week in Cincinnati as a delegate to the national convention of Delta Theta Tau Sorority. She is the incoming president of Columbus Alpha Xi Chapter. Accompanying Mrs. Justus was her husband, Albert, Mrs. Charles M. Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Yarber.

Two recent weddings and two that will soon occur are listed among today's items. Miss Catherine O'Brien, 1353 Westwood-av, became the bride of Mr. Martin O'Donnell, 1716 E. The Summer Square Dances sponsored by the South Side Branch YMCA will reach the half-way mark tomorrow, July 25.

The Lenox "soo" took a pleasant little spin recently, and ye Gadabout thought that perhaps some of the readers might like to visit the spot. It was the Dawes Memorial Arboretum. To get there, go on Rt. 40 to Jacksontown, turn left and go up the road a few miles. Winding roads through the thousands of trees, many foreign to this area, is the pleasant reward. There are picnic areas available, to add a further inducement for making the little jaunt. The younger Lenoxes and mommy got a large charge from wandering in a little family cemetery and reading some of the stones. (Two of those resting there were veterans of the Revolutionary War.) The "soo" voted to return with a picnic lunch on a hot day, should 1958 decide to produce such a thing!

The Itskin family, of S. 3rd-st, is safely home again after their three-week, 9,000 mile trip which took them to Montana, California, Texas and Mexico. We heartily recommend that Lana's friends ask for her version of "Darrel and the Bear" . . . it's a diller.

We plan to get further information about this item before the next edition is out, but we'll mention the Swiss picnic, to be held on Aug. 3 at Catalpa Park from noon on. Bob Baumbusch's orchestra will furnish the music.

Birthdays in the adult section for this week include those of Evelyn Clark, Margaret Miller and Willa Davis. Willa no longer resides in Columbus, but has hosts of friends in the South Side who will want to remember her July 29 birthday.

The Colegrove family, of Champion-av, is currently in California, visiting relatives.

July 26 and July 28 are the natal days of Robert Speakmon and James Newell, respectively.

This next item is unusual and heartwarming as you will certainly agree. "Pete" Miller was an athlete, who played and starred on Columbus teams for 20 years.

A visit to the doctor, with subsequent tests, revealed multiple sclerosis and traces of cancer. His family and friends knew that Pete's stay on this earth was not to be much longer so a group of his warm-hearted friends decided to do something for his family. The result was plans for the "Pete Miller Benefit" to be held this Sunday, July 27 at Schultz Park, 4800 Bixby-rd. Pete passed away in June, leaving his wife and four children. As we understand it, admission to the park is free and food for the picnic will be sold cafeteria style. One can buy chicken potato salad, baked beans, hot dogs, and bouillion soup. In addition to the food, there will be games, refreshments and dancing from 2 to 5 p.m. and 9 to midnight. The round and square dance music will be furnished by Angelo Iola. Sponsors for the benefit are the South Club, Swan Club and the Gaytimers. (These three are units of the Old Timers Club). ALL profits will be turned over to Pete's family, and we hope the endeavor is highly successful. We're not sure of the starting time, but imagine that things will be ready from noon on. The public is cordially urged to attend.

A belated July 17 birthday greeting to Mary Ann Whalen, 224 Frebis-av, who's just too nice for us to be slighting. Sorry, Mary Ann!

In a previous column we mentioned the fact that Ralph "Bud" Macioci was spending his summer with a local theater group, and now we'll report that he will be appearing in "Life With Father," July 29.

Roberta "Bobbie" Coslett, attractive brunet daughter of the Leader's Isabelle Coslett, received a wonderful present for her July 25 birthday. She was the recipient of a brand new spinet piano. We should mention also that Bobbie's grandmother, Nora Davidson, is visiting the family at this time. Mrs. Davidson is from Massachusetts.

Another young teen-ager who will soon be celebrating a new year is Nikki Morian, who adds a new year on July 28.

Don't seem to see anything else around for this week's wordage, so will sign off for this week. Till next edition, — THE GADABOUT!

Smith Road

By Mari Ann Sourlas

Everyone at Smith Road Playground is getting ready for one of the biggest and most spectacular events of the summer season, the Lantern Parade, which will take place today at Schiller Park at 7:30 p.m. All playgrounds will be closed after 5:30 p.m. in order to participate in this event.

This year Smith Road has picked as its theme, "Come To The Circus." The boys and girls are all to dress in clown costumes and carry lanterns with funny faces of the many different types of clowns.

Successful

One of the successful events throughout the summer has been the Wednesday night dances. Because of the large attendance the two playground supervisors, Mari Ann Sourlas and Gene Bay have decided to break the dance into age groups. Wednesday nights will be for the age group from 6 to 12 years old and Friday nights will be for the age groups from 12 years old and older.

Next Thursday, July 24, the boys and girls will have a pizza party from 5 to 8:30 p.m. This will be held on the playground.

Smith Road Intermediate Softball team had a good start last week, with a winning of 21-5 against Southview Park. These boys have shown great enthusiasm over all their games.

Last Thursday, July 10, the Junior Olympics were held at South High School. Smith Road came out with four points in the field and track events, with Jerry Ray placing second in the 440 yard run.

A big event coming up Aug. 8 will be a talent show. This will be composed of boys and girls who have registered at Smith Road. So far it looks very promising.

The main arts and crafts activity at Smith Road Playground for the past week has been the making of lanterns. But now that the lantern parade is over the boys and girls are looking forward to the Drama Festival, which will come some time during the week of July 28. Smith Road has picked for its theme "Safari Weekend." Tryouts are underway now for dancers, singers, and artists.

Today the boys and girls at Smith Road are getting ready for the big Pizza Party which is being held in the school at 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Entertainment is being provided by the Girls' Recreation Club during the evening.

Last week was the first Teenage Dance held on Friday evening from 7 to 9. The turnout was not quite as good as we expected. We hope to see more of the teenage girls and boys this Friday night. The place: Smith Road School — the time: 7 p.m. — the dress: casual clothes. Everyone is welcome.

If You Want To Fish Lake Erie, Try Party Fishing

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Several requests have come in recently asking about fishing in Lake Erie, and wanting to know specifically about fishing on party boats. Many central Ohio anglers trek to the shores of Lake Erie once or twice a year for a fishing party. Because of this popularity, much interest is being generated about this type of fishing, also called reef fishing.

Party boat skippers can be found all along the shore of Lake Erie and they all operate about the same. You contact them in advance of the trip, and make arrangements for a specific date. At this time the skippers will tell you what to expect in the way of fish at that particular time, and what fishing tackle you will need. Skippers will provide ice for the catch, but you should take along food for the day.

Party boat captains actually are guides, and they will take you to the best fishing spots. You will, of course, need an Ohio fishing license, and you may need a Canadian license before the day is over. Most skippers have the Canadian licenses for sale. For the guide service and for providing a large boat, party skippers charge about $50 for a day's fishing. When you consider that eight, ten, or even more people can go along on a fishing party, this averages out to a pretty inexpensive outing.

Guides Work Year 'Round

My most recent reef fishing trip was with Elden Hales on his large, steel hulled boat, the Shore 'Nuf. Elden lives at Put-In-Bay, on South Bass Island, but he picks up his parties at the Catawba Ferry dock where you can leave your car, and he deposits you there again in the evening. Hales operates his party boat all spring and summer, and is still going when the weather turns cold. During the winter he guides ice fishing parties. By being on the lake virtually every day he knows what fish are biting, and where. This is one of the advantages of taking party boats—the skippers don't waste time fishing barren places. They don't guarantee a full box of fish every day, but when the party boats do not fund fish nobody does.

Many fishermen have the mistaken idea that trolling for walleyes (also called pickerel) is the only function of party his season, he takes fishermen for the spring smallmouth bass fishing. He will anchor at choice spots, and you can cast artificials or use live bait for bass. Most skippers will provide minnows and sometimes soft craws at no extra cost, but it may be wise to ask about the availability of bait when you set up the trip. The early fishing for bass is some of the best that Lake Erie has to offer.

In June the white bass fishing starts, and you can troll by schools of fish, or drift and cast into the schools. The white bass fishing did not develop this year as it has for several years. But fish populations run in cycles, and when the trend is down you just can't catch as many. Even though the white bass catches are rather slim this year, the fish are averaging a better size.

Slump in Walleye Catch

Toward the end of June the first walleyes are picked up by trolling. In July and August walleye fishing it at its best. Many anglers are concerned this year about the walleye fishing, because it has dropped the last couple of years. There are many theories advanced for this, but in my opinion the walleye fishing is entirely governed by the weather. The spring of 1949 was the best walleye spawning season for 20 years because of high water temperature. This extremely good hatch provided fine fishing for several years. Now the peak is over, and until we can control the walleye hatch in the lake we will have to be satisfied with periodic ups and downs.

In Septemebr and October the smallmouth bass fishing picks up again, and party boat skippers will take you far out into the lake where they are hitting in deep water. A few walleyes are also taken at this time by casting artificial baits into shallow water along rocky beaches.

The most attractive thing to me about this type of fishing, is that it's a fishing party. It combines a boat ride, picnic, and a family outing. Or perhaps the good companionship of the office gang, or a group of fishing buddies. Party boats are spacious, and have all the accomodations for a day's comfort and enjoyment on the water.

Also you catch fish. Some days you won't fill the ice chest, but it's seldom when you don't catch several muscular, fighting drum, or some sporty rock bass.

The prizes, of course, are walleyes, white bass, and smallmouth bass, and you will usually take some on a fishing party.

WHEN THE FISH ARE HITTING—on a fishing party, all attention is centered on the lines. When trolling or casting from these spacious boats five or six people can fish at the same time. Much of the pleasure from party fishing, however, comes from sitting on a deck chair in the sun, and chewing on a chicken leg from the picnic basket.

County Rates Third In State Expenditures For Schools

Out of the record $181,478,-152 in school foundation funds distributed by the state during the fiscal year ended June 30, schools in Franklin County received $8,788,482.84, according to the records of State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Included in this are payments made direct to the teachers and school employes retirement systems as the school districts' contributions to the pension funds.

Franklin County was exceeded only by Cuyahoga's $18 million and Hamilton's $9 million, and was almost equalled by Summit County.

Payments under the school foundation during the last fiscal year were $10 million more almost double the subsidy in the 1950-51 year.

The statewide total includes $39,980,533 to the state teachers' retirement system; $6,804,-312 to the school employes retirement system; $1,308,659 for transportation; and $474,663 for construction.

Schiller

Doll-Making

The new experience of making dolls is quite popular with the younger teen-agers at Schiller these days. The girls are starting story-book collections. The miniature dolls are about four inches high, in full costumes which include pantaloons and hoop skirts, small vests and ties, bustles or any other trimmings to make the dolls authentic. Leading characters of fairy tales are being copied by the following girls: Nancy Reynolds, Linda Reynolds, Cheryl Heigel, Diana Heigel, Maryanne Willet, Phoeby Knerium, Jody Keech, Paula Sloan, Kay Seman, Bonnie Frey, Virginia Hessenauer, Lynn Gatwood and Antionette Hunter.

It is hoped to have an exhibit at some future time, to show what the girls have accomplished.

Girls' Softball

The Schiller Girls' Softballers won a lop-sided game over Karns Playground on the latter's field last week. The final score was 30 to 13.

The winning pitcher was Chris Rhei. Supporting their pitcher with home runs were Sandy Guinn and Linda Stevens.

This week's game was played yesterday against Fairwood Playground at Deshler School. Next week's game will be against Palsgrove.

Livingston Park

Livingston Park, though delinquent in news, has been most active in recreative activities this year.

The Little Jet League, of which we're very proud, has been a new addition to the many other sports activities, such as softball, basketball, volleyball, horseshoes and tennis.

In special events this year, Livingston won first prize for the most beautiful pet and two third prizes in other categories.

In our crafts activities are varied and interesting.

Dramatics and storytelling, and nature study are all an integral part of a wholesome recreation program.

Roberta Atwood is in charge of the girls' softball team and storytelling and Lydia Burks is in charge of crafts and overall program.

Playground hours are 12 to 8 p.m.

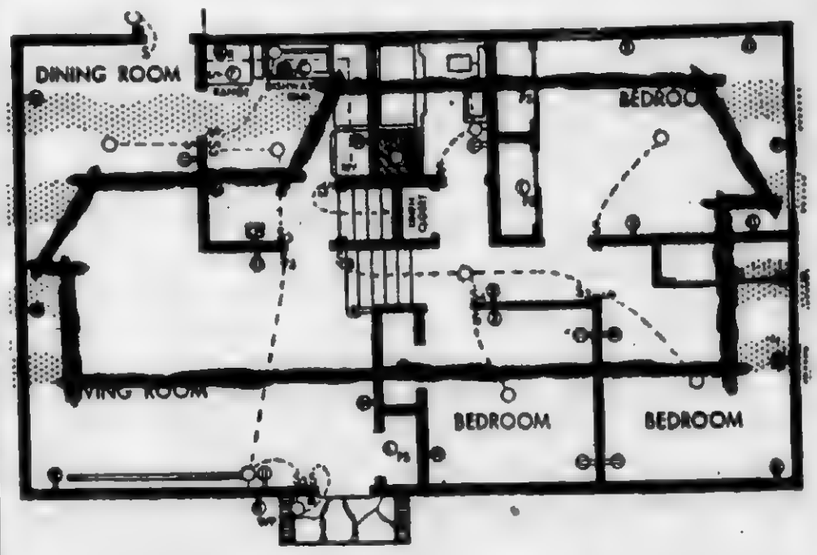
Southview . . .

By M. F. Colley

In Little League action last week at Southview the Bears increased their first place margin to a game and a half over the second place Cubs on the strength of pitcher Don Davis' two no-hit games. Davis leads the league in strikeouts with 77 and in earned run percentage with a 3.45 ERA.

The Indians moved into third place by virtue of their win over the Bears last Friday afternoon. The Indians eeked out a tight 4-3 win with Ron Skillman hitting a long two-run homer in the bottom half of the last inning. Mike Glick who had tripled to lead off the inning came home ahead of Skillman for the game's winning runs.

This week's feature game is a rematch between the Indians and the Bears on Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. on diamond No. 7 at Southview. Don Davis will hurl for the Bears, opposing Ron Skillman of the Indians.



Tonight at Southview the annual summer doll show will take place at 7 p.m. Awards will be given for the biggest, the smallest, the cutest, the most unusual, and the best-costumed dolls. Everyone is invited to attend and little girls, ages two to 22, are urged to enter their prize dolls in the contest.

Southview's softball teams fared well in last week's games. The Juniors continued their winning ways at the expense of Lincoln Park, defeating the South Siders 9-3 behind Ronnie Glick's fine pitching. The Intermediates dropped a close 10-7 decision to Fornof Park. However, even in a loosing effort, the team displayed good sportsmanship and some exceptionally fine play.

In this week's play the Intermediates were scheduled to oppose South-East Lions on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m., while the Juniors took the field earlier in the day at 1 p.m. against Karns.

Irwin "Earlyworm" Johnson Says:

"Once again the multiple sclerosis sales tax contest is starting. I am certain you do not need to be sold on this most worthwhile organization or the importance of this contest. It's worth in dollars and cents means so much to the treatment and research of this dreaded disease. "Last year a lot of fine boys and girls won very nice prizes in the contest. This year we have an equally attractive prize list. So get busy now and send your stamps in as soon as possible. Listen to my program for further details."

Fishin's Fun At Schiller

Angling tip: "Let the line stay quiet."

Hitherto "secret" tips on how to wile catfish, bluegills and bass from their watery sanctuary has been given exploitation in Schiller Park this summer. The youngsters shown above are registered contestants in the big fishing derby being sponsored through Aug. 15 by the City Recreation Department and the South-East Lions Club.

Said the 10-year old girl: "Let the line stay quiet . . . don't move it so many times." Said her brother: "Lift up the line and throw it out again . . every couple of minutes."

Among the dozens of fish stocked in the pool just a few weeks ago, 100 were tagged with markers. When these fish are caught, the lucky angler turns in the marker to a Schiller recreation leader. On the final day of the contest — Aug. 15 — there will be a party and awarding of prizes for all tagged fish caught. There also will be a grand prize drawing for a bicycle.

Application blanks for the contest are still available at Schiller Playground. Any boy or girl 14-years-old or younger is eligible.

There are about 75 tagged fish still swimming around in the pool this week plus others not marked. Included among the tagged fish is Sergeant Garcia, a channel catfish, worth $10 when caught.

Safety First, Hot Rod Or Cadillac

This first rate orange crate car hasn't brakes, so drivers are asked to give the kids a "brake." Watch out for this and many other types of child transportation this summer.

The roads are now being used increasingly by youngsters; and it is the duty of every driver to watch out for them.

The driver of this vehicle (?) is Tommy Seymour, age 12. Horsepower No. 1 (on the left in the rear) is 11-year-old Larry Lindsey of 494 E. Morrill.

Pete Miller Benefit Sunday At Schultz Park

On Sunday, July 27, three groups of "Old Timer" Clubs, the South, the Swan and the Gay Timers, will sponsor the Pete Miller Benefit at Schultz Park.

Mr. Miller was a South Side athlete for 20 years. He died in June of this year, a victim of multiple sclerosis and cancer. His former team-mates and fellow athletes hope by means of this benefit to be able to present his widow and four children with a fund.

Admission to Schultz Park is free. The "day" begins at 12 noon. Items on the menu will be sold cafeteria-style. Food served will be chicken, potato salad, baked beans, hot dogs and bouillon soup.

Games, refreshments and dancing are other attractions. Round and square dancing will feature Angelo Iolo, from 3 till 5 o'clock in the afternoon and 9 till midnight.

All profits will be given to Mrs. Miller.

The general public is cordially invited to attend.

Schultz Park is located on W. Bixby rd, the first road crossing Groveport Pike after passing Big Walnut bridge between Obetz and Groveport (turn right on Bixby).

Woolen garments should not be put away for the summer unless they are thoroughly clean. Moths are attracted to food stains and dirt.

It is the moth larvae that do the damage to woolen clothes, not the flying moth.

West Virginian Chosen President Of World Lions

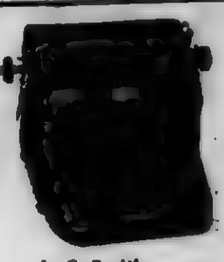
Mrs. Hahn says she will receive calls from applicants at her home telephone HI. 4-9990.

Schiller Band Plays On



Band concerts at Schiller Park will be continued, with the next concert on Sunday, evening, July 27, at 8.

The new Schiller music center will add considerable to the attractiveness of the program. Conducting for the evening will be Charles E. Mack, who is director of the Franklin Post No. 1 band, American Legion, which won second-place honors in the band competition at the state convention of the American Legion held recently here in Columbus. The contest number used by the band will be repeated at this concert.

The number of musicians comprising this band has been increased to 50 permitting a wide range of instrumentation and a better over-all effect.

Sponsoring these concerts is the Department of Public Recreation of the City of Columbus and the Columbus Federation of Musicians through a grant from the music performance trust funds.

Where's That Summer Sun?

Rain, rain go away . . .

With an unsympathetic weatherman's forecast of "cloudy, cool, possible showers for Wednesday," ringing in their ears, soggy citizens armed with mops, brooms and shovels are busily clearing away traces of yesterday's two-inch deluge.

Ground, already saturated by weeks of rainfall, refused to absorb another drop Tuesday, and torrents of water dumped on Columbus during the half-hour cloudburst and afternoon of rain flooded streets and basements.

Thunderstorms and tornadoes swept the state in a broad band from Cincinnati to north of Columbus, with damages in the hardest hit areas estimated at thousands of dollars.

Yes, what becomes of your estate. Well, everyone knows Uncle Sam comes first and the larger the estate the larger the slice percentage-wise he gets. But Uncle Sam is generous, believing in sharing the wealth to the extent of tax free deductions on gifts to the Young Men's Christian Associaion.
And where could you do better than a gift to the South Side Branch "Y" where we make it a business of "making BIG MEN out of small boys."
the South Side "Y" will soon erect a fine new building. We need a lift.

Schiller To Abound In Drama, Fun Today

Today Schiller Recreation Center will be the scene of some lively, creative activities as directors and children from seven local playgrounds hold a Play Day and Drama Festival there.

Southview, Southeast Lions, Fornof, Smith Road, Lincoln Park, Schiller and Karns Playgrounds will be participating in the events which begin at 1 p. m. and conclude with a square dance from 7 to 10 tonight.

Neighbors and friends are invited to come and watch the children display their talents in a variety of relays, plays and contests.

This will be a fine opportunity for adults to observe the results of good supervised summer vacation fun. More and more children are being attracted to playground activities where parents can be sure their children are enjoying themselves in a safe way.

LeRoy Wise, summer director at Schiller, will be in charge of the affair. Don McCaulsky, athletic director at Barrett Junior High School, will supervise the Drama Festival and Play Day.

A parade of decorated bicycles will take place between 1 and 1:30 p. m. It will be followed by bicycle races from 1:30 to 2 p. m.

Horshoe tournament and softball throw for boys and girls is scheduled between 1 and 4 p. m.

A bathing beauty contest is slated between 3 and 4 p. m. However, before we start a stampede of South Side manhood heading for Schiller, we might add that the girls qualified for the contest are not of the age group that looks good in a Bikini! The first

Big Insignia Value Now Up To $25

Another week with no winners has increased the value of the jackpot insignia in today's newspaper to a whopping big $25 in "Confederate" money.

RAINY WEATHER has made it a little easier for Mike Sell to stay indoors during his recovery. He still keeps an eye on the world outside waiting for his face to heal, and good weather.

Boy's Mysterious Errand Unsolved

An air of mystery surrounds the plight of a South Side youngster who, while on an errand for his mother, suffered serious injuries to his face and was sent to Children's Hospital for a week of careful treatment.

Charles "Mike" Sell, Jr., 1337 Deshler-av, on Monday morning, July 7, set out from home for a nearby grocery store. While enroute he suffered a fractured cheek bone, a broken nose and lacerations around his face, all of which he was unable to explain.

The police have thus far been unable to solve the incident. The eight-year-old boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sell, are now deperately searching for some witness who may be able to shed light on the unfortunate mishap.

Mrs. Sells described it this way: "Mike left home at about 11 a.m. to go to a grocery store on Lockbourne-rd. Shortly after, I heard the emergency squad coming down the street and looked out to see Mike sprawled on a neighbor's lawn unconscious. His face was all cut and bruised," said the boy's mother.

"He was taken to Children's Hospital where he was kept a week for treatment. He regained consciousness shortly after the incident but couldn't remember what happened. The following day, Mike began to remember and told us what he could," added Mrs. Sell.

Mike Remembers

Here is Mike's account of his trip to the store: "I walked to the corner of Deshler and Lockbourne and the traffic light was all right for me to cross. But I had to wait until this big truck with lumber on it turned the corner," said the youth.

According to Mike, the truck turned off of Lockbourne on to Deshler and stopped near the crosswalk.

"I thought it was safe to cross," said Mike, adding, "but when I walked behind the truck, it backed up and some lumber hit me in the face. Some man—I think he was the truck driver—came up to me and looked at my face. He said I was all right and to go home and put a cold

South Sider Is Busy 'As Fireman-Banker'

Charles W. Highland, 22 W. Moler-st, is basically a city fireman but his "outside" activities include operating a business approaching its $2 million mark, plus active interests in his family, church and community.

Charles W. Highland

Highland graduated from South High School in 1934. He worked as a dispatcher for the Pennsylvania Truck Lines and then became a fireman in 1941.

In 1943 he was offered the position of treasurer and general manager of the Credit Union for City Civil Service Employees which includes policemen and firemen. He accepted and has since split his work week between the fire department and the Credit Union.

"I took the post because I wanted to help people interested in helping themselves," said Highland.

He added that he thought he could accomplish this by working in an organization designed to offer employees moderate interest rates on loans as well as a safe savings plan.

When Highland took the Credit Union job it was a $72,000 business. It is now nearing the $2 million mark!

Credit Union work seems to run in the family. Mrs. Highland has been working in the same field since 1947 and is now employed by the Columbus General Depot Credit Union.

The Highlands have three children (who have not yet gone in for Credit Unions). Charles, 19, a 1957 graduate of South High School; and twins, Charlene and Charlotte, 15, who will attend South this fall.

In the fall of 1954 Highland was instrumental, along with Randall Near, South's music director, in founding the South High Band Parents Organization. The group raised $5500 by the following fall to outfit the school's band in new uniforms.

Highland, between 1943 and 1951, was co-producer of the Firemen's Minstrels. He has also been instrumental in organizing the Fire Department Glee Club and in setting up the department's 10-acre picnic and recreation facilities at Buckeye Lake.

Ray Shaffer Appointed To Leader Staff

Ray Shaffer

Ray Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Shaffer, of 100 W. Maynard-av, has been appointed to handle the editorial duties of this newspaper previously done by Oliver Gedeist, who recently resigned.

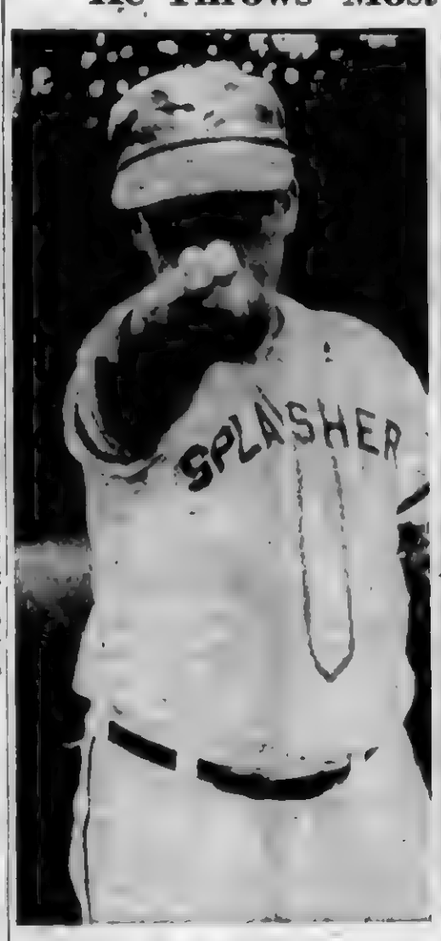
Shaffer is a graduate of North High School and has been associated with Hartley Publications for the past year as a feature writer. He will welcome the aid of all in serving the community through the South Side Leader.

A 'Pot' Lifter Is Prowling!

Mary A. Wagner called this office to report that her potted plants had been stolen sometime between Wednesday evening and Thursday morning of last week.

Mrs. Wagner had been raising the plants for the last three years on the porch of her employer's home at 39 E. Beck-st.

The thief stole a large flower pot planted with various ivy and snake plants, and a large ceramic planter filled with outdoor ivy.



"I knew things were bad in this world but when people start stealing potted plants, then it's really bad," said Miss Wagner.

Kimble Glass Pact Approved

Men's Local 106, and Women's Local 245, Glass Bottle Blowers Association last week voted acceptance of a new contract with the Columbus plant of the Kimble Glass Co., an Owens-Illinois subsidiary, according to statements by unions and Kimble Glass officers.

Retroactive to June 1, the contract includes a wage hike, doubled retirement benefits, and improved holiday pay.

He Throws 'Most About Anything

The Fast Ball

The Curve

Fritz Erchart, a 12-year-old from Smith Road School, has made transition from the outfield to the pitching mound in reverse the usual trend that finds fast-balling, good-hitting pitchers suddenly patrolling the outfield.

The move has created dramatic results in Southern Kiwanis Little League. Fritz has curved and changed-up and fast-balled two perfect no-hitters (in succession) already this year; and backed by power and an almost spotless defense, he promises to strong-arm the Splashers into top spot in the eight team league.

He throws "most about anything." But according to his dad, the trick is simply (1) to get a couple of high hard ones over the plate for quick strikes and (2) use the curve as a teaser or third called strike.

The Splashers are now 3-1 for the season. They lost the single game by one run on a muddy field, and took a beating from an all-star team imported from Lancaster.

Fritz will take his seasoned pitching skill to George C. Beery Junior High this fall, plans to shatter a few more pitching records in his fast developing baseball career.

The Ercherts live at 850 Markison-av.

Sorry . . . Wrong Number

We want to apologize . . . to South Sider Bob Rogers, whose story we ran two weeks ago. And to the readers who may have tried to contact Bob about the telephone answering service he hopes to start.

You see, by mistake we listed the wrong number for Bob's telephone. It is HI. 4-7845. Bob, who has been crippled since birth, hopes to become self-supporting through a telephone answering service for businesses or individuals he could conduct from his wheelchair.

In the hope that two "rights" will make up for a "wrong," here's Bob's telephone number again: HI. 4-7845.

Southern Kiwanis Club's Fish Fry Draws Nearly 400 Friday

PASS THAT FISH!—Members of Southern Kiwanis Club were kep' plenty busy Friday night serving fish dinners to the more than 380 people who turned out for the club's fish fry held at Schiller Park. Earl Wilson, manager of Great Southern J. C. Penney store, doesn't seem to mind his job as he fills the plates of these young ladies. The girls are, left to right: Kay Gearhart, Carol Gearhart and Diana Schenk. Club President Ed Gearhart, principal of Marion-Franklin High School, said this was the young club's first large project and it was very successful. Money will be used in the community and to support Little League baseball next year. Southern Kiwanis officers are now planning a new project for September. They may consider a pancake or waffle breakfast.

Seeks Better Way To Save City Money

The city of Columbus will save some money if the plans of M. D. Portman, finance department director, materialize. The director is seeking an improved method of keeping control of city materials and supplies.

The director doesn't like the hit-and-miss method of control of city supplies, he said, adding, "the various divisions of the City of Columbus government utilize each its own method of control, making it difficult to know the immediate needs of each of the various divisions. It's costing money to use this outmoded measure."

First action was to request all department heads to tell him exactly what the present procedures are.

Director Portman said, "following the receipt of the information requested, it will be seen whether there are gaping holes in our procedures."

Lowell Swentzel put a fellow mail-man to work delivering a pretty postal to the Gadabout's residence last week. We learned that Lowell and Arlene were vacationing in Canada with Vera and Wade King, Bill, Francis, Bob and Lydia Fritz. The Kings and Fritzes reside on Sheldon-av, the Swentzels, at 1144 Oakwood-av.

The postal employee who delivered our card was Jack Wardlow, of Lockbourne, and he should be nearing his own vacation destination by now. Jack and his family will be visiting relatives in California. (Jack has "Pay Word Jack" on his route, doesn't he, Dona?)

Once again we're asking for a shower of cards from Jane Deible, who recently had a second session of surgery at Benjamin Franklin Hospital. We know her morale would be considerably helped by cheerful cards. She's in room 310.

The Spiker family, 67 Southwood-av, spent their vacation in pleasant fashion on the Huron River. Enroute to their destination they stopped in Bedford, O., to visit Don Spiker and his family. Don's fourteen - year - old daughter, Kathleen, returned to Columbus with her grandparents. The Spiker clan held a reunion last Saturday, July 26.

It is with sadness we bid adieu to Oliver Gedeist and his charming wife, who will soon be making their home in Wisconsin. We hope his health improves greatly, so that he can enjoy his retirement to the fullest. It was enjoyable knowing you, Mr. Gedeist! Be sure to let us know of your activities. We'll welcome Mr. Shaffer, our new editor, and tell him he'll find residents of our beloved South Side real nice "folks."

Three youngsters will soon be able to hold up four fingers when asked their age, for the stork delivered them that many years ago. One, Mindy DeLong, has already achieved her birthday on July 24. She lives at 1388 City Park-av. Sarah Ann Oberkonz, 1391 S. 3rd-st, has her birthday today, July 31. A cousin of Sarah, Ralph Oberkonz, must wait until Aug. 9. A third member of the Oberkonz "younger generation" rates mention for being a visitor in the home of her grandparents. The young lady is Janet Baum, 612 Lazelle-st, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Otto Oberkonz, 60 E. Jenkins-st.

Music for the annual Swiss picnic, to be held Aug. 3, at Catalpa Park, will be furnished by the orchestra of Bob Baumbusch. Plenty of refreshments will be available, and the affair is open to the public. Herbert Kunzi is honorary chairman. Otto Kuepfer, jr., and Dorothy Kuepfer are chairman and co-chairman of the picnic.

Birthday wishes to Diana Leach, 99 Reeb-av, who has her candles and cake today; Carol Loska, 164 E. Gates-st, whose birthday is an even of Aug. 5. August 5 is also the birthday of Jonny Leist. (Mary Leist, Jon's mother, was a patient in Mt. Carmel Hospital, victim of a nearly bursted appendix).

Deanna Brewer, 528 Sheldon-av, is enjoying her Kentucky vacation greatly. She is visiting relatives in our neighboring state.

Mrs. Hamilton of Wager-st, was one who sent us a postal card this summer, from Detroit, Mich. We were thinking we'd be hearing from her and then we could give fuller details of her vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Rice, of 175 E. Jenkins-av, have been entertaining out-of-state relatives in the last week.

Ben and Kate Williams, 229 Southwood-av, with little Ben, were numbered among Canada's visitors for two weeks.

It seems to us that Bill Paulus and Paul Klein should have had birthdays earlier in the week. Chuck Walters had his July 14 birthday celebrated a little late by the "Zodiac" group . . . Itskins, Fishers, Kaufmans and Lenoxes. The surprise party took place in the Summit Station home of Chuck and Lee. (The "lord" of the Walters home has a huge CHUCK painted on the dog's house . . . cute, eh?) The Itskins had a full week-end planned, for in addition to the Saturday night birthday party the S. Third-st residents were to travel to Upper Sandusky for a family reunion on Sunday, July 27.

Young Denny Ramey, 1721 S. Third-st, was scheduled for a tonsillectomy this week, so happy ice cream eating, me lad.

Don't know what Lynn Felice, 212 E. Jenkins-av was making at the time but it should have been "lady fingers" . . . Lynn caught a finger in the mixer two weeks ago.

If this coming Sunday has a blank space in your calendar, come on up to Schiller Park and listen to the free concert, conducted by Tom Crawshaw. We're gonna be there, back of a bass fiddle. (Since most folks don't realize how these concerts are made possible perhaps a little explanation would help. The big record companies have to pay a percentage of their profits into this "performing fund" instituted by now-retired James C. Petrillo. With this fund union musicians are paid when they play benefits. In this locality it's used in such places as Benjamin Franklin Hospital, Columbus State Hospital, Chillicothe, etc., as well as the free concerts. Records are the bane of "live" music, and this sort of thing helps the live musician a little. Thought you'd be interested!)

Frank and Jean LaRue celebrated another year of wedded life yesterday, July 30. Another couple to celebrate an anniversary was Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ellis, 225 E. Southwood-av, on July 22.

A tonsillectomy was the lot of Beverly Weakley last week. Bev is a resident of 1440 Championav.

Mr. and Mrs. Weisenberger, 284 Southwood-av, are both ailing at this time, a fact that makes their friends quite unhappy.

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Knodel, 120 Frankfort-st, will be an event of Saturday, Aug. 2. The couple will be honor guests at a dinner given by Mrs. Harold Lindenbolt. Mr. Knodel was an employee of the Federal Glass Co. for 29 years before his retirement in 1956. In addition to Mrs. Lindenbolt, their daughter, the Knodels have a son, Herman, four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Can't see anything else to write about so we'll get this endeavor to Mr. Shaffer. Till next week then, 'tis

The Schiller Intermediate Girl Softballers, continued their winning streak by defeating a very strong Fairwood team 16 to 11. The winning pitcher was Chris Rehl, who also rolled up a total of seven strike-outs.

Backing up their pitcher at bat were Linda Stevens, Jerri Clements, Sandy Guinn, and Nancy Krumm, all of whom had three hits.

Schiller took advantage of several errors to put four runs across in the first inning. After setting Fairwood down one, two, three, Schiller came back with five runs in the second, four runs in the fourth, two runs in the sixth, and one run in the seventh.

Schiller will play Palsgrove Playground next.

Rose Park To Feature Navy Band

The Columbus Park of Roses proudly presents as the 11th offering on the park's Summer Concert Series Program the nationally famous "Naval Aviation Cadet Marching Band" on Sunday, Aug. 3, at 7 p. m., at the Park of Roses, Whetstone Park, Acton-rd and High-st.

Organized in 1954 to play at the weekly cadet graduations, base football games and various military functions, the band quickly matured under the direction of Arthur Symington, a retired Navy Chief Musician.

Today the Naval Aviation Cadet Band travels thousands of miles yearly by Navy transports, adding to the sparkle and pageantry of such events as the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, the Flambeau Parade in San Antonio and the Orange Bowl game in Miami.

The band is made up of Naval Aviation Cadets who rehearse and perform on a voluntary basis. They come from all stages of the eighteen month basic flight training program.

This special event is open to the public and all are urged to attend.

Society Reports Results In South Side TB Survey

The Tuberculosis Society of Columbus and Franklin County reports the following results from the chest X-ray survey held recently in the South Side:

There were 1751 X-rays taken, of which 19 showed possibilities of tuberculosis. Diagnosis was deferred on 33 pending further study. Other pathology was indicated in 39 cases.

These cases are preliminary findings and do not represent a final diagnosis. In the case of suspected tuberculosis additional study must be completed before a diagnosis is made. The "diagnosis deferred" category is an abnormality which resembles tuberculosis on the X-ray but cannot be immediately identified.

Lures Catch Fishermen

When you walk into fishing tackle store and see a huge array of baits, are you a little dismayed? I am. There are new baits put on the market each year, and I never heard of any going out of business. The baits are in every conceivable shape and design—and in every color. It makes you suspect that the lures are made to appeal to fisherman, and not particularly to fish.

This is probably true to some extent. If you could invent a bait that looks good enough for thousands of fishermen to dig deep in their pockets and buy, your battle for financial success would be more than half won. If a bait is used by enough fishermen, it will catch fish. The bass and pike families are noted for striking lures that do not resemble their usual foods. They seem to take a crack at a bait, on many occasions just for the heck of it.

Saw Clothespin Creation

I was fishing a small stream in Muskingum County many years ago, and as I fought my way through a thick bunch of willows I met another fisherman working his way downstream. His name has been long forgotten, but we sat down and chatted for a few minutes about our luck. I was using a bait casting outfit and had caught a few bass.

He had a flyrod and had also taken several. The conversation turned to the many different "contraptions" that will fool bass. My informant told me that as an experiment he once attached a couple of treble hooks to a clothes pin. He used it one evening in Maple Swamp over at Buckeye Lake, and in 45 minutes of fishing he caught a couple of small bass.

I wouldn't advise you to market a clothes pin bait though. It couldn't compete with the flashy baits of metal and tinsel on the tackle counters. Also, every good fisherman knows that a really effective bait has a mysterious attraction — some thing to make it deadly. You can buy baitha now with built-in scent, and baits that put out sound waves.

While almost anything you tie on the end of a fishing line will catch fish on occasion, the old reliable, time-tested lures actually do have a deadly attraction about them. Several come to mind, the red and white river runt, flatfish, jitterbug, jointed pikie, Hofmann spoon, and spinner. These will always rate space in my crowded tackle box. I have used these in fresh water and salt, and would hate to try to list the different kinds of fish they have caught—everything from green sunfish to tarpon.

New baits are appearing all the time, baits that will catch fish. But it is not often that a bait comes along with that special added something that makes it unusually attractive to fish. In the meantime we must look, sort, and pick through the tackle counters in the hopes of finding one.

We must satisfy that urge to check the new numbers, and perhaps buy a couple. The new baits give us an excuse to drop in the tackle stores and talk shop, to reminisce, and maybe to dream a little about future fishing jaunts. Anyone who would point out that a half-dozen battle scarred old favorites will catch more fish than a whole counterfull of new fangled gadgets, would spoil all the fun.

Envy is a form of self-poisoning.

S-E Conservation Club Proud Of Its Extensive Program

Stocking the Southeast Conservation Club lake with walleyes, April 1958. Photo—G. E. Bush

Club members have been experiencing some unusually fine "walleye" fishing this spring with some catches up to six pounds being reported.

The Southeast Club boasts some 600 members and is one of the largest clubs of its kind in Ohio. Its property on Hart-rd consists of a 35 acre spring-fed lake, a large well equipped club house, a large wooded picnic area, a complete archery course and recreation area plus a swimming beach. The lake is stocked several times each year to insure good fishing. The fish population contains bass, bluegills, crappies, channel catfish, walleyes and great northern pike.

Cost of membership is $50 for the first year which includes a $25 initiation fee plus $20 dues. After that the dues are a flat $20 a year. This price gives a husband and wife and all the children under 21 in the family the right to fish and enjoy all the other club activities.

Facilities of the clubhouse are available to all members. Each member has a key to the clubhouse and also a key to the gate to the club grounds.

Diversified activities of the group are conservation education, hunter safety classes, archery shoots, casting contests and many others.

Plan Conservation Showplace

The Southeast Club recently purchased two farms in Jackson Township located near Rt. 104 and Borer-rd. They include 127 acres and a 16-acre natural lake. This property is to be developed as a club site for the future and for use in conjunction with the Hart-rd property. The membership hopes to transform this new property into "the conservation showplace of Ohio."

There are a few memberships open at present but a prospective member must be recommended by a club member and also screened by the membership committee before acceptance.

The hunting members of the club have some 12,000 acres of farm land under a controlled hunting program. This is an arrangement between the club and farm owners which keeps land open to controlled hunting that might otherwise be posted with no trespassing signs.

The Southeast Conservation Club describes itself as "a live-wire organization made up of ordinary people who enjoy working for a common goal—cleaner waters, more woodlands, better hunting and fishing and better citizenship."

wash cloth on my face. I don't remember much else."

According to hospital surgeons, if the boy's story is true, the "man" could not honestly have told Mike he was "all right" because the youngster was so badly cut.

It is supposed by the youth's parents that Mike wandered toward home in somewhat of a daze and passed out in front of a neighbor's home.

The boy's injuries have healed well with the exception of his cheek bone, which will require about another month. He is allowed to play now but not very strenuously, and has been instructed to return to his doctor regularly for checkups for several months.

Police Check Story

Police have checked all lumber companies in the city without results. However, there is a great deal of construction going on in this area and neighbors report that many trucks pass by daily carrying building materials.

Mrs. Sell said, "We believe Mike's explanation and would like to get to the bottom of the incident. If any truck driver would be careless enough to back his truck without checking for pedestrians, then he is a menace to our children. My neighbors are worried about their kids and I have four more besides Mike."

She added, "but we can't find any witnesses. It was a rainy day and not many people were on the streets. If someone could tell us how Mike was hurt, even if it wasn't by a truck, at least our minds and our neighbors' minds would be at ease."

Faith is a knowledge of the benevolence of God toward us, and a certain persuasion of His veracity. —John Calvin

Between 4 and 5 p. m. the Drama Festival will take place inside Schiller Center. A short play presented by Schiller youths will be a highlight of the festival. The play, "The Surprise Party," was written by Chuck Kline, the new drama director at Whithall Yearling High School.

Children will bring a sack lunch for a picnic to be held in the park between 5 and 7 p. m.

A square dance will be held on Schiller's blacktop area beginning at 7 p. m. The public is invited and it will probably turn into something like the fun-filled, old-fashioned street dances, which seem to be practically extinct.

Though we can't see why anyone would think of it—in case of rain, outdoor activities may be cancelled but the Drama Festival will still be held.

Central Ohio Heart Association Clears Some Misconceptions Of Heart Illness

Deaths due to heart attacks become appallingly greater every year. Great steps have been made in the cure of heart ailments. However, precautionary measures taken by individuals at an early age can be worth more than many hours of research.

What do you know about your heart? The Central Ohio Heart Association has prepared the following 10-question quiz to be answered yes or no. Test your knowledge and see how you rate.

1. Do people under 40 get heart disease?

2. Are there many kinds of heart disease?

3. Is high blood pressure common below the age of 50?

4. Do most people with heart disease die suddenly?

5. If your heart sometimes skips a beat, is this a positive sign of heart disease?

6. If you get short of breath after climbing a flight of stairs, is this a definite indication of heart disease?

7. If a baby is born with a defective heart, can anything ever be done to remedy the defect?

8. Must persons with heart disease accept invalidism?

9. Do emotional upsets have any effect on the heart?

10. Do scientists today know all the cause of heart and blood vessel disease?

1. Yes, people under 40, of any age, in fact, may have disease of the heart or blood vessels.

2. Yes, there are many kinds of heart and blood vessel disease including hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, rheumatic fever, congenital heart defect and varicose veins.

3. Yes, high blood pressure is common under 50, since the most serious form occurs in the pre-50 age bracket.

4. No, most persons with heart disease do not die suddenly.

5. No, your heart skipping a beat is not definitely a sign of heart disease. Ask your doctor to be sure.

6. No. While shortness of breath may be a sign of heart disease, there are other troubles that can cause this symptom. See your doctor.

7. Yes, heart surgery, such as that being performed at Children's Hospital in Columbus, can frequently help or cure the child born with a defective heart.

8. No, most people with heart disease do not have to accept invalidism, but can and do work. Only a small percentage are not able to be active at all.

9. Yes, emotional upsets affect the heart in much the same manner as excessive physical activity. Persons with coronary heart disease may suffer heart attacks during an emotional outburst.

10. No, scientists do not know all the causes of heart and blood disease. But medical science is making great progress in the diagnosis, prevention and treatment of these diseases.

Here are several other facts reported by the Heart Association that are often misunderstood:

Families who treat the heart patient with kid gloves may be hindering him instead of helping. Preventing the cardiac patient from doing anything on his own may delay his recovery, the association points out. In extreme cases, over-solicitude actually can make recovery to normal or near-normal life impossible.

What can a family do to speed the recovery of the cardiac patient? Foremost, perhaps, family members should stand by him. They must let the patient know that he is still loved, wanted and very much a part of the family.

The family can help him by making him feel he still has an important voice in family decisions. Preserving the patient's sense of maimless is important. It may do a lot in overcoming any unreasonableness he may show.

"Is it safe for me to fly?" is a question people with heart disease often ask when planning a vacation.

"If you can walk, you may fly" is a good generalization which experience has largely confirmed, according to the Heart Association. The association emphasizes, however, the necessity for a comprehensive medical evaluation before it is determined whether it is safe for a patient to fly.

Data assembled from scheduled airlines by the Civil Aeronautics Authority over a five-year period reveals that the rate of deaths or incidents of unconsciousness during normal flight were very low. There was one death for every million and a half passengers carried, with heart disease the chief cause.

BIBLE COMMENT

Abraham, Father Of Faithful

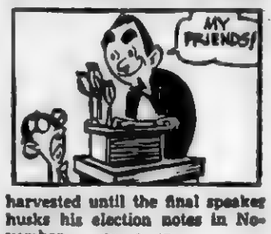
Abraham stands in our Jewish-Christian tradition as the first great migrant. He was a pioneer in faith and a pioneer in other respects as well.

A great deal that we can imagine or conjecture, but that probably has a real basis in fact, stands in the background of Abraham's adventurous journey from Ur into Palestine. He was leaving the scene of an older civilization and a fertile land. It could be said with some truth that he went out not knowing exactly where he was going.

In this respect, Abraham was like other immigrants down to our own time. In the building up of our country, we have seen how men and women left the older, settled communities to risk the long journey to reach out for new and undeveloped fields.

It is the pioneer urge, difficult for stay-at-homes to understand, which is a very powerful and vital force in human history. Even those that feel it the strongest can hardly explain it.

In Abraham's case, there may have been a very definite explanation. As far as we know, the worship of Ur of the Chaldees was idolatrous. This may have been true of Abraham's own home. Apparently a strong element in his experience was the sense of a living God. He desired to get away to a new land where he could exercise his religious convictions freely.



He wished to build a civilization in harmony with the truth and righteousness he had discovered. This, more than any impulse toward adventure and pioneering, probably prompted him to make the long trip to Palestine.

In any case, he stands as the father of the faithful. Christ spoke of him as having seen his day, though Abraham saw it by faith rather than in the glory of a large and splendid realization.

DEAR SON:

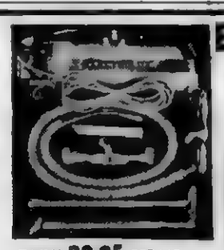
Brother Rufus Is Canned After One Week Of Railroad Work

Monday afternoon

Dear Jason:

Thought I'd drop you a few lines before I whip up some supper. We're having your favorite dishes tonight: polecat stew—fried hawg ears — and grits. When you bring your Commanding Officer down here for your grandpaw and grandmaw's fiftieth wedding anniversary, I'll cook him up the same mess. He'll love it!

Your favorite brother, Rufus, worked as a Pullman Conductor striker for only one week when he got canned. Actually, he was only obeying the company rules but they let him go, anyway. Some man was sleeping in a lower berth and Rufus hung a red lantern in front of the bunk. Rufus explained he was only obeying rule 14-B which says: "A red lantern will be hung when the rear end of the sleeper is exposed.



Your cousin Morphine Snodgrass (the fat one who weighs in at three hundred) finally got married last week. She's so big it took her six brothers to give her away. Before they were married, her new husband took her out to play putt-putt golf and what a problem. When he put the ball where she could hit it, she couldn't see it and when he put it where she could see it, she couldn't reach it. But she really loves her husband and she said that if she died and he ever went out with another woman she'd keep turning over in her grave. Believe me, Jason, even then she could sure use the exercise!

Your paw went on a fox hunt yesterday and took his favorite setter and evidently he had a great time. All the hunters met here at the house and the place sure was noisy with all those mutts around. Ned Poozer went along on the hunt but was disappointed because he couldn't take both of his Beagles, Butch and Daisy, but Butch had a sore paw. Your father said everything was fine until they were in the woods and let the dogs loose. He said it was the first time he ever saw a fox running fifth.

Well, Jason, nothing more to write about so I guess that I'll close for now. Oh yes, the old maid librarian, Sophia Sludge, got real interested in a rather slick-talking, spats-wearing gentleman who has been checking books out regularly from Sophie's branch. He made a date with her to take her out boating last Sunday and Sophie says he turned out to be a phony. Not only did he lie to her about the size of his yacht, he made her do the rowing!

Write soon,
Your loving,
MOM.

SMITH ROAD PLAYGROUNDS
By Mari Ann Sourlas
Special Day

Last Monday was a special day for the boys and girls at Smith-Road School. This was the day when they went to see "Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp" at Whetstone Park. This production was greatly enjoyed.

The boys and girls also have been busy working on the skit which will be presented at Schiller Park today from 4 to 5 p.m. The theme for Smith Road is "Safari Weekend." The cast includes the following boys and girls: Dick Zeller, Mark and Mike Weiss, Carol Anthony, Pam and Belinda Deible, Eddie Lewis and Greg Deweet.

Swimming and Diving

Coming up Aug. 6 will be the swimming and diving events at Maryland Park Pool. Smith Road will be represented in this event by boys and girls from the age group 8 to 18. Those who are interested contact Mari Ann Sourlas, AM. 2-8515.

Due to all the rain Smith Road has many games scheduled this week. From those games which have been played, Smith Road has a record of two won and one lost, with the latest game against Fornof ending with a win for Smith Road 24-6.

Aug. 9, the Junior Olympics track and field meet will be presented. This is a city-wide affair. It will take place at Ohio State University stadium. Those who are interested may contact Gene Bay, BR. 4-4866.

Lincoln Park

The children at Lincoln playground are now preparing for Play Day which will be held at Schiller playground, July 31, and the annual pageant which is held the last week of the playground season at Central High School. This year Lincoln playground has joined with Fairwood playground to plan a theme for the pageant. The theme chosen by both playgrounds is "The March of the Wooden Soldiers."

In the past week the playground has planned new activities: 1. Nature Club. This club has planted flowers and other plants. In the next few weeks the children will watch the growth of the plants. 2. Picture Club: children bring pictures of themselves, and they are shared with other children.

Little League

The standing for the Southeast Lions Little League at Lincoln is:

	W	L	Pct.
Braves	4	0	1.000
Dodgers	3	0	1.000
Cardinals	4	1	.800
Pirates	3	1	.750
Redlegs	3	1	.750
Yankees	2	4	.333
Indians	1	4	.200
Giants	1	5	.167
Jets	1	6	.143

No games were played last week on account of rain. The Junior softball team was defeated by Smith Road 8-7. Bobby and Danny West again were the leading hitters for Lincoln.

Lincoln Park will hold its annual horseshoe tournament during the week of Aug. 4. The divisions for both girls and boys are, 12 and under; 13, 14, and 15, and 16 and 17. Any one interested in play should contact the park before Aug. 4.

Karns Playground
By Shirley Lentz

Unfortunately no girls' softball games could be played last week due to the rain. This week, weather permitting, there will be five games. The Juniors must make up games with Krumm, Schiller and Southeast Lions playgrounds. The Intermediate Girls must play Palsgrove and Livingston.

All games must be played this week as the softball tournaments begin next week.

Activities get under way at 1 p.m. and last all day and evening. You may bring a sack lunch or picnic and stay all day to enjoy the many events. There will be a bicycle parade, bicycle races, horseshoe tournament, softball throw, numerous relays, tug-of-war, and a bathing beauty contest for girls, 12 years old and under. The events will be in that order. At 4 p.m. the drama festival will begin with seven playgrounds presenting short plays.

A square dance will be held from 7 until 10.

All playgrounds will be closed today so every one may attend Schiller Park for the Play Day.

Work began this week on the pageant which is to be held Aug. 21.

Horseshoe pitching tournaments are being held now. See Harold for details.

The Junior Swimming Olympics will be held Aug. 8 at the Maryland pool. Tomorrow is the last day to sign up. Also tomorrow is the last day to sign up for Junior Track Olympics which will be held Aug. 9, at OSU stadium.

Tennis tournaments will begin next week at Schiller Park. See Harold for more information.

All scheduled Little League games for the week of July 21-25 will be played the week of Aug. 10.

Southview Park
By Michael F. Culley

The old vaudeville adage that the show must go on was the by-word at Southview Park during last week's rainy weather. Despite the inclement conditions, indoor activities continued as usual inside the Columbus Recreation Department's spacious shelter house located on the park grounds. The children received instruction in the arts and crafts, and began various individual projects as well as construction of background sets for the big drama pageant to be held at Central High auditorium later in the summer.

Little Jet baseball action was limited to one game last week as the Yankees climbed out of the cellar by defeating the second place Cubs 3-1, behind the combined pitching of Ronnie Botts and Jim Clark. Wally Sensor, league-leading hitter, hurled a creditable game for the losers, allowing only three hits and striking out ten batters. The win advanced the Yankees to third place in the league standings with a record of four wins and four defeats. The Bears remained in first place with a 7-2 record.

Southview's softball gladiators turned in fine efforts during play last Wednesday on the Southview diamond. The Juniors romped to a 17-2 win over Karns No. 2 as Ron Glick registered his third season win in as many starts, pitching for the winners. The Juniors are undefeated with wins over Smith Road, Lincoln and Karns Playgrounds. The Intermediates posted their first win of the season by defeating Southeast Lions 8-4 at Southview. Bob Davis starred in the field and contributed two hits in the winning effort.

This week's games: the Intermediates against Fornof Park on Monday and against Smith Road on Friday while the Juniors oppose Karns on Wednesday.

The annual summer Play Day for South End playgrounds is planned for Thursday afternoon and evening at Schiller Park. Southview's playground's boys and girls will participate in afternoon activities including bathing beauty contest for girls 12 and under, a tug-of-war, bicycle races, running races, and an evening square dance as well as pageant and skit during the afternoon. Everyone is invited to attend and take part in a day of fun. Events begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and continue through 10 p.m.

Southway Post Lists League Team Standings

Southway Post 144, American Legion, reports the following standings in its Little League baseball games for last week:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Pirates	6	1	.857
Indians	6	1	.857
Dodgers	4	2	.666
Braves	4	2	.666
Yankees	3	4	.428
Giants	2	5	.285

'Shadow Of God' Topic At St. John's Sunday

"In the Shadow of God" based on Psalm 91, will be the sermon topic during the 9 and 10:30 a. m. services of St. John's Evangelical Protestant Church Sunday, Aug. 3. Pastors are Rev. Arthur R. Detwiler and Rev. Ralph E. Schluer.

Hello!

The gladioli we first picked this year around the first of July are now blooming in quantity. They are being used in our arrangements and in funeral designs. We also sell these at the Cash and Carry price of $1.50 per dozen.

Flowers are a great comfort as a last tribute to dear ones or friends. To the bereaved flowers mean that friends and relatives are grieving with them, as the flowers are a means of expressing true sympathy for their sorrow.

A funeral would be bleak indeed without flowers. We take great care of our orders to make sure that the flowers are absolutely fresh and tastefully arranged so that they convey with beauty and dignity their message of respect, comfort and love.

Old Hearing Aids Needed Now By Charity Association

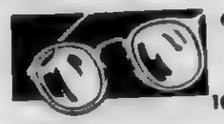
Hearing aids that are no longer new can be put to good use by indigent children and adults who are deaf or hard of hearing, stated Samuel M. Cohen, executive director, Hearing and Speech Center of Columbus and Central Ohio (a United Appeal service affiliated with the United Community Council).

The center, at 209 S. High-st, maintains a hearing aid loan service for persons who cannot afford to buy them.

The center has only five aids left, and may be forced to discontinue the service unless more used instruments are donated by interested persons in the community. Aids need not be modern or in satisfactory working order. They may be sent or delivered to the center.

Family Exemptions Hold While Kids Work Summers

Most parents will not lose the $600 exemption they may claim on their Federal income tax returns for each dependent child spending the summer vacation at a part-time job, Nathaniel Looker, Columbus District Director of Internal Revenue, said.



Children who will still be under 19 years of age at the end of the year, and children who are full-time students, regardless of age, come under this special exemption rule.

Looker explained that parents who contribute more than half the support of a child in one of these categories may claim a dependency exemption regardless of the amount earned by the child.

He also had a good word for the working children. They are entitled to a $600 personal exemption and may be due a refund of part or all the Federal income tax withheld from their wages. They will have to file an income tax return, Looker said, claiming refund of any amount withheld in excess of the actual tax liability.

Any questions concerning individual cases can be answered at local Internal Revenue offices.

Mrs. William J. McLaughlin, of 1159 Olney-dr, who, until recently lived on Mithoff-st, informs this office she is trying to found a club for mothers of twins.

A year ago, Mrs. McLaughlin lived in Indianapolis, Ind., where she was an active member of Mothers of Twins Club, an organization boasting 180 members.

Purpose of the club was to provide aid and understanding between mothers of twins in the city. Every six months the club would hold a special sale of furniture and clothing to help supply the needs of their growing children. The organization also held regular meetings.

Mrs. McLaughlin said the group was very successful and she would like to found one in Columbus. Any mother of twins interested in the club or desiring further information may contact Mrs. McLaughlin at BE 5-9237.

Local Buckeye Girls' Staters Report On Civic Experiences

Southway Unit 144, American Legion Auxiliary, at its July 11 meeting heard reports from two of the four girls the unit sponsored to Buckeye Girls' State held June 14 through June 22 at Capital University.

The speakers were Rosemary Brembeck, of 1519 S. Champion-av, a junior at St. Marys High School; and Sue Edwards, 692 Thurman-av, a junior at South High School.

Mrs. Mary Barnhart, a member of the unit, said the group was especially impressed by the fact that both girls gave their speeches without notes indicating real enthusiasm for the sessions they attended.

"Their enthusiasm was rather surprising because, while Buckeye Girls' State is a tremendous education in Americanism, it also requires strict discipline which is sometimes difficult for teenagers to follow and yet enjoy," said Mrs. Barnhart.

It is seldom realized that this week-long session for girls of top scholastic ability requires the girls to remain on the campus at all times, to follow a rigid schedule and to leave their boy friends behind.

Most young girls would rather spend their summer vacation swimming and enjoying other outdoor sports rather than devote their time to learning the ways of their country's government.

The reports given by Rosemary and Sue covered the class sessions of government, the trip to the State Offices and a tea at the Governor's Mansion. Some of the pleasure periods were "stunt night," a picnic at Jeffrey Place and the recreation period each day.

Rosemary said that one of the outstanding things she learned was how to take defeat. She ran for governor of Buckeye Girls' State and was defeated by only a few votes in the primary election. She said that for the first time she realized how just a few votes can change an entire election.

Sue said she served as the fire chief of her city and that her city called a fire drill in the middle of the night which turned out to be very successful in spite of many sleepy firemen.

The unit also sponsored Naomi Grosse, of Gahanna Lincoln High School and Carolyn Kaderly of Galloway.

Sponsoring of the girls was handled by the Americanism project of Southway. Mrs. Merle Poetker, is the chairman of the project.

The unit pays for all the expenses of the girls and even presents them with a small gift in appreciation. Southway Unit 144 is one of the few American Legion groups that completeely sponsor teenagers to Buckeye State. Southway is also reportedly the only unit in the city to have sponsored as many as four girls this year.

JAYCEES TO PUT MAYORS ON SPOT

New Attractions Will Add To Glamour Of County Fair

By Bill Rush

New attractions coupled with the perennial favorite features may make the 46th Franklin County Fair the best in recent years.

The annual event gets under way next Wednesday with four activity packed days planned as the county's finest features pass in review before thousands of expected fair-goers.

Tops among the new features this year will be a boat show with dealers of top models set to display their best. Dr. Waldo Walker, fair director in charge of the show, says Johnson, Evinrude, Scott-Atwater and Mercury dealers will present their newest equipment.

Other new attractions will be a science fair exhibit, an industrial arts display and a rabbit show.

The science fair is the idea of Findley DeWolfe, who is serving his first term as secretary of the Franklin County Agricultural Society.

DeWolfe was fascinated by an exhibit at Hilliards High School and asked the youngsters to come to the fair. If the new attraction proves popular, an expanded version can be expected next year.

Hilliards Junior Chamber of Commerce's dunk-em machine will probably draw the most county-wide attention.

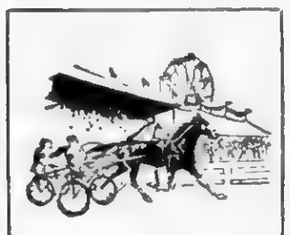
The Jaycees will put municipal and county officials on the spot—a seat connected to a hinge hanging over gallons of water.

Each municipality has been assigned a specific time when its officials will test the seat. Scheduled to appear Wednesday night are officials of New Rome Dublin, Harrisburg, Hilliards Grove City and Columbus.

Thursday night guests of the Jaycees will be officials from Gahanna, Worthington, Riverlea, Westerville, New Albany and Minerva Park. Appearing Friday will be officials from Urbancrest, Reynoldsburg, Bexley Groveport, Hanford Village and Whitehall.

The honored guests Saturday will be officials from Darbydale, Valleyview, Canal Winchester, Lockbourne, Upper Arlington, Grandview and Marble Cliff.

Night harness racing will be featured with eight races slated during each of the four days. Top horses like Hoot's Dream and Scamps Will are expected to test the fairground track.



Top event of the first day will be the horse pulling contest scheduled for the afternoon in front of the grand stand.

A complete program of 4-H and FFA activities are scheduled. High point in the Junior Fair activities will be Wednesday evening when a King and Queen are selected.

Saturday continues to be the traditional Youth Day. The Junior Fair Livestock Auction will be held in the afternoon when 4-H and FFA members offer their prize livestock for sale.

High School bands will perform each day of the fair adding a spark of colorfulness to the midway which will be jammed with amusement rides and novelties.

Other attractions such as the District Ayshire Show, Rural-Arts Talent Show and a tractor rodeo combine with the other features to make this year's fair program crammed with excitement from start to finish.

Plans Set For St. Mary's 34th Annual Homecoming-Festival

HOMECOMING PLANS SET—Preparation for the 34th annual St. Mary's Homecoming and Festival to be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 16 and 17, are nearly completed. This 1958 auto will be a featured prize. Left to right are Monsignor E. A. Burkley, pastor of St. Mary Church; Rev. F. Schaefer, assistant pastor, and Mrs. A. Wolf of 138 E. Frankfort-st, chairman of car sales. Planners have been working on the enterprise since April.

St. Mary's school grounds, 685 Mohawk-st, will be alive with food, fun and plenty of entertainment next Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 16 and 17, as the parish presents its annual homecoming and festival.

The affair was started 34 years ago by Monsignor E. A. Burkley, pastor of St. Mary's, and has since been repeated every year.

This year festival plans which began in April are now nearing completion. Traditional fun and prizes will be provided along with some new features.

Chicken Replaces Fish

For the first time in the church's history, the second part of the festival will be held on Sunday. Previously, the affair has been held on Friday and Saturday with a fish fry on Friday. This year, however, a southern-fried chicken dinner on Sunday will replace the fish fry.

The chicken dinner will be served from noon until 6 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hollern are in charge of the dinner.

More rides than ever before have been scheduled to keep the younger set active during the homecoming. They will include a train ride, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, swing and pony rides.

For the entertainment of adults there will be numerous game and concession stands plus food booths. Activities will continue from 5:30 to 11 p.m Saturday and 1 to 11 p.m. on Sunday

A 1958 Pontiac Chieftain sedan will be awarded Sunday evening. The winner need not be present.

Another first for the festival will be a homecoming bride. Miss Jacqueline Stamper, 472 Nace-av, will be married in St. Mary Church the first day of the festival. She will be honored throughout the homecoming and will draw the winning ticket for the auto presentation Sunday.

Proceeds from St. Mary's homecoming and festival will be used to pay off the debt on the new school and will be applied to a building fund for a new convent.

Fred Trout, 258 Siebert-st, is chairman of the event and Leroy Stein, 556 Sycamore-st, is co-chairman. The public is invited.

In case of rain Saturday, Aug. 16, the entire festival will be held Sunday. If inclement weather prevails Sunday, activities will be postponed to the following day.

Are You In 'The Know' . . . About National Government?

A survey would probably show that an alarming number of us know little about the structure of our national government. Possibly, high school students and immigrants studying for citizenship are the best informed.

If you'd like a refresher, follow the weekly series of articles on the feature page, written by Archer E. Reilly. Reilly is a prominent Columbus attorney and is Franklin County representative to the Ohio General Assembly.

His articles last spring on state and local government were well received.

Kiwanians Hear Report On Local 'Face-Lifting'

A calendar for face-lifting the South Side in preparation for expressway construction will be regulated in part by the penmanship of the state legislature in its next up-coming session.

Southern Kiwanis Club heard the report Tuesday from Jack P. Willison, assistant expressways coordinator for the city.

State representatives and senators from village, city, farm and hamlet soon will vote an important yes or no which may keep Columbus rolling along on schedule on a program to make it "one of the most modern and efficient of modern-day cities."

Work on the southern leg of the innerbelt and east freeway has been tentatively scheduled for the biennium 1959-61, said Willison. Action by the legislature to grant approval of plans and to allocate 90 per cent of the necessary funds will determine whether house hunting by South Siders can proceed at a leisurely pace or become comparatively more urgent.

A narrow band of buildings along Fulton-st between Front st and Parsons-av, seems almost certain to be demolished, he said. Another band running northward generally parallel to Parsons-av also will go; and a route for the freeway extending eastward from Parsons to Hanford Village, and then southeast through the village must also be cleared, added Willison.

Proposed construction will look very much like the interchanges and highways recently completed at Front and Mound sts, Willison said. The major interchange site at Parsons-av will be similar to the gigantic improvement at Sandusky and Spring-sts.

Specifically, the routes will follow this plan: a beginning at Front-st to proceed eastward to Parsons-av on a line roughly established now by Fulton-st and passing between Mohawk and Fulton schools.

The major intersection will be at Parsons and Fulton. The innerbelt then will turn north following Parsons for a time and then will veer west until it intersects with Broad-st in alignment with Lexington-av.

The east freeway will proceed from the major intersection on a route along Fulton-st just north of Donaldson will bend slightly and pass between Monberry and Cole and continue to Hanford Village, where it will turn southeast in the direction of Alum Creek.

All details for right of way have not been decided. Work seems at least two years away, and the action of the legislature must first provide allotment of the important 90 per cent federal money and the five per cent state money. But Willison's report, supported with a battery of "before and after" colored pictures taken of work already in progress in the Mound-st, Greenlawn and Goodale-st areas, and engineers drawings, left little to be imagined by Southern Kiwanians.

Lions To Wind Up Fishing Derby With Schiller Party

Rain or shine, Friday evening, Aug 15, will be a lively night at Schiller Park as the Southeast Lions Club winds up its fishing derby with a large party to present prizes to winners of the angler contest.

The party will begin at 6:30 and continue to 8 p.m. If it happens to be one of those rare, clear days, the fete will be held in the new Band Shell. If it rains, the affair moves to Schiller gym.

Free soft drinks, potato chips and ice cream will be served. Entertainment will be provided by the Columbus Federation of Musicians Band.

Only members of the Southeast Lions Fishing Club will be admitted to the party. Membership cards must be presented. Boys and girls 14 years of age and younger, may still join the club by registering at Schiller Park. However, tomorrow is the last day for enrollment to the group.

A special drawing for a new Huffy bicycle will be held at the party and a fabulous array of prizes will be awarded to winning anglers.

Sgt. Garcia, worth $10, is still on the loose and waiting for some lucky South Side junior fisherman. Only 22 tagged fish have been caught thus far. 78 are still available for your hook.

If you haven't joined the fun yet, NOW is the time!

Approximately 4000 youngsters have participated in the fishing derby this summer. The Lions Club planned the program to provide a constructive activity for the kids—sounds like it has done a good job!

Residents Want Speed Changed On Ebright Rd.

L. B. Kaser, 5510 Ebright rd, Groveport, reports that a letter was sent Apr. 7, this year, to Guy Elbin, county engineer and to Madison Township Board of Trustees concerning a traffice problem on Ebright-rd.

Mr. Turner of Elbin's office answered promptly that the matter was being referred to the sheriff's office. Kaser said that to date residents have not had the courtesy of any response from the sheriff's office, nor from the township trustees.

He said that since writing in April, the traffic on Ebright-rd has been increased ten-fold due to Hamilton-rd being closed. The State Patrol advised residents to get the speed laws changed in order to reduce the legal speed on Ebright.

Residents have now requested a speed law change from county commissioners who have that jurisdiction.

Kaser said residents on Ebright feel that 60 miles per hour is too fast considering the number of homes having small children, the width of the road and the greatly increased traffic.

Barrett's Head Cutodian Succumbs Saturday At 60

Anthony J. Berendt

Requiem High Mass was sung yesterday in St. Mary's Catholic Church for Anthony J. Berendt, age 60, of 403 Forest-st, head custodian at Barrett Junior High School, who died Saturday evening at his home.

He had been at Barrett since 1946 and served under five different principals, all of whom speak exceedingly well of him. Barrett teachers, John Shevlin and Miss Isabelle Wallace, said Mr. Berendt's efficiency made the school a pleasant place in which to work.

The custodian was well-liked by children and was honored five years ago at the school as "King for a Day" by the students. Barrett pupils presented him with gifts and cards in a special assembly held during the day.

He is survived by his wife, Marguerite; two sons, Joseph and Rev. Father James M. Berendt, assistant pastor of the Holy Spirit Parish, Yearling-rd and E. Broad, Whitehall; four daughters, Mrs. Catherine Berendt Oestreicher, Mrs. Rita Miller, Sister Mary Assumpta, O.S.F., of Joliet, Ill., and Dorothy Jean Berendt, at home; seven grandchildren; brother, Right Rev. Msgr. Aloysius Berendt of Holy Rosary Parish, Steubenville, O.; three sisters, Mrs. Agnes Devine, Cecelia Berendt of Columbus and Teresa Berendt of Steubenville.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery by Egan Ryan Funeral Home.

The announcement was made by Rodney J. Harrison, director of the University Scholarships Office.

Carol F. Petty, 538 Hanford st, daughter of Mrs. Faye Kinser; and Carolyn A. Rohr, of 1367 Heyl-av, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rohr, were among the recipients. Both girls are graduates of South High School.

All are prospective freshmen who will enroll at OSU this fall in a two-year "cadet teacher program." Each scholarship is valued at $560 for a calendar year, which covers cost of tuition and supplies, and is renewable until completion of the program.

Mrs. Nellie Workmaster Dies At 79

Mrs. Nellie Workmaster

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Cook and Son Chapel for Mrs. Nellie May Workmaster, age 79, of 1440 S Third-st, who died last Thursday of a heart condition.

Rev. John W. Clutter, a former pastor at South Methodist Church, officiated at the services.

Mrs. Workmaster was a member of South Methodist Church since its founding and was present at the laying of the church cornerstone in 1922.

A resident of the South Side for 50 years, she worked extensively in the Red Cross during World War II. She was active at South Methodist and participated many years in a church quilting group.

Her first husband was Walter S. Jones and from this union was born a daughter, Laura. Several years following the death of Walter, she was united in marriage to Frank N. Workmaster and bore three sons, Frank, Henry and Wilbur.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Laura Houghn; sons, Frank, Henry and Wilbur; six grandchildren; four great grandchildren; three brothers, George, Frank and Raymond Fisher, sisters, Mrs. Rachel Riley, Mrs. Otto Zitzki, and Mrs. George Gillespi.

Burial was in Eastlawn Cemetery.

OSU Honor Roll Lists S. Siders

Edward G. Day, 489 Southwood-av; Ida K. DeLoach, 471 Stauring-st; Ronald E. Gaitten, 19 E. Stewart-av; Joyce E. Harman, 917 Lockbourne-rd; Jeanette Solsby, 1720 Frankfort; Violet Z. Zubovich, 172 Hinman-av; Alan R. Nay, 3344 Parsons-av.

Mothers Of Twins Club Plans Meet

A news item in this newspaper last week helped organize a Mothers of Twins Club, according to Mrs. William J. McLaughlin, who desires to form such an organization.

She said she received 25 calls from interested mothers, many of whom are South Siders who read about the club in the Leader.

Mrs. McLaughlin who was a member of this type of group in Indianapolis before coming to Columbus, said she is pleased with the response and feels the club will be a success.

The group's first meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 20, 8 p.m. at the Seneca Hotel. Any mother of twins may attend without making a reservation. For further information call BE 5-9237.

Local Teachers Are Appointed

Two former South Side school teachers are among the five new cadet principals whose appointments were approved last night by the Columbus Board of Education.

Promoted to the posts were Frank McLau, 1620 Genessee-av, teacher at Reeb Avenue School in 1953 and 1954, and Miss Ruth Miller, 3726 S. High-st, teacher at Stewart Elementary in 1943 and 1944, then at Fairwood Elementary until 1956.

Effective Sept. 1, they will be assigned to the administration building for training as prospective administrators in elementary schools, for approximately one year.

Training will include different kinds of experiences and problems as encountered by school principals.

Cadet training in effect by the Columbus Board of Education for the past six years, was designed as an improvement over the old system of promoting teachers from classrooms directly into administrative offices.

In other actions, the board awarded contracts for blacktopping at Siebert Elementary and Beery Junior High Schools.

Contract for $950 was given Jones Paving Co for the work at Siebert, and one for $1 781 to Sheedy Paving Contractors, for work at Beery.

Chapter Night Set

Mrs. Helen Tuvelle of the Mooseheart Alumni committee of Chapter 206, Women of the Moose, will present Mrs. Anna Regner as speaker for their Chapter Night program on Aug. 14, at 8 p.m. at 36 W. Sycamore-st. Senior Regent Mrs. Mildred Pierce will preside over the initiation ceremony.

INSIGNIA WORTH $30

Jackpot Value Still Soaring

Any subscriber, finding the jackpot insignia in his copy of today's issue may redeem the newspaper for $30 in "Confederate" money, to be spent with any advertiser appearing in this week's publication.

Ten other $1 insignia each worth one "Confederate" bill, are also included in ten other copie.

Suzanne Reall of 221 Thurman-av, spotted a $1 insignia in her copy of last week's South Side Leader and claimed on "Confederate" bill. The other nine $1 insignia as well as the jackpot insignia went begging.

Newspapers containing the lucky insignia may be redeemed for "Confederate" currency at South Side Leader office 1542 Parsons-av before noon on Saturday.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Employes or carriers and members of their families are excepted.

Help City Scuttle Skeeters Health Commissioner Asks

Householders can help the city in its battle with mosquitoes by eliminating every possible breeding place for the insects on their property, said City Health Commissioner Dr. Ollie Goodloe this week.

Mosquitoes, which have descended upon Columbus and environs by the millions this summer because of the exceedingly wet weather, probably will be with us for several weeks to come, Goodloe added.

Six fogging machines have been working at capacity but heavy showers have washed away the insecticide as fast as it is applied.

Ideal mosquito habitat is found in dark, damp places such as weed clumps, under porches and steps, trash piles, and drums, grass cuttings and standing water. Flies have been less of a problem but should be carefully sprayed where found in and around homes, Goodloe said.

Denny Leslein, 643 Southwood-av, drastically changed the vacation plans of his family last week. The Lesleins were expecting to be in the eastern part of the country but Denny's appendix ruptured, so they've been pacing the floors of Children's Hospital instead. The young patient is in room 300.

Mrs. Leslein told me about a little tyke in the same room as Denny: Harold Gilland, who would be delighted to receive cards. The six year old has had no visitors, as his folks live in Wellston, Ohio, and have four other children to look after. He has been in the hospital for weeks, and has received only on card a week from another patient's sister. He treasures his cards highly.

To return to the interrupted vacation of the Leslein's . . . one of the reasons they planned to go east was to see their dancer son, Jack, perform in his new surroundings. Since they were unable to visit him in Washington, D. C. He will be home this Sunday before going on to Canada.

We haven't heard otherwise, so we presume that Bill, Nellie and Janice Kaufman went through with their North Carolina vacation plans.

Augustus Caesar created the month that now is the natal month for these youngsters: Bill Goebell, 1448 S. Third-st, Aug. 11; James Hatfield, 43 Innis-av, Aug. 11; Lisa Compson, 306 E. Jenkins, Aug. 12; James Gleich, 233 Frebis, Aug. 11; Douglas Williams, 322 Morrill, Aug. 6; Larry Spradlin, 90 E. Neff-st. Aug. 10; Dolores Neighbors, 1522 S. High-st, Aug. 13; Rubymae Herdman, 382 Markison, Aug. 12; Gary Conkle, 189 Frebis, Aug. 7; Ramson Ball, 1578 S. Third-st. Aug. 9; James Marte, 332 Sheldon-av, Aug. 10; Geoffrey Metzler, 18 W. Markison, Aug. 13; Ronald Belk, 1463 S. Fourth-st, Aug. 9; Daniel O'Neill, 46 Southwood, Aug. 9 and Loretta Boso, 148 Hinman-av, Aug. 8.

Janice Alexander, 25 W. Markison-av, and her grandmother, Louise Kuhnheim, 522 E. Sycamore-st, share August birthdays, so were the honor guests at a family potluck on Aug. 1 in the home of Mrs. Kuhnheim's sister, Helen Troutman, 457 Highland-av. Janice was 11 years old on her Aug. 4 natal day.

Friday, Aug. 8, will soon be here, so once again its square dance time at the South Side "Y" Park. There are only two more dances to be held in this current series, as a gentle reminder.

The constant rain we've been having is the villain in our next item. Rudy Dicke, 11 year old cousin of Don and Priscilla Dicke, 1411 S. Sixth-st, is dead because a tractor fell on top of him, while he was helping his father get it out of the mud. Rudy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Dicke, Jr., R.F.D. No. 1, St. Mary's, Ohio.

This vacation sounds ideal to us, and we think you'll agree with us. Annetta Schneider, 1150 S. 22nd-st, and Geraldine Krites, 122 S. Richardson-av, are spending a two week vacation in Berumda. Both young women are employees of the telephone company.

We heard about this item a little too late to publicize it but we would like to add our words of eulogy to the wonderful Mary Barthman. Mrs. Barthman was a sight saving teacher for 25 years, who passed away recently. A Mary Barthman Sight Saving Foundation has been set up in her honor. To help increase the fund, a big show was held last week at Central High. We met Mary years ago when we both worked at the USO during the war. We came to think highly of her, as did obviously her other friends. We hope this memorial fund will grow.

Sue Ann Steffens, 473 E. Welch-av, who will soon enter Barrett Junior High as a first-year student, will celebrate a birthday on Aug. 9.

Our gracious "doll lady," Mrs. I. L. Bier, will have a birthday next Wednesday, Aug. 13. For the card-minded, her address is 742 E. Gates-st. Also celebrating on the 13th is "Dicky" Moore, of Champion-av, who won't tell us her real name. Since her car has initials "L.O.M.", we'll make up a name for her, oh like Lutensia Quackberry Moore, or how about Lovelace Quinine Moore. (We're especially proud of that "Quinine" touch — it fits in with Howard Ebert's fine drug-store, where "Dicky" is employed.) We have a few more birthdays to acknowledge, but next week will be more appropriate, so will hold them until then.

What do you know? We've been writing this column for eight years now! We've never missed writing a column, but one failed to get there in time to be printed. The reason it didn't was the year of OSU's "Snow Bowl" game, and everything sorta stopped then!

Some columns were held a week or so when there wasn't space, however. We've loved doing it, and with Mr. Hartley's permission will continue doing so until St. Peter invites us to his "jam session" up there, or Mephistopheles gives us a pitchfork tuned a la a bass fiddle. And of course the main reason we enjoy the weekly stint is because we've had the chance of meeting and making so many friends through this medium. We think it appropriate to congratulate you, dear reader, for being so nice. Here's to many more years, you reading 'em, us writing 'em.

Patty and Mabel Trigg, 1291 S. High-st, have been enjoying their annual visit at Camp Chesterfield. The lovely camp is located in Indiana.

One more "personal" type item, then this week's endeavors will be finished. As you know from last week's column, we played the bass viol at Schiller last Sunday. In what other house could you find two bull fiddles? Mine is incapacitated, so we borrowed one. Well, rehersal was a week ago today, when we had the cloudburst. We were caught right at its worst, in the West Side's Bottoms, and we had visions of rowing down the street in the bass, trying to make rehearsal on time. We finally reached Glenwood Methodist Church, and had just walked in when Boom . . . no lights. The transformer was knocked out by lightning. To rehearse or not . . . yes. So Tom Crawshaw rounded up all the candles in the church and that's how we rehearsed for one and one-half hours. Rehearsal was called when the water in the church basement got up to some of the players' ankles. The lights suddenly came on just as Glenwood's choir was singing a beautiful anthem. Perhaps we should have rehearsed with them first! Anyway, Liberace had nothing on us, we had candles everywhere, and he just has a dinky candelabra.

Danny Lyle, 648 Southwood-av is one of Uncle Sam's Navy lads who will soon be having a birthday. We hope his friends, neighbors and former South High classmates will remember him with a card for the Aug. 12 occasion. His address is Daniel N. Lyle, S.A. 5729033 "OC", Division, U.S.S. Pickaway, A.P.A. 222, c/o F.P.O., San Francisco, Cal.

Lovely Barbara Yuszka, 661 E. Southwood-av, is currently home on a furlough. Barbara is one of the Lady Marines.

As we had hoped, Mrs. Hamilton called and gave us fuller details of her Michigan vacation trip. She visited former South-Sider Savilla Brothers (now Mrs. Pitzer) in Dearborn, then went on to Detroit, where she saw three of her cousins.

On the return trip towards Columbus she stopped in Ottawa, O., where she helped son, Dave, and his family move into a beautiful new home. (Mr. Hamilton spent most of his time fishing, while Mrs. Hamilton took care of the "relative" visiting. (Catch any big ones, Mr. Hamilton?) The Hamiltons reside on Wager-st.

Patty Greenlee is another youngster who had an ice cream diet recently, due to a tonsillectomy. She's a South Fourth-st resident.

Our sympathy to the family of Mrs. Workmaster, late of S. Third-st, who passed away last week.

We imagine Richie Hugoniot is fully recovered by now, but he did undergo a tonsillectomy not so long ago, in University Hospital.

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Summer Heat Saps Fishing Enthusiasm

Despite lousy fishing conditions the last few weeks several area anglers have entered fish in the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Contest.

Here are a few recent entries: John Ireland, 2210 Eakin-rd — crappie; Pauline Knodel, 1253 Sullivant-av—carp; Tarry Vall, 395 Sycamore—bullhead; Steve Bell, 706 S. Ninth-st, — bullhead; Mary Morrison, Madison Lake — bullhe ad; Junior Ludwig, 96 Shady- v, London—bullhead; Victor Halcomb, Madison Lake — bullhead; Junior gill; Paul B. Bocror, Rt. 4, London—bluegill.

The August dog-days of fishing seem to be here, but they affect fishermen more than fish. Bass are conspicious by their absence in this week's list of entries. All the more puzzling is the fact that bass can be taken through the hot weather. Now is the prime time to fish for them on the surface, with loud, splashing lures. Fly rod enthusiasts can catch them on popping bug s that stir up a commotion on the still evening water.

Night Fishing Is Pleasure

Night fishing shouldn't be overlooked either. When it's too hot to sleep, go fishing. And don't pay any attention to what you hear about fish not hitting in the light of the moon. I do most of my night fishing when the moon is full —it's easier to see them. And I also catch fish. Bass and bluegills make up the bulk of the catch, but night stream fishing will produce rock bass and channel catfish.

The trouble right now is to work up enough enthusiasm to go fishing. It's too easy to say "The mosquitoes will carry me away," or perhaps, "Ill get a sun stroke in this heat."

Granted, you will have to take precautions against insects, the heat, poison ivy and the like, but the thought of a jumping bass is mighty attractive to me. Catching bass is particularly exciting at night, for you will hear a strike before you feel it.

I had a fishing experience the first part of August one year which I shall never forget. I was fishing the pockets between waterlilies at night. The snowy blooms had closed and gone to sleep for the night. But their sweet fragrance covered the lake like a fog. The moon was full and there were clouds in the sky. On one cast, just as my surface lure crossed the moonbeam on the water, a large-mouth bass struck with a vengeance. He nailed the bait with a water sloshing splash—an explosion.

Landing this fish was an anticlimax, and I gently released him to live again in his waterlily world. It was the strike, just at the right instant, in a particularly beautiful setting, that I shall always remember.

In case this whets your appetite to do a little summer bass fishing, here is an added incentive. The prizes in the bass category of the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Contest are: first, Pflueger Supreme casting reel; second, three dozen lures—Hofmann, Arbogast, and Dene's Gypsies; third, Airex Eldorado reel.

Remember, registar your fish at Carner's Boat Dock on Madison Lake. Registration is free, and you can enter as many fish as you like.

OSU Broadens Service To Part-Time Students

Ohio State University this fall will open its day classes to employed adults and others interested in part-time study, Registrar Kenneth R. Varney said last week.

Such part-time college work was previously restricted to evening and Saturday morning classes.

Under the new plan, effective with the 1958 autumn quarter, part-time students will be permitted to register for courses totaling a maximum of six credit hours at one-half the University fee paid by full-time students.

Credit Hours

The part-time student may choose any course offered from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., provided academic pre-requisites are met. All credit hours thus earned may be applied toward degree requirements.

Extension of the former evening class registration into the day will make possible a more flexible work-study program for the student, Registrar Varner pointed out. It also will enable the adult who works full-time, especially one who works certain "shifts," to schedule a greater variety of courses and have a better selection of class hours than has been possible in previous years.

Registration for part-time students began Friday, Aug. 1, at the university offices, which are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday.

Prospective students who do not wish to submit high school certificates or college transcript may enroll as "special students," and may secure more detailed information on course offerings and registration at the Part-time Educational Opportunities Office (formerly known as the Twilight School office) in Room 102, Administration Building.

Plan Forest Conservation Stamp Issue

The four-cent Forest Conservation commemorative stamp, which goes on first-day sale on October 27, at Tucson, Ariz., at the annual meeting of the American Forestry Association, will be printed in three colors on the Giori press in yellow, brown, and green.

The stamp, 0.84 by 1.44 inches, arranged vertically, features the major aspects of forest conservation, including new growth of young trees and the harvesting of mature timber under scientific forest management, home and shelter for wildlife and birds; and protected watersheds.

This first forest conservation stamp in history commemorates the 100th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, one of the earliest forest conservationists in the country. It also salutes the many private and public agencies which have played a large part in the progress made in the protection and wise use of the nation's natural resources.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Tucson, Ariz., together with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap turned in or sealed. The outside envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers Forest Conservation Stamp." Collectors should bear in mind that this is a vertical stamp and envelopes should be addressed in the lower left corner when blocks are desired.

The first day cancellation will portray the head of "Smokey Bear" and the wording "Keep America Green."

At Karns . . .

By Shirley Lantz

The girls' intermediate softball team played Palsgrove yesterday and will play Livingston tomorrow while Fairwood will play Karns' junior girls at Deshler field at 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The Junior Olympic field and track meet will be held Saturday at Ohio State University stadium beginning at noon.

Pat Parker pitched a no-hit game last week as the Braves beat the Dodgers 4 to 0.

Practice for the pageant is being held every evening at 7 p.m. at Karns. Girls from six to 12 are needed Karns members will be doing a flower dance.

Carol Machewski won first place in the softball throw at Schiller Park's Play Day held last Thursday.

Little League tournaments will begin next week.

At Smith Road

By Mari Ann Sourles

It doesn't seem possible that there are only two more weeks until Smith Road playground leaders will be saying, "We'll see you next summer." This will not only be said by the playground leaders in the South Side, but all over Columbus on Friday, Aug. 22.

Even with three weeks ahead of us there is still a lot to be done. Last Thursday Smith Road was well represented in the beauty contest at Schiller Park with Elizabeth Conaway placing first; Maureen Federer and Carol McKraken placing second; Christy Betinger placing fifth.

During the same week the boys' intermediate softball team played Southview with a loss of 14 to 9, and played a double-header against Southeast Lions with a loss of 12 to 11 first game and a victory of 16 to 3 in the second game. The boys' Junior softball team also played last week with an 8 to 7 win over Lincoln Park. Smith Road's softball team topped Karns' No. 2 with a score of 13 to 11 and was defeated by Southeast Lions 13 to 5

Yesterday the annual Central Ohio AAU Junior Olympic Swim Meet was held at Maryland Pool. This is sponsored and conducted every year by the Columbus Recreation Department. This year David Santo, a 16-year-old lifeguard, represented Smith Road in the meet.

Today is the day all the boys and girls have been waiting for, because this is the day when the Traveling Zoo makes a visit to Smith Road at 2 p.m. Everyone is welcome to see this special event.

Saturday, Aug. 9, the Central Ohio AAU Junior Olympics track and field meet will be held at OSU stadium. Field events start at noon. Many of the following events will be presented: high jump, broad jump, softball throw, running hop, step and jump, discus, pole vault, shot put and of course track events. Everyone is welcome to watch the boys and girls who will participate.

Southeast Lions

By Shirley Chancellor

Last week at Playday at Schiller Park Southeast Lions boys and girls won several awards in the various events. William Goodwin placed first in the softball throw, Lawrence Goodwin second and David Stafford third.

In the three-legged race finals Patsy Allen and Wanda Hicks came in first. Later the boys and girls teamed up and Patsy Allen, Wanda Hicks, Lawrence Goodwin and David Stafford came in first in the mixed relays.

The softball teams have also done very well during the past week. The junior girls' team played two and won two. The intermediate girls played three and won three. The junior boys played 3 and won three, and the intermediate boys played 3 and won two and lost one. The intermediate boys will play the winner of the Schiller-Shepard game next week for a place in the city tournament.

The main event on our playground this week is the preparation for the pageant at Central High School Aug. 21. We are going to be up to our ears in costumes and circus animals for the next two weeks.

At Lincoln

Saturday will complete the week with the annual Junior Olympics track and field meet at Ohio State University stadium. There is still time to sign up for the track and field event. Entries must be handed in by Thursday night, Aug. 7.

Last week in the Southeast Lions Little League the Redlegs knockd the Dodgers out of first place tie by the score of 4 to 3. The Braves nosed out the Yankees 20 to 4. The Cardinals defeated the Redlegs 12 to 4. Leading hitters last weak were: Steve Jackson, Bill Goodwin, Mike Greenhoward, Bobby and Danny West, Bill Bailey, and Bud Pierce.

Nursing Schools Need 57,000 New Students Yearly

To meet a new goal set by the nursing profession schools of nursing in America should enroll 25 per cent more student nurses, it was announced here today by Miriam Petchner, director of the school of nursing at Grant Hospital.

Based upon a study made by the National League of Nursing, growing health services will require 350 nurses f r every 100,000 population by 1970, Miss Petchner said.

"This means that it will be necessary to enroll 57,000 new students annually over the next 12 years—compared with the current 46,000 annual intake."

Miss Petchner explained that currently about one in every 25 young women of college age is studying for a career in nursing.

FOUNDATION OF NATION

Constitution Was Born After The Revolution

Archer E. Reilly, Jr.
Member State Legislature

This is the first of a series of articles concerning our National Government. They will include a survey of the Constitution, the Presidency, the Congress and the Federal Courts.

The Constitution is the backbone of our national government. Thus, it is a logical point of beginning. Today, we shall consider its background; next week its major provisions and the following week its growth and development.

A. E. Reilly, Jr.

The story of the Constitution begins with the Philadelphia Convention in 1787. This convention did not actually meet to draft a new constitution. Its purpose was to revise the Articles of Confederation under which the Revolutionary War was fought and the country governed during the immediate post war years.

Nevertheless, It was clear to most of the delegates at the convention that the nation could not exist long, as it was then constituted. Among other problems, Congress did not have the power to raise money, regulate commerce or govern the citizens of the country except through the individual states.

The convention was scheduled to meet on the second Monday in May, 1787. However, by that time, only a few delegates had reached Philadelphia. And since it was useless to start before a majority of delegates had arrived, the opening session did not take place until May 25. The sessions were not concluded until more than four months later, on Sept. 29, when 39 delegates signed the completed document.

The convention included men of widely different backgrounds and temperaments. But they had one general experience in common; all had been active in public affairs in their respective states. In fact, half had been members of Congress. They varied widely in age. Benjamin Franklin, the oldest, was 82. Washington was 66, Madison 36 and Hamilton only 30.

These sessions were held in the old brick State House in Philadelphia; probably in a room directly above the one in which the Declaration of Independence was signed. And the average attendance probably did not exceed 30.

George Washington was unanimously chosen to preside. This prevented him from taking an active part in the discussions. Indeed, he addressed the convention only twice; on the opening and closing days. However, his prestige was matched only by Benjamin Franklin and he had little need for speeches to make his influence felt.

The meetings were kept secret to everyone. The only records of the deliberations are James Madison's notes. And what we know about the convention discussions comes mainly from the clear and candid notes, laboriously compiled at the rate of three or four thousand words a day by the scholarly Virginian.

The discussions centered on two plans. The Virginia plan which represented the viewpoint of the larger states. And, the New Jersey plan presented by delegates from the smaller states.

The Virginia plan was introduced first on May 29 in the form of 15 resolutions. It provided for a national executive; a national judiciary; a legislature, with its lower house elected directly by the people and an upper house chosen by the lower persons nominated by the state legislatures. The national government was given vastly increased powers; among them the vetoing of state legislation contrary to the constitution or a treaty, and calling forth the militia against any state of the union "failing to fulfill its duty."

This plan met strong resistance from delegates of the smaller states; particularly on the issue of granting representation in proportion to population. So, the smaller states presented a plan of their own.

It was called the New Jersey plan and was introduced on June 15 in the form of nine resolutions by William Paterson of that state. It also called for major changes in the existing system. It allowed Congress to raise money from duties on imports and from stamp taxes; and to regulate commerce. It also invested acts of Congress with the character of "supreme law of the respective states." Congress, however, was still to consist of but one single house, with all states retaining an equal voice.

The two plans split the convention into two contending groups. The large states vs the small states. Happily it was not necessary for either to have its way completely.

The delegates were practical-minded patriots accustomed to give and take. They expressed their widely divergent views — often heatedly—but having done so, most were not adverse to compromise. Indeed, the document which they constructed was, clause after clause, a product of mutual concession.

However there was essential agreement concerning the general framework of the new government. Thus, supported by the strength of that general agreement, they proceeded to adjust their specific differences and draft the Constitution of the United States.

BIBLE COMMENT

Moral, Spiritual Problems Confront Thoughtful Man

In early times, moral and spiritual problems confronted the thoughtful man. When a murder was committed, it was not only the revulsion of feeling that led to great emphasis on the sanctity of life, but there was the life, also to be considered, of the murderer, himself.

The conception of mercy developed that a man who felt the grievousness of what he had done ought to have some place of refuge where he could be safe from the vengeance of those who demanded a life for a life.

It was from a consideration like this that Abraham prayed for intercession for Sodom. Why should this good man interest himself in the fate of that wicked city?

It was because his brother-in-law, Lot, lived in Sodom. He had pitched his tent in that direction when Abraham had given him his choice of lands. Lot had made a selfish, materialistic and worldly choice, thinking only of getting better soil. He forgot of the environment he was dragging his family into. His fate was involved in that of the doomed city.

Study Abraham's intercessory prayer for it expresses a great sense of spiritual values and a high conception of the real nature and place of God's good-

Is the preservation of the life of a few who are righteous more important than the punishment of a great number who are wicked? That is the question underlying Abraham's frank appeal to God.

It is a question that requires a great deal of emphasis today when there is a strong tendency toward mass verdicts and mass judgments and disregard of the true and the innocent.

Food Markets This Week

by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Vegetables — Sweet corn, tomatoes, cabbage, cucumbers, peppers.

Fruits—Apples, peaches, cantaloupe, watermelon.

All-American Favorite

Fresh corn-on-the-cob is an All-American favorite among vegetables. The precooled, iced corn you buy on today's market is truly a scientific marvel, besides being a popular treat. The maize grown by pre-historic Indians in Peru was nothing like this. Plant breeders, using modern methods of crop improvement, made sweet corn what it is today.

This month locally grown garden-fresh corn will be at its peak in quality, and probably lowest in price.

Quality Sweet Corn — How sweet corn has been handled from the time it is picked until you drop it into the kettle makes a big difference in its quality. Sugar content is highest in fresh picked corn. Within a matter of hours after picking the sugar content begins to turn to starch. At room temperature, it will lose up to 50 per cent of sweetness in just 24 hours. The golden rule for sweet corn, then, is to keep it cool.

Many producers are icing or hydrocooling (cooling with ice water) sweet corn soon after picking, to cool the cob interior to maintain the sugar content.

Buying Guides — For the best in quality select fresh sweet corn from stores or markets which receive a fresh supply each day, and from those which keep it cool, preferably on ice or in refrigerated cases.

Corn should be free from insect and disease damage. The size and color of the kernels will vary with the variety. Buy only the amount of sweet corn that can be used immediately.

When selecting corn with husks, look for bright, green, snug husks and shiny, dark, silky, moist silks.

If a "window" has been cut in the husk, or it has been husked and picked in transparent containers, look for kernels that are in even rows, bright, plump, light to medium yellow, and from which milk flows when pressed with the thumb.

CARE — Hurry fresh corn from the garden or market to your refrigerator or to the kettle. The sooner it is used the sweeter it will be. If you must store corn until meal time, wrap it in a damp towel or plastic bag, place it in the refrigerator and husk it just before using.

Suggestions for Using—Corn-on-the-cob, steamed or boiled five to six minutes in water, is probably the favorite of all ways to prepare this vegetable. Husked corn wrapped in aluminum foil, or the unhusked corn roasted in the embers of an outdoor fire, are picnic favorites. To add variety in your menus, include it in casseroles, corn fritters, custards, chowders, souffles, escalloped dishes.

Freezing Corn — Corn keeps its fresh flavor best when it is frozen off the cob, either whole or cream style. Corn-on-the-cob is more difficult to freeze successfully. Another disadvantage is that it takes up three times as much freezer space as cut corn. Whichever way you freeze your corn, though, be sure that it is freshly picked and has fully developed kernels at the tender milky stage.

If corn in your garden gets ahead of you before you get around to freezing it, you'll have the best results by freezing it cream style.

'Y' Church League Holds Award Party

South Side "Y" Church softball leagues took time out last week to hold their award parties at "Y" Park and three of the championship trophies went to St. Leo teams, who rolled up a combined total of 22 victories without a defeat under the coaching of Charlie Kaiser.

The championship cup for the Intermediate League was not presented because three teams, St. Paul E&R, Livingston Methodist, and St. John E&R are still in the thick of a fight for the pennant in a race that has been delayed several times by rain.

Thirty-four individual sportsmanship winners were honored and Frebis Avenue Church of God, Hungarian E&R, St. Paul E&R and Emmanuel Lutheran received the highest honor in the leagues by being selected to receive the team sportsmanship award.

"Cap" Hoover, South Side Y; Jerry Fedderson, Columbus Recreation Department, and "Hank" Gowdy of the Columbus Jets were the principal speakers for the parties. Each of the men challenged their listeners to strive in a sportsmanlike manner to become good citizens and to take up leadership in our community in the near future.

The 1957 World Series pictures, a baseball skit, presented by the Livingston Methodist girls, songs, and plenty of eats, plus an opening and closing prayer rounded out the program.

Under Nature's Own Umbrella

Librarians Plan Third Pet Show

The Parsons Branch Library has hopefully scheduled its third annual Pet Show for Aug. 14 at 10 a.m. if the weather permits. Earlier plans to hold the show July 1 were upset by rain.

Youngsters in the community may still register their pets at the library before Aug. 12. The library has nearly a hundred pets registered. Entries up till now have included dogs, cats, parakeets, canaries, fish, rabbits, snails, frogs, turtles, hamsters.

Fifteen awards will be given to the pets most unusual and most outstanding in size and ability to do tricks.

The library staff today bids a very merry "unbirthday" to all of the boys and girls who attend Story Hour on Thursday morning. The theme of the unbirthday party is taken from "Alice in Wonderland."

The idea, of coure, is that everyone has only one birthday during the year, therefore it is much nicer to celebrate the 364 unbirthdays. Everyone is invited to share the fun and the unbirthday cake today at 10 a.m.

The Story Hour group is also tentatively planning a picnic at Schiller Park on Aug. 21. These plans are also dependent upon the cooperation of the weather.

In conclusion of the Summer Reading Club with its solar system theme the library will present a puppet show entitled "Moonflight." The show will probably be held on Aug. 28 at 10 a.m.

Rains Have Brought Up An Unpleasant Subject

The record rainfall and the fact that Columbus people have experienced many flooded basements this year have centered the thinking of a lot of folks on an unpleasant subject yet a very vital one . . . sewers.

For many years we have heard and continue to hear the clamor for expressways and roads . . . probably because of the pleasure we get from riding on them and the fact that we have tangible evidence of dollars rolling down into Columbus town.

But every bit and probably more important is the need for development of sewer and water facilities for our community in Central Ohio.

The very rapid growth of this area has caused the development of problems. It has caused some sewers to become overloaded and has prevented construction in many areas due to the fact that no sewers were available. The same is true of water.

Columbus today has a plentiful supply of good water. But it is high time that we insure this supply for the added population that will surely be here ten years or more from now. And water plants just don't spring up over night.

Sewers, too, don't grow over night and the cost is a mighty terrific item.

Columbus and Central Ohio will be confronted in the next few years with the necessity of spending a lot of money on sewers and development of future water supplies. It is well to start cultivating an attitude that these two items should take a top priority rating in any discussions as to the future welfare of our community.

The current rainy season may have been very good for us!

'New Look' Set For GA Hobby Show

The tenth annual Golden Age Hobby Show will have a new look this year, according to an announcement made this week by the Southside area chairman, Mrs. Frank E. Young, 296 Innis-av.

In addition to the art exhibits, which are always a popular feature of the annual event, an "artist's corner" will be included. This area will feature many of the artists whose works are appearing in the show. Visitors may watch as their own likenesses are created in the form of caricatures, silhouettes, paintings and sketches.

Artists of 60 years of age or over, who are interested in entering their work in the show or in demonstrating their talents in the "artist's corner," may call Mrs. Young, HI. 4-5652, for further information.

Mrs. Young also revealed that the exhibits committee for the show is interested in collections of old pictures of scenes in and around Columbus or of well-known persons from Columbus' history.

The Hobby Show is open to the public, Sept. 19, 20 and 21, at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts. All forms of art, handiwork, and collections made by persons 60 years of age or over will be exhibited.

South Side's Swimmers Race Against Labor Day 'Shutdown'

AH . . . . GOLDEN SUNSHINE—Considering crop damage and other rain ruin, sunshine this summer is just about as valuable as gold! These and other sun worshipers are grabbing every chance to enjoy the few remaining weeks of summer. Mrs. Nancy Golombak, left, of 1579 Oakwood-av, and Clara Walter of 1694 S. Champion-av, are doing their "worshiping" at Crystal Swimming Pool. Many people are wondering—because of the bad weather—will pools extend the season? Crystal manager, Ted Wasmus said, "despite the weather, there have been good crowds attending the pool. August has been a very good month for us. Crystal will close on Labor Day as usual." Bell Sound Staff Rejects Unions For Third Time

Production and maintenance employes of Bell Sound Systems, Inc., 555 Marion1rd, rejected unionization by a 2 to 1 vote last Thursday for the third time in six years.

The workers voted down a bid from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers to become collective bargaining agents for the 212 employes.

The United Auto Workers and the International Association of Machinists were turned down in previous balloting.

Bell Sound is a division of Thompson Products, Inc. The plant manufactures tape, high fidelity stereophonic record systems, public address and intercommunication equipment.

Clown Added To Lions' Fun Roster Tomorrow

"Smiley the Clown," better known as Dick Solenski, will be the featured guest of honor at the Southeast Lions Club's Fishing Derby Party to be held at Schiller Park, Friday, Aug. 15, beginning at 6 p. m.

Smiley, owner of Thurman-Jaeger Hardware, will entertain South Side youngsters with lots of jokes and amusing antics.

The party will provide many more highlights including free soft drinks, ice cream and potato chips. As an added entertainment attraction, the Columbus Federation of Musicians Band will be on hand to play some special arrangements to suit the taste of the younger set.

A new Huffy bicycle will be given away at the affair. Smiley will draw the winning ticket which will make some lucky boy or girl the proudest kid in the neighborhood.

However, there will be more than one prize winner at the Lions party. A large variety of terrific prizes will be awarded to the winners of the Fishing Derby.

Only members of the Southeast Lions Fishing Club will be admitted. Membership cards must be presented.

This fun fest will be held in the new Band Shell. However, in case of rain, the activities will be moved to the Schiller gym.

No prizes will be awarded for fish caught after 6 p. m., Friday, Aug. 15, so this means that you have only one more day to catch a prize fish.

Sgt. Garcia is still at large and is worth 10.00 to some lucky angler.

Additional prizes have been added so that even though you didn't catch a fish you might be able to [illegible]g a prize. All parents are invited to attend with their children although the festivities will be for the children themselves.

Mrs. Joseph Sauter is junior advisor chairman, and Mrs. Roger Thomas is co-chairman.

Civic Leaders Meet Sunday To Discuss Relief Problems

The collapse of county welfare funds and the threatened halt of checks going to 3581 persons on general relief brought about a special meeting of South Side civic leaders Sunday at St. Stevens Community House.

Present were William Weate, manager of Lincoln Park; Miss Martha Buck, director of South Side Settlement House; Carl Bogart, director of Gladden Community House; Mrs. Stewart, head of the Parsons-av YMCA; John Maloney, Rita Duckworth and Judy Stattmiller, all of St. Stevens; Ray Shaffer, editor of the Leader; and Billie Brown, program director of Neighborhood House.

John Maloney called the session because it was felt if relief money was stopped it would have a serious effect on the welfare of the South Side in general.

Maloney said, "If the money is stopped, these reliefers will start coming to the community houses for aid. As much as we would like to, we won't be able to help them because our budgets have been sliced to the point where the purchase of a basketball has become a major operation."

Several of the community house representatives reported that people living on welfare funds have already come to them for aid. The reliefers said if the county couldn't give them money then they would get it any way they could because their families have to be fed.

Statements like these led these officials to believe that unless welfare checks are continued that the rate of crime in this area will climb skyward.

Lincoln Park manager William Weate said many of his renters are on relief and pay their rent out of welfare checks. He said the Metropolitan Housing Authority has not set up a policy for him to follow as yet in the case of non-paying renters on relief.

Gladden's director Carl Bogart suggested that representatives from local clubs, civic groups, merchants' groups and community houses combine their forces to bring pressure upon County Commissioners.

Bogart said that it was important that the commissioners be awakened to the need of not only continuing relief money but of improving the welfare program.

City officials Monday offered financial aid to the sagging county funds but suggested that the monthly relief budget be cut from $300,000 to $200,000. They also asked County Commissioners to drop about 25 percent of the present caseload and cut hospital and medical care payments.

Bogart pointed out Sunday that most reliefers are now living on money covering about 50 percent of their minimum needs based on 1954 prices! He said the county should continue and improve, not cut, its welfare payments even if it has to go in debt.

Maloney said Tuesday that Monday's action on the part of city officials did not satisfy community house representatives. The South Side group plans to meet again next week to discuss the organizing of a South Side Community Council which could go to County Commissioners to urge the continuance and improvement of the welfare program.

JACKPOT'S VALUE AT $35 MARK

Value of the "Confederate" money jackpot, increasing steadily each week, has now soared to an impressive $35.

Ten additional insignia, each worth one "Confederate" bill, are printed in ten other copies of this issue.

Insignia, always plainly visible, are printed in distinctively-colored ink on an ad. Subscribers spotting the insignia may redeem the copy of the newspaper for "Confederate" money at South Side Leader office, at 1542 Parsons-av, before 5 p.m. Friday of the week of publication.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

All advertisers appearing in the current issue of the newspaper will accept "Confederate" money at face value in payment for any merchandise in their stores.

Employes or carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are excepted.

Redick Endorses Fairwood-Frebis Sewer Proposal

In a letter to City Council last week, Service Director Floyd C. Redick recommended the construction of an $816,000 network of storm sewers in the Fairwood and Frebis-av area.

He suggested the project begin as soon as a suitable method of financing is determined. This endorsed a recommendation and report by H. G. Dill, consulting engineering firm, which suggested construction of 10,000 feet of 30 to 84-inch storm sewers in an 800-acre area.

The firm's report recommended that the sewers be financed by a special assessment rather than by a bond issue. Petitions will be circulated in the affected areas soon, according to Redick.

The area is bounded on the north by Deshler-av, on the south by the New York Central Railroad, on the east by the Norfolk and Western Railroad, and on the west by Lockbourne-rd.

Stewart Avenue Market Robbed By Two Bandits

Two armed robbers Monday fled with a $60 wristwatch and an undetermined amount of cash from the Stewart-av Market, 1020 Stewart-av, after binding the owner by her hands and feet.

Mary Hensley, 38, of 1171 Oakwood-av, the owner, told police the bandits emptied the cash register and her purse. They then bound her and left her behind the meat counter.

She described the man with the gun as six feet tall, 200 pounds, with black curly hair; and his "lookout" as five feet, eight inches, 145 pounds, with brown hair.

Homecoming Fun Ready!

A lot of fun will be on tap this Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 16 and 17, when St. Mary's Parish will hold its annual homecoming and festival on the school grounds, 685 Mohawk-st.

The affair will start on Saturday at 5:30 p.m. and Sunday at 1 p.m. lasting until 11 p.m. both days. A Southern Fried Chicken Dinner will be served Sunday from noon until 6 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

In addition to the old favorites there will be many new features to intrigue and entertain young and old alike. The public is invited.

Shooting Victims To Receive Rites In West Virginia

Funeral services for Ray Saunders, 51, of 2414 Cleveland-av, and Mrs. Myrtle, M. Saunders, 46, of 633½ S. Third-st, his estranged wife, will be arranged by the Bailey Funeral Home, Princeton, W. Va.

Saunders shot and killed his wife with a .38 caliber revolver, then fatally wounded himself following an argument Sunday morning in front of 619 S. Third-st, report police.

The bodies were sent to Princeton by the Woodyard Funeral Home after Dr. Carl E. Teterick, deputy coroner, ruled murder-suicide.

Kiddies Go For 'Swami' Bit At Clair Chapel's Carnival

"A REAL LIVE SWAMI?"—These youngsters look quizically at the "Swami" who was the main attraction at the fourth annual Street Carnival held by Clair Chapel Methodist Church, Saturday. Morris Mitchell played the part of the mystic fortune teller and passed out gifts to the children. The church, located at Ninth and Barthman-av, held the carnival to raise money for its remodeling and expansion program to begin this fall. The pastor, Rev. Robert H. Streaty (standing behind Mitchell) said, "our carnivals have been rained out two of the four years we've attempted to hold one. We feel lucky this year."

Franklin County Fair Highlights Year Throughout Area

Franklin County's annual fair is underway.

The event opened Wednesday morning and continues through Saturday evening with four days and nights of action crammed activities planned.

A featured attraction of the fourty-fifth annual exhibit is the boat show prepared by Dr. Waldo F. Walker, a director of the Franklin County Agricultural Society.

The boat show will feature the latest designs and developments in the small boat field with representatives of Evinrude, Scott-Atwater, Johnson and Mercury set to exhibit their newest models.

Other items that will be making their first appearance at the fair along with the boat show are a science fair exhibit, an industrial arts display and a rabbit show.

The midway as always will be covered with rides and amusements for the less serious-minded fairgoers. An attractive harness racing program will also be conducted during each evening of the affair.

Highlights during the first day of the event were the selection of a Junior Fair King and Queen. Selection as one of the fair's royal couple is a crowning achievement for 4-H and FFA members.

Featured Thursday afternoon will be the 4-H Horse Club Show with members of three club[illegible]om throughout Franklin [illegible]y competing for horsemanship laurels.

Perhaps the busiest single spot on the fairgrounds will be the Junior Fair tent where activities for 4-H and FFA members will continually attract large gatherings.

Among the attractions will be the Rural Arts Talent Show on Thursday night and the Safety Speaking and 4-H Agricultural Demonstration contests on Friday evening.

Saturday has traditionally been turned over to the youth with festivities arranged throughout the morning and afternoon to climax their annual trek to the county fair.

With the many booths along the midway will be the Jaycee Dunk-em machine sponsored by the Hilliards Junior Chamber of Commerce which invites officials from neighboring communities to take turns on the "hot seat."

Schedule for the remaining days of the fair is:

Thursday, Aug. 14

Morning — Judging of Junior Fair beef cattle, 8 a.m.; Junior Fair beef cattle showmanship; Junior Fair sheep show and showmanship; open class sheep show. Afternoon — 4-H horse club show, grandstand; judging of Brown Swiss and Holstein cattle, 1:30 p.m.

Evening — Ayrshire district show, 7:00; night harness racing, post time 8:00; rural arts talent show, activities tent.

Friday, Aug. 15

Carol Loska, 164 E. Gates-st, celebrated her birthday in memorable fashion last week. The whole family enjoyed the results. The Cinerama presentation in Cincinnati was the major attraction for the attractive Barrett Junior High seventh grader and her family, who spent the day "doing" Ohio's second largest city.

A Columbus resident of many years, who has more recently been living in the eastern section of the country, is currently visiting Columbus residents and friends Blanche Barnette, once of 527 Siebert-st, is the visitor. She has been visiting with her sister, Mabel Reuter, of 448 Stewart-av, and other relatives.

Belated birthday greeting to Laura Haughn, 1415 S. Sixth-st, who observed her natal day last Friday, Aug. 8.

Hope Evangelical Lutheran Church will be the Aug. 16 wedding setting for Mary Joanne Dunlap, 914 Studer-av, and Bernard Daugherty, 74 Wisconsin-av.

Our sick list for this week includes Jane Wolfe, 38 Reeb-av, and Oscar Workman, father of Marge Hoptry. Oscar is again a patient in Grant Hospital. For the card-minded, he is in room 425.

We feel flattered . . . a postal addressed to Lucille LaRue Long reached us without delay. Wouldn't that be a poetic name with an "Le" before the Long part? Just might adopt it!

Thinking of two folks who rightfully answer to the name of Long, Marie and Merle, they planned a "lazing around" type of vacation this year. We hope they got to do just that. Marie is the one who gives us gals our morale-lifting hairdoes at the Kurlylock.)

Local 103, AFM, will hold its annual picnic this Sunday, Aug. 17, at Valley Ranch Park, 8802 W. Broad-st. The outing is scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

Cloverleaf 28 will meet on Aug. 20, at 7:30 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Homer Mills, 1586 Wilson-av.

Our sympatmy to the family of Anthony J. Berendt, 403 Forest-st, beloved custodian of Barrett Junior High for many years. While our thoughts are turned to those who have recently passed away, sympathy is again extended to the Dicke family. Last week we wrote of Rudy Dicke, the eleven-year old who so tragically lost his life. Two days after Rudy's funeral his grandfather, F.R. Dicke, Sr., failed to survive the shock of Rudy's death. Priscilla Dicke, South High School senior, attended her grandfather's funeral in St. Mary's, Ohio. Our thoughts are full of sympathy for this family, at this exceedingly sad time.

Committees of St. Mary's Parish are busy with final preparations for the annual homecoming festival, Aug. 16 and 17. The Saturday hours are 5:30 to 11 p.m., while the Sunday time is 1 to 11 p.m. Fred Tout is chairman and co-chairman is Leroy Stein.

Carole Kates, 279 Siebert-st, South High graduate who is now in her senior year at OSU, has just returned from Akron, where she was assistant director of O.E.S. Girls' Camp. Welcome back! Carole returned two days ago, on Aug. 12.

Fred Bier of 1418 Miller-av celebrates his birthday next Wed., Aug. 20. (His mother, our beloved "doll lady" celebrated her's yesterday, Aug. 13). Fred is a co-worker with Loah Q. Moore, at Ebert's.

Gus Husse, 95 Deshler-av, and his two daughters, Bonnie and Carol, will be in Newark, N.J., Aug. 16-17 for the National Amateur Bicycle Races. Gus will be there as an official and the two girls will be contestants. Bonnie is the Ohio Women's champion.

Guild 38 of St. Ann's will meet tonight at 8 in the home of Mrs. John Humphries, 805 S. Seventeenth-st. Plans will be made for the Aug. 24 family picnic at WRFD picnic grounds.

Birthdays for the younger generation this week: Susan Traux, 67 Hanford-st, Aug. 16. Sheryl Kirk, 1431 S. Third-st, Aug. 18; Connie Wiley, 1544 S. Fourth-st, Aug. 16; Larry Wray, 1647 Parsons, Aug. 14; Phyllis Warren, 1690 S. High-st, Aug. 18; Michael Gates, 1671 S. High-st, Aug. 17; Raymond Ross, 1617 S. Eighth-st, Aug. 14; Judith Hane, 1472 S. High, Aug. 16 and Nancy Riddles, 223 E. Moler-st, Aug. 20.

Bibby Rice, 175 E. Jenkins-av, is one of the young lads who has been having a glorious vacation this summer, but the last part of his "free" time was marred by illness. Bob spent a week in Camp Lazarus, a week in church camp and a week of family vacation. Last week end found the Rice trio in Pittsburg, Pa. Seeing the Pirates and Redlegs play baseball was a high spot for the Barrett seventh grader. Bob's illness wasn't the ideal way to end the three weeks of fun, however.

A postal card from Molas Lake Pass informed us that the Ross family, 1390 Studer-av, was in Denver, Colo. Another postal was in our mail box, sent to us by Lynn Felice, 212 Jenkins-av. She and her grandparents spent a few days in Springfield, Ill.

The McCune family celebrates two birthdays in August, 13 days apart. Dot McCune merits her greetings today and Katherine will receive her's on Aug. 27.

St. Leo's Rectory will be the scene of the Aug. 16 exchange of wedding vows between Suzanne Wagenbrenner, 522 Sheldon-av, and Pfc. Melvin Hows, 1646 Sycamore-st. Miss Wagenbrenner is a graduate of St. Mary's of the Spring, while Mr. Hows received his education at South High. He is currently stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Chapter 206, Women of the Moose, will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the Moose Home, 36 W. Sycamore-st.

Robert and Vernagene Reuter, 1570 Oakwood-av, spent several days in Louisville, Ky., last week. Kay Chambers, 121 E. Whittier-st, had the pleasure of renewing the acquaintance of a friend she made when she won the American Legion Essay Contest. Pat Zamary of Campbell, O., was also one of the winners who travelled to Washington D.C. Ral spent a recent week-end with Pat and had a fine time.

Vacation time is nearing the end alright, for the bowling leagues are beginning to form again. One, the Swan's Ladies League, is sending an invitation to all interested women bowlers for their Thursday 1 p.m. league.

Thelma Gleich, HI. 4-0054, is the secretary, and the one to contact. There will be a preseason meeting this afternoon at 1 p.m. If it's inconvenient to attend the meeting, but you're interested in bowling, be sure to let Thelma know.

Little Sandy Ward, 1131 Bruck-st, has an August birthday but we're not sure of the date.

Here's an item that is full of coincidence . . . two young lads have the same first name, will be the same age on the same day and both play on the same team in the little league. To fill in the vital statistics, the two boys are Joey McGrath, 353 Siebert-st and Joey Poeschel, 37 Stewart-av. They will celebrate twelfth birthdays on Aug. 23, and they are first and third basemen on the Braves of the little leagues.

Whether Stevie Cook, 1413 S. Sixth-st, has a party on his third birthday (Aug. 19) or not depends on a certain long-legged bird that has a little brother or sister for Stevie and sister Linda. Maybe Mr. Stork will be kind and bring the new little Cook on Stevie's birthday.

The average American spends more on food than on any other single item in his budget.

WCTU Sets Picnic

The annual picnic of the Linwood Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at noon, Aug. 18, at the home of Mrs. J. E. Bitzer, 241 N. Ardmore-rd. Mrs. Sarah Eyster and Mrs. Mabel Christ are planning the program.

State officers will be present to outline the work for the coming fall and winter.

Aid, WCTU To Meet

Rev. Boyd C. Rife, pastor of the Washington Avenue EUB Church, 350 Markison-av, announced today that the Ladies Aid and WCTU will meet at the Church Thursday, Aug. 21. The meeting of these church groups will begin with a covered dish dinner at noon.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

ALL-CITY PAGEANT — These girls at Southeast Lions Park are busy preparing their crepe paper costumes for the Columbus Recreation Department's All-City Pageant to be held Thursday, Aug. 21, at Central High School at 7:30 p.m. Each of the city's 61 playgrounds will have a scene in the pageant which involves more than 1500 children, who have planned, costumed and executed the scenes themselves. The public is invited. Left to right are Debbie Golden, 219 Barthman-av; Tina Williams, 202 Hinkle-av; Marilyn Benn, 356½ Barthman-av; Diane Stafford, 1920 Bruck-st; and Pat Alexander, 202 Hinkle-av.

At Smith Road . . .

By Mari Ann Seuriss

The summer is just about at an end for all the playgrounds in Columbus, but that doesn't mean there is nothing to do! The next week and a half the boys and girls at Smith Road will be getting ready for the annual drama pageant which will be held at Central High School on Aug. 21. The theme for this year's dramatic pageant is "Open the Door To Happiness."

During the past week the annual Junior Olympics were held at Ohio State University Stadium. Many of the boys and girls from Smith Road participated in the many track and field events which were offered. Also taking place last week was the visit from the traveling zoo. More than 50 boys and girls were there to welcome the many different types of animals.

Next week a wiener roast is scheduled at Smith Road. This event will conclude the activities for the season. We hope that everyone had a pleasant summer and we'll see you next year.

Hello!

We want to extend our best wishes for a speedy recovery to Bill Rau, Mrs. Cleo Boland, Mrs. Ellen Hegele, Mrs. Charles Mutters, H. E. Later the hostesses served delicious Hungarian pastries and coffee. These young matrons, an active group, have a membership of around 45. They have many projects to raise money during the year, including a February dance, bake sales, and a style show and tea in May. They ae now arranging for a rummage sale in September.

Last week our team defeated a rugged team from Schiller Park in order to represent the South Section in the tournament. The winning pitcher for the game was Douglas Carroll.

This Friday, the recreation department is sponsoring a square dance at the YMCA, 40 W. Long-st, at 7:30 p.m. The Westchester California Lariets are being featured. Tickets may be obtained from any playground leader.

Mrs. Pete Miller Says 'Thanks' For Benefit Fete

Mrs. Pete Miller of 1538 S. Fourth-st, sent a letter to this office last week to publicly thank the persons responsible for holding a picnic in her late husband's honor Sunday, July 27, at Schultz Park.

She said, "I wish to thank all you wonderful people who took the time to attend the picnic. Then I want all of the generous people who made such grand donations, to know how sincerely appreciative I am."

"But more than anyone else, my gratitude is extended to those men and women who so unselfishly gave their time and effort to make the affair a success," she added.

"May their compensation be that myself and my family will always be worthy of the friendship they have shown to us," Mrs. Miller concluded.

Pennsy Fete Set Sunday

The annual Pennsy Family Club Picnic of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be held this year at Oak Park, 5440 Sunbury-rd, on Sunday, Aug. 17.

Signers Of Constitution Had Mixed Emotions

By Archer 2. Reilly, Jr.

The Constitution of the United States was signed Sept. 17, 1787, by 39 delegates to the Constitutional Convention, representing 12 states.

The signers had mixed emotions. The venerable and respected Benjamin Franklin expressed a somewhat romantic view when he said; "often and often"; during the sessions he had looked at the sun painted on the President's chair without being able to tell whether it was rising or setting. "Now at length," he added, "I have the happiness to know that it is a rising and not a setting sun."

A. E. Reilly, Jr.

George Washington probably voiced the feelings of most of the delegates when he wrote a nephew shortly after the convention:

"The warmest friends and the best supporters the Constitution has do not contend that it is free from imperfections; I think the people can decide on the alterations and amendments which are necessary. I do not think we are more inspired, have more wisdom or possess more virtue than those who will come after us. The power under the Constitution will always be in the people."

Whatever the views of the other signers may have been, this document has been the basis of American Government for nearly 170 years. Its fundamentals are clear:

The Preamble—"We the people of the United States . . . . . do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."—establishes the essential principle that our national government is created by and subject to the will of the people. And therefore, has only such powers as are conferred upon it by the people.

The first three Articles of the Constitution establish the fundamental branches of our national government: legislative, executive and judicial. Each is separate yet related to the others. And each serves as a check and balance upon the others.

The states and national government are merged into a federal union. Both maintain their individual sovereignty. Both have relatively separate spheres of activity. However, all are included in one nation. This concept is called Federalism.

Congressional representation is based upon the so-called Connecticut Compromise of the Constitutional Convention. Representation is equal in the Senate and according to population in the House.

Other parts of the Constitution are less clear both as to principle and interpretation. They have been a source of continual discussion and development.

The Commerce Clause which grants Congress "power to regulate commerce among the several states" might not be noticed in a casual reading of the Constitution. However, it has been extended to include national regulation over virtually any activity which affects interstate commerce.

This clause is the basis for the major federal boards and commissions such as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, the National Labor Relations Board, and the Federal Communications Commission.

The Constitution says "the Congress shall have the power to lay and collect taxes, to pay the debts and provide for the common defense and general welfare of the United States." This is a rather mild-appearing sentence. However, it includes the much debated general welfare clause.

And it is loaded with enormous implications. Among other issues is the basis for the national Social Security program, various aid projects and the power to wage war.

The Constitution provides for a national judiciary. But it does not spell out the concept of judicial review—the power of a court to rule upon the constitutionality of a law. A great chief juctice, John Marshall, with remarkable ingenuity, managed to imply this power by interpretation of the Constitution.

The power itself is practically unquestioned in modern constitutional theory. But various Supreme Court decisions have been a source of vigorous discussion throughout our national history.

The Constitution grants the President the power to negotiate treaties with the consent of the Senate and to enter into executive agreements. This too has been a source of discussion from Thomas Jefferson's time to the present.

It is significant that the document did not include a Bill of Rights. This was included in the first ten amendments as a compromise growing out of the struggle over ratification.

Clearness of expression has been called one of the chief attributes of the Constitution. However, it is a clarity of expression rather than exact meaning. Therefore, it has been subject to continual interpretation and development.

BIBLE COMMENT

Isaac Built Peace With Aggressors

"Isaac, the son of Abraham, in one respect at least, emulated his father in his love of peace and the practical way in which he sought it.

Abraham had dug wells, very necessary for the maintenance of life and for their heads of cattle. Their traditional enemies, the Philistines, filled the wells up after Abraham's death. When Isaac's servants dug more wells, the herdsmen of Gerar fought with those of Isaac, saying, "The water is ours."

Peacefully disposed Isaac dug another well and the Philistines took that also. But when Isaac went to another place and dug still another well, they left him unmolested.

Isaac prospered so greatly that his enemies evidently became alarmed and they went to him seeking a peace treaty. Isaac accepted their proposal and they left him.

It is good today to read this story of peace and study how one man brought it about by his self-sacrificing attitude even when his enemies were trying to use him shamefully.

Not all instances in the Bible have turned out so well. There were times when the Israelites had to fight their enemies relentlessly, just as we today know we would be compelled to fight ruthlessly aggressors who would destroy the very foundations of our lives.

Nevertheless, it is good to remember that there have been many occasions when good has overcome evil. Although aggressors have to be stopped, this can be done ultimately only by the triumph of good over evil.

We need more than treaties. We need the character that keeps them, and that character is not found among the sort that destroys wells. The builders of civilization must have protection if peace and prosperity are to have their place in humanity's future.

Says an Advertising Authority

"As advertising agency people, it is our first and foremost consideration in purchasing media to try and get the maximum return for every client dollar spent.

"I don't subscribe to the thought that the way to get maximum return on the client dollar is necessarily that of buying as much circulation as possible. Rather, it is my feeling that the all-important thing to look for when purchasing print media, is READERSHIP. What good does it do to carefully weigh one miline against another, only to end up buying a lot of circulation and a minimum of readership?

"For years, I have carefully watched and studied readership of weekly newspapers and made a number of mental and statistical comparisons between their readership and other mediums that are circulated for the hundreds of thousands.

"It is my opinion, although not officially documented, that subscribers of weekly newspapers will come closer to being cover-to-cover readers than any other print medium available."

"National and state-wide news is available from many number of sources — but there is only one source for local news in a condensed and readable form, and that is the LOCAL newspaper."

Catherine Welpe Weds Michael Tocci In Corpus Christi Church

Mrs. Michael Tocci

Catherine Marie Welpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Welpe, 1506 Wilson-av, was united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 2, to Michael Sherman Tocci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tocci 1388 Sunrise-av.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Laurinaitis in Corpus Christi Catholic Church. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gown of embroidery bustle and gave back taffeta made with an empire bodice, sabrina neckline and a princess panel down the front. A large pouf bow with streamers enhanced the ruffled embroidery bustle and gack back interest to the bouffant skirt. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses.

Rose Welpe, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Mrs. John Ort, and Mrs. Charles Hessler were attendants. They carried rosepink carnations with light pink roses.

The atendants were dressed alike in petal pink Rochel lace over net and taffeta. Their gowns ware fashioned with tufted taffeta cummerbunds which extended to the back, forming wide streamers which reached the hemlines of their waltz length gowns.

The groom's cousin, John Montenaro, was the best man. Ushers were Dean Quick and Thomas Erskin.

The reception was held Saturday evening at Corpus Christi Social Hall. Hostesses were Mary Jo McClain, Carolyn Brady and Barbara Medley.

The bride is associated with the Ohio Highway Department and is a graduate of St. Mary's High School. The groom is a graduate of Aquinas High School and attended Ohio State University. He is presently employed by a construction firm. The couple will reside at 1150½ Northwest-Blvd.

Being tired often causes people to be broke often.

Fruits—peaches, apples, melons, canned peaches.

PLENTIFUL AND GOOD

Ohio peaches are on the market. From now until late September you can buy good quality tree-ripened peaches. Growers in all the main peach producing areas of the state report a good crop.

With so many beautiful salads and desserts being pictured in all magazines right now, and all showing peaches, it is easy to get new ideas for using this versatile fresh fruit.

Buying Guides—To get good peaches, look for those that are firm but not hard. Hard peaches are immature, lack sweetness, and will not ripen. Soft peaches bruise and spoil easily. The color should be creamy white to creamy yellow. The blush is not important . . . this varies with the variety.

U.S.D.A. surveys of consumer opinions concerning peaches, "too green" has been a common criticism. But government fruit men point out that better growers today leave peaches on the trees until they are firm ripe, and maintain quality by cooling the fruit before and during shipping.

If you enjoy tree-ripened peaches, it is possible to get them. The following gives the approximate time when you will find local varieties at their peak, and are listed in the order of the most suitable use.

Golden Jubilee — Aug. 14 — can, freeze.

Hileheven—Aug. 22—fresh, can, freeze.

Elberta—Sept. 9—can, freeze, fresh.

Home care — Because ripe peaches are perishable they should be handled carefully and used within a day or two. Ripen under-ripe peaches at room temperature away from direct sunlight. When fully ripe, place peaches in a flat pan one layer deep, and cover with wax paper before storing in the refrigerator.

Uncooked Peach Jam

Homemakers who like something different will be interested in making some uncooked peach jam while delicious ripe peaches are available. Since the jam is uncooked, you will enjoy the full flavor of the fresh fruit. You need not wait for a cool day to make this jam—you can make it in comfort no matter what the temperature. You can have it now to add a special touch to warm-weather meals, or you can tuck extra jars into the refrigerator or freezer for good eating all the year long. The recipe was recently developed by U.S.D.A. economists.

South Side Business Notes

Picnic Stars Chicken 'N' Corn

'Y' Church Softball League Nears End Of 1958 Season

Action in the South Side "Y" church softball league is down to the final week of play with the outcome of the Intermediate loop still undecided. St. Paul E&R, with a 7 to 1 record holds a one-half game edge over Livingston Methodist, but if the games go according to form this week, they will be forced into a playoff game for the championship honors.

Girls' League

In games played last week, St. Lea's girls team closed an undefeated season (8-0) by defeating a hepped up Hungarian E&R club and St. Paul E&R clinched second place with a win over Livingston, while Jack Welch's cuties from Corpus Christi outscored Southwood Church of Christ and Oakwood Methodist waited until the season's final game before tasting victory in their clash with Frebis Avenue Church of God.

Juniors

The Monday junior league played two sets of games with Washington Avenue EUB, Livingston Methodist and St. Leo scoring double victories with the latter team stretching their victory skein to nine straight, needing only a win in this week's encounter with Oakwood to finish out a perfect season. This week's feature brings together the Washington and Livingston nines with second place going to the winner. Both teams have identical records of 3 to 1 in second round play.

Intermediates

St. John E&R was knocked out of a chance for the league championship by losing to both Washington and South Methodist as St. Paul and Oakwood scored wins via the forfeit route. In a game finally called by darkness, Hungarian E&R and Washington met in a real thriller—final score—10 to 10—final decision—another game this week with both teams predicting a decisive victory.

South Side Merchants Plan Auction Sale In September

Thomas Sharp, president of the South Side Business and Industrial Association, announced this week that the organization's annual Auction will be held at 6 p.m.Thursday, Sept. 18.

The committees named include: George Horvath and Bob Horowitz, location [illegible] ments and preparation; Bill Bighouse and Howard Sterch, co-treasurers; Tony Rappold, Jess Beard, Tom Sharp and Howard Hoermle, merchandise collection.

Director Recommends Storm Sewer System

Service Director Floyd Redlick recommended that City Council, as soon as funds are available, authorize construction on storm sewers in the Frebis and Fairwood-avs section, where three open ditches now operate inefficiently to carry off excess water.

Cost of the proposed new sewer system would be $816,000.

We asked a five year old girl what electricity is. Her answer is what you see above. It only proves that electricity means something different—and wonderful—to everyone.

What does electricity mean to you? It may mean household chores made easier. It may mean convenience or entertainment. It may mean heat or light. But whatever electricity means to you, it always boils down to better living, better working, better relaxation—every day of every year. Even kids know that. And you buy electricity at kid-size prices, too—just pennies!

TROUBLE SPOT—James Kelly, South Side businessman and home-owner, points to spot where he says city is going to hook 30-inch sewer into 18-inch pipe, which he avers will result in a wash-out of his recently built $18,500 home. Columbus engineers, however, say Kelly is exaggerating, that water won't flood his property.

Man Claims Sewers Will Flood His Home

South Sider James Kelly, co-owner of James and Junior's Pure Oil and grocery store at Parsons-av and Williams-rd, says the city has approved a storm sewer line from Hillgate Housing Development which threatens to flood out his $18,500 home at 3324 Parsons-av.

According to Kelly, the city-approved sewer line is a 30-inch pipe which is supposed to be attached to an 18-inch line about 75 yards north of his home. Kelly said that the 18-inch pipe is fed by an open ditch through a field beside his property and a few neighbors to the rear of him, and that during heavy rains the pipe is doing all it can merely to absorb the water flowing through the ditch.

"If they (city) hook into this 18-incher with that big (30-inch) pipe, it's going to back up all that water coming from the ditch, and flood me and some of my neighbors out," Kelly said.

Kelly, who just moved into his home last March, continued to say that he had been down to Columbus City Hall to complain about the proposed sewer cut-in, but stated that "the engineer I talked to just seemed to take the whole thing as a big joke, and said that all we lived in down here, anyway, was a big mudhole."

Home Is Life

When queried as to whether he had threatened the city official with bodily harm, Kelly said, "Let's put it this way. I've worked all my life just to get to the place where I'm headed now. That home and my business are my life. If the city thinks they can destroy that without a fight from me, they are badly mistaken." He stated that he had threatened the engineer in a "fit of temper," but added in an apparently rational manner that he would "rather go to the electric chair than see what I've worked for all my life go down the drain."

City storm sewer engineers claim that Kelly's assertions are exaggerated, and are not nearly as serious as he thinks.

Engineers claim that the sewer system is so designed that it will drain the area which the ditch is presently draining. Thus, the water which originally would have flowed through the ditch will be re-routed down the 30-inch pipe, resulting in practically the same load as the 18-inch pipe carried before.

It was also stated that the big

Telephone Worker Aids Polio Victim During Power Shutoff

Last Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 13, there was a general power failure in the downtown and South Side sections of the city.

The power was off for nearly an hour and a half. To most people it merely meant that some clocks stopped, electric ranges and refrigerators became useless and radio and television entertainment was interrupted. However, to one South Sider, power failures mean much, much more!

Mrs. Mary Jacobs, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Berger, of 345 Thurman-av, is a polio victim confined to an electrically operated "rocking-bed" which enables her to breathe more easily.

Last Wednesday was warm and humid. When Mrs. Jacob's bed quit rocking for lack of electric power, she became short of breath and extremely uncomfortable.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company's Hickory exchange is located next to the Berger's residence. Ohio Bell's Central Office Supervisor E. F. Lambert happened to be working in the office during the power failure and heard of Mrs. Jacob's situation.

Lambert ran an extension cord from the Berger home to a reserve generator in the exchange office basement. The rocking-bed was put in full swing again and Mrs. Jacobs said she felt much better.

Mrs. Jacob's father said the halt of the rocking-bed does not mean life or death to his daughter but if the power were off for any extended length of time she would have to be moved to a hospital.

Mrs. Jacobs has expressed her thanks to Lambert and the phone company for their thoughtfulness. She said Lambert has offered the use of the generator in future emergencies which puts her mind greatly at ease.

To add a slight touch of irony to this story — when this writer sat down to compose this feature, the power failed in our North Side area. While writing this by candlelight in our darkened home, the thought came to mind — "how very much electricity has come to mean in our lives, and even more so to others like Mrs. Jacobs!"

Barrett Opens Monday

Principal Kenneth Olbert reports that the Barrett Junior High School building will be open every day and all day next week, the week before the school year begins. The principal, vice-principal, and school secretary will be on duty to register new pupils not already enrolled.

"New pupils," says Mr. Olbert, "can do themselves a great favor by being registered during the week before school starts. Each year there is a great number who come into the building the first day of school and spend that day just getting in. Then they come to school the next morning one day behind their classmates in the business of the class. They can avoid all this and do themselves the favor of starting even with the class on that first day.

"They can also do the school a favor by early registration, as that saves the principal, vice-principal, secretary, and teachers the time and task of taking care of late registrations when they ought to be taking care of a school which is a going concern.

It is recommended that Barrett's new people take advantage of the open building during the week of August 25, the last full week before the fall term starts.

Whittier St. R. R. Crossing May Get New Signal

Automatic flasher signals may finally be installed at the Whittier-st crossing of the New York Central and Chesapeake and Ohio Railroads if a reccomendation to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission is followed through.

A complaint about the danger of the grade crossing by Sam Fusco, 2590 Coventry-rd, resulted in an inspection of the crossing by the commission. The crossing is now protected only by wooden crossbuck warning signs.

B. F. Turner, commission inspector, reported heavy traffic, poor visibility plus other factors create an unsafe condition for motorists.

Housewife Is Tired Of Daily Cleanup After 'Litterbugs'

Columbus police recently opened an all-out campaign against "litterbugs" with efforts seemingly concentrated on cleaning up the downtown area.

However, by way of a little eavesdropping, we find that some residents in our South Side community have a few gripes of their own on this subject.

Mrs. Gus Autenrieth, who resides at the corner of Heyl and Frebis-av, seems to be having more trouble with litterbugs than others we interviewed.

She said, "the police should sit in front of my house if they want to arrest some litterbugs! They would really make money on fines if they did." The present enforcement on littering calls for a $5 to $50 fine.

The Autenrieths' home faces on Heyl-av. A stop sign causes motorists to halt in front of their house before turning on to Frebis.

"I think motorists must wait until they come to that stop sign and then clean out their cars! While they are stopped they toss out sacks, papers and even bottles — all on our lawn," said Mrs. Autenrieth.

The housewife added, "In fact, there is one truck which passes by our house on Frebis quite regularly. For some reason he waits until he reaches our corner and then throws out all kinds of trash. I think he must have a grudge against someone in the neighborhood."

"This littering is not just once in a while but continues every day. We have even assigned our son, Jerry, to a daily detail (with pay) of picking up litter in our yard," said Mrs. Autenreith.

MRS. GUS AUTENRIETH holds typical items she finds in her yard each day, deposited by litterbugs.

She added, "I believe the solution to this problem all over the city would be for the police to make a few arrests, charge high fines and publicize the matter."

Mrs. Autenrieth is joined in her protest by Mrs. Harold Eynon, 1073 S. Ohio-av.

"I recently moved to this part of the South Side and I'm really finding out what it's like to clean up after litterbugs. I live near a drug store and people, especially children, leaving the store, pass my home discarding wrappings and such on my lawn. I never noticed this sort of thing in other sections of the community," said Mrs. Eynon.

The litterbugs, however, seem to exist only in some areas of this community. During our survey, Mrs. Glenn G. Kennedy, 429 E. Whittier-st, and Mrs. Richard McClure, 34 E. Markison-av, said they had no trouble with these pests.

A North Sider recently told this writer that he was extremely impressed with the beauty of many South Side streets. "People in your area seem to take great pride in their homes and lawns," he said. Don't let litterbugs spoil this reputation!

Here's a group shot of "the prettiest, most talented and most extraordinary pets on the South Side." At least that's the story you'd get if you were to interview their proud owners. These are the owners of the pets that took ribbon honors at the third annual Parsons Branch Library Pet Show, held Thursday, Aug. 14, on the lawn of the library. Left to right, standing, are Connie Theado, Barbara Hammock, Michelle Bellamy, Pat Kirby, June Kirby, Susan Brown, Theresa Latella, Sandra Frazier, Bonnie Brewer, Linda Wears, and Danny Mitchell. Kneeling are Pamela Immelt, Sharon Schumacher, Cassandra Latella, John Deyo, Ricky Yantis and John Bausch.

Library Goes To The Dogs . . . . . And Other Animal Pets!

Parsons Branch Library, 845 Parsons-av, went to the dogs last Thursday. And to the cats, fishes, birds and rabbits, for that matter!

It was the third annual Summer Reading Club Pet Show conducted on the lawn south of the building. About 60 youngsters were present but only 38 were accompanied by their pet entries in the show.

Pets were assembled in categories under signs on lawn trees that read "Cat Division," "Dog Division," "Birds," "Miscellaneous," and "Fish Division."

There were surprisingly few fights among the pets. This year the dogs and cats were carefully segregated. Small dogs, however, exhibited their characteristic barking or challenges to the larger ones and several dogs had to be isolated — purely as a protective measure.

The dogs ranged from a tiny Mexican hairless to a huge black Doberman Pinscher. Dogs of all breeds and dogs of many breeds rolled into one were on parade.

Prizes were as follows:

Most unusual entries — Silver and Inky, rabbits owned respectively by Ricky Yantis of 761 Siebert-st and John Deyo of 739 Siebert-st.

Librarian Margaret Bausch told your reporter (with relief apparent in her voice) that all "unusual" entries of snakes, lizards, rats, frogs and hamsters had been "scratched."

Johnston workers turned down the union by a 2-1 vote. There were 66 voting in the election.

City Debt Now Includes Cost Of Crow Heads

A former Marion Township man has won from city of Columbus lawyers a ruling that the city is indebted to him to the tune of $8 for 32 crows heads he had brought in to former Marion Township officials to claim bounty money.

Earl W. Allison, chief counsel to Prosecuting Attorney Samuel Devine, declared Monday that Kline Dailey, 961 E. Jenkins-av, should get the bounty for crows he had destroyed in Marion Township before the city annexed that area. The county had established a 25 cent bounty on crows.

Dailey had pursued his just dues through ex-trustees of Marion Township clear to county officials.

In Allison's ruling, it was stated that since the city of Columbus had annexed the township then it was only fair that it should shoulder the area's financial burdens.

ELECTRICITY TURNS ON LAMPS AND STUFF . . .

This is what electricity means to a typical five-year-old.
Now what's your grown-up definition of it?
Think about it. Electricity makes work around the house more pleasant. It brings you convenience and entertainment. It heats and lights your home. Electricity means better living, better working, better relaxation—every day of every year.
Next time you turn on "lamps and stuff", think of how much electricity does for everyone. And yet you buy it at a cost even a youngster can understand.

Three Local Churches Tie For 'Y' League Top Honors

St. John E and R, a team that just a week ago had lost two games, put themselves out of the running for the championship in the Intermediate division of the South Side "Y" church leagues, did a complete turn about last week. On Monday, with Norman DeVictor hitting two homers and Jack Flovin doing a near perfect job on the mound, they dimmed the hopes of Livingston Methodist and came right back Thursday evening to defeat a strong St. Paul E and R nine and throw the league into a three way tie for top honors.

Oakwood Methodist, who, along with St. Paul and Livingston, are engaged in the playoff, kept their hopes alive with a win over South Methodist while Hungarian E and R clipped Washington EUB with a final inning uprising to close regular season play.

In the closing session of the Monday night junior circuit St. Leo remained undefeated (10-0) as they defeated Oakwood, while Larry Bukey's Livingston aggregation won second place laurels by beating Washington and Church of God was declared the victor over Gates-Fourth.

FOUNDATION OF NATION

Proposed New Government Involved A Bitter Struggle

Archer E. Reilly, Jr.
Member State Legislature

Drafting the Constitution was but one step in bringing it to life. Approval by the separate states was also necessary. This involved a bitter struggle.

A. E. Reilly, Jr.

First, the drafters sent the finished draft to the dying Continental Congress, which shortly thereafter, on September 28, 1788, sent it to the state legislatures for ratification. The legislatures, in turn, authorized the choice of delegates to attend state conventions for the purpost of ratifying the proposed constitution.

The controversies of the convention were automatically removed to the country at large. From New England to Georgia the proposed new government was the prime topic of discussion.

There were objections. Men like Patrick Henry of Virginia and Samuel Adams of Massachusetts, imbued with the Revolutionary concepts of liberty, objected to what they considered an undue centralization of authority.

Others thought the plan did not provide for enough centralization. Many northerners believed too much had been conceded to the South; while many southerners took an opposite view. Large inland elements—small farmers, backwoodsmen, pioneers—feared the effects of the commercial powers given to Congress.

Men of property wondered about the new taxing power. And everywhere there were complaints about the omission of a Bill of Rights, protecting the liberties of individual citizens.

Nevertheless, ratification by the various states proceeded at a steady pace. Delaware came under the federal roof first, on Dec. 7, 1787. And by June 1788 nine states (the minimum number required) had ratified. There were exceptionally bitter battles in Massachusetts and Virginia. But the supporters of the Constitution were eventually successful.

However, New York had still not acted. It was obviously a pivotal state without which the Union would be a mere debating society. It finally did ratify after a strenuous struggle. The New York ratification forces were led by Alexander Hamilton. His leadership was singular. Among many other devices, he conceived the idea of publishing a systematic survey of the Constitution in the form of public letters to the New York newspapers. For this task he secured the help of John Jay, a fellow New Yorker, and James Madison.

This trio wrote a series of 85 articles, signed Publius, which had a decisive effect on the New York outcome. These articles were later put together in book form as "The Federalist." It has now gone through 39 editions, and is still the classic exposition of the Constitution.

The New York Convention at last ratified on July 26, 1788. In April of 1789 the new government was formed with the Congress assembled and Washington inaugurated as the first President. The Constitution since then has served as a charter for the growth of the United States into the leading nation of the world.

It has been amended 22 times; which has lengthened its text by one-half. Moreover, many of its phases have been beginning points for further development. Indeed the Constitution's flexibility has been one of its chief characteristics.

Constitutional development has been gradual, rather than drastic. As times have changed, it has been modified by four principal influences:

By amendment. The first 10 amendments were included shortly after its adoption and represent the Bill of Rights. The others have involved federal court jurisdiction; methods of electing presidents and senators, slavery, due process of law, the income tax, prohibition, women's suffrage, and a limitation upon presidential terms.

By statute. The Constitution has been developed into a living document by innumerable statutes which the Congress has passed in order to complete the framework of government.

By judicial interpretation. The courts, through their decisions, have created a body of "constitutional law." The doctrines of implied powers, inherent powers, the sanctity of contracts and many others have virtually remade parts of the Constitution.

By custom. Finally, the Constitution has been modified by custom. The anti-third term tradition, the president's cabinet, and "senatorial courtesy" are examples, among many others, which reflect the influence of custom.

Nevertheless after giving due consideration to changes and refinements, the Constitution has remained basically the same document that was drafted at Philadelphia and ratified by the original states.

Bible Comment

Big Sinners Sometimes Turn Saints

With all Jacob's evil tendencies and qualities, there was that in him on which something substantial could be built. This provides the greatest contrast with his brother, Esau.

Good natured, easy going Esau was the more likable of the two but how could anything stable or permanent be built upon him? He showed little sense of values or capacity for responsibility and was completely weak where Jacob was strong.

This shows what the vision of God may do with men who have positive force and strength, though there may be a great deal wanting in their conduct. Take a man of worldly ambition whose thoughts are taken up with material success and who is willing to exert great energy and undergo privation to get what he wants.

Give that man the vision of something more worthwhile. Above all, let him see God and the standards of success that Christ showed in His life. Then, such a man may become a tremendous power for good. St. Paul is certainly an excellent example.

It has been said that the greatest sinners make the greatest saints. Though this is obviously not always so.

This symbolism has taken hold very strongly in the world's literature and in its religious life. Jacob's Ladder is the typical means of communication between earth and heaven. The vision that Jacob had has become intimately associated with the experience that is possible for every Christian who seeks God's guidance and God's help.

In 2½ hours at Orchard Beach in the Bronx, N.Y., 7,136 Jehovah's witnesses were baptized, making them ministers of the movement.

Weeklies Get Tribute From Pastor Peale

Carmel, N. Y. – Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, noted churchman and pastor of the Marble Collegiate Church in New York believes "... that the weekly newspaper is one of the greatest institutions in America."

Dr. Peale made the statement when he acted as one of the judges in an essay contest conducted by the Carmel Putnam County Courier.

He said:

"Half the population of the United States read these papers. I have talked with national advertisers who told me of the great respect they have for this type of paper as an instrument through which one can reach the buying public. "It would be impossible to fully estimate the influence of the weekly newspaper in American life—an influence traceable to its intimate contact with hometown people. It is a blend of the homey and intimate life of the community with the broader problems of local government."

Man Claims—

pipe wouldn't be employed to capacity load.

Looks Ahead

Engineers finally added that, sooner or later, 30-inch sewers will have to be built to replace all the old storm sewer lines along Parsons-av, so why not start putting in the big pipes now.

Kelly's retort to this last statement was, "Yes, he (city engineer) told me that they were looking to the future in authorizing the construction of this big line down to the 18-inch pipe — but he also said that the 'future' may be five or ten years away. In that time my property will have been ruined."

Hillgate Division is being built by developer Charles Whitman. His consulting engineer, H. G. Dill, designed the sewer system. After construction of the lines they will be turned over to the city.

Said Kelly, "The recent rains have flooded parts of my land, but now if the big pipe flows into the small one, even the little rains will put me under water."

"I'm a working man," averred Kelly. "I can't even afford a good lawyer to sock an injunction on this action."

"But, I'll keep on fighting," exclaimed Kelly. "Maybe the mayor, himself, will listen to my story."

LOVES HER LANDAU—Alma G. Shumaker is pretty proud of this 1838 Landau carriage which she purchased a few years ago in Illinois. She has had it restored and intends to keep it although many museums are after the fine carriage. Shown sitting in her Landau, Miss Shumaker explained the convertible top. The roof is divided in the middle and either or both sides will drop to make a sporty-looking carriage.

Manager Of Local Dress Shop Has Fun With 'Horse' Hobby!

Alma G. Shumaker rode a pink horse into a public bar near the Ohio State Fairgrounds last year—eight men took one look and promptly walked out of the bar!

This incident seems typical of this woman who has proven her skill in raising and training horses as well as in the business world. She is manager of Robinson's Women's Apparel Store in Great Southern Shopping Center.

At the horse show held at the 1957 Ohio State Fair, Miss Shumaker displayed an albino horse dyed pink, trimmed with a white mane and tail.

She said so far as she can find out, she is the first person anywhere to dye a horse pink—and she won't tell how it was done! Needless to say, the horse caused some excitement at the fair. But this was nothing compared to the confusion the horse started at the bar.

The owner of the drinking parlor is a personal friend of the horsewoman and invited her to bring the horse in as a boost to business. However, business did anything but improve. Drinking men seem to have an aversion to animals served up in bright colors—whether horse or elephant!

"Bar-Horsing" Not New

"Bar-horsing" or bar-hopping in common terms, is nothing new to Alma Shumaker. The riot squad was called out in New York City a few years back when she rode a horse (not pink) into a downtown bar there. The stunt was publicity for Gene Autry, for whom Alma worked as a horse-riding publicity agent.

While working for Autry, Miss Shumbaker rode 1200 miles cross country on her registered Tobiana mare, Miss Chief. She traveled with her sister, Virginia, from Galion, O., to Washington, D. C., on to New York and then Providence, R.I.

She met a great many show business celebrities during her work with the famous cowboy and still has riding outfits made especially for her by Roy Rogers' tailor.

Started Riding at Six

Alma, who lives at 24 E. Moler-st, is a native of Galion, O. She started riding at six years of age. At 10, she rode the roughest horses kept at the nearby National Guard Farms. Following high school, she played polo, gave riding lessons and was a professional model for a large clothing manufacturing firm.

In the last few years, Miss Shumaker has devoted her talents to dress shops and raising and training horses. When not planning a style show, she is usually judging a horse show some place in Ohio.

Her pride and joy is a Landau carriage made in 1838. It was considered the Cadillac of carriages in its day and cost more than many high-priced cars of today.

She has had the carriage completely restored and displayed it in the production "The 17th Star," given at the 1953 Ohio State Fair for the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration.

The carriage was used many times for civic functions by former Governor of Ohio Frank J. Lausche.

Plans Progress For St. Paul's Church Facilities

At the recent congregational meeting of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av, final plans were laid for the construction of an educational unit.

It was decided that as soon as plans have been drawn up and several bids are in, a special congregational meeting will be held to approve the plans and make the necessary authorizations for financing the building.

Plans call for the construction of a unit costing about $100,000 plus equipment. It will consist of 11 or 12 Sunday School rooms 15 by 20 feet (six rooms 20 by 30 feet when not divided), an office, a lounge and an auditorium seating 300 people.

The Sunday School rooms will serve a variety of uses, including kindergarten and vacation Bible school. The auditorium will be used for most special programs during the remodeling of the sanctuary. St. Paul's building fund now stands at about $57,000.

Plan Discussion Of City Housing Code At Hosack

A public meeting will be held Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 8:15 p.m. at the Hosack Baptist Church, 280 Hosack-st, to discuss the new Columbus housing code, according to Emma R. Witherson and Rev. H. H. Teague, pastor of the church.

It will be in the form of a panel discussion with Mrs. Florence Horchow, of the Urban League Guild, serving as chairman. Others on the panel will include City Attorney Russell Leach and James W. Miller, builder and contractor.

Westinghouse, Some GM Workers Receive More Pay

Several thousand Westinghouse workers and a few General Motors employes here are due for a pay raise as the result of an increase in the nation's cost-of-living index.

Local Westinghouse workers, all of whom are paid weekly, will see their cent-an-hour-raise this week. The ninth such increase since Aug. 1956, pay rates are now 18 per cent above those existing when a five-year contract was signed in 1955.

Relatively few Ternstedt employes will get cost-of-living allowances. This is because UAW and IUE unions and General Motors have failed to agree on a contract, halting such benefits under the GM wage formula.

Kimble Glass Worker Seeks City Mayor Post

"I may sweep floors for a living now," said John Felice, a maintenance man at Kimble Glass Co., 711 Southwood, "but I think I would be a good mayor for Columbus and I'm going to try and do it!"

This is not just an idle boast from an irate citizen but a promise made to our Leader reporter by a very determined man!

Felice, who resides in Linden, has a sign standing in front of his home reading: "Vote for John Felice for Mayor." This is his first step in his campaign to become mayor.

The Kimble worker said he is independent and proud of it. He plans to run on an independent ticket and seems to want no part of any political party. "I want the people to back me, not a party," he said.

His platform? Well, Felice believes there is too much "passing the buck" in city hall and that a man should do the job he is elected for, not depending on others. He said he thinks the sewage and rain drainage problems are intolerable.

John Felice

"I'll admit I don't know all the details in handling city problems but I can learn about those things when I get into office," said Felice.

"If I do get the job I would like to visit juvenile court whenever I can, every day if possible. I would like to help young delinquents before they have to be sent to reform schools and the like," said the Kimble employe.

"I would make sure there would be a lot more police protection around schools and playgrounds," he added.

Felice has worked at Kimble Glass for four years. Before this he worked for a construction firm and has managed a string of restaurants and groceries in Columbus and San Diego, Calif. He claims this has given him some good financial training.

A Columbus resident for 30 years, Felice concluded his formal education in the ninth grade.

The 50-year-old maintenance man offers his campaign work in the elections of past mayors Floyd Green and James Rhoades as his only political background. For his backing he said he received small and temporary jobs.

Felice has no campaign money and slight chance of getting any but he said he is depending on his confidence in himself, a miracle and his many friends. He claims to have more than 100,000 friends and connections in this city.

He plans to do a little campaigning at a banquet to be held by the Columbus Industrial Horseshoe League Sunday, Sept. 7, at 8 p.m., at the Desert Inn. Felice is president of the league and plans to have a "Vote For John Felice" sign on hand at the dinner. He said he will circulate petitions as soon as they are available.

A Word of Thanks

Roger Dumares extends a word of appreciation from the South Side community to the men and women who have volunteered and sacrificed their time for the South Side Branch YMCA inter-church athletic program.

"These people have willingly given their time to the youth of the South Side churches in order that these young people might enjoy an athletic program of basketball and softball that might otherwise be impossible," said Roger.

Construction Will Continue As Barrett Students Return

Students starting or returning to Barrett Junior High School next Wednesday will find some attractive changes in the building plus some added confusion.

Ground was broken for a new addition to the school last May but because of the inclement weather this summer the new section will not be completed until around Nov. 1.

However, school work will continue as usual and pupils will carry on studies despite the added noise and confusion of construction.

The new facilities and some inside remodeling, which will cost a total of $215,000, will bring the school's student capacity to about 1250. Principal Kenneth Olbert said it is expected the enrollment at Barrett will reach that mark within the next three years.

New, Brighter Classrooms

The new section, being constructed at the southeast corner of the building, will house a gym and two science rooms to be fully equipped for research on the junior high level. The basement of the new structure will house locker rooms and showers.

Barrett's former girls' gym on the third floor has been divided into four large classrooms suitable for teaching nearly any school subject. These rooms will be completed by the time school is in session next week.

The rooms have been completely remodeled and redecorated in a variety of pastel colors. Each one is equipped with a modern sink and storage cabinets.

A special room, which Mr. Olbert called the classroom for "slow learners", has been remodeled and enlarged for maximum study efficiency.

Teachers To Benefit

The teachers haven't been forgotten in Barrett's present expansion program. The building is old and was built in the days when a teachers' room was unheard of. For several years the faculty has been using a small room (little more than a walk-in closet) filled with antiquated furniture for relaxation away from the classrooms. A bigger and better room is now being prepared for the teachers this year.

Principal Olbert is expecting an enrollment of about 1050 next week. There will be 40 members on the teaching staff this year. Four new teachers will be coming to Barrett. More information on them will be supplied later. Miss May Lang, who has been a member of the faculty for some time, recently announced her retirement.

Pre-Enrollment Urged

The principal, vice-principal and school secretary are on duty at Barrett this week to register new students to avoid unnecessary confusion next week. New pupils should report to the school today, Friday or Tuesday to check schedules and to receive special counseling that will be impossible during the next few weeks of class organization.

South Side Youth's Driving Spree Ends On Turnpike

Gilman Roger Clark, 12, of 735 Reinhard-av, caused some anxious hours Monday for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Ray Clark, when he took the family car and headed for North Carolina.

Termed as an "imaginative" child, the youth took $22 from his mother's purse, left a ransom note in his bedroom and drove off with the car sometime between 11 p.m. Sunday and 1 a.m. Monday.

The boy was apprehended a few hours later by authorities on the West Virginia Turnpike where he wrecked the family car. He was not seriously injured and was held in the Raleigh County Jail in Beckley, W. Va., for juvenile authorities, according to police.

When his parents discovered his disappearance they notified police believing their son had been kidnapped. The Clarks said they didn't know the youth could drive.

The boy's note read as follows: "If you want your boy burrie $10,000 under a table in the nearest park within 72 hours. The table will have an "N" on it like this.

"N in this color. (There was a patch of blue made in ink)

"Tell the police and its to bad.

"P. S. I took some of his clothes."

Nearby Schiller Park was checked by police but none of the tables was marked.

The father left immediately for Beckley after being notified of his son's whereabouts.

Police Juvenile Bureau investigators said Tuesday they will file a delinquency charge against Gilman. Officials indicated the youth will be charged with driving without a license and truancy from home, technical charges leading up to the general delinquency charge.

Legal Actions Tie Up Funds Of Township

Asst. Prosecutor Earl Allison said Friday that neither Columbus or anybody else will get $122,928 in former Marion Township funds until legal matters are cleared.

City Auditor John Price has asked for the money but former Marion Township Clerk Arthur Becker is withholding payment to Columbus reportedly on the advice of Prosecutor Samuel L. Devine.

All of Marion Township except Hanford Village became part of Columbus last fall. Becker said he has been advised to withhold the funds until an agreement is reached between the city and Hanford Village over the division of the money.

Hanford is appealing a decision that Columbus can annex the village. The area has not yet been accepted into the city by City Council. Several other lawsuits are also pending.

The old township's firemen's pension fund of $82,265 has posed one of the biggest problems. Not all of the former township firemen were hired by the city and apparently some may be deprived of future benefits. Becker is also holding $40,664 in the general and road and bridge funds.

Are you positive your chest is healthy?

Here is a chance to check. The Tuberculosis Society's Christmas Seal X-ray cruiser will be operating at Great Southern Shopping Center Wednesday, Sept. 3, 3 to 9 p.m.

St. Paul's Opens Kindergarten Next Wednesday

St. Paul's Lutheran Kindergarten, 322 Stewart-av, will open Wednesday, Sept. 3. This will mark the kindergarten's eighth year of existence under the leadership of Mrs. C. Paul Brobst.

The kindergarten, sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will present the usual activities against the background of the Christian religion, said Mrs. Brobst.

Sessions continue Monday through Friday, from 9 to 11:30 a.m., and are open to both member and non-member children. The enrollment is limited to 28. Children born in 1953 are eligible to attend this year's classes. Thus far there are 25 enrolled.

There is no tuition but a nominal charge for supplies and the mid-morning snack. Bus service in the East and South Sides is available at $1.50 a week.

Two Californians Visit Community

Mrs. Billie Spring, 75 Southwood, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Francis Harkey, and daughter, Sharon Mae Harkey, of Culver City, Calif.

Mrs. Spring said this is the first time she has seen her sister or niece in nearly four years. The Californians will visit here through Sept. 15.

A lawn dinner was held by Mrs. Spring to honor her guests last week. There were 28 persons in attendance, including relatives from Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Harkey plans to visit the Ohio State Fair during her stay here.

Bid $44,334 To Renave Local Section Of S. High

The State Highway Department announces that Max J. Zeller, Inc., submitted the apparent low bid of $44,334 for repaving 1.1 miles on S. High-st from Livingston-av to Hanford-st.

The department's estimate was $49,200. Total cost is $45,664 for the project. Completion date is Oct. 31, 1958.

Brotherhood To Meet

Rev. Boyd C. Rife, pastor of Washington Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, 350 Murkison-av, announces a brotherhood meeting at the church, to be held Thursday, Sept. 4, at 7:30 p.m.

Parsons Ave. Merchants Had Private 'River' Last Thursday

Our photographer stood in the door of the Foreign Grocery to take this picture of Parsons-av during the downpour last Thursday afternoon. The rains came and the street filled to overflowing. Not a new story, but one of repetitious occurrence much to the dismay of the area's store owners. Running from Marion-rd to Klan Alley, the water reached a depth of nearly two feet in some places in less than a half hour. Children in the neighborhood grabbed the opportunity for a little free swimming—in fact, they were about the only ones who did enjoy the Parsons-av "river."

Merchants on the west side of Parsons-av, between Marion-rd and Klan-alley, are shown testing water depth at the rear of their stores which is the overflow from Parsons last Thursday. The small pathway which leads to the rear of their stores spilled water into some adjoining storerooms. The submerged broom handles point up the seriousness of this area's slow drainage.

A WEDDING at ST. LEO'S Saturday morning was a family project. Shirley Bauman and Larry Thibaut were united in marriage at the church at 9:30 a.m. Gowns and flowers were handmade for the occasion. Left to right are Mrs. Bee Thibaut, bridegroom's mother and designer and maker of the wedding dress; the bride; Mrs. Don Thompson who made the flowers, and Mrs. Pauline Patterson of Ardenes Flower Shop, who assisted with the flowers.

Bauman-Thibaut Wedding At St. Leo's Sparked By Handmade Gowns, Flowers

Shirley A. Bauman, of 1420½ S. Fifth-st, and Larry Thibaut, of 688 Mohawk-st, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Aug. 23, at St. Leo's Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bauman and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thibaut.

The wedding was unusual because members of both the bride and bridegroom's families helped in designing gowns and flowers.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Thibaut, designed and made the wedding dress and the gowns worn by the seven bridesmaids.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Don Thompson, made all of the flowers used in the wedding ceremony from wood fibre. Reportedly, this is the first time wood fibre artificial flowers have ever been used in a formal church wedding.

Mrs. Thompson made flowers for the bride, the brideamaids, the bride's tiara, and boutonnieres for the seven ushers.

The flower girl was Judy Bauman, niece of the bride. A reception was held at the Onize Club after the ceremony.

Shirley Baumann. The couple will reside at 1420 S. 5th-st.

Young folks attending Round Lake Christian Service Camp this week are Karen and Sharon McCoy, Peggy Grady, Sharon Coffman, Bob Schwab, Jane Coder, Ruth Walston, Richie Hugoniot, John Wells and Roger Brown. Eleanor Jones will attend as a teacher.

Marion Becker Smith, formerly of Columbus, now of Hanover, Pa., is on the sick list, so it would be nice if her Buckeye friends sent a card to the Keystone state. Another ailing person on our list is Emma Lewis, rear 330 Moler-st.

Diana Kay Leach, 706 E. Kossuth-st, is one of the entertainers at the Ohio State Fair today. The 12 year old Roosevelt student will be singing at the Little Theater. Her accompanist is Carol Foster, of 1426 Oakwood-av.

Mrs. Wayne Benedict, 1079 Ellsworth-av was installed as Supreme Guardian of the International Order of Job's Daughters at the 38th session of the group. The installation was held Aug. 23, in Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Benedict, a charter member of Bethel 5, has devoted 31 years to Job's Daughters. Among her offices have been honor queen in 1927, grand guardian in 1950, supreme chaplain in 1953. In her new capacity she will travel extensively. Following her installation she will travel through Oregon, Washington, Montana, British Columbia and other Canadian provinces visiting the various Bethels. She will return to Columbus in October. She has been granted a leave of absence from her position at the Municipal Court to fulfill her mission. In addition to her interest in the Job's Daughters, Mrs. Benedict is also a member of Southern Way Chapter 467, OES and Oriental Shrine.

Mary Russell, 1809 S. 6th-st, is hoping to come home today from Doctor's Hospital.

Gasper and Edith LaRue should be settling again in their Florida home after spending the summer in their native state. They started the eastward journey on their Aug. 22 wedding anniversary.

In spite of an aching, swollen jaw which gave us a "chipmunky" appearance, we had a wonderful time at the Everglades last Thursday afternoon.

The occasion was a luncheon for the columnists of the five Hartley Newspapers. The luncheon was excellent and it's always nice to meet and renew acquaintances with our sister scribblers. Our new editor, Ray Shaffer, also attended the affair and we got to know him better. We'll report that he fits in nicely, with our down to earth South Siders.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Mrs. Paul Lonas

If the Camp Fire Girls in this area seem jubilant at this time, they have a good reason to celebrate. The Southeast District was awarded the floating trophy for their display at the Ohio State Fair, now in progress. This is the first year for such a trophy. Districts from all over Franklin County competed for the award.

Re-Hi-Go, a Horizon Group of the district, was among the entrants at Ohio's largest fair. Two members who garnered a total of seven ribbons were Nancy Murphy, 94 N. Waverly, and Betty Skobrak, 1566 Oakwood-av. Nancy received two third prize ribbons on submitted sketches, a fifth prize ribbon on a skirt, a second prize ribbon on a charcoal sketch in the hobby show, and a third prize ribbon on a scrapbook. Betty received two second prizes in the style show. The demonstration team of the group won first place.

Members of the team were Nancy Buller, Jean Straub, Judy Marte and Betty Skobrak. Handcraft was the subject of the demonstration. Mrs. Michael Skobrak and Mrs. Glenn Buller are the leaders of the high school group.

SOUTH SECTIONAL CHAMPS

The Schiller Girls' Softball team brought home the title of runner-up in the City Championship in softball last week. The team took first place in the South Sectional League and went on to defeat North Sectional Champs, Pontiac Playground, 10 to 5. The win made the Schiller girls eligible for the championship game against Maryland playground in which they met defeat to the tune of 18 to 3. Schiller's only comment on the game is, "Nice game but just wait until next year!" Members of the team are, left, to right, Mary Kline, Darlene Bartlett, Terri Zolman, Betty Hedrick, Sharon George, Pat Peaschel, Jerri Clements and Nancy Krumm. Seated is Coach Barbara Call. Not present were players, Linda Stevens and Chris Reih.

KARNS' CHAMPS THANK LIONS

The Braves, Little Jet League champions of Karns playground, are taking time out to sent a note of thanks to the Southeast Lions Club for sponsoring them and providing caps and T-shirts. This expression of appreciation was the idea of the boys themselves. Their coach, R. Don Parker of 855 Stanley-av, is helping them with the "big words." Left to right are, front row, Frank Hottenrott, Ricky Andersen, Coach Parker, Don Lanfear and Gary Kipp; second row, Ricky Kulp, Charles Micelli, Keith Bush, Bill Foraker, Pat Parker, Marshall Martin and Frank Koch.

CHERRIES UP

Sour cherry production in Ohio has been forecast at 1900 tons for 1958. This is 95 tons above average, and 250 over last year's yield.

FACTORY DEALERS TO CELEBRATE

Westinghouse To Light Fifth Candle Next Month

Announcement of plans for the fifth birthday celebration of the Columbus-Westinghouse Plant was made today by E. L. Smith, manager of operations for the plant.

Construction on the West Broad Street-Phillips-rd plant began in 1952 and the first refrigerator was produced in the fall of 1953.

According to Smith, the birthday celebration will continue throughout the month of September with many special events scheduled for employes and the community alike.

Plan "Weekend in Hollywood"

Topping the features of the celebration is a contest for employes which has as its top prize a "Weekend in Hollywood" for two with a visit to the newest members of the Westinghouse family — Lucy Ball and Desi Arnez. In addition, four Columbus-made major appliances will be given to employes placing second, third and fourth in the contest.

Basically, the contest will consist of employes encouraging their friends and neighbors to stop at the nearest Westinghouse dealer to see the appliances on display there. Each of these persons will be given a card by employes to be left with the dealer. The employe who has the most cards, bearing his name, left with Westinghouse dealers in the Columbus area during September will be awarded the top prize. The visitor wil receive a free gift.

Other Events Scheduled

In addition, the 5th birthday celebration will have many other events:

Special prices and credit terms on Columbus-made appliances are being offered to each employe.

Each employe is being given a special birthday badge to wear.

Employes who will complete five years this year will be awarded 5-year service pins.

Four new Westinghouse appliances never seen by the public before will make their debut in Columbus. They are a special 12 cubic foot refrigerator bearing the name or "The Buckeye," a new line of chest-type home freezers, a new combination clothes washer and dryer in one unit, and an all new portable dishwasher.

Will Pay in Silver Dollars

To show how widely Westinghouse employes are located in the Columbus area and to determine how they affect the economy, on Sept. 12, each employe will receive part of his pay in silver dollars.

"The completion of our 5th year in Columbus is a proud day for all of us here at Westinghouse," Smith pointed out. "In the years since the first refrigerator was produced, we have added the production of freezers, Wash-N-Dry Laundromats, dishwashers and water heaters. We belive that the coming years will see a gradual increase in the volume of appliances Westinghouse produces here."

OUR NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

Eyes Of The World Focus On President

By Archer B. Reilly, Jr.
State Representative

The Presidency of the United States is the most important position in the world. The first note that strikes the eye in any consideration of the Presidency is the overwhelming variety of duties placed upon its incumbent.

A. B. Reilly, Jr.

To begin with, the President is chief of state — the ceremonial head of our national government. In this role he is the public representative of the American people.

The President's responsibility in this country parallels the long list of public duties discharged by the Queen in England, the President of the Republic of France or the Governor-General in Canada.

And in the President's case the list is even longer because he is not a king or the agent of one; and therefore, cannot strictly control the extent of his ceremonial obligations.

The task of chief of state may often seem trivial. But, they cannot be overlooked by any president who wants to stay in power and in personal touch with the people.

Moreover, despite the rigors of the role, no President can fail to recognize that all of his powers are given a new dimension of authority by the fact that his office is the symbol of the greatest nation in the world.

Throughout the years foreign dignitaries, military leaders, public personages, political figures and critics have felt and reacted to the persuasive power of the Presidency when in its presence.

The President's regular everyday role is that of chief executive. Aside from the members of Congress only two officials connected with our national government are elected by the people—the President and Vice-President. All others are appointed. And the top policy making appointments are made by the President.

Notwithstanding the fact that he actually appoints only a small fraction of the two and a third million people in the national administration, he has no authority of greater importance. As Hamilton wrote in the Federalist, "The true test of a good government is its aptitude and tendency to produce a good administration."

The executive power also involves great practical political significance. For it not only includes control over administrative policy, but also considerable influence upon legislation, as a result of conferring or withholding offices sought by senators or representatives for their constituents.

The President is also our primary agent in foreign affairs. Although authority in this field is shared with Congress, the Constitution, laws, customs and the practices of other states have combined to put the President in the foreground of foreign affairs.

This area is divided into two sectors: the formulation of policy; and the conduct of affairs. While the policy function is a joint undertaking with Congress, it may be significant that the Monroe Doctrine — our most honored policy — is named for a president.

The daily conduct of foreign affairs, involving the transaction of business with foreign nations is, as Jefferson once wrote, "executive altogether."

The State Department conducts its activities in the name of the President, and he is in executive command of every procedure through which our regular foreign relations are conducted.

The President has numerous other roles. He is commander in chief. He plays a decisive part in making legislation. He influences judicial policy. He is the leader of his party. And he is the chief spokesman and representative of the national government. All of these functions will be considered next week in rounding out the manifold phases of the office.

From any viewpoint and at any stage of consideration of this tremendous job, one fact emerges; it is essentially a one-man job. The man who holds it can never escape making the ultimate decisions.

One President is said to have summarized his task by keeping a sign on his desk which read "buck passing stops here." That is blunt, but true. For, after all the facts are gathered and digested, the President as one lone individual must take the ultimate responsibility.

Bible Comment

Sin's Scars Stay After Forgiveness

Jacob, himself an old trickster and deceiver, was getting fed up with similar treatment from his father-in-law, Laban. He had put up with it only because of his deep love for his wife, Rachel.

Finally Jacob decided to return to his homeland. With his company and possessions he left secretly but an enraged Laban overtook him and demanded the return of some idols that Rachel had taken.

Appeased as to the loss of his gods, Laban made a treaty of peace with Jacob, who was now facing what he thought to be the greatest danger of all. As he neared home, word came that his brother Esau was approaching with a great company of men.

For Jacob had long ago deceived the young and easy-going Esau of his birthright.

It stands to Jacob's credit that he was far more concerned about the others in his company than for himself in case of a hostile reception by Esau and his men.

We have the spectacle of a guilty conscience, and a recollection of grevious wrong done a brother, in conflict with the conquering force of a purpose to do what is in his power to retrieve a bad situation. It is striking evidence of the way that the consequences of sin remain long after a sinner has repented or even after he has been forgiven.

As it turned out, Jacob had nothing to fear. Esau also had improved with the years. From a careless, easy-going man he had become a man of substance. He received his brother with joy and without the slightest reproach concerning the ancient wrong that had been done him.

BIG BREAKFAST AGE

That boy or girl in the family who is headed for school this fall may need a heartier breakfast than he has been eating. Surveys show that breakfast has become the neglected meal, often because the family living schedule has moved to a late shift — late dinners, late TV and other entertainment which leads to late sleeping in the morning. These surveys also show that teenagers are the worst offenders.

In a recent talk on the teenager and his food, Dr. Ruth Leverton, Institute of Home Economics, U.S. Department of Agriculture, points out some valuable research facts that I would like to pass on to you. She says that as boys and girls reach adolescence their nutritional needs are higher than ever before. Boys need more food than at any other age, and girls more than at most other times of their lives. Enjoying a substantial breakfast starts the right pattern of eating for a day.

Nutritionally, there is no substitute for a good breakfast, as many nutrition surveys of teenagers show, stated Dr. Leverton. It is difficult or impossible for young people to make up at other meals, or between-meal snacks, the food missed at breakfast. In a recent study of teen-age girls she found that those who skipped breakfast cut their diets down to 60% of their calcium and vitamin "C" needs, and 10% of their iron and thiamine quotas. Among these girls the breakfast skippers were more likely to eat snacks between meals, and those snacks usually were sweets or other high-calorie foods. Thus, by going without breakfast they ran short on important vitamins and minerals and had as many or more calories than the breakfast eaters.

Nutritionists agree that one way to stimulate lagging morning appetites is to make the breakfast a bright and attractive meal. Seasonal low-cost fruits are your best friends — peaches, pears, apples, grapes and cantaloupes. Vary the breakfast breads or cereals instead of having toast every morning. Add egg or other protein, and milk, and you have given those young people a good start for the day.

Remember, too, a little extra morning sleep is no exchange for a good meal. Breakfast is a health investment in which both teenagers and parents should cooperate.

Local Garden Clubbers To Attend Convention

Many members of local garden clubs, affiliated with the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, will attend the association's annual convention Sept. 10 and 11 at Bowling Green State University. All members and friends are invited.

Registration will start at 8 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 10, in the lobby of the Union.

Clinics include program or year book clinic in the Wayne Room, radio, television and publicity clinic in the Harrison Room; junior garden club clinic in the Groghan Room, and horticulture clinic in the Perry Room, all on the third floor of the Union, and scheduled to start at 10 a.m.

At 11 a.m., Prof. Victor Ries will conduct a general horticulture clinic in the ball room.

A cafeteria luncheon will be available at noon.

The convention will officially open at 1 p.m. on the 10th, when Carlton B. Lees will present "Glamourizing Flower Shows." He has been on the staff of the Brooklyn Botanic Garden and taught landscape design at West Virginia University, and is now horticulturist at Kingwood Center, Mansfield.

The flower show, "The Gardener's Challenge," will be staged in the Alumni Room and the Christmas display in the Ohio Suite.

From 4 to 5 p.m., a tea will be held in the Dogwood Suite, honoring OAGC president, Mrs. Frederick Wassmann, past state presidents, and president and Mrs. Ralph W. McDonald of Bowling Green University.

The banquet will be held in the ballroom at 6:45 p.m., with garden clubs of districts 2 and 6 as hosts. Awards will be presented during this session. Featured speaker, Rutherford Platt of New York will give an illustrated lecture on "The Living Ice Age." He is the author of "The River of Life," "This Green World" and Walt Disney's "World of Nature." His articles also appear in "Life," "Americana," "World Book Encyclopedia," "National Geographic" and other publications.

The morning session, Thursday, Sept. 11, will begin at 9, with a business session and election of state officers. Mrs. William A. Williams of Rocky River will demonstrate "Tables for Autumn Entertaining."

District 1 will be host at the luncheon at 12:30, followed by a style show, "Fashions and Flowers."

DEATHS

She was superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Co. for 40 years. She was also a member of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church.

She is survived by one son, Daniel; two sisters, Mrs. Eddie Dorothy Burns and Mrs. Ray Patton; one brother, Ray Sonnenberg; and two grandchildren. Burial was in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Mary Alice Stewart

Funeral services were held yesterday at the C. D. White and Son Chapel for Mary Alice Stewart, age 7, of 474 Oipp-av, who died Saturday. She was a second grade student at Reeb-av School.

Stewart, Americus, Ga.; two aunts, Helen McCoy and Margaret Smith, Jacksonville; two uncles, A. J. Smith and Charlie Smith, Harford, Conn., and a host of other relatives and friends.

Burial was in Eastlawn Cemetery.

Thomas L. Reedy

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Woodyard Funeral Home for Thomas L. Reedy, 25, of 495½ Cline-st, who died Sunday in University Hospital of injuries suffered in an accident July 30.

Additional funeral services will be held today at the Wrightsel Funeral Home, McArthur, O., where he will be buried in the Elks Cemetery.

Reedy was struck by a car July 30 while crossing the street at Parsons-av and Cline-st.

He is survived by his wife, Georgia; one daughter, Deborah; two brothers, Eldon of Columbus and Dennis of Dundas, O.; six sisters, Marguerite and Marsha, both of Dundas; Rose and Mrs. Hanna Loptien, both of Dayton; Mrs. Ruth Frush of Huntington, W. Va., and Mrs. Irma Ward of Jackson.

Expect Large Crowds At Beulah Races

With the barns loaded to capacity Beulah Park is all set for its annual fall session of racing from Saturday, Aug. 30, through Saturday, Sept. 27.

President and General Manager Robert J. Dienst anticipates a good season. His optimism is based on two factors. One that the central Ohio area from which Beulah Park draws its patronage has not been overraced.

Secondly he feels that with a Labor Day holiday included in the 25 days there is an excellent chance for a decided increase in mutuel play and attendance.

The inaugural purse, a six furlong dash worth $2,000, will headline the opening day program and there are 15 or 20 top sprinters on the grounds and eligible for this dash.

Racing will get under way each afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Columbus Man Called "King Of Muskies"

Has Wrestled 173 Fighters From French River Since '23

By C. C. Hartley

If Allah does not deduct from the alloted days of man those hours spent in fishing, Roy Wolfe who is now 77 by the calendar, certainly has many days ahead.

Roy, who calls Columbus his home town, has been fishing since he was a youngster. In the last more than 30 years he has probably done more fishing than a dozen ordinary fishermen might expect to do in a lifetime.

Knokn as the "Muskie King of the French River," Roy Wolfe did his first fishing in the French River in Ontario back in 1923. At that time he asked a hotel man in Sturgeon Falls if he knew a good place to fish for muskies. The man advised that he should "visit the French."

He did as he was advised and left word to have someone pick him up again three days. His first day of fishing resulted in his landing an 18-pound muskie in Twilight Bay. He immediately sent back word by an Indian that he would stay three weeks.

During these early years he was a member of the Huffman-Wolfe Co., Columbus heating and ventilating firm. He anxiously awaited summer vacation time and for three years camped around the French River in tents. His party included three Indian guides and a cook..

The fever grew on him so he bought a cottage on Keystone Island where he continued to vacation for ten summers.

In the fall of 1945 he retired from business and that year bought his present French River Cottage known as "El-Roy" which sits high on the side of Bragdon Island with a view of all traffic that takes the main channel in the French.

Every summer since 1945 has ben spent at El-Roy cottage and summer for Roy Wolfe is about a six months season.

Makes Every Day Count

This year, at age 77, just as he has done for so many years, he was about the first white man to enter the river, arriving at his cottage on May 11 just after the ice melted. Last year he stayed on until the ice began to freeze in the bays, Nov. 15.

He spends his winters at Callendar, 32 miles across Lake Nippising and makes the trip across in his 16-foot open boat powered by a 15 hp. outboard motor, making the trip in about two hours.

Roy has experienced the thrill of catching a muskie 174 times! Many fishermen try for years with no such luck.

On July 8 this year No. 174 was landed and weighed in at 23 pounds. The week before he had caught his second one this season, an 18 pounder. His largest one weighed 44 pounds and was 54 inches long! He doesn't keep a record of the small ones . . . those weighing under 10 pounds. He caught one male muskie weighing 41 pounds and was over five feet long. . . . but it is really play to him.

The title of "Muskie King of the French River, has come to Roy as a result of untiring effort . . . but it is really play to him.

Muskie fishing has become something of a science with Roy Wolfe. It is by no means just guess work. He knows, for example, that if the wind is from the east or if the barometer is dropping he might as well stay home.

Two weeks ago he consented to take me on one of his trips. It was an overcast day, high winds from the west and appeared to be an ideal day for muskie fishing.

But the hard-to-catch muskie just doesn't jump into your boat even if the weather is on your side. He is a tempermental cuss and has ideas of his own. On this particular day we had a nice four-hour boat ride trolling all the way, but the catch consisted of just one three-pound pickerel who thought the almost 12-inch lonk piwie minnow looked good.

Roy advises that muskies just aren't found everywhere. But he did explain that he knows of about 25 or 30 spots where they are. And it is these spots he repeatedly visits, inviting prospects to be the next on on his honor roll.

Generally these muskie spots are off rocky shores or shoals which provide him a likely spot in which to sun himself. And nearby are weed beds where the pickerel and other smaller fish come to feed on perch. This makes a convenient place for him to get his dinner.

Trolls Next to Rocks

Roy trolls rather fast and gets as close to the rocks as possible zigging in and around to give action to his lure being pulled about 30 yards behind the boat. Another 100 yards of 50-pound test line remains on the real so he will have plenty to allow Mr. Muskie enough "rope to hang himself."

For the past seven years I've been trying to connect with one of the big boys but so far have been successful with only the youngsters. But if the big one comes along I feel the instruction I've received from Roy Wolfe on how to land him will be most valuable.

"When he hits, jerk hard on your line to set the hook," advises Roy. "If you aren't in open water it is advisable to get the boat headed that way if possible. Then turn off the motor and lift it so Mr. Muskie can't get the line across a propeller blade and saw his way to freedom."

"Then reel slowly . . . if he wants more line let him have it. Keep trying to wear him down. Try to avoid letting him get under your boat, thus taking away one more chance of breaking your line.

"Play him slowly and gently up to the boat, keeping his head in water until you have jockeyed him into the position where you can apply the "persuader." This is a small ball bat, a must in Roy Wolfe's fishing equipment.

Typical French River waters which Wolfe fishes throughout ice-free season every year.

When the big fish has been hit across the head with the ball bat he generally becomes calm as a kitten and thus allows an opportunity to reach over with a gaff hook and lift him into the boat.

No stringer for Roy. All his fish are placed in a battered old oblong wash tub carried at all times in his boat for the past 10 years.

Best time to catch Muskie? Roy believes the last week of June and until the second week of July, then again from Aug. 20 until as late as you can fish into October. Those weeks in between are when the king of the game fish gets a new set of teeth and he generally heads for deeper water and doesn't care much about pursuing food.

Muskies travel in pairs, sometims for many years. Roy has caught one and a year later picked up his mate in the same spot. Often they will follow the lure within a foot but never take it. When this happens Roy advises that you go back later and at a faster speed. Maybe this time he will take it.

"If you don't catch him today keep calling on him. Someday you will find him home," says Roy.

Oakwood Team Tilts Livingston Methodist 5 To 1

An underdog Oakwood Methodist team upset the favored Livingston Methodist nine 5-1 in the first game of the playoffs in the South Side "Y" Intermediate church league last week. The championship game between Oakwood and St. Paul E&R scheduled for last Thursday was postponed because of rain, and weather permitting was to have been played Monday, Aug. 25.

Guy Cory, Oakwood's star pitcher, lured the league's only no-hitter of the season; although his wildness and a couple of errors spoiled his chances of a shutout and a perfect game. Guy was just wild enough to make his pitching effective and to prevent the sluggers from Livingston and Third from getting set in the batter's box and teeing off on his fast ball.

Debus, Hamphire and Siders, the first three in Oakwood's batting order, each collected two hits apiece and accounted for three of the winner's five runs to spark the Oakwood attack.

The game was a real thriller from start to finish and the same could be said about all of the South Side Y leagues this year. Over 400 boys and girls, representing 34 teams, participated in the program which proved highly successful because of the fine work done by the men and women who served as managers, coaches, umpires and scorers.

"The grass next door may look greener, but it's just as hard to cut."

WOULD YOU GIVE UP THREE MINUTES TO SAVE YOUR CHILD'S LIFE?

The story on this page may help you keep your family alive and well—and show you how to help prevent sudden death to others on the highway.

This year, nearly 42,000 men, women and children will be killed in highway traffic accidents, according to the present mounting rate.

Forty-two thousand people!—that's a good-sized city—wiped out by speeders, traffic-light beaters, stop-sign passers and other potential murderers!

What makes it even worse, if that's possible, is that with all the speeding—all the hurtling through traffic lights—all the ignoring of stop signs—all a driver can save on an average trip is three minutes!

Would you be willing to give up those three minutes to save your child's life? Or a stranger's life? Or your own?

HERE'S HOW TO DO IT:

FIRST—Drive safely and courteously yourself. Observe speed limits and warning-signs.

Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

SECOND—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Traffic regulations work for you, not against you.

Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

THIRD—Work through your church, PTA or civic group for extra policing where needed, better street lights and signals, and a school safety program.

Where people work actively for safety, deaths go DOWN!

FOURTH—Call on your local or state safety council for help in promoting better laws and uniform enforcement.

Where everyone understands the law, deaths go DOWN!

In city after city, day after day, it's been proved over and over again—

WHERE TRAFFIC LAWS ARE OBEYED – DEATHS GO DOWN!

Five 166th Infantry Guard Units Assigned To Sullivant-av Armory

The troops are moving West this week . . . 360 officers and men of the 166th Infantry Regiment, Ohio National Guard, are changing their base of operations from Ft. Hayes to the new Sullivant Avenue Armory at 4094 W. Sullivant-av.

Five units, all part of a regiment of 20 units this week received orders for transfer from Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, state adjutant general. The 166th returned Sunday from a two-week summer training stint at Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

Their new $400,000 home has just been completed. Financed by 75 per cent federal and 25 per cent state money, it was started July 15, 1957. A formal public dedication is planned sometime this fall, after all equipment and offices have been established.

Units Identified

The adjutant general's office said the following units will make up the full complement of the armory under Lt. Col. Joseph E. Tritschler, commander of the First Battalion:

• Headquarters, 166th Regiment — commanded by Capt. Fred R. Immelt, Templeton-rd.

• Headquarters company, First Battalion — Capt. William C. Shaffer, 2039 Denune-av. (Capt. Shaffer is the son of Carl E. Shaffer, 79 N. Westgate-av. He is a 1945 graduate of West High and is employed by Bell Telephone Co.)

• Company A — Capt. Hugh E. Clements, 979 Lockbourne-rd.

• Service Company — Capt. Carlos W. Guisinger, 1404 W. Third-st (who is also assistant superintendent of the Ohio State Arsenal.)

• Medical company — Maj. Robert A. Vogel, Marengo, O.

Remaining units of the 166th are scattered in cities mainly in Southeastern Ohio. Infantry regiment headquarters will remain at Ft. Hayes under Col. Oliver H. Gibson.

The Sullivant-av armory has facilities to serve a wide range of military and civic activities, said Maj. Joseph E. McCann of the AJ office. Among these are offices on two floors, convertible classrooms, kitchen, indoor small arms rifle range of four firing points, 75 by 115 foot drill floor (suitable also for gym or dancing), several supply rooms complete with dehumidifying vaults, and a spacious parking lot.

For Public Use Too

"The armory should be a valuable asset to the community," said Maj. McCann. "As soon as guard training schedules are worked out we should be able to offer the facilities to a number of civilian groups. Scouts, a young marksmen's club, flower clubs and many others will be able to engage the armory at nominal cost. A board of representatives from each military unit will decide on such policies. Warrent Officer Walter "Donough, administrative assistant, will keep regular office hours in the building and receive the public.

At present the 166th units are drilling four nights a week. This may be cut back to three because of increased space, McCann said.

The armory will be storehouse for much equipment, including personal clothing, bedding and mess items for all the men. Heavier materiel will include radios, individual arms, recoilless rifles, office furniture and administrative vehicles which will be parked in a fenced enclosure.

Sharp Notes South Side Business

By Tom Sharp

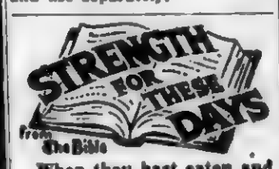
B. F. Goodrich, at 1942 Parsons-av is preparing for a huge fall promotion in which everyone will be interested, said Walt Haines, manager. Watch for it in this paper.

SOUTH SIDE Business and Industrial Association will have its annual auction sale this coming month and items are needed. If you have some merchandise you might call HI. 4-9962 and arrange for someone to pick it up. All monies raised this way are spent on community projects.

ROGERS TOY SHOPS, Great Southern Shopping Center, are featuring two new characters in their ads. Pete and Repeat, two babies will feature the merchandise from this wonderland of toys and baby furniture.

THURMAN-JAEGER Hardware will announce the features of the Grand Opening to be held Sept. 6 in next week's issue of this paper.

WHITACRE FLOWERS, 158 Southwood, have completed their three new green houses and in the near future will have suitable ceremonies for the dedication.



JEWISH CENTER BOWLING LANES, at 1125 College-av have announced that they still have room for the public in open bowling on Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons. They feature the AMF automatic pinspotters with bowling around the clock. Another service of the new lanes is free baby sitting service.

SLOAN'S DRUGS, corner of Whittier and Parsons, is a member of the advertising family of the Leader now. Check the ad in this issue.

SICK LIST OF MERCHANTS, back from hospital checkup is Dave Wood of Woods Marathon. Also Bill Rau of Raus Garage after having an operation. Ruth Hoermle, wife of Howard, is home from an operation. Howard owns Howard's Sales and Service.

Use Separately

Half hams may be the butt half or the shank half. Center slices are on the half ham, and it is possible to remove them and use separately.

When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee. —(Deuteronomy 8, 10.)

These words of Moses apply as much to us today as they did to the Israelites after he led them to freedom from captivity in Egypt. Surely we have been given a land of freedom and plenty. Surely we should give thanks for it.

Walter Newcamp Supports Free Auto Safety Checkup

Nearly every car on the road needs immediate attention to some faulty mechanical condition affecting safe driving.

That is th conclusion being reached by service departments of dealers and stores of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. in studying records they are compiling during their nationwide program of free car safety inspections for all motorists.

Walter Newcamp, Firestone dealer at 1635 E. Livingston, has been advised of the findings in this national program and his experience locally supports the conclusion.

Thousands of cars are being inspected each day by Firestone dealers and stores in a continuing campaign to help motorists keep their vehicles in safe driving condition. With the theme, "Your Safety Is Our Business at Firestone," the firm has for many years taken a deep interest in all programs promoting safety on the highway. The current inspection program is an outgrowth of that interest, according to E. B. Hathaway, vice president in charge of trade sales.

Service departments of the dealers and stores check 15 items which could affect the safe driving condition of the car.

With greatly increased driving on thruways and turnpikes at high speeds it becomes more important than ever for motorists to have their cars safety-inspected at regular intervals.

Carroll Bustles Again For Centennial Fete

Congratulations to our neighboring community, Carroll, O., which celebrates its first 100 years of existence next week

Carroll, once a hustling, bustling town where the Hocking and Erie Canals joined, probably hasn't seen such excitement and activity as the centennial fete will bring since those days of the rough spoken canal-men and their activities in the taverns and the bars which once dotted the village.

Don Clum, centennial chairman, reports that entries are pouring in for the Centennial Queen Contest. Presentation of the winning candidate will be made during a special coronation ceremony Friday, Sept. 12.

Clum said that beards of the local menfolk are growing bushier and more luxuriant every day. Unless a special license is purchased, Carroll men without beards will be subjected to the dubious justice of kangaroo courts once the celebration gets underway.

At least 10 high school bands will be on hand to lend music and rhythm to the happenings, an amateur show, a magician, dancing in the streets and park, community chicken dinners, and a midway with all the rides will also liven things

Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12, firemen from surrounding firehouses will join in a spectacular water fight, after which centennial spokesmen opine there won't be a dry spot left in town.

Earlier in the day all midway rides will be reduced to half rates for Carroll's youngsters.

Climaxing the entire celebration will be fireworks display, such as has never been seen around these parts. It is slated to start at 11:30 Saturday night.

The schedule of events for the four day affair follows:

Wednesday, Sept. 10

4:30 p.m. — Old-fashioned chicken dinner at the Methodist Church.

7:00 — Band parade (featuring county bands)

8:00 — Dancing in the streets beside the village park (streets will be roped off).

Midwest Amusement Co. rides will also be in operation during the day and evening.

Thursday, Sept. 11

6:30 — Registration for the horseshoe pitching contest.

8:00 — Amateur show.

Friday, Sept. 12

7:00 — Presentation (coronation) of the centennial queen

9:00—Terry, Master of Magic performs his astounding repertoire in the park

Saturday, Sept. 13

1:00 — Grand parade, with bands, horses, etc

2:00-4:00 — Kiddies' matinee on the midway (all rides half price).

4:00 — Firemen's water fight (involving county firehouses)

4:30 — Chicken barbecue served by Garden and Lions Clubs at park.

6:00 — Horseshoe pitching finals.

7:30 — Beard-judging contest.

9:00 — Dog-patchers at village park (hillbilly singers).

11:30 — Fireworks.

Subscriber Wins 'Cash' In $ Game

One sharp-eyed subscriber of Hartley Newspapers found cashing in on our "Confederate" money game just as easy as we promised last week

Jim Schmidt, 989 Carpenter-st, spotted a lucky $1 insignia in his copy of the newspaper and returned it for a crisp, new "Confederate" bill.

Nine other subscribers, receiving newspapers with $1 insignia, and one whose copy contained the big jackpot insignia, failed to notice the valuable emblem

Value of the jackpot insignia in today's issue zooms to a high $50. The usual ten $1 insignia are also printed on ads in ten other copies of the newspaper.

All merchants, whose ads appear in the current issue, will accept "Confederate" currency in payment for any merchandise in their stores.

Those subscribers finding an insignia, may exchange the entire copy at South Side Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av, before Friday, 5 p.m

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" currency.

HEADING FOR A NEW EXPERIENCE—Jane Ann Fluhart, left, and Debbie Smith, walked hand-in-hand yesterday as they started into the first grade at Lincoln Park Elementary School. The girls were more than cheerful as they faced the new experience of education. Jane Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fluhart, of 520 E. Morrill. Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith of 529 E. Morrill.

Mrs. R. Mahley Appointed CRC Local Chairman

Mrs. Richard Mahley, 570 Reinhard av, has been named division chairman by the Council for Retarded Children, to conduct the November "Light a Life" campaign in the south and southeast sections of Columbus.

This is the second year the campaign leader has participated in the CRC drive for funds to educate mentally retarded youngsters in Franklin County. She is also a member of Arc 9, which supports further aid to various facilities which help train mentally retarded children who have suffered injuries or illnesses either before, during or after birth

The drive this November will be the third annual door-to-door campaign sponsored by the CRC. This year the drive has been declared especially important since a fire at the Mt. Vernon Avenue School last January forced the pupils into temporary quarters.

The 14 classrooms this year will be held at the Indianola Presbyterian and Indianola Methodist Churches.

BIG BUSINESS RESUMES

South Side Children Returning To 'Work'

Schools all over the city yesterday rolled out the carpet to thousands of new or returning students. In the South Side, most of the children seemed eager to continue the business of education.

Admittedly, a few were reluctant to relinquish the easy life of summertime. There are always some students who start looking forward to the Thanksgiving school holiday right after Labor Day!

The enrollment returns aren't in yet but most schools in the area are expecting to set new highs in pupil population. Last minute registrations will probably continue through Friday. However, school order and schedule should be well under way by Monday.

Director To Fight For Better Parks

Walter Tucker, executive director of the Columbus Metropolitan Park District, is a gentle, sensitive man with a willingness to wage a three-fisted attack in support of dedicated community services.

At the moment, he is winning a moderate victory in an often defeated program to build new conservancy parks, such as the Blacklick Creek Park, in an area convenient to South Side Columbus and Franklin County families.

Ground was recently broken for the New Darby Creek Reservation (110 acres) on Koebel Suydam-rd near Alkire-rd. Parking areas and roads will go in this fall and winter, play areas may be ready by late next summer.

The project will progress piece-meal as quickly as "sugar-bowl" financing will permit, Tucker has said.

"We will spend money saved from the operating budgets originally allotted to Blacklick and Blendon Woods Parks," he said.

Tucker is frequently called upon by Franklin County community groups, and the press to make indoor accounting of outdoor things achieved (Blacklick and Blendon) and hoped for (planned but not promised) by the Columbus Metropolitan Park authority.

Kiwanis, whose multiple objectives are primarily geared for youth activities, also shares Tucker's interest in a "place" where youth activities can be carried out in the "unspoiled" outdoors.

Southern Kiwanis heard the Tucker report last week It described: (1) the values and benefits derived by conserving natural lands for recreation and education; (2) the history of defeat by voters of fund raising levies, and (3) the neglected park development which has made Columbus a "poor relative" to neighboring cities.

The new Darby Creek Reservation is just one improvement planned and hoped for when a survey of possible sites was made in South Franklin County a few years ago, Tucker said. It is the first real development in more than 10 years

Washington EUB Groups To Hold Fall Style Show

Mrs Lloyd Wright president of CSG 2 of Washington Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, announces that CSG 1 and 2 and the WSWS will sponsor a style show Thursday, Sept. 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the church. Robinson's of Great Southern Shopping Center will provide the fashions.

SOUTH GETS A "MOUTHPIECE"—In terms of the underworld, a "mouthpiece" is a lawyer, however, South High School's football players are getting a different kind of mouthpiece protection. Through the combined efforts of local dentists, Optimist Club of South Columbus, South Branch YMCA and South High faculty, each player will receive a specially fitted latex mouth protector. Here are scenes taken last Friday in South's gym when dentists, assisted by Optimists, took mouth impressions of each member of the team.

Dentists, Optimists And The 'Y' Aid South's Football Team

South Side dentists, the Optimist Club of South Columbus, the South Branch YMCA and the faculty of South High School combined efforts this week to bring a new first to South's football team

The dentists and representatives of the above mentioned organizations are working together to provide mouth protectors for South's varsity and reserve football squads This is the first time a community service of this type has been provided for any public school in Columbus according to a South "Y" spokesman

Representatives of each group met in the South High gym Friday evening to make mouth impressions of 67 of the football players. Approximately 30 more impressions will be made later this week

Each dentist was assisted by a member of the local Optimist Club while the school's faculty members prepared the boys for the impressions. All materials are being supplied by the Optimist Club

Dr William D Heintz of the Ohio State University College of Dentistry is assisting in the project

Dentists who participated Friday include Dr. Carl Fillinger Dr Robert Fillinger, Dr Henry Arbaugh, Dr. Carson E. Coss, Dr Russell C. Lieberman, Dr Don Shusterman, Dr. Howard A. Laile, and Dr. Andrew H Imhoff, of the Columbus Health Department. Drs. William Close, R. L. Thorpe and M. B Thorpe, have also offered their services to the project

Cooperating from the school were Principal H Delbert Swain, Robert Duncan, head coach; Richard Kate, athletics manager, Marty Noel, head team manager, and Michael Debus assistant manager

Volunteer Optimist members met at South Tuesday evening to apply the first coat of latex to the plaster-like mouth casts to form the protectors. The members will work through tomorrow evening applying second, third and fourth coats of latex to the mouthpieces.

South football players will receive the completed protectors Monday and will get specialized fitting if necessary Then the team should be ready for a really good season

Principal Swain said, "we are grateful to all the men for this service. It is certainly a kind gesture on the part of the dentists and the Optimist Club members to give their time and money to provide this terrific safety factor for our team It would not have been possible without them."

A Few Tips . . . . . For Our Aides

Would you like to be one of the Leader's "star" reporters? If you are planning to supply this newspaper wth any news stories, club, church or school publicity or social items, the following tips will help you receive prompt and proper South Side Coverage.

All copy should carry a telephone number where a Leader staff member may obtain further information if necessary

News should be typed and doubled spaced. If typing is not convenient, handwriting should be clear and easily read, allowing sufficient space between lines for any corrections

Be sure to cover the who, when, where, why and how of every news story or publicity plug

Do not abbreviate names of organizations and groups with the exceptions of PTA, WSCS, MYF and other groups

Always give a person's full name: Mrs John Jones, not Mrs. J Jones or Mrs Jones

Deadlines

All school and church copy should be in the Leader office by Monday noon of the week of desired printing Other copy should be turned in no later than Tuesday noon Stories sent in early will receive more careful and specalized attention

Pictures

Either negatives or good glossy prints will be accepted. Pictures for the coming issue will not be accepted after Saturday noon

Photographs to be taken by our photographer may be scheduled for Thursday or Friday, between 10 a m and 4 p. m, and on Saturday between 10 a m. and 2 p m

Call at least one week in advance to have a picture taken Remember, three or four representatives of a group or activity can tell the story much better than a "mob scene"

Weddings

We are especially interested in the engagements and weddings of our South Side residents. We will gladly print free your wedding picture and story. Stop in to our office for a wedding information blank. All pictures may be picked up after publication. For further information call HI. 4-9262.

St. Paul Groups Plan Full Slate

The month of September will be an active one for groups of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 322 Stewart-av. The following special events have been planned:

The Altar Guild will hold its bi-monthly meeting Friday, Sept 5, at 8 a.m. Plans will be discussed for a special social meeting to be held in October.

Afternoon Women's Guild will meet Tuesday, Sept 9, at the Hughey-Baldwin Farm on E. Livingston-av, near Blacklick Woods. Mrs. Michael Farr, Jr., will present the discussion topic, "Going into Africa."

Evening Women's Guild will meet Friday, Sept. 12, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Lang, 1156 Bulen-av. The topic will be presented by Mrs. Richard Poenisch, and there will be a film strip on Ethiopia.

St. Paul's Brotherhood will hold its annual wiener roast with the Boy Scouts as guests at the Southeastern Conservation Club on Hart-rd, Tuesday, Sept. 16. Meet at the church at 6 p.m. Further information may be obtained from Norman Volz, president, at BE. 5-6380.

Homemakers can count on canning 18-24 quarts or freezing 36-48 pints from a bushel of peaches.

Trudeau Guilds, along with all other organizations, will once again get into high gear now that the month of September is the featured month. Guilds 10 and 25 are two that will be meeting next Wednesday, Sept. 10. Guild 10 will be meeting at 328 Frebis-av, home of Mrs. Glenn Buller. Guild 25 members will be doing a little traveling to 581 Bulen-av, home of Mrs. Mayes. Mrs. Messer will assist the hostess.

All guilds are participating in the Get Acquainted Tea, on Sunday, Sept 7 in the home of Mrs. Jesse Diday, 2889 Mountview-av. Members of the executive council will be hostesses for the 2-5 p.m. affair. Mrs. Howard Merritt, 384 Reinhard-av, is president of the county-wide organization.

Next PVA meeting of Orient Institute will be held Sunday, Sept. 7, at Kirk Hall in the school building. A half-hour trustees meeting will precede the 2 p.m. general meeting.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Myers, 1098 Miller-av, who will be celebrating 50 years of wedded life on Sept. 7. An open house from 2 to 5 p.m. will mark the event. Helping them to celebrate will be their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Myers, two grandchildren and Mrs. Luther Eagleston, of Los Angeles. The Californian, a sister of Mrs. Myers, was a bridesmaid in the half-century-ago ceremony.

Even tho you may not know this ailing lady, we'd deem it a personal favor if you'd send a card to her. Mary Weisenberger, 284 Southwood-av, is in room 106, White Cross Hospital with a badly infected leg, so may have a little stay.

The above mentioned Elenor Mayes, 581 Bulen-av, must be having an "entertain my South Side friends week," for in addition to being hostess for Trudeau 25, she will be the hostess tonight for a household shower for Sharon Crary Naegele, who resided at 256 Deshler-av until a short time ago.

Hearing this item saddened us considerably, as it must do so many South Siders. The sadness was occasioned by learning of the too-young demise of Marian Becker Smith, whom we reported as ill last week. Marian was only 34. She had made her home in Hanover, Pa., in recent years.

Back-to-school birthdays are these: Brenda Blythe, 64 E. Woodrow-av, Sept. 6; Debra Kay Dailey, 1732 Bruck-st, Sept. 6; Barbara Ann Haven, 372 Sheldon, Sept. 7; Diana Maynard, 1664 Bruck-st, Sept. 5. Stephen Fejes, 269 Markison-av, Sept. 8; Robert Hoderfield, 263 E. Jenkins, Sept. 5; Raymond Jordan, 66 Reeb-av, Sept. 7; Janice Prater, 373 Southwood, Sept. 4; George Shively, 1752 S. Sixth-st, Sept. 4; William Gaulke, 1267 City Park-av, Sept. 10 and John Curry, 1695 S. Pearl-st, Sept. 8.

Congratulations to newlyweds, Jill and Mike Hoover, who exchanged their vows on July 19. Mrs. Hoover is the former Jill Dean, of 33 E. Jenkins-av. The young couple is now residing at 698 Stewart-av.

Had a nice long phone chat with Marge Grissom, Basswood-rd, last week, so gleaned some news for this week's endeavor. We discovered that Gary Grissom was now in the Navy, stationed in San Diego. He's been there since Aug. 14. The youngest boy, Stevie, had on Aug. 19 birthday and Harlan and Marge celebrated their anniversary on Aug. 29. The family spent a week visiting relatives in Illinois, from Aug. 14 to 21. (I'm going to be sunk if phono-vision ever gets widespread!)

Miss Ohio State Fair's name shold have rung a bell with South High graduates of twenty-five years ago. Jackie McQuaid was the lovely mystery lass, and her dad is Jack McQuaid, who was a fine athlete at the Ann-st school. The McQuaids now live in Whitehall.

The Bush family, 2091 Studer-av, had a nice vacation, for they travelled to Florida. Another, spot of interest for them was travelling in the Smokies.

The family of Priscilla Dicke travelled to Lakeside, Ohio on Labor Day to get the 1411 S. Sixth-st resident, so the South High co-ed could return in time for school's opening yesterday. "Sis" was working at the Lake Erie resort for the summer. Don Dicke, enjoying a week's vacation between his summer job at the Ohio State Fairgrounds and the resumption of classes at Capital University, is spending Sept. 4-5-6 at Round Lake, Christian Church Camp.

Two new little ones on our street, and we've not seen either one yet, but we will! The very youngest S. Sixth-st resident is Master Key, son of Jim and Shirley Key, born in White Cross Hospital on Aug. 25. The Keys reside at 1420 S. Sixth-st. Brenda Sue Cook is not home from White Cross yet, as she's still a three pounder, so isn't ready for life outside her incubator. She is the daughter of Ron and Marie Cook, 1413 S. Sixth-st.

Belated birthday greetings to Dick Rothwell, 140 E. Morrill-av, who attained his fifteenth year on Aug. 27.

September continues as a close competition of June's in the ranks of those contemplating marriage, so congratulations are in order for these young folks . . . Linda May Mithoff, 316 Stockridge-rd, and Eldridge Fann, Clinton, N.C. Miss Mithoff, a South High graduate, will exchange her vows with Mr. Fann, Sept. 6, in Oakwood Methodist Church. Miss Nancy Lou Krause, 578 E. Gates-st, will become Mrs. Donald Jones in the Thurman Avenue Methodist Church, also on Sept. 6. Miss Krause is a South High graduate, while her husband-to-be received his high school diploma in Tomahawk, Wisconsin. A Central High graduate, Sharon Lou Jackson, 427 Siebert-st, has also chosen Sept. 6 to exchange her vows with her fiancee, Rex Thomas, 1065 Sullivant-av. The wedding will take place in the Miller Avenue EUB Church.

Southwood PTA executive board will meet this afternoon at 1:30 p.m., Mrs. Dora Dayton presiding.

Carol McGarvey of 280 E. Deshler-av, had a surprise birthday party for Judy Salser, who celebrated her 11th year last week. Guests were entertained in the back yard with the new fascinating hoop tricks by Linda Spaniol.

Attending were Linda Spaniol, Diana Lausch, Anne George, Mrs. Frank McGarvey and Mrs. Donald Salser.

Mrs. W. F. Minor of 1155 Heyl-av, will celebrate her 67th birthday Saturday, Sept. 13, and would appreciate greetings from friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton 1522 Wager-st, and their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Toth and children, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Krouse and children and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton and son; Mrs. Hamilton's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Buchanan; and John Hamilton, David Hamilton's son of Columbus, all journeyed to Ottawa, O., this past week-end. The trip was a combination surprise house warming for David Hamilton and a celebration of the sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Krouse.

CLUB TO MEET

The Social Club of Achbar Auxiliary will meet Friday, Sept. 5, in Dorst Hall of the Central YMCA. Luncheon at 12:30 and business meeting at 1:30. All Prophets' wives and friends are invited.

'More Slum Replacement Ahead' Says W. Morrison

Wilbur H. Morrison, secretary-treasurer of Main Federal Savings and Loan Association, 24 E. Main-st and 891 S. James-rd, makes the following observations and predictions, based on the recent Ohio Savings and Loan Academy sessions at Granville.

To be expected over the next several years are: more public and slum replacement housing; a reduced level of housing starts for five or six years due to a relative lull in family formations; a slight shift from single family houses to multi-family units.

Factors in the reduced level of housing starts are the current production of 150,000 trailer homes annually and the need for a trade-in system whereby a home owner may step up to a better home more easily than is possible today.

The revolution in savings habits continues. In addition to saving for emergencies more and more people are using savings accounts for special, quickly enjoyable pleasures, such as vacations, new appliances, and home improvements.

A vast backlog of savings kept the 1957-58 recession to less than a year's duration by helping provide cash for an increase of $25 billion for overall consumption in 1958 over 1955 while the consumption for high priced durables dropped $6 billion.

Spending for food, clothes, travel and recreation kept nonmanufacturing employment at high level. The problem of the next five years is one of balance in the many lines of production that make up our economy. Capacity for production is high enough in most lines. Competition promises to be sharp indeed until the stimulus of increased new family formations in 1962-63 sets off another big boom.

Auditor Asks Legal Aid On Twp. Monies

City Auditor John H. Price asked city attorney's office last Friday to assign a lawyer to the county prosecutor in an effort to expedite action on the $123,000 former Marion-tp Clerk Arthur Becker is withholding from the city of Columbus.

Columbus annexed Marion Twp. last year, with the exception of Hanford Village. Becker reported some of the money involved was in a firemen's pension fund, and that some of the firemen joined the Columbus fire-fighting system while others did not.

Price is reported to have said that most of the money should rightfully belong to Columbus now that the township is part of the city.

Local Home Vandalism Is Blamed On Children

Tuesday afternoon vandalism at the home of Mrs. Hoyt Baker, of 46 E. Jenkins-av, has been blamed on a 16-year-old girl and a nine-year-old boy, according ot police.

The children upset lamps, broke a television antenna, tore down window blinds, upset a cabinet of food, broke dishes, poured groceries on the floor and then poured vinegar and molasses on the food, said police.

Two South Side boys and a 13-year-old girl stood outside while the riotous action took place. They were ordered into the Juvenile Bureau yesterday.

tion of a series of family-picnic type shelters, at least two all-weather shelters where group activities may be carried out year around, abundant grills, a "trading post," games and play areas, sanitary facilities, and trails where natural wild life and wild game can be observed and studied.

The primary objectives of parks of this kind has changed somewhat during the years, Tucker said. Week-end and vacation leisure by families has made camping areas proportionately more popular. The dynamic economy and changing face of large cities is related to unharnessed idle energy — to bad driving, more drinking, and laziness.

Tranquility, solitude, activities such as bird watching and photography, and programmed games, all must be given suitable place in naturally conserved areas near homes.

The right hand of Tucker's thesis speaks of a reservation where wildlife — plant and animal—can exist side by side with fun and education.

The left hand admits defeat: three levies, in 1949, 1951, 1957. Each was promised as a fund raising means to buy more acreage; each was defeated despite warnings that "too late" threatened.

We are fast running out of areas worth preserving, Tucker has said frequently. What few naturally wooded areas remain may soon feel the bite of bulldozers as housing and industry preempt rights to land near cities.

What we have is probably already inadequate, he warned. Most land was acquired more than 20 years ago. Franklin County has 489 acres conserved in two parks. Twelve million visits were logged last year. Overuse tends to destroy what we already have, he said.

The third barrel in Tucker's conservancy gun is simply this: "Many a great landscape has in its beauty the seeds of destruction." The growing need of school children and families for "more" room has burdened what is already there. Scheduled tours of Blacklick and Blendon must often be booked far in advance.

Cleveland has 14,200 acres already conserved or bought; Akron has 3000, Cincinnati has 4800, and Toledo has 4000; Franklin County's total acreage is the 489 acres in two parks plus the 110 acres in the new Darby Creek Reservation. (This is exclusive of the Scioto River and Big Walnut stream-sides which have been developed essentially as play areas).

Power dams, oil fields, farms, homes and industry, doubtlessly necessary, also pose a kind of competition with the "green pastures of the human spirit," Tucker said.

The free landscape, the conservation of the "unspoiled place," is his three fisted plea.

Woman Burned By Clothes Pole Electric Shock

A South Side woman attracted police aid last Wednesday by her screams when she was held by shock to an electrified clothes pole, according to police.

Mrs. Judith Bennett, 18, of 637 Thurman-av, the victim, was taken to Mercy Hospital where she was treated for second and third degree burns of the right hand. She was released later that day.

Passersby pulled Mrs. Bennett from the pole just before Patrolmen Irvin Hicks and Joseph Sears arrived. The officers were checking a house nearby.

Police said a 110-volt line leading to the house and attached to the pole became worn and apparently poured current into the pole. Mrs. Bennett said she had reported the faulty line to the electric company.

Senior Citizens May Have New Center By Next Year

A new Senior Citizens' center heads the list of projects proposed by the city's Recreation Commission last week.

The new facility for the aged would be built in the Sunshine Park area next year, according to Nick Barack, recreation superintendent.

The center would be part of a 342-unit public housing project for aged people. It would serve apartment residents and the public, as well, replacing old Memorial Hall headquarters now used by Golden Agers. Money for the project would come from City Council-voted bonds.

Also proposed for 1959 are a new heating plant at Glenwood Recreation Center and a new ceiling for Sunshine Recreation Center. Funds for these are available.

Future projects include: new recreation center and swimming pool in Westgate Park, new swimming pool at Sunshine, and establishment of a day camp at Southview Park. Barack explained that these projects would be financed by a public-voted bond issue.

Runaway Youth To Escape Local Police Charges

Runaway youngster, Gilman Roger Clark, who left a kidnap note and borrowed the family car last Monday, will not face charges, according to an announcement by police last Thursday.

Gilman, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark, 735 Reinhard-av, fell asleep and smashed his parents' car on the West Virginia Turnpike near Beckley, W. Va. He was not hurt seriously.

Despite the fact the youth was driving without a license and was charged a runaway, police have decided to pass off the incident as a family affair.

The boy appeared before a Beckley Juvenile Court judge, who released him to his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Clark did not wish to press auto theft charges against their son. The child has no previous police record.

Commissioners Give Okay On 'One-Ways'

City Traffic Commissioners met Tuesday and approved the first phase of the proposed one way street system for the South Side which will go into effect within the next 30 days.

The new system will effect 11 streets south of Thurman-av between S. High-st and Par-sons-av.

Commissioners also decided that the left turn ban and the 4 to 6 parking ban on the west side of Parsons-av will both go into effect within the next 30 days. Both issues were approved six months ago but were stalled to accomodate South Side merchants.

The following streets will become one-way between S. High-st and Parsons-av: Mithoff-st, east; Gates-st, west; Moler, west; Jenkins, east; Southwood, west; Markison, east; Welch, west; Morrill, east; Woodrow, west; Innis, east; and Reeb, west.

Traffic Commissioner Otto Meier said Sheldon, Frebis and Hinman will not be changed because they are not suitable for the one way system. However, he said a survey will be made of these streets to study the need for parking bans on one side.

As soon as the necessary one way signs are available, the new system will be installed on the scheduled streets. The work will be done on a weekend and all 11 streets will become one way on an announced Monday morning.

One-Way Right-of-Way

Motorists often feel when traveling a one way street they have the right of way over all traffic from intersecting streets. Not so, said commissioners. To avoid accidents when the one way system begins in the South Side, here is a slight review of the right-of-way law.

When driving on a one-way street, the motorist must yield to the motorist approaching from his right at all unsignalized intersections. However, he has the right of way if the intersecting street is posted with either a "Stop" or "Yield Right of Way" sign. Remember, one way streets are not expressways — so slow down at intersections.

All signalized intersections on Parsons-av, with the exception of Mound and Fulton-sts, will have left turn bans affected within the next month. The left turn bans will go into effect at approximately the same time of the one way streets.

An additional change for motorists to be affected at about the same time, will be the 4 to 6 parking ban on the west side of Parsons. The Leader will announce changeover dates as soon as possible.

COMIN' OR GOIN' there will be a street for you when the new one-way system goes into effect on the South Side in the next 30 days. Here are the streets to be changed and their direction. The date of the one-way switch-over will be announced later.

City Officials Attend CSSO's Elections

Howard Henry

An illustrious group of city officials reviewed some promising improvements for the South Side last Thursday evening when the Council of South Side Organizations held its annual chicken and corn dinner and election of officers.

The meeting, held at South "Y" Park, boasted 38 members and 17 guests. Rev. Paul C. Kaefer gave the invocation.

City administrators included Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner; Nick Barack, head of the City Recreation Department; Jack Gallagher, assistant traffic engineer; Floyd Redick, Service Director; Walter Strickfaden, Fire Chief; Ottor Meier, Traffic Commissioner; Bob Tucker, Division of Electricity; Ray Dietz, superintendent of Parks and Forestry; Russell Leach, City Attorney; Wesley Llewelyn, president of City Council; Councilman Bob Smith, chairman of Finance Committee; and Councilman Fred Shoemaker.

Henry Is New Head

Following a "Happy Birthday" serenade to Miles "Cap" Hoover, the election of officers was held. The results are: Howard Henry named as new chairman of CSSO replacing Jerry Feddersen; C. D. Lowery, first vice chairman; Lyle Cameron, second vice chairman; Jim Wagner, secretary; How-

South Side Settlement Plans Program 'Spark'

The South Side Settlement House is making preparations to meet the needs of the South Side. A working scheme is being drawn up to cooperate with other agencies in the South Side to offer fuller services to its members, said Mrs. Keith Wilson, of the center's Girls' Department.

A staff of new and old employees plus volunteers from all parts of the city should give the program spark, she added.

Many new activities along with successful groups of the past will begin on Oct. 6.

Some of the most exciting of these will be new adult courses. In the mornings parents whose children are in nursery or day school will be occupied with ceramics, sewing, cooking and many other fields of interest. There will also be evening courses for adults.

The nursery group for three and four year olds will meet as usual Monday through Friday, 9 to 12 a.m. Activities for the youngsters will be put into effect by the new Nursery Director, Miss Roberta Woodrow, a recent graduate of National College, Kansas City, Mo.

Children from five to nine years of age will meet as last year on Monday and Tuesday while children 10 through 12 years of age will meet on Thursday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5. New craft projects, gym activity, games, sewing and cooking clubs will keep the children well occupied. On Wednesday afternoons all of the members will be welcome for movies and special events.

The evening activities for teen agers and adults will offer club groups of real interest to its members. Woodcarving,

Maree Social Club Will Hold Luncheon-Meeting

The Maree Social Club of Southern Way Chapter 487, OES, will meet at the South Gate Masonic Temple, 850 Studer-av, Thursday, Sept. 18, at 12:30 p.m. for a luncheon meeting.

The 1958 Line Officers are the hostesses. Mrs. John Tilton will preside at the business meeting at 1:30 p.m.

Merchants Hold Auction Next Week

The annual auction sponsored by the South Side Business and Industrial Association will be held at 6 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18, at Schottenstein's Parking lot.

Merchants are inviting all South Siders to join this civic project by donating any unwanted but usable articles for the sale. Money will be used by the association to conduct various civic enterprises throughout the South Side.

As a new auction feature, a local church group will provide refreshments and food items for sale.

Donations will be picked up by calling HI. 3-6504, or by contacting these committeemen: George Horvath, Bob Horowitz, Bill Bighouse, Howard Storch, Tony Rappold, Jess Beard, Tom Sharp or Howard Hoermle. The public is invited to come and look over the bargains to be offered at the auction.

Films Of Jamaica Set For Livingston Guild

Mrs. Janet Lauterbach will be the guest speaker for the Lydia Wesleyan Service Guild of Livingston Methodist Church at the next meeting, slated for Tuesday, Sept. 16.

Her topic will be the religion and customs of Jamaica. She will show movies to illustrate her talk. All women welcome to attend.

Dr. Abbott graduated in 1900 from the Ohio Medical University and maintained offices at Mound, and High-sts for more than 30 years and then had offices at the S. High-st address.

TWO COLLECT LAST WEEK . . .

$55 Awaiting Subscriber

Fifty-five dollars in "Confederate" currency is free for finding to some lucky subscriber of South Side Leader this week.

Value of the big, jackpot insignia, undetected for several weeks, has risen steadily in value to its present $55 mark. Ten smaller insignia, each worth one "Confederate" bill, are also placed in ten other copies of this issue.

Mrs. Charles Grinstead, 135 E. Whittier and Mrs. Leroy J. Hettler, 964 Lawrence-dr, spotted $1 insignia in their copies of the South Side Leader and exchanged them for "Confederate" dollars. Eight others, whose copies contained $1 insignia and one with the jackpot insignia, missed their opportunity.

Always in plain view on an ad, insignia are printed in brightly colored ink.

Advertisers appearing in the current issue of the newspaper will always accept "Confederate" currency in payment for any merchandise in their stores.

South High School Adds Five Faculty Members This Year

Students returning to South High School this year have discovered five new faces in the teaching staff. The new faculty members already seemed to be in agreement on their job happiness at South.

Coming from local and other Ohio colleges and universities, their education and experience backgrounds are as follows.

Mrs. Marcia Wolfe Richards is no stranger to South. Her father in law, R. C. Richards, retired in June after 40 years of teaching at South. She is married to William A. Richards attorney, and resides at 2861 Neil-av.

She received an AB degree from Ohio Northern University and an LLB from Franklin University. She was admitted to the practice of law in Ohio in 1956.

Mrs. Richards was formerly in the legal department of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.; law clerk with the law firm of Smith, Clark and Holzapfel; and executive secretary of the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce.

John W. Keller, of 962 E. Gates, is a 1952 graduate of Ohio State University. He has attended Urbana Junior College and East Central State Teachers College. He was a captain in the USAF Reserves during World War II and a member of the "Buckeye Wing" of Clinton Co. AFB, O. as a pilot.

Mr. Keller has taught six and a half years in Jackson Township School, Pickaway County. He will be teaching math and science at South.

William Sites, of 2003 Minnesota-av, taught two years at Marion-Harding High School, Marion, before coming to South where he teaches bookkeeping and business arithmetic.

Prior to teaching, he worked for the Jeffrey Manufacturing Co. and the Ohio National Bank in Columbus. He served in the United States Navy during World War II.

He graduated from Otterbein College in 1956 where he received a BS degree in Education. For the past two summers, he has attended graduate school at Ohio State University.

William Womack, of 915 S. Champion-av, is a native of Nashville, Tenn. He is teaching four classes of Chemistry at South which is his first teaching job.

He is a 1958 graduate of George Peabody College for Teachers where he majored in Chemistry, receiving his BS degree.

Howard B. Drake, of 715 Waverly-st, is a graduate of West High School and Ohio State University. He has also attended Capital University.

He taught in Groveport between 1940 and 1942. He followed this with a three year stint in the USAAF during World War II. He taught in Gahanna between 1946 and 1955 and was in industrial management between 1956 and 1958.

'Bulldogs' Held Scoreless In Preview At North High

By Marty Noel

The Duncan-coached South squad sat idle the first quarter and saw the Aquinas Terriers down North 6 to 0. In the second period the Bulldogs received from Central and on the opening kickoff a Blue and Gray fumble was covered by Central deep in South's territory. However, an offside penalty saved the day. South received again and this time held the ball for four downs and were forced to punt.

Fine defensive line play and a pass interception by Wayne Ocker stopped the Pirates cold and again South was on the offensive. The end of the period found the Rebels on the Pirate nine yard line as the result of a pass from halfback Bob Goodwin to Tom Bolen, another halfback. No score was made by either team, though Central bested South 3 to 1 on first downs.

As the Bulldogs rested during the third quarter they saw their recent rivals, Central, tramp out all hopes of victory for Aquinas by downing the Terriers 6 to 0.

Again in the final period the Bulldogs took the field, hoping for victory. Their opponents, the North High Polar Bears, shoved them all over the field and scored in the closing minutes of the period to top South 8 to 0.

The touchdown play featured Dave Reid as he galloped untouched for 21 yards to paydirt. The extra point attempt was a run play which was good and it ended the scoring for the night.

The Bulldogs took the North kick and started to march goalward only to be stopped by the clock while deep in Polar Bear territory.

The South High Schoolers were the only ones held scoreless but they are far from being total failures. Hopes are high in their favor for their first game, which will be with Grandview Thursday, Sept. 18.

Pebs Club Will Hold First Meeting Thursday

The first regular fall meeting and pot luck luncheon of the Pebs Club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 16, at the home of Mrs. Charles Loudermilk the new president.

Serving as hostesses will be her officers, Mrs. Meri Kenney vice president; Mrs. Russell Roller, treasurer; Mrs. Edward Bray, secretary.

Other officers are Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. Ernest Bentz, Mrs. Guy Burgess, Mrs. Cecil Smith, Mrs. R. E. Newman, Mrs. Perry Roach.

TO PROTECT SOUTH GRIDDERS

OPTIMISTS IN DENTAL TRAINING — Members of the Optimist Club of South Columbus are shown making latex mouthpieces for South High School's football team. The project was started two weeks ago and continued last week as members applied latex to the plaster-like casts. South's players were fitted for the mouth protectors Monday. Also participating in the program are South Side dentists, South Branch YMCA members and school faculty. Left to right are Henry Pfaltzgraf, Stan Owens, chairman of the project; Jim Welch, a student in OSU's Dental College; John Mikles, vice-president of the club, and Jim Kramer, president. South's gridders should now be ready for good, safe play.

Commissioners Give Okay On 'One-Ways'

City Traffic Commissioners met Tuesday and approved the first phase of the proposed one way street system for the South Side which will go into effect within the next 30 days.

The new system will effect 11 streets south of Thurman-av between S. High-st and Parsons-av.

Commissioners also decided that the left turn ban and the 4 to 6 parking ban on the west side of Parsons-av will both go into effect within the next 30 days. Both issues were approved six months ago but were stalled to accomodate South Side merchants.

The following streets will become one-way between S. High-st and Parsons-av: Mithoff-st, east; Gates-st, west; Moler, west; Jenkins, east; Southwood, west; Markison, east; Welch, west; Morrill, east; Woodrow, west; Innis, east; and Reeb, west.

Traffic Commissioner Otto Meier said Sheldon, Frebis and Hinman will not be changed because they are not suitable for the one way system. However, he said a survey will be made of these streets to study the need for parking bans on one side.

As soon as the necessary one way signs are available, the new system will be installed on the scheduled streets. The work will be done on a weekend and all 11 streets will become one way on an announced Monday morning.

One-Way Right-of-Way

Motorists often feel when traveling a one way street they have the right of way over all traffic from intersecting streets. Not so, said commissioners. To avoid accidents when the one way system begins in the South Side, here is a slight review of the right-of-way law.

When driving on a one-way street, the motorist must yield to the motorist approaching from his right at all unsignalized intersections. However, he has the right of way if the intersecting street is posted with either a "Stop" or "Yield Right of Way" sign. Remember, one way streets are not expressways — so slow down at intersections.

All signalized intersections on Parsons-av, with the exception of Mound and Fulton-sts, will have left turn bans affected within the next month. The left turn bans will go into effect at approximately the same time of the one way streets.

An additional change for motorists to be affected at about the same time, will be the 4 to 6 parking ban on the west side of Parsons. The Leader will announce changeover dates as soon as possible.

COMIN' OR GOIN' there will be a street for you when the new one-way system goes into effect on the South Side in the next 30 days. Here are the streets to be changed and their direction. The date of the one-way switch-over will be announced later.

City Officials Attend CSSO's Elections

Howard Henry

An illustrious group of city officials reviewed some promising improvements for the South Side last Thursday evening when the Council of South Side Organizations held its annual chicken and corn dinner and election of officers.

The meeting, held at South "Y" Park, boasted 38 members and 17 guests. Rev. Paul C. Kaefer gave the invocation.

City administrators included Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner; Nick Barack, head of the City Recreation Department; Jack Gallagher, assistant traffic engineer; Floyd Redick, Service Director; Walter Strickfaden, Fire Chief; Ottor Meier, Traffic Commissioner; Bob Tucker, Division of Electricity; Ray Dietz, superintendent of Parks and Forestry; Russell Leach, City Attorney; Wesley Llewelyn, president of City Council; Councilman Bob Smith, chairman of Finance Committee; and Councilman Fred Shoemaker.

Henry is New Head

Following a "Happy Birthday" serenade to Miles "Cap" Hoover, the election of officers was held. The results are: Howard Henry named as new chairman of CSSO replacing Jerry Feddersen; C. D. Lowery, first vice chairman; Lyle Cameron, second vice chairman; Jim Wagner, secretary; How-

South Side Settlement Plans Program 'Spark'

The South Side Settlement House is making preparations to meet the needs of the South Side. A working scheme is being drawn up to cooperate with other agencies in the South Side to offer fuller services to its members, said Mrs. Keith Wilson, of the center's Girls' Department.

A staff of new and old employees plus volunteers from all parts of the city should give the program spark, she added.

Many new activities along with successful groups of the past will begin on Oct. 6.

Some of the most exciting of these will be new adult courses. In the mornings parents whose children are in nursery or day school will be occupied with ceramics, sewing, cooking and many other fields of interest. There will also be evening courses for adults.

The nursery group for three and four year olds will meet as usual Monday through Friday, 9 to 12 a.m. Activities for the youngsters will be put into effect by the new Nursery Director, Miss Roberta Woodrow, a recent graduate of National College, Kansas City, Mo.

Children from five to nine years of age will meet as last year on Monday and Tuesday while children 10 through 12 years of age will meet on Thursday and Friday afternoons from 3 to 5. New craft projects, gym activity, games, sewing and cooking clubs will keep the children well occupied. On Wednesday afternoons all of the members will be welcome for movies and special events.

The evening activities for teen agers and adults will offer club groups of real interest to its members. Woodcarving,

'Bulldogs' Held Scoreless In Preview At North High

By Marty Noel

The Duncan-coached South squad sat idle the first quarter and saw the Aquinas Terriers down North 6 to 0. In the second period the Bulldogs received from Central and on the opening kickoff a Blue and Gray fumble was covered by Central deep in South's territory. However, an offside penalty saved the day. South received again and this time held the ball for four downs and were forced to punt.

Fine defensive line play and a pass interception by Wayne Ocker stopped the Pirates cold and again South was on the offensive. The end of the period found the Rebels on the Pirate nine yard line as the result of a pass from halfback Bob Goodwin to Tom Bolen, another halfback. No score was made by either team, though Central bested South 3 to 1 on first downs.

As the Bulldogs rested during the third quarter they saw their recent rivals, Central, tramp out all hopes of victory for Aquinas by downing the Terriers 6 to 0.

Again in the final period the Bulldogs took the field, hoping for victory. Their opponents, the North High Polar Bears, shoved them all over the field and scored in the closing minutes of the period to top South 8 to 0.

The touchdown play featured Dave Reid as he galloped untouched for 21 yards to paydirt. The extra point attempt was a run play which was good and it ended the scoring for the night.

The Bulldogs took the North kick and started to march goalward only to be stopped by the clock while deep in Polar Bear territory.

The South High Schoolers were the only ones held scoreless but they are far from being total failures. Hopes are high in their favor for their first game, which will be with Grandview Thursday, Sept. 18.

Last Chance To Win Prizes In Hartley Fishing Contest

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

Remember that picture got under way? Well that full of prizes we ran last April when the Hartley Newspapers Fishing Contest treasure of fishing tackle won't be on display at Carner's Boat House, Madison Lake, much longer. Soon, these terrific rods, reels, baits and lures, lines, and other fishing tackle will be resting in some lucky fishermen's tackle boxes.

The contest will close at midnight Sept. 15 — next Monday. This weekend is your last chance to land some of these prizes worth more than $300.

A fine way to wind up the current fishing season would be to win one of these prizes. This year hasn't been the best for fishing. Rains kept the waters high and muddy for much of the season. Cool weather, and perhaps the thickets crop of mosquitoes on the face of the earth kept fishermen home. The fish, however, were there for anglers willing to go after them. Fish were entered in the contest every week — right through the rains, cold, mosquitoes, and other adversities.

Remember, you may enter as many fish as you wish, caug't from Lake Madison, but only one prize will be awarded to a person. Official weighing station is Carner's Boat House, a convenient location right at the lake.

Also, this is probably the only contest in the world that will award a prize for the smallest fish caught on hook and line. If you want to hold the World's Record for tiny fish rush your entry to Carner's Boat Dock.

Well, the rest is up to you. We've shown you the prizes, told you when to go fishing, and even, on occasion, what bait to use. Many of you have caught fish and entered them. The next thing you'll hear from us is an announcement of the prize winners.

Here Are The Prizes!

To jog your memory here's a list of the prizes that will be given away next week. First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each of the six classes of fish.

	FIRST	SECOND	THIRD
BASS	Pflueger Supreme casting reel.	Three dozen lures — Hofmann, Arbogast and Done's Gypsies.	Airex Eldorado reel.

Beulah Figures Topping Those Of Last Year

Beulah Park's fall race meeting, rolling along on attendance and mutuel figures well above those of the 1957 autumn session, has two more features coming up which will lead up to the Ohio Championship on Sept. 27

After a Labor Day program which saw the favorites shut out, form has been restored well at the meeting and the percentage of winning choices is about 35, slightly above the national average.

Management has announced a slight change in post time for the remaining Saturday programs. The start will be made at 2:15 p.m., while on weekdays first post will be 2:30.

Food Markets This Week
by Mrs. Estelle B. Franks

Fruits—peaches, apples, pears, prune plums, bananas.

Vegetables—sweet corn, tomatoes, potatoes, head lettuce, cabbage, green beans.

CANNED FOODS FOR YOU

To save time and labor, for convenient home storage, for good eating, for variety in meals, and for thrift—all these are reasons why American families buy canned foods. In the fall, you may want to buy by the case as markets offer specials on quantity purchases in order to clear their shelves for the new pack coming in.

Canning Important in Ohio—Some of the fine canned foods you buy may be Ohio's own, for we have more than 100 food plants located in 35 counties of the state. Over 300 million cans of perishable fruits and vegetables, plus many specialty items are processed annually in these plants.

Major Processing Crops—Tomatoes are Ohio's most important crop for processing with approximately 20,000 acres contracted by Ohio canners annually. Second in importance is sweet corn. About 7,000 acres of this vegetable are contracted for processing each year. Other important foods for processing are sauerkraut, pickles, and cherries.

High Quality Preserved—The crops for canning are grown in the parts of the country best suited for their production. Harvest of crops takes place at just the right stage of maturity. Canning immediately after harvest preserves flavor and appearance.

With continual research for improved methods and new products, the canning industry assures us of good eating from canned goods for a long time to come. According to the latest count more than 1,200 different canned items are available throughout the year to save the busy homemaker valuable time.

IDLE MONEY Benefits No One!

Money serves as a common medium of exchange in trade. It can be used to great advantage throughout the world. Benefits can be made expansive and cumulative when invested in the welfare of youth. Here at the South Side "Y" we start with boys of eight, the age when great and lasting impressions can be gained.

Here we have hundreds of father and son combinations, fathers, who want their sons to secure the lasting benefits they received in their earlier years. You can be helpful, too, by putting any idle money to work for the youth of today, the man of tomorrow.

A colorful postal from Alvin, Ruth and Ira Pfeifer reached us a little too late for last week's edition, so we'll start today's wordage by mentioning the Pfeiffers of 518 Columbus-st, were in San Francisco so that Alvin could attend the National Association of Letter Carriers Convention that was held in the California city. (Ruth is a PTA president so got home just in time to deposit her suitcase and pick up her PTA notebook! Right, Ruth?)

Of course we wouldn't "SAY" she's gabby, but an $81 phone bill speaks loudly, don't you think. Our friend "Dicky" will make the telephone company that much richer this months.

Her work was submitted by Barrett, Jr. High School, the school from which she graduated last June. D.D. is now a first year student at South High School.

A very different and interesting trip was taken in the last days of August by Mrs. L. C. Stanton, Eleanor and Larry Kirby, Sheldon-av.

The three South Siders availed themselves of one of the Maple Leaf Tours and were gone a week. Some of the highlights were tours in Ottawa and Montreal and Windsor. In Montreal, the tour was the "Tallyho," where horse-drawn carriages took the tourists to the top of Mount Royale where the sightseers had a beautiful view of the entire city. No autos are allowed on this particular tour.

The threesome stayed at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal and Eleanor says she does not expect to be able to stay in such a swanky hotel again, as it was fabulous." In Ottawa, the Columbusites stayed in a gorgeous chateau complete with swimming pool. We'll briefly tell of a trip that Jack and Eleanor took last Sunday with the Historical Society to Milton, Edison's birthplace, to Vermillion, to Sandusky, on board the Challenger to Kelley's Island, and to the Log Cabin Inn, Sounds fun.

'Y' Inter-Church Council To Hold Fall Conference

The Young People's Inter-Church Council of the South Side Branch YMCA announce their annual Fall Conference to be held at South Y-Park on Sunday afternoon and evening, Sept. 28.

"My Choices" has been designated as the conference theme and the program is being built around this topic. Many young people are unaware of the number of choices they have to make in our present day to day living. Likewise, too many young people are caught in the stream of living, going along without realizating that they are letting too many of their decisions be made for them.

Our Christian heritage speaks very definitely to the matter of "following the crowd." All are in need of an intelligent understanding of the fact that the choices made in life determine what kind of persons we are.

The annual Fall Conference is designed to help the Youth Fellowships of all the South Side churches to stimulate interest and cooperation in getting their own groups organized and working in an appealing, well rounded youth fellowship program in their home churches.

All South Side young people are invited to attend and should make reservations with their church or the South Side Y office.

The afternoon and evening program will conclude with recreation, a pot luck dinner, evening vesper program and a closing consecration service.

Steve Canyon Series Starts This Week On Channel Four

When the adventure series, "Steve Canyon," makes its debut on Saturday, Sept. 13 at 9 p.m. on WLW-C, Channel 4, it brings Milton Caniff's famed comic strip character, Lt. Col. Stevenson B. Canyon, to life on viewers' screens. Dean Fredericks stars as the Air Force's famous colonel.

The pilot film, "Operation Towline," launchces the series. In it, Canyon assumes command of an experimental mission involving a huge KB-50 fueling ship and three Convair F-102 interceptor fighters.

The dangerous misson calls for the "mother" ship, piloted by Canyon, to tow the three jets as power-off gliders until a war missile is sighted. One of the "chicks" develops engine trouble and jeopardizes the entire project for all four planes when the time comes for the fighters to be cut loose to streak after the "enemy."

The series has a background of unusual interest. It was conceived in June, 1954, as the result of a meeeting of aviation leaders of the country to deal with the important problem of retention and recruiting in the Air Force.

One of these distinguished elitizens was the comic strip artist, Milton Caniff, native Ohioan, creator of Steve Canyon, and a long-time friend of the air force. He spent several years developing the idea and obtained support of aircraft manufacturers and the Air Force, making it possible to use up-to-date film footage rather than relying on stock.

Calling the Roll Down Here

Now that vacation periods are over and children are back in school great and important tasks are at hand in this matter of carrying on the necessary functions of our society.

Soon the community will be engaged in the annual United Appeal Drive. There is the unfinished job of raising needed money for new YMCA and YWCA buildings. PTA work will get in full swing in a few days. Youth activities galore will need adult supervision. These, to mention a few.

It is that time when a host of volunteers are needed to carry out the many important tasks at hand.

So often it is a matter of the old hands at the business being called up for action time after time. If a person has done a good job once he is sure to be called on again. That is as it should be but it should in no way relieve others from assuming their share of such responsibilities.

Worthwhile community projects need new blood from time to time. There is a wealth of such talent available in the fast growing area of Franklin County. There is a standing invitation to assist in numerous projects.

The community newspaper so many time becomes a clearing house for information and so if you are one of these newcomers or an old timer who is desirous of doing your part but haven't been called on just give us a telephone call and we'll see that you are offered some opportunity to help some worthwhile cause in your community.

When the roll is called 'down here' why not step up and say "Count on me."

Bible Comment:

Should Never Show Favoritism

Probably the most brilliant short story ever written is the story of Joseph—10 chapters in the book of Genesis.

It is another episode in the life of Jacob. Here we find an old man, repentant of his sins and his trickeries, but having visited upon him in his own large family the sins and deceptions of his own earlier life.

Joseph seems to have been 12 children, was Jacob's favorite. Jacob made this feeling all too apparent. It aroused jealousy in Jacob's brethren, resentment against the special favor that his father showed him.

Joseph seems to have been unconscious of their hatred. When Jacob sent him to see how his brothers were faring as they tended to their flocks, he went with no apprehension of danger. The brothers plotted to kill him.

It isn't necessary to go into the details of the story here—how they threw him into a pit and then sold him to the Ishmaelites, killed a goat and dipped Joseph's coat of many colors into its bright blood so they might go back and tell Jacob he had been killed by a wild beast.

The brothers little realized the tragedy they were storing up for themselves or the part they were going to play later when famine came upon the land. Then the brother they sold into slavery would have their very lives and destinies in his hand.

The story shows the foolishness of parents showing special favor to any child, a tragic mistake that allows discord and strife to develop within the family.

Watcha Gonna' Be?

"When you get big,
Whatcha gonna' be?"
I say to my lad
As he climbs my knee.
He says he's gonna' run
A newspaper press,
Or be a band leader
In fancy dress,
Or sell ice cream cones,
Like his playmate's dad;
Ah, the plans are many
Of this little lad.

The Russian lad
On his daddy's knee
Isn't asked
"Whatcha gonna' be?"
It's not up to him,
It's up to the state,
Which rules his life,
Which determines his fate;
In Germany, too,
Where men aren't free,
What folly to ask
"Whatcha gonna' be?"

Oh, I'm thankful to God
That in America still
My little boy
Can be what he will;
He can choose his faith,
His vocation, his all,
And he knows not
Of a dictator's call;
What a blissful joy
With my lad on my knee
To say: "When you're big,
Whatcha gonna' be?"

Sept. 24 Last Day Voters Can Register

Sept. 24 is the last day to register to vote and it may be done at the Board of Elections, new Courthouse Annex, 410 S. High-st.

Those who must register are new residents of the county; persons not voting before, and those reaching 21 before election day, Nov. 4.

You must re-register if you have not voted in either of the last two calendar years; if you have changed your name (married, etc.), or if you have changed your address. Write the Board of Elections advising them of the change of address, giving old and new address (this can be done by mail).

Give the names of the voters in your family as well as your own. (If you move within 40 days of the election you can vote in the precinct from which you moved).

When your son or daughter goes off to college they will appreciate receiving the regular weekly edition of your community newspaper. Any Hartley Newspaper will be mailed anywhere in the US at a special college rate of $2 for nine months. Just call BR. 4-1155 and ask for circulation.

Study the candidates and the issues before election on Nov. 4. Then vote!

Local League Of Women Voters Lists Fall Studies

The League of Women Voters of Columbus is announcing topics for discussion and study during the coming fall and winter season, according to Mrs. Paul Lenox, of 1411 S. Sixth-st, publicity chairman.

The League is concerned with the three levels of government: local, state and national. As in the past, members are concentrating this year on two areas of particular interest in each of these governmental levels.

Locally, the League is continuing its previous study of government units in Franklin County, and metropolitan planning in general. This year it is hoped that the findings of this committee will be published in book form.

The second local item is an outgrowth of last year's study in the Child Welfare field. This year the League will work toward the establishment in this community of a Homemaker service for the use of public agencies. This would provide temporary care of children in their own home while the mother is ill, or during a similar emergency. Last year's findings indicated a real need for such a service in Franklin County.

On the state level, members will be studying our system of representation in the General Assembly of Ohio. The second item is an extension of the one local item, an examination of Ohio's local government units and their inter-relationships.

Items of study on the national level include an evaluation of United States foreign policy in the light of changing world conditions. Members also will continue with their study of water resources, designed to consider administration, financing and regional or river basin planning.

Membership in the League of Women Voters, which is a national organization, is open to all women of voting age. Announcement of time and place for the September meeting in this area will be made next week.

Our National Government

Congress Shapes Public Policy Into Legislation

By Archer E. Reilly, Jr.
State Representative

Congress is our national law making agency. It has other powers, but it is primarily a legislature. Its essential function has been described as the framing of public policy and the assertion of it in the form of laws

In this series we will consider Congress in two parts. First, as to its composition. And next week Congress in action.

A. E. Reilly, Jr.

Congress derives its power from the Constitution which provides "That all legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States." It execises is power under a two-houst system — the Senate and the House of Representatives—which is part of the American system of checks and balances.

The House of Representatives was designed by the framers of the Constitution to spring directly from the people. Hence, the Constitution provides that its members shall be elected every two years "by the people of the several states."

The House has 435 members. Each member represents a Congressional district within a state. And every state has a definite quota of members based upon its proportion of the national population.

There are four constitutional qualifications for membership in the House. One must be 25 years of age. He must have been a citizen of the United States for at least seven years. He must be an inhabitant of the state from which he is chosen. And he cannot, while in the House, hold any other "office under the United States."

The Senate was originally conceived as a curb on the House. Washington suggested the analogy of drinking coffee: "We pour legislation into the Senatorial saucer to cool it." It rests upon a purely geographical base; as regardless of population each state has two members.

They were originally chosen by state legislatures; but under the 17th Amendment, adopted in 1913, senators are elected by a popular vote and for six year terms.

Each senator has one vote in the legislature regardless of the size of the state he represents. There are constitutional qualifications for senators similar to those of the House. However, they differ in two respects. A senator must be at least 30 years of age. And, he must have been a citizen for a minimum of nine years.

There is one fact concerning the general composition of Congress which should always be borne in mind, Congress is guided by the Constitution and by its own rules and customs. But it is conducted by people. And it is the thinking and the feeling of individual members of Congress which finally determine congressional action. Therefore, it is important that we have a reasonable perspective about congressmen as human beings.

It is something of a national pastime to criticize and even abuse members of Congress. This is probably as it should be in the democratic process. However, it may tend to obscure an essential fact concerning members of Congress—as individuals they rank well above the average in their districts.

It is well that this is true. And it is logical. Congressmen have climbed the ladder of their profession—politics. They have managed to have enough people support them to be elected. And they are generally adept at the skills of the profession: they meet people well; they know how to reconcile conflicting viewpoints; they have learned to meet the physical demands of campaigning: and they are able to live with the essential uncertainty of their personal circumstances.

Congressmen tend to reflect the concensus viewpoint of their district. There are two reasons for this: 1. that viewpoint is also their own; 2. they want to be re-elected.

Members of Congress are, of course, far from perfect. The record of the past 150 years shows that many mistakes have been made. But on the whole, it has been a good record under which the nation has prospered. Moreover, the Congress of the United States is the world's best hope of representative government.

Interesting Students Spark Enrollment In Local Schools

PEGGY, PAUL AND LINDA Blaich are now attending Lincoln Park Elementary School. They said they miss gym classes which are part of the elementary education in Bermudan Schools.

Lincoln, Barrett And Roosevelt Schools Boast International Flavor

Every year, schools in the South Side come up with some interesting students with unusual backgrounds.

Teachers are faced with the problem of trying to make themselves understood to foreign children, or of keeping up with students from countries with more advanced education.

Lincoln Park Elementary School, Roosevelt Junior High and Barrett Junior Hi Schools have some students enrolled this year that should really keep teachers on their toes.

Lincoln and Barrett will share equal parts of one family's school-aged children who are fresh from Bermuda. Roosevelt boasts a Hungarian girl who has been in this country little more than a year; as well as an attractive set of twins to confuse faculty members.

Bermuda Students

Six of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Blaich, 595 E. Jenkins-av, are now attending South Side schools. Their father, a hurricane hunter for the Air Force in Bermuda for three years, is now stationed at Lockbourne.

Linda, 5, Paul, 6, and Peggy, 10, are in the first, second and fifth grades at Lincoln Park. Older Blaich boys, Timothy, 12, Johnny, 12, and Raymond, 14, are in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades respectively at Barrett Junior High.

The children have been attending English schools in Bermuda and have already noted considerable differences in the education programs of the two countries. The Blaiches are Americans and therefore to some of their children, American schools aren't new.

The youngsters at Lincoln Park were surprised to find they have no physical education classes in our elementary schools as they do in schools in Bermuda.

The family's children at Barrett were in agreement that American schools are easier with more emphasis on the social side of education. The three junior high boys already have eight years of foreign language studies behind them.

The youths noted that in junior and senior high schools here, students must travel through the building for each class. "In Bermuda, the teachers came to us and we stayed in one room. We like the American way better, it gives you a chance to stretch your legs," they said jointly.

Naturally, students wear Bermuda shorts to school in Bermuda. Mrs. Blaich failed to check on this practice in Columbus. She is now over loaded with shorts for her children and frantically buying normal school attire!

Hungarian at Roosevelt

Hungarian Agnes Antal, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bela Antal, of 787 S. 22nd-st, said she is looking forward to her first real school year in the United States. She is in the eighth grade at Roosevelt Junior High School.

Agnes came to America last year with her parents and studied English last year in a Plymouth, N.C. school. She said she likes this country but has had some amusing moments because of the language barrier. The teenager still has to repeat herself several times to make herself understood.

"American schools are harder for me, mainly because in Hungary I could express myself because I knew the language," said Agnes. She added that in her country, teachers come to students who stay in one registration room all day.

This would have been the final year of required education in Hungary for the youth, who is a native of Budapest. Agnes said only eight years of school are required at "home."

Agnes is taking science, history, English, math, music and sewing at Roosevelt and has no definite plans for her future but to stay in the United States.

American movies and television are new to the youngster because these US products were not allowed in Communist dominated Hungary.

Agnes said there is little difference between our teenagers and those of her country. "Girls dress fancier for school here and wear makeup at a much earlier age than in Hungary," she added.

Editor's note: Thanks to Irene Laszlo, also an eighth grader at Roosevelt, who acted as translator for Agnes during this interview.

Traditional Twins

What school would be complete without its traditional set of twins to delight and confuse students and teachers alike? Roosevelt Junior High counts Donna and Dianne Cunningham identical twins, in its enrollment this year.

Donna and Dianne are slightly unusual for twins however. As a rule, twins may look alike but usually have very different temperaments, interests and likes and dislikes.

The Cunningham girls like and study music, enjoy sports; are in band and orchestra, and even share illnesses, asthma and hayfever! About the only real difference is their plans for the future. Donna wants to be a baby doctor and Dianne wants to become a lawyer.

Like all twins, they are constantly confusing others. Teachers and pupils are never quite sure which Cunningham is their student or friend.

BUDAPEST OR COLUMBUS—Agnes Antal of Hungary, finds that language barriers aren't too hard to overcome—especially with a good dictionary! She is attending Roosevelt Junior High School.

DONNA AND DIANNE, or is it Dianne and Donna? Well anyway, these are the Cunningham girls, 13-year-old identical twins, who are mixing things up a bit at Roosevelt Junior High School this year.

Evening Trade Schools Open Soon At Central

Registration procedures form Evening High School's fall semester were announced today by G. B. Newton, principal.

Former students will sign up from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 11, and registration of new students will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Sept. 15.

Classes start Tuesday evening, Sept. 6.

Evening High School, which meets in the Central High building, 75 S. Washington-blvd, is a fully accredited high school. It serves individuals who wish to work toward a diploma, do advanced work, or take review or refresher courses, especially in math, English and commercial subjects.

All classes meet on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays with the exception of choral music, word study, woodworking and office machines, all of which meet on Monday evenings. Another office machines class meets only on Wednesday evenings.

A course in Reading Improvement, which will be conducted on a high schoool level, and a course in Rapid Reading Improvement, which will be conducted on a more advanced level, will be given this semester if enough students register for them.

Tuition for classes that meet on Monday and Wednesday only is $8 per semester for Columbus residents. Tuition for classes meeting on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings is $8 for one course, $12 for two, $15 for three, and $17 for four for Columbus residents.

All fees for students who live outside the Columbus School District are double those for residents.

Anyone desiring further information on Evening High registration should call Newton at Central High School (CA. 4-3184) after 1 p.m. daily.

Signups Set In Vocational Trade Studies

Registration for evening vocational trade extension classes will be held in Room 1 of Central High School from 7 to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 17.

Subjects include arc-welding, machine shop, shop mathematics, industrial drafting and basic electronics.

Adult vocational extension classes are offered to further develop the skills and technical knowledge. Instruction must be supplemental to the trade or occupation in which the person enrolling is employed or has had some experience.

Questions concerning Vocational Trade School registration should be directed to R. O. Knight at CA. 8-3821, Ext. 65.

Teachers' Meet Is Next Week

More than 10,500 teachers from 16 central Ohio counties will gather in Columbus Sept. 19 for the 87th annual convention of the Central Ohio Teachers Association. Superintendent Harold H. Ebling said that Columbus schools will be closed all day on Sept. 19 to enable 2600 teachers to attend the convention at St. John Arena.

Theme of the session is "Improving Quality in Education."

The convention has been moved forward five weeks from its customary time.

ard Storch, treasurer; and Cap Hoover, executive secretary.

Henry, 45, of 321 Siebert-st, has worked for the Post Office for 21 years. A 1931 graduate of South High, he also sells insurance for the American National Insurance Co. Howard, who is married and has one son, has coached YMCA Church Leagues for eight years and is very active in many "Y" groups.

Retiring Chairman Feddersen, of the City Recreation Department, praised the Council of South Side Organizations on its non-selfish interest in the city of Columbus as a whole. Mayor Sensenbrenner joined in praising this attitude of the council.

Local Betterment Ahead

City officials reported they are eyeing the following improvements for the South Side:

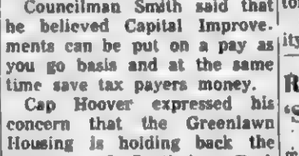
Barack said he hopes for removal of Greenlawn Housing at Southview Park in the near future so recreational facilities there can progress.

Gallagher spoke of the urgent need for more off street parking facilities on the South Side. Meier assured that one way streets should be affected here later this month if approved.

Redick praised CSSO for its leadership and the way in which pressures are kept under control in presenting its issues to the city. He added that this area still has an immense sewage and storm sewer problem but that progress is being made as rapidly as possible.

Strickfaden reported that a new fire house will soon be constructed at Parsons-av and Southgate to expand the area's fire protection program.

Tucker said great strides are being made to improve lighting here but finances are difficult. Dietz said he hopes the Scioto Parkway will be a reality by 1959. It will extend along the river from Central High School south to Frankrd.



Leach expressed appreciation of manner and cooperation of South Siders in trying to work out problems. Llewelyn iterated guarantee of finances to get recreation facilities that are planned here.

Councilman Smith said that he believed Capital Improvements can be put on a pay as you go basis and at the same time save tax payers money.

Cap Hoover expressed his concern that the Greenlawn Housing is holding back the progress of Southview Park which at the same time, funds from the project have been going into a central fund instead of consideration for the long over due development of the much needed Southview recreational area.

TO THANK ROOM MOTHERS

Room Mothers who are a wonderful help in the over-all PTA program and representatives to the individual room they choose to help, should know from the beginning of the school year how much their time and help is appreciated. Barrett's PTA Executive Board will do just that on Thursday, Sept. 18, when they plan to have a tea at the school at 1:30 p.m.

'Cycle Races Set Sunday At Fairground

Camp Chase Post 98, American Legion and the Golden Arrow Motorcycle Club will sponsor their tenth annual state championship motorcycle races at the fairgrounds Sunday, Sept. 14.

Time trials are scheduled for 10 a.m. and races will start at 2 p.m.

Roger Myers, general chairman, said last year's entries were the largest in the country, and that indications were that as many would be received this year. One hundred and thirty are already entered.

Glenn Jordan of Columbus, winner of last year's state championship, will defend his title Sunday.

George Levisay is in charge of concessions, Dewey Stout, policing of grounds; Ray McVay, gate personnel and Elmer E. Young, grandstand personnel.

Proceeds from the affair are used for the permanent home fund, rehabilitation of veterans and child welfare activities.

The classic fairytale will feature a cast headed by Phyllis Love, Melville Cooper, Grant Williams and Joseph Wiseman.

This will mark Phyllis Love's second appearance on the series. Earlier this season she appeared in the role of Elsa, the miller's daughter, in "Rumpelstiltskin." In "The Wild Swans" she will play the role of the Princess Elisa.

Worlds Fair Fame Comes To Dancer

Lynne Londergan, who studied for 15 years at the Powell-Ott School of Dance, 1071 S. High-st, and has performed in many South Side programs, is now making a name for herself in both American and European show business circles.

While in Europe, Lynne has taken two sightseeing tours, one to Rome and Naples, Italy and one to Frankfort and Heidelberg, Germany.

After closing at the Palladium, the troupe did some television and night club work in and around Belgium. After that they went to Barcelona, Spain and are now in Estoril, a summer resort, near Lisbon, Portugal.

Lynne has been a member of the Noel Sherman Dancers and the Rod Alexander troupe. She has worked in "Pajama Game" and "Plain and Fancy." The dancer has performed in Montreal, Canada, New York City and many large South American cities.

CHAMPS OF SPORTSMANSHIP

Pacifier Cord Causes Death Of Local Girl

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Rutherford Funeral Home for Sarah Elizabeth Hafer, 14 months old, of 2275 S. Fifth-st who was pronounced dead Tuesday afternoon on arrival at Mercy Hospital.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, said the baby girl apparently strangled to death on a cord attached to a pacifier when she fell from a high chair in the kitchen of her home. He withheld a ruling, however, pending an autopsy at the Franklin County Morgue.

The mother, Mrs. Charles Hafer was in the back yard talking to a neighbor at the time of the mishap, according to police.

The child is survived by her parents; two brothers, Charles G. and Terry M.; a sister, Mary Ann; grandfather, John H. Hafer of Akron; and grandmother, Mrs. Mellie Perkins of Wellston.

Burial will be in Union Cemetery.

BID FAREWELL TO SCOUTMASTER

THIS FAREWELL SCENE may become familiar to many scouts in the Mohawk District between now and Jan. 1, 1959, as the National Council announces discontinuance of the Explorer Scouting program within a troop. These scouts of Troop 111, Washington Avenue EUB Church, are bidding farewell to Scoutmaster Herb Sharp as they leave the troop and become members of a newly-formed Post, sponsored by the same church's men's group. The new Post will provide a "year-round" program with the theme, "To Be Scouting For Youth." Left to right are: first row, Joe Hartung, post adviser; Herb Sharp, scoutmaster; Rod Cripe, crew chief; Jim Cripe, treasurer; R. B. Graham, committeeman; and H. O. Cripe, committeeman; second row, Dave Claar, Mike Zapp, Chuck Campbell, Alex Kocsis, Bob Graham and Nick Jacobs. John Eckers is also a member. Troops interested in forming a post may contact Ed Boudrie, District Executive at CL. 3-5513.

Luther Leagues Plan Picnic

The Central Ohio Association of Luther Leagues is planning a Federation Picnic to be held Sunday, Sept. 14, at the Lutheran Memorial Bible Camp near Fulton, O., on Rt. 61.

Activities will begin around 2. Weather permitting there will be swimming at 2 p.m. and at 3 p.m. Following a potluck dinner (each person bring one item of food and his own table service — soft drinks will be provided), a singspiration is planned.

All Luther Leaguers and their friends are invited to attend this gathering.

Thurman Avenue Gravel Problem Gripes Officials

City officials, especially the street cleaning department, are not too thrilled with free resurfacing job that is unofficially being done on Thurman-av, near High-st.

Reportedly, gravel trucks from quarries located on Rt. 104 use Greenlawn-av to High-st, then cut over onto Thurman-av, spewing gravel all over the street as trucks round the bend near High-st.

Street cleaners last week cleaned up about six inches of gravel off the street, but within a few days the street was again covered with the crushed stone.

Police reported last week that two youngsters have been struck by flying rocks squeezed up by tires of passing vehicles. Jarrett Chavous suggests that the city should pass a law prohibiting over-filling trucks.

Local Delegation Urges Adoption Of Sewer Plan

City Council's Service Committee was faced Monday night with a delegation of South Side residents who urged adoption of a recommended $816,000 storm sewer improvement program for the South Side.

The sewer system, recommended by Service Director Floyd C. Redick, would be constructed at the expense of property owners who would benefit. Cost would be approximately $850 an acre.

Willingness was indicated by the committee to go along with the project provided the required number of signatures is obtained from property owners in the affected area.

BUSHY JAWS—Sporting a bushy growth around the jowls, Carroll tavern owner Harry H. George is prepared to take on all comers in the beard-judging competition during the Carroll celebration. George and other Carroll citizens have a chance to show off their whiskers Saturday night at 7:30 when judges will determine who has the most luxuriant growth.

Carroll Wakes Up To Centennial Din

Sleepy little Carroll, aroused by the cadence of marching feet and the rhythmic shouts of carnival barkers, shook off a half century's doldrums and braced herself Wednesday for a spectacular Centennial Celebration, slated to last through tomorrow night.

A chicken dinner at the Methodist Church lifted the lid on the celebration and was followed by a big parade, featuring the bands of seven county high schools, and graced with the presence of seven beautiful young ladies who are vying for the Centennial Queen crown—an honor that comes only once in a hundred years.

Last night an amateur show and horseshoe pitching preliminaries were held.

Tonight is the big one as far as the queen candidates are concerned. Judging for the contest was finished Wednesday night, but it won't be until 7 o'clock this evening that the coronation ceremony will begin. Only then will the girls know which one of them won.

Tomorrow at 1 p.m. the grand parade, including bands, horses, floats and various and sundry other things, will take to the Carroll streets. A kiddies' matinee at the midway, during which all rides of the Midwest Amusement Co. are half price to children, follows the parade.

The gurgling water fight between county firehouses will get underway at 4 o'clock. The Garden and Lions Clubs chicken barbecue will be served at 4:30 in the schoolhouse, following the deluge.

Finals in the horseshoe pitching competition will start at 6 o'clock, and beard-judging will commence at 7:30 to determine the shaggiest individual in town.

Entertainment on the midway and in the park will be provided throughout Saturday evening, climaxed at 11:30 by a tremendous fireworks display, officially bringing a close to the celebration.

The village hasn't seen so much activity nor felt such excitement since the old days when the roustabouts and other canal men met on her main streets to sing, drink, fight and dance.

Once a prosperous, thriving "boom town" where children had to be fenced in to assure their protection, Carroll has settled into the ways of a little old lady who has had her fling and now wants only to embrace a comfortable and serene existence.

But in her hundredth year Carroll has revived all her old memories and passions, and appears as though she'll weather the four-day whirlwind with no ill effects. And this is only right, for with her rich traditions and vigorous heritage she is a grand old lady who will only sleep — never die.

Jones Park Wrestling Card Part Of Carnival This Week

Jones Park impresario Bo Rogers, in a desperate effort to revitalize lagging attendance will present a three-day mat card this week, including a gala carnival complete with rides, concessions, food and beverages.

No admission will be charged to the matches, allowing folks to spend their money for carnival rides and fun. The affair will begin Thursday evening and continue through Saturday night.

First bout each evening will begin at 8 o'clock with three different matches every night.

Pairings won't be made for the bouts until the last minute, Rogers said. This is due to the fact that a certain newspaper has been egging contenders on with "yellow" copy, resulting in the contenders slinging mud and heaping abuses on one another. This has promoted dastardly tactics and hurt feelings among the matmen.

Rogers said, however, that Hercules McIntyre, Chris Clark, Larry Daniels, Ken Kelsey, Gentleman Rocky Mingo, Glenn Redman and others would appear on the card.

Irish Mike McCall, a thorn in Rogers' side for some time, is suffering from a flu attack. Other grapplers are laughing at what McCall had earlier boasted, that he was "the best wrassler around here, bar none!" Then the Irishman let a little bug put him away.

The 255 pound McIntyre, self admittedly the strongest man in the wrestling game, has boasted that in all his years in the profession (15) he has never seen such a lily-livered bunch as hold sway now at Jones Park. "I could lick 'em all with one hand tied behind me," bragged McIntyre.

Rogers, while highly respectful of McIntyre's strength, says Hercules is starting to slow up and that the younger fellows at the park are champing at the bit in wanting to get a shot at him.

"If old man McIntyre doesn't keep his loud trap shut," said one young grappler who refused to be identified, "I'll tie him in bow knots around one of those ring posts!"

Her Memories Span One Hundred Years!

By Betty Daft

Mrs. Julia Eckert, 100 on Sept. 7, was the first to agree that "The first hundred years are the hardest; the best is yet to come."

Facing her 100th birthday with quiet poise and dignity acquired from a century of living, Mrs. Eckert happily fills her days with all the activities her interests dictate.

She and her sister, Mrs. Mary Walter, 90, operate their household alone, at 740 W. Broad-st, attending to details of cleaning, cooking, laundry, shopping and yard work with a dispatch and efficiency creditable in women half their ages.

Still Goes Downtown

Fiercely proud of her independence, Mrs. Eckert said, "There are many things I can no longer do, but I take care of myself. I go downtown alone, go to church at First English Lutheran, Main-st, at 18th-st, shop, cook, wash and iron."

Her only concession to age is curtailment of some household duties. Her sister does the more difficult chores, like hanging curtains and mowing the lawn.

Discussing their health, Mrs. Walter said, "We have never been seriously ill, and are bothered only a little with poor eyesight and hearing."

The two cook separately because, "We like different food." One enjoys steak; the other prefers pork chops. The sisters resolve other differences just as efficiently, by merely turning off their hearing aids.

Daughters of German immigrants, the two grew up in Columbus' east side in the Main

'Stay In School' Urge Optimists

Editor's note: The following editorial has been submitted to the Leader by the Optimist Club of South Columbus in an effort to encourage South Side teenagers to complete their high school education.

Optimist International adopted resolutions at their convention in Dallas that they would campaign with the U. S. Department of Labor, Health, Education, Welfare and The Defense Department to urge teenagers to "Stay in School" this fall.

The Optimist Club of South Columbus wishes to express to the youth of our community the importance of continuing their education this fall. It is not too late to return to school this semester. The members of this service organization are professional and business men who have had considerable expeprience and training in our schools and will gladly discuss your problems on scholastic training.

You may at this time in your education think that school and your education is a lot of wasted time, time that you could spend earning instead of learning. Have you ever stopped to think what happens to the people who do not finish high school or just finish a part of high school? They may have a job, they may even be earning a living. What kind of a job do they have? Is it a dependable job? Do they earn top wages? Or do they work from dawn to dusk or just ppart time? Do they spend most of their time worrying about what happens next? Statistics have proven time and time again, year after year, that a high school graduate leads the community as well as the world in good jobs, good wages and good living conditions. The high school graduate will lead the non-graduate in all phases every time.

Helps In Service, Too

The majority of you fellows will have to serve your time in the Armed Forces. Even there you profit with your high school education. High school education gives you the ability to adapt yourself to service life. You are able to take further training to help you further your education for civilian life or service career, whichever it may be. Men with high school educations are always selected first. Be among the first.

You girls may think that a high school education is of no great value to you. With a high school education you can even buy the every day groceries better than the girl who quit school. With a high school education you are a better home maker and with so many girls who have to help out with the family income after marriage the high school graduate can get a better job with higher pay and be able to return to being a home maker a lot faster than the girl who did not finish high school. You are more capable of raising and training your family or in selecting a careef with that high school education.

School Can Be Fun

High school life is and should be cl[illegible] as the best years of your life. The high school football games, the dances, the class plays, yes, even the exams and the relief when that final test is over. Think of the pride that you and yotir family will feel when that final day comes and your name is called to receive the diploma, which means you are an adult able to go out into the world and be among the leaders of your community and your country.

Be a part of the fun and pride of being a high school graduate. Be on the inside with the crowd, not on the outside by yourself, alone, wondering what happens next. Know where you are going with a high school education. Stay in school.

Merchants Change Auction Sale Date

"Due to conditions beyond our control we will have to delay our annual auction two weeks," stated President Tom Sharp of the South Side Business and Industrial Association.

The Association will hold its annual auction Thursday, Oct. 2, at 7 p.m. continuing until all the merchandise is sold. Anyone may donate merchandise. The profits received from the sale will be used by the association to assist South Side projects.

The auction will be held at the rear of Schottenstein's Department Store, in the parking lot. The area is well lighted and promises to be bustling with activity during the sale.

Members of the committee are listed below and anyone of them will be glad to make arrangements for items to be picked up. They are Howard Hoermle, Jess Beard, Tony Rappold, William Hoermle, George Horvath and Bob Horowitz. The merchandise need not be new. It can be any item that is laying around that you feel someone might buy and that you will give to the organization. An automobile, a television set and several other very good items have already been donated and more are pouring in every day.

"Hourly prizes will be awarded so if you come you might win a prize and not have to spend a penny," said Sharp. Last years' sale raised $300.00 for the organization's various civic enterprises and according to a spokesman of the group, they hope to make this sale even bigger and more profitable both for the organization and the people benefiting from the sale.

A professional auctioneer will handle the sale and all items will be handled on a high bid sale with money being paid on the spot except on a few of the large items for which terms can be arranged.

The phone number to call for pickup service on merchandise is HI. 4-9262, HI. 4-2195 or HI. 4-2196. Items may be taken to Hoermle's Appliances or the South Side Leader Office.

Sharp also stated that any merchant desiring to contribute merchandise should call and he will arrange a pick up.

Lew Reeves who recently joined the South Side Leader staff is also a member of the businessmen's group and will be glad to pickup merchandise to be used in the sale. Call Lew at HI. 4-9262.

South Side Settlement To Expand

An extension of the South Side Settlement will be carried on at the Lincoln Park Auditorium in the office building, 1755 S. 20th-st. Services for people in the Lincoln Park Projects and the immediate area will be offered. The program begins the week of Oct. 6.

On Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m., a Golden Age Club will meet. Available to people over 55 years of age, this group promises to be vastly entertaining to these young oldsters. Craft sessions, games, movies, field trips, or just relaxed conversation and refreshments will occupy some of the time during the meetings.

Two night groups, from 7 to 9 p.m., for women in the area, will offer a good chance for mothers to gain a little outside recreation. According to Harry Vorrath, program director, there will be one strictly social group and another for ladies who wish to sew or work on definite projects. The days for these meetinge will be made known at a later date.

Two workers from the South Side Settlement have been visiting homes in the Lincoln Park Housing for the past several weeks, telling its inhabitants of the new program there and at the Settlement House. If you were not at home when these calls were made, and would like further information, call the settlement at HI. 4-2115. The staff will be most eager to help you and welcome you to its meetings.

'Mothers Of Twins Club' Booms Here

The Mothers of Twins Club, which has now collected a number of Hilltop members, held its first meeting Aug. 20, and elected the following officers:

Mrs. William J. McLaughlin, president; Mrs. Ralph Beneretti, vice president; Mrs. Samuel Powell, secretary; Mrs. Patrick Wynn, treasurer; Mrs. David Fisher, Mrs. Larry Adams and Mrs. Thomas McAllister, publicity chairmen; Mrs. Earnest Stoops, Mrs. Rodger Kuhn, Mrs. Jack Lyons and Mrs. James Bussard, phone committee; Mrs. James Pendelton, hostess.

The next meeting of the club wil be held Wednesday, Sept. 24, at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., 109 N. Front-st, at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

The club will hold a clothing exchange Oct. 8, at 8 p.m., in the Seneca Hotel. Coming events will include a Christmas party, spring luncheon, picnic and a husband and wife night.

The group, which now boasts 56 members, was formed to provide the mothers of twins a social organization, an opportunity to discuss the problems of the mothers and to try to help new mothers of twins.

Persons interested in joining the club may contact Mrs. McLoughlin, BE. 8-9237, or Mrs. Fisher at AM. 3-9303.

Mayor Endorses South Sider For Council Post

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner told a South Side Leader reporter Tuesday that he recommended to Democratic city legislators the appointment of William P. Hoermle, local merchant, to City Council.

The appointment would fill the council post vacated by the death of Council President W. Wesley Llewelyn. However, councilmen stressed that thus far they have not made a definite choice.

William P. Hoermle

Hoermle, who is out of town and not available for comment, has operated the Hoermle Appliance Store, 1894 Parsons-av, Steelton Merchants Association and Columbus Appliance Dealers and is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Moose, Eagles and the Columbus Maennerchor. He resides at 2434 Beverly-pl.

The local merchant has also served on the board of St. Stephen's Community House, as chairman of Selective Service Board No. 39 and is a member for 31 years. He is also treasurer of Redi Foods, Inc., of 3776 E. Fifth-av.

He has formerly served as Third Ward committeeman as an insurgent Democrat, and he ran seventh in a field of 13 for councilman in 1937, with six to be nominated.

The mayor, who proposed Hoermle's name for discussion by the councilmen and Democratic Party Chairman Walter Heer, said Tuesday that he felt Hoermle's public and personal life was above and beyond all reproach.

Mayor Sensenbrenner added, "I believe small business should be represented in our city government and Hoermle's appointment would do this."

"I feel that all sections of the city should be represented in City Council. Council definitely needs a South Side member," concluded the mayor.

Hoermle is past president of the Southeast Lions Club, of the Columbus Rose Commission.

With three men of each party council is deadlocked, with both sides hoping to resolve the issue without the 30-day delay which might leave the selection to Mayor Sensenbrenner.

A meeting of the Republicans to try to agree on a candidate is being arranged for later this week by Councilman W. Ralston Westlake.

Councilman Robert H. Smith indicated that Hoermle is one of three or four others being considered for the vacancy. He said a meeting will be set up later this week to enable city legislators to discuss the appointment with the top prospects.

$60 Hoard Buried In Ads Today

No claimants on the jackpot prize money for the past several weeks has added a lot of interest to the game . . . 60 crisp, new "interests" in fact.

Value of the insignia, increasing steadily each week the emblem isn't found, has risen steadily to a $60 high today.

Ten other subscribers whose copies contain $1 insignia, may also exchange their newspapers for one "Confederate" bill.

Subscribers locating insignia in their copies may return the entire newspaper to South Side Leader office, 1542 Parsons-av, before 5 p.m. Friday, and claim "Confederate" currency.

Advertisers appearing in the current issue of the newspaper will accept "Confederate" money in payment for any merchandise in their stores.

Any subscriber whose name appears on our records as having paid in advance, or on his carrier boy's route book as a paying customer is eligible to collect "Confederate" money.

Employes or carriers of the newspaper and members of their families are excepted.

Hobby Show To Feature Entertainment

Entertainment programs will highlight each day of this years' Golden Age Hobby Show, according to South Side area chairman, Mrs. Frank E. Young 296 Innis-av.

The annual event, now in its tenth year, will open Friday, Sept. 19 at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, 480 E. Broad-st. Exhibits by persons 60 years of age and over will be displayed Friday, 7 to 10 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 20, 21, 12 to 5 p.m.

In addition to the scores of exhibits of arts, crafts, needlework and collections, a different half-hour program will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 3 p.m.

Highlighting Friday evening's program will be the awarding of grand prizes by Don Weaver, editor of the Columbus Citizen. Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner and County Commissioner Fred Berkhemer will also crown the oldest man and woman exhibitor as king and queen of the show.

Saturday's program will feature the antics of the "Dog Patchers."

Special guests will be honored in the Sunday afternoon program. In observance of the Hobby Show's tenth anniversary, all persons who have entered an exhibit each year for the past ten years will be honored. Entertainment will be provided by a barber shop quartet and chorus.

Teachers Meet Slated Friday

More than 10,500 teachers from 16 central Ohio counties will gather in Columbus Sept. 19 for the 87th annual convention of the Central Ohio Teachers Association. Superintendent Harold H. Eibling said that Columbus schools will be closed all day on Sept. 19 to enable 2600 teachers to attend the convention at St. John Arena.

Theme of the session is "Improving Quality in Education."

The convention has been moved forward five weeks from its customary time.

Girlchoir To Audition

The Columbus Girlchoir will hold auditions for new members on Saturday, Sept. 20, at 780 E. Broad-st. Richard Johnston, director, announces that auditions are for girls in grades 9, 10, 11 and 12. No appointment will be necessary.

The Girlchoir celebrates its tenth anniversary this year. It was founded in 1948 at the Columbus Boychoir School. It sings for conventions, banquets and radio-TV guest spots.

If further information is needed call Mr. Johnston at CL. 2-8621.

Senior Citizens' Fall Slate Gets Underway This Week

Men and women above 60 years of age have their specialized opportunities, too, in the city's fall educational offerings according to the new schedule just issued by the Senior Citizens Recreation Center.

The program of fall activities goes into high gear this week and is open to all men and women who meet the age requirements. The Center is operated by the Columbus Department of Public Recreation and the instruction is free. It is located in Old Memorial Hall at 280 E. Broad-st.

Arts and Crafts are popular with older people, and the listing includes several new features. The making of artificial flowers is listed for the first time with a Senior Center member, Mrs. Katherine Shank, as instructor. Other Senior Center members who share their skills are Fred Brust, who is listed for Wood Carving, A. E. Foster for Contract Bridge, and William Randall for Canasta instruction. Leather Craft is new this fall, the instructor, Mrs. Frances Stevens. Basketry and needlecraft novelties are also new.

Among the popular features to be resumed are a painting class which Mrs. William K. Hall is teaching for the third season, a Ceramics workshop which is being increased in schedule to meet the demand, Mrs. Edna Morrison continuing as instructor; and Painted Crafts to be resumed under the leadership of Mrs. Don Stout who is also teaching Copper Enameling.

For another kind of taste Dramatics is being added, to be coached by Mrs. Samuel Wolman who also leads the Literary Hour. Lip Reading is an important service for those with hearing losses, offered in cooperation with the Hearing and Speech Center. A rhythm

Parents, teachers and students of South High School will hear the combined voices of South's Senior and Junior Glee Clubs at the annual "Open House" to be held Oct. 21, in the school auditorium.

Gen. Curtis LeMay Slated For Honors At Dedication

SET FOR DEDICATION—This new $3.5 million Y-shaped terminal building will be dedicated Sunday, Sept. 21, preparing Port Columbus for the jet age of air transport. This architect's rendering was done by the designers, J. E. Greiner Co., Baltimore. The entire air terminal facility, including auxiliary buildings, parking lot, apron and runways, cost $12 million.

AIR FORCE Deputy Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay, a native of the South Side and graduate of Ohio State University, will be honored for his contributions to military aviation at the dedication of Port Columbus' new $12 million terminal Sunday, Sept. 21.

Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner will honor former South Sider, Air Force Deputy Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay, for his contributions to military aviation; and Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker for his achievements in the field of civilian air transportation.

Defense Secretary Neil McElroy will be given a special citation by Governor C. William O'Neill honoring him as the Ohioan doing the most for his country.

A portion of the plaque to be given Gen. LeMay will read as follows: "The City of Columbus, Ohio, presents this award to General Curtis E. LeMay, United States Vice Chief of Staff, USAF, a native son of this city in recognition of his contribution to military air strength through almost 30 years of devoted service with the United States Air Force."

Columbus, a key city in the first transcontinental air-mail service less than 30 years ago, will complete its tooling up for the jet age with the dedication of the new terminal facility.

Nerve center of the new facility is a giant Y-shaped terminal, the wings of which extend 260 to 630 feet from the building's center. The longest of these, the 630-foot passenger loading pier, has eight permanent gate positions for the convenience of air travelers. Thirteen aircraft can be loaded simultaneously at this terminal.

One wing is given over to passenger convenience, including a restaurant, coffee shop, while the other wing is designated for services to deplaning passengers such as baggage, rental cars and limousine service to downtown destinations. Exterior of the terminal is constructed of gleaming aluminum and glass with brick trim.

In addition, bids have been received for lengthening of the 8,000 foot east-west runway to an additional 2700 feet to the east, to give the city a runway capable of handling the largest jet airliners now on the drawing boards.

Gates open for inspection of static displays Sunday, at 10 a.m. Band concerts featuring the 555th National Guard Band, 8th Air Force Band, Lockbourne AFB Drum and Bugle Corps, Com. Four Navy Band, 2nd Army Band, NavCad Choir and Franklin Post 1, American Legion Band will be presented at 11 a.m.

Dedication of the terminal and introduction of honored guests and celebrities will take place at 1 p.m. A giant mass Air Show will follow the dedication. The public is invited.

Richard Merriman had a pleasant surprise awaiting him when he returned to Ft. Bragg, N.C., after a 14-day furlough with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Souder, 1717 S. Third-st. He discovered his hoped-for promotion had come through while he was home. .

A life-long South Side resident is in Mercy Hospital, Room 135. We are hoping he receives many cards. The gentleman is Frank Koch, 1308 S. Fourth-st. (Mary Merritt, Trudean Guild president, is a niece of Mr. Koch, so we hope Trudean members will remember Mr. Koch on their card lists this week.)

An early September birthday was the occasion for a surprise family reunion in Albany for 82-year-old Mrs. Andrew Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson, 1624 S. Eighth-st were among the 25 family membes who surprised the matriarch of the Wilson clan. Seven of the ten living children were able to be present at the affair. Mrs. Wilson's natal day was Sept. 9.

Kiddies birthday corner for today: George Keeney, 429 Hanford-st, Sept. 23; Pamela Moore, 394 E. Morrill, Sept. 18; James Adams, 120 Hanford, Sept. 18; Wendell Fellure, 1653 S. South High School Bulldogs will make their initial appearance on the home grounds tonight, facing Grandview.

The Loyal Women's Class and the Men's Class of Southwood Church of Christ will travel to Brinkhaven this Saturday for a picnic. The two classes will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hagelbarger, former South Side residents.

Our ailing list today . . . Roy Decker, 239 Jenkins-av, who was hospitalized. Sorry we don't know room number, but the hospital is Mt. Carmel.

Cloverleaf Clubs meeting this week, hereabouts: Leaf 11, Sept. 18, hostess Mrs. John Mandaboch, 654 Gilbert-st, 12:30 luncheon. Leaf 20, Sept. 18, in home of Mrs. Herman Sniger, 784 Carpenter-st, 12:30 luncheon. Leaf 26, Sept. 19, 8 p.m., 1164 Parsons-av, home of Mrs. Florence Southall.

James Voit, 297 E. Welch-av, has just returned to Columbus after a three-month visit in Greece, his ancestral home.

Trudean Guild 19, will meet Sept. 19 in the home of Mrs. Tom Cavanaugh, 1430 Oakwood-av, at 8 p.m.

Profits from "The Bowery Ball", to be held tomorrow night, Sept. 19, will be given to Children's Hospital. The dance will be held at 581 S. High-st, from 8 to 12:30. Twig 85 is sponsoring the annual affair.

Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Mulkin, 212 S. Woodrow- av, just recently returned from an enjoyable vacation trip. They spent time in Michigan, visiting friends. The friends joined with them on a farther trip into northern Michigan. While in Michigan, they spent time at at Interlocken, enjoying solos and symphonies for which the famed music center is noted.

Mackinack Island also listed the South Siders as visitors. Another facet of the vacation was a trip to Chautaugua, N. Y. The Mulkins stayed at Disciples House and were there during Mission's Week. Rev. Mulkin is the minister at South Church of Christ, Woodrow and Bruck.

White Cross Guild 33, South Methodist Church, meets 10 a.m. today in Henderson Hall.

Happy Sept. 22 birthdays to Danny O'Hara, 2428 Lockbourne-av, and Kenny Yunker, 158 E. Morrill-av.

Morrill-av neighbors of Mrs. John Young will be saddened to know their former neighbor passed away. Mrs. Young's funeral was held in Grove City. She had recently made her home in Florida.

According to our jottings that have been around awhile, Sept. 22 will mark 25 years of wedded life for Ann and Bob Nolan. Our heartiest congratulations to them, naturally.

"This-week" birthdays are those of George Siebert, 1568 Parsons-av, on Sept. 19; Jill Hoover, 696 Stewart-av, on Sept. 24; Doug Biegler, on Sept. 22, and Isabel Dunkle, 93, Prebis-av, on Sept. 23.

An open-church wedding this Saturday, Sept. 20, in Ohio Avenue EUB Church will unite Sally Ruby, 877 Carpenter-st, and William Wentzel, 411 S. Monroe-av. The wedding will be held at 7:30, after which there will be a reception. Both young folks are South High graduates. An interesting fact about the date is that it also marks the birthday of the bride-to-be. After a honeymoon, the newly weds will make their home at 1353 Eastview.

Among the phone calls that came last week, we had one from a bass-fiddle-playing friend of our South High under graduate days, the former Virginia Cornfield. We didn't get to talk very long, but we did learn a very interesting thing, so it may be the same to many of the readers, Virginia is the wife of Howard Drake, social studies teacher at South High School. Virginia would like to hear from her former classmates, so perhaps her friends would call her at BE. 1-0630. She teaches voice at the North Branch of Capital University, so perhaps an evening call would be more fruitful.

Here we have hundreds of father and son combinations, fathers, who want their sons to secure the lasting benefits they received in their earlier years. You can be helpful, too, by putting any idle money to work for the youth of today, the man of tomorrow.

Herrel-Ballenger Nuptials Are Held In First Congregational Church

Judith Marie Herrel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Herrel, of 1190 S. 22nd-st, and Edward Lloyd Ballenger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Russell Ballenger of 943 S. Champion-av, were united in marriage Aug. 23 in First Congregational Church.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Kenneth Eaton. Church decorations consisted of four vases of white gladiolus, chrysanthemums and carnations with several pots of palms. Four seven-branch candelabra were set among the greenery. The aisle was lined with candelabras decorated with white satin bows and greenery.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of embroidered tulle with the pattern of the tulle centered with satin florets strewn with iridescent paillettes. The dress was designed with a deep portrait neckline and enhanced with florets and short brief sleeves which were softly shirred.

The gown had a fitted bodice and extremely bouffant skirt cascading over tier upon tier of ruffled tulle over a satin petticoat and Dior hoop skirt which extended into a chapel length circular train. A princess crown of seed pearls and rhinestones held a fingertip veil of silk English imported illusion. The bride carried a white Bible with a white orchid, ribbon streamers and scattered carnations.

Dianne Maselli, maid of honor, and Janet Herrell, sister of the bride and junior bridesmaid, wore white lace sheath dresses lined in pink and trimmed with pink pois de soie with matching hats of pois de soie and lace. They carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

Larry Greiner was the best man. James Dressel was the head usher. Other ushers included Robert Eberhard, Pete Cline, Jerry Dunkle and Marty Headlee. John Herrel, the bride's brother, was the junior usher and acolite.

Time To Clean Up The News Stands

Loud objection from a local mother this past week has centered a lot of attention to a matter that has needed attention for a long time . . . that of lewd magazines on news stands.

More and more of the "arty" type of picture magazine have made their way to public display and are on sale in many areas to anyone with the price in hand. Youngsters have frequently been the purchasers.

It is time that a concentrated movement gets underway to demand that our enforcement agents put as much pressure as possible on having the sale of these magazines restricted.

But it is even more important that parents let it be known to the proper legislative representative that the law enforcement agencies need to have the backing of laws that would better define what a lewd or lascivious magazine is.

Looking At It Statistically

Bible Comment:

Even Worst Men Have The Latent Ability For Good

Joseph told his brothers that they should bring their brother Benjamin down to Egypt with them on their next journey to procure grain. The brothers protested that the loss of Benjamin would kill their father, Jacob, who had been dreadfully upset when Joseph had gone from home.

Joseph was insistent and, since the famine was so keen, there was no other way. When they next came — with Benjamin — and had secured their grain for the journey home, Joseph planted a silver cup in Benjamin's sack.

When they had gone a little way, they were overtaken and the silver cup discovered. It was, of course, a very serious situation. Judah, the brother who had originally suggested selling Joseph to the Midianites, thus starting him on his journey to Egypt, came to the front.

Assuring Joseph that the loss of Benjamin would kill Jacob, Judah asked that he be taken as a substitute and punished for the alleged theft and that Benjamin should be allowed to go home.

Here is illustrated sharply the latent capacity for goodness and nobility that is in human nature. It is exemplified quite often in men whose lives have been by no means free from serious fault but who rise to the heights of courage and sacrifice in a crisis.

This latent capacity is a hopeful fact for humanity. We find it exemplified in Americans and others, but it is regrettable that it so often requires great crises to bring it out.

Perhaps the greatest task for the Christian church is to so influence men in times of prosperity and peace that what is best in them must be expressed without the stimulus of some extreme situation.

BEST READ . . . Your WEEKLY Newspaper . . . Says an Advertising Authority

"As advertising agency people, it is our first and foremost consideration in purchasing media to try and get the maximum return for every client dollar spent.

"I don't subscribe to the thought that the way to get maximum return on the client dollar is necessarily that of buying as much circulation as possible. Rather, it is my feeling that the all-important thing to look for when purchasing print media, is READERSHIP. What good does it do to carefully weigh one milline against another, only to end up buying a lot of circulation and a minimum of readership?

"For years, I have carefully watched and studied readership of weekly newspapers and made a number of mental and statistical comparisons between their readership and other mediums that are circulated for the hundreds of thousands.

"It is my opinion, although not officially documented, that subscribers of weekly newspapers will come closer to being cover-to-cover readers than any other print medium available."

"National and state-wide news is available from many number of sources — but there is only one source for local news in a condensed and readable form, and that is the LOCAL newspaper."

—Alan R. McGinnis, chairman of the board of Klau-Van-Pietersom-Dunlap, largest advertising agency in Wisconsin.

Teen-Age Lass Attends Jr. Achievement Confab

by Lois Ann Sutphin

(EDITOR'S NOTE—In the following paragraphs Miss Lois Ann Sutphin recounts her experiences as a delegate to the National Junior Achievement Conference at Indiana University. Junior Achievement is an organization dedicated to promoting better business understanding and fair business practices among young people, in preparing them for future jobs in the world of commerce. Lois Ann is a 16-year-old junior at Marion-Franklin High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Sutphin, 473 Barcherrd.)

Lois Ann Sutphin

"During the week of Aug. 17-22 I attended the National Junior Achievement Conference at Indiana University in Bloomington.

"Each day the delegates were divided into groups of 15 to discuss personnel, sales and management problems. At the end of the week the top discussion group was given an award. The top group this year was group 14, of which I was secretary.

"I learned quite a bit about Junior Achievement and a lot more about people, but it wasn't all work and no play. In the evening a Talent Show, dances and other activities were held.

"The last evening the delegates attended a semi-formal dance called the "President's Ball" which was strictly a date affair.

"The part of the conference that was most important to me was the election of national officers for the coming year. Four officers are elected: president, vice-president, conference secretary and association secretary.

"I was one of the six who ran for the office of vice-president.

"Before we could run for office there were many stages we had to go through to qualify. Frist of all, you had to have held an office in your company this past year.

"All campaign material had to be prepared before the convention started. Armstrong Furnace Co., who sponsors my Junior Achievement group, also sponsored my campaign at Bloomington.

"After a candidate gets to the conference he must give a five-minute speech on 'The Importance of Junior Achievement to Teenagers.' If he passes the qualifying round which requires a score of 80 or above he then proceeds to the Validating Committee.

"When interviewed by the committee he must be able to answer various questions about parliamentary procedure, by-laws and so on. The committee must also be presented with two copies of the candidate's itemized campaign expense account, an outline of 100 words or less describing his background in Junior Achievement, qualifications for office and a photograph.

"This is the most difficult part of getting in the elections, because the committee cuts down on the number of candidates from 30 to six.

"The candidates were announced Monday evening and had to obtain 75 signatures for a nominating petition.

"Tuesday evening we candidates gave our campaign speeches and the case then rested in the hand of the delegates to pick the best qualified persons for the offices.

"Even though I didn't win the election I feel this experience was very worthwhile."

She has taught in the elementary and secondary schools of Columbus and has done staff work for Ohio State University and for the United States Air Force.

Her social and civic activities include Girl Scouts, PTA, Trudeau Guild and other community clubs. Mr. Scott is an experimental machinist with National Electric Coil Company. Two daughters, Ann and Sue, are in Indianola Junior High School and in Kingswood School.

Mrs. Sharer graduated from Ann Arbor High School in Michigan and from Oberlin College in Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Sharer make their home in the University district of Columbus.

Mrs. Patricia Shelkey, new commercial teacher at Barrett, comes from Penn High School and Thiel College, both in her home town of Greenville, Pa. She did secretarial work before coming with her husband to Columbus. Mr. Shelkey, a mining engineer and graduate of the University of Pittsburg, came to Jeffery Manufacturing Company from their home in Greenville.

How Much Would "No Advertising" Cost Your Business?

Some businessmen look upon advertising as an expense. When expenses must be cut, the advertising budget is first to come under the knife.

The trouble with that method is—it just won't work. The fact overlooked is that newspaper advertising represents only a fractional part of the cost of goods sold.

Advertising is the instrument which brings the greatest returns when it is intelligently planned.

Advertising becomes expensive when you don't use enough.

It's like failing to lubricate a piece of valuable machinery. You save the cost of the lubricant, but eventually you have to pay the big repair bill—and production losses while the machinery is idle.

South Wins 14-10 Blast Of Arlington

By George Jones

South won a 14-10 thriller from Arlington Friday night on the Golden Bears field. With the score 10-7 and 8:21 remaining in the game, the Bulldogs started a 90-yard drive led by their one-two punch, Williams and Goodwin. They drove 62 yards in 12 plays to U.A.'s 28-yard line, Bob Goodwin threw a winning pass to Williams on the 7, and the speedster sped in to score for the tide turning TD.

Arlington came back fighting on a 49-yard pass play from Jack Spohn to Tom Norman to the Southerners 21 with 0:47 left to go. Three plays later, Bob Jencks passed into the end zone but the ball was knocked down by the Bulldogs.

Arlington drew first blood on a recovered fumble and moved seven yards before Jenck's toe gave Arlington a 3-0 lead.

Midway in the second quarter George Towers intercepted a pass on the 15 and the Bulldogs were on the move. With the ball resting on Arlington's 23-yard line, Chuck Williams cut over right tackle and raced for pay dirt. The Golden Bears' second score also came on a recovered fumble, and Kent Jones capped the drive on a one-yard plunge.

South will be host to the Grandview Bobcats tonight at Mahaffery Stadium. The game was scheduled for tonight instead of Friday because schools will be closed tomorrow for the teachers' meetings.

South's schedule will be as follows:

Central	Sept. 26
At West	Oct. 3
Aquinas	Oct. 10
At North	Oct. 17
Linden	Oct. 24
East	Oct. 31
At Tremont Ross	Nov. 7

Splashers Defeat Of All-Stars Winds Up Kiwanis League Play

Southern Kiwanis Little League baseballers chased their last 1958 fly ball, finessed their last squeeze play and stole their last base in a rugged nine inning end-of-summer thriller between the League's All-Stars and League Champs "Splashers" at the Marion-Franklin High School diamond two weeks ago.

The Splashers won the special event game by a decisive margin with an eighth and ninth inning demonstraton of genuine sock. The game closed the scorebooks on what the coaches believe should become a pattern for the five school community-supported league. It was a smooth-running season they agreed this week.

The 1958 season was sparked with good stuff in abundance despite the early trials by weather that kids shared with the Jets and other teams. The field was frequently soaked-down between supper time and play ball.

First games were postponed, the twice around 10-game schedule was scrambled, twice-a-week practices were canceled and the season prolonged. Pitching arms and batting eyes needed special nursing while the season ran a nip and tuck race with football and school books.

Harold Miller, league secretary and coach, said, "this has been our best year because all teams have taken on a settled maturity. There has been less protest, more good sportsmanship, fewer misunderstandings, more knowledge of the game, of the rules, and of the basic ideals of boys' games."

The league is looking forward to a bigger, better next year and will enjoy the added sponsorof the Southern Kiwanis Club, new this year, but becoming increasingly active in South Side youth affairs.

Hunters Put Bead On More 'Bushytails' Than Expected

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors
By ROD COCHRAN

In the week and a half since the opening of squirrel season in Zone I, I have had a chance to talk to several hunters who took advantage of the early season.

Success differed widely as it often does. Randy Guthrie, 194 Kerr-dr, Hilliards, shot four squirrels the first Saturday in Coshocton County without too much trouble. They were fox squirrels, and according to Randy were big ones. He said a couple of them looked like small dogs.

Bob Bogard, S. Center-st, West Jefferson, didn't see a squirrel on the same day in Ross County.

The early season in Southern and Eastern Ohio was established to give hunters greater opportunity to hunt

Fox Squirrels Are Stable

As nearly as I can determine squirrel hunting in Zone II (the remainder of the state that was opened last Monday) has been good. Fox squirrels live in the small woodlots and field borders of the flatter lands in Ohio, and their population does not vary as much as gray squirrel. gray squirrels in the more forested region of the state. Hunting the heavily wooded hill country is tougher, and this section does not receive heavy hunting pressure. Also, gray squirrels are more wary and can stand a longer hunting season — hence the early opening.

reis. Only a very poor nesting season makes the fox squirrel season decline noticeably. Even a nut and acorn failure has little effect because cornfields are usually available nearby for fox squirrels.

Actually, the hunting in Zone I is better than first predicted. Before the season came in Sept. 5, the Division of Wildlife was warning hunters that gray squirrels might be down this year. This seems to be true in many areas, but what the state biologists hadn't counted on was good numbers of fox squirrels in the hill country. These big orange rascals filled out hunter's bags during early season hunting, and they're still doing it.

It seems strange to me that hunters don't go after squirrels throughout the open season. But more than any other type of hunting, squirrel hunters go out the first day and the first Saturday and then bide their time until the rabbit and pheasant season. Squirrel hunting is one of my favorites, and I enjoy it whenever I can until the season closes. That date this year is Nov. 1.

Is "Pioneer" Sport

In my mind, at least, squirrel hunting is more closely associated with pioneers, Indian scouts, and early settlers than is any other type of hunting. With their long, heavy "Kentucky" and "Pennsylvania" rifles our ancestors learned how to shoot by collecting a mess of squirrels for breakfast. Every frontier lad learned marksmanship and woodcraft in a squirrel woods. These accomplishments stood him in good stead — they provided food and clothing, and they turned the British soldiers.

So it is with a great deal of respect for the American heritage of hunting and bearing arms that I get out of bed at 4 a.m., bolt a hurried breakfast, and head through the darkness for a squirrel woods. Once in the woods you enjoy the quiet of another planet—for a while. Then you hear and watch the birds wake up; secretive thrushes and diminutive warblers.

With the dawn a breeze stirs through the trees. Finally a squirrel tells the world what he thinks with his staccato bark, and starts to rustle and thrash around in the leaves of a shagbark hickory. It is then that you see Ohio country as it was when the Indians padded like silent shadows through the forest. You can see what our forbearers saw when they came in their creaking wagons from the eastern mountains.

Virtually everything else has been changed by civilization. But when you stalk a gray squirrel cutting in a huge hickorynut tree, time stands still. This is why squirrel hunting will always be one of my favorites.

. . . and he saved up all year for this

'They were going to build the biggest sand castles ever! With towers . . . and tunnels . . . and arches . . .

But now she's just a statistic . . . her dream and her life ended by death on the highway!

No one wanted to kill her. But someone did! Just as surely as someone killed the 40,000 men, women and children who died on our roads last year.

That someone could be anyone . . . it could even be you. So when you drive this summer, take extra care. No one wants to be a killer . . . or a corpse.

Here's how you can help stop traffic tragedies:

1. Drive safely and courteously yourself.
   Observe speed limits and warning signs.
   Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

2. Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws.
   Traffic regulations work for you, not against you.
   Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

Capacity Crowds Thrill To Jones Park Hi-Jinks

Before capacity crowds every night, Jones Park wrestlers performed at their spectacular best last week during the three-day Joint Carnival-Wrestling card engineered by Bob Rogers, president of the Independent Wrestler's Association and Jones Park entrepreneur.

Over 5000 persons turned out to enjoy some of the most rugged matches ever produced at the Park.

Last Thursday evening the braggart Hercules McIntyre was disqualified by Referee Rex Rose in the first bout for continous disregard of the rules and the decision awarded Gentleman Rocky Mingo.

Then, later in the evening, in a tag team bout pitting McIntyre and Chest Brenneman against Mingo and Irish Kelsey, the Herculean veteran turned on Rose with savage fury, and larruped him with a stiff right shot to the head. Rose wilted, but managed to regain consciousness soon enough to disqualify McIntyre.

Friday evening a grudge battle which has been brewing for weeks between Mingo and Glenn Redmen wound up in a bloody finale outside the ring, but failed to settle the question regarding who is the better man.

After both grapplers had taken a fall apiece, bedlam broke loose in the squared circle. Redmen, who, the crowd swore, was scraping Mingo's eyes with a bottle-cap, managed to throw Rocky out of the ring. He then leaped from the ring apron onto Mingo who was prostrate in the grass.

With the fury of the mountain storms which nurtured him in his native West Virginia, Mingo came back fighting mad and before Obetz police could part the two, had inflicted heavy damage on Redman's head and face.

The decision was rendered "no contest" when both men refused to take their grudge back into the ring.

Saturday night, in one of the most obvious displays of strength and bravado ever witnessed at Jones Park, Hercules McIntyre took on Redman and Negro star, Ralph Hammock, in single bouts, then boastingly agreed to wrestle both men at the same time in a third match.

McIntyre, allegedly the strongest man in the wrestling world, was disqualified in the first match against Redman for the use of the IWA-denounced "pile driver" hold.

In the second bout with Hammock the redoubtable strongman pinned the 255-pound Negro in 15 minutes.

Then, in the final bout, McIntyre was given 30 minutes to pin each opponent at least once, or be pinned himself once and lose.

The crafty Hercules, knowing the strengths and weaknesses of every man he wrestles, went to work on Redman's bum knee and had the younger man out of there completely in seven minutes.

Fifteen minutes later he again out-wrestled Hammock, and before he left the ring, he stalked about with his chin and chest stuck out, announcing that without doubt he was the "strongest and bravest man in the world, and these youngsters coming up sleep in cradles at night and drink cherry cokes at the corner drug store.

This Friday evening Mingo and Redmen will be matched in an attempt to determine who is the better. Lucky Lambert and Chest Brenneman will be featured in the second bout.

Saturday McIntyre will attempt to get even for that disqualification - when he goes against Mingo, and Irish Ken Kelsey will battle new-comer Danny Manis.

Solemn City Marks Passing Of Leader

Escorted by 20 police and firemen, and accompanied by a half-mile long funeral procession, the hearse left Westgate Methodist Church, moved down W. Broad-st and wound past City Hall en route to Union Cemetery.

Flags were at half-mast and personnel of all city buildings stood at attention as the procession passed in review.

Sincere expressions of loss from friends, business associates and political figures were a testimony to his character and integrity.

His death last Friday night at Mt. Carmel Hospital, after an eight-day fight against infection from a ruptured appendix, marked the end of a spectacularly successful career.

Broke Council Precedent

Elected to council in 1955, he became the first Democrat to sit on the city's legislative body in 11 years, and last year was elected to the post of council president.

Born in Newport, Ky., Llewelyn worked his way through college and gained three degrees in a ten-year period.

Graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1932 with a degree in traffic management, he went to work for the New York Central Railroad. In 1934, after alternate periods of work and study, he received a degree in business management.

W. Wesley Llewelyn

Earned Law Degree

Llewelyn entered a night college, Salmon P. Chase Law School, and earned his law degree in 1938, and, in 1941, accepted the job of passenger representative with the New York Central in Columbus.

Entering politics in 1954, he was defeated for state senator as the endorsed Democratic candidate, but carried the city vote.

His election to council the next year started a tide that carried the Democrats to control two years later.

In the fall of 1956, he joined the Union Central Life Insurance Co., and was soon promoted to district manager.

Exalted ruler of the Columbus Elks Lodge and a state official in the organization, Llewelyn was a member of Agonis Club, executive director of the Columbus Bowling Association, executive director of the American Transportation Bowling Association, member of the Moose, Press Club of Ohio, Gridiron Club, Humboldt Lodge, F&AM, and Congregational Church.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth; daughters, Mrs. Sylvia Bower and Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hufford; sisters, Mrs. Martha Rolf and Mrs. Mary Weiss and two grandchildren, Wesley and Lorena Hufford.

Opponents Put Wallop Into Central

Central was two yards from a touchdown before time expired in the first half at Steubenville, then the host team broke things wide open with all the game's points being scored in the final two periods.

After a scoreless first half, Steubenville took charge and scored four times in the second half to whip Central, 30 to 0.

An alert defense by Central was able to hold a check on the Steubenville team in the first half. Central never seriously threatened during the last half and couldn't move inside the 20-yard line.

Practice at the Central field this week is being slacked somewhat because of no scheduled game for this week-end due to a teachers' meeting on Friday. The team has a chance for a rest up before meeting the South team on the latter's field on Sept. 26.

Indefinite Delay Seen In Filling Council Post

Next week's City Council session may or may not tell the tale on filling the vacant council seat which now seems to be at a stand still.

A crowded council chamber Monday night was the scene of the continuation of council's deadlock in filling the vacancy created by the death of President W. Wesley Llewelyn.

The business of nominating party candidates was handled quietly and calmly resulting in a vote of 3 to 3 for the respective nominees.

A large delegation of South Siders were on hand to support William P. Hoermle who was suggested for the council position. East Sider, Mrs. Constance Nichols was also proposed for the vacant seat.

Actually less than 30 minutes was spent on Monday night's attempt to fill the council vacancy. The Democrats nominated Catherine McGuire, 51, of 36 Sunnyside-ln. The Republicans placed Walter R. Snider, 56, of 2338 Brookwood-rd. in the nomination.

The vote was taken and the expected 3-3 deadlock resulted. Councilman Robert L. Van Heyde, president protem, then threw the session open to the public.

Thomas Sharp, president of the South Side Business and Industrial Association, proposed William P. Hoermle be named to the council seat.

Hoermle, operator of Hoermle's Appliance Store, 1894 Parsons-av, is a resident of 2434 Beverly-pl. Proposal of his name was supported by a petition signed by 120 South Siders asking that Hoermle be considered.

Sharp said, "the South Side is growing and needs a good representative on City Council." In closing his short speech to council, Sharp gave a brief report of Hoermle's business and civic background.

Bill Findley, co-owner of Findley's Market, 1958 Parsons-av, followed Sharp in the campaign to place Hoermle in the council seat.

Findley pointed out that the appliance store owner was civic minded and had proved his sincerity through many civic and community activities. "Give the South Side an opportunity to show the rest of the city what we have through council representation," said Findley.

South Side Entitled To Council Post!

A vacancy exists in Columbus City Council. Apparently the matter of selection of a man or woman to fill the position rests on the shoulders of the six remaining councilmen.

Three of these men are Democrats; three are Republicans. At this point it appears possible that a deadlock may develop in which neither side will give in and the result will be a six man council for quite some time.

The Spectator By C.C.Hartley

Any such deadlock that might exist for any period of time will certainly result in an extended period of bickering and resultant ill feeling in the future courses of city legislation.

The fact that there is a three to three tie in council at present makes it possible for both sides to stand pat and claim they should have the post to be filled.

While the Republicans are claiming they are entitled to something in city hall because the Democrats have most of the patronage at present it is hardly to be expected that the Democrats will turn around and give them anything. If the situation were reversed the Republicans would hold on just as tenaciously.

It is hoped that the situation doesn't turn into a two ring circus. It is far better that a capable man be selected for the post and that council get down to the multitude of chores at hand.

In view of the present distribution of representation in city council it seems to make good sense that the appointment of the next councilman be from the very large South-East.

A popular choice would be William Hoermle, South Side appliance dealer. He is a long time business man and a civic leader. He would work for the best interests of the city. We believe both Republican and Democatic voters would generally approve of his selection.

We believe Hoermle could be counted on to weigh council matters seriously and vote for those things that are for the greatest good for all the people. He is capable of thinking for himself and would vote accordingly.

It is hoped the members of both parties in council will see fit to resolve this matter in an amicable way. In doing so they should recall that they were not elected to their posts because they were stamped with any particular party label. We believe Columbus will continue to elect officials this way.

A Tribute To Men Of Vision

If you mingled with the thousands who attended the dedication of the new municipal airport terminal on Sunday you were no doubt thrilled to see the fine facility that will serve this progressive community for many years.

If you have not yet visited the new airport and terminal you should avail yourself of an early opportunity to do so. Columbus and surrounding communities has perhaps the finest such terminal in the country.

"Where there is no vision the people perish."

This terminal is testimony to the vision of such farsighted men as the late Edgar T. Wolfe and others who saw the needs of our times far enough in advance to get action that will result in services and will extend far into the future for millions.

This completed servicable structure is a fitting memorial to their vision.

Maennerchor To Entertain At Rose Park

The Columbus Park of Roses will present the "Columbus Maennerchor" as its melodious highlight Sunday, Sept. 28, at 4 p.m. as the 19th and final offering on the park's summer entertainment series.

The program arranged by Prof. Leinhauser, music director of the Columbus Maennerchor, for presentation at the park will feature the famous Men's Chorus singing many favorites of classical and semi-classical music.

Following the initial selections by the Mannerchor, the Damenchor will provide a variety with its chorus of women's voices. The mixed chorus will also give a resounding performance as the finale of the program.

Also, the Park of Roses this Sunday will have the Annual Rose Show of the Central Ohio Rose Society.

The Maennerchor, consisting of 145 members, is one of the longest established and best known choral groups in the city with its prime interest of keeping the fine music of the masters alive. The group has been in existence over 100 years.

Sunday CD Movie Features Southern Kiwanis Members

The long arm of Civilian Defense will be seen and heard in the family living room next Sunday night, Sept. 28, and will pre-empt all television entertainment between 10 and 10:30 p.m. with an important 4-channel program called "You and Survival."

Preparation of the program has been going on quietly for several weeks. CD officials, with patient endeavor, have worked out a survival plan in event of natural disaster, or atomic holocaust. They now hope Central Ohio will view it with serious mind.

Two weeks ago, members of Columbus' Kiwanis Clubs, including Southern's Norm Altman, Walter Johnson, and Lloyd Wilkinson, joined a motor caravan of private cars, taxi cabs, city vehicles and utility company trucks, in a brief excursion to Delaware County. It was a planned escape from make-believe devastation.

Movies were taken from a whirley bird loaned by the military. This movie will be shown Sunday night, along with other features, to "portray and explain an evacuation plan" from Columbus; Franklin and neighboring counties.

"Survival is now up to the individual," movie maker Russ Pennell explained this week. "We have put together a series (6 steps) of rules, advice, and principles, that apply to safety in general, and are especially applicable to any kind of disaster" he said. They include: "How to improvise," "Keeping supplies on hand," "Fire fighting," and "First aid."

The CD officials did NOT say that fomenting frictions in the Middle and Far East have suddenly made public alarm necessary. They DID say that a plan now is ready — and now is the time to listen and learn.

The cooperation of advertising councils, businessmen, WOSU-TV, and others such as the Kiwanis Clubs have made the program available.

Civilian Defense Sector Control Centers are located at Benjamin Franklin Hospital, the Columbus Workhouse on Route 104, and Hilliards High School. Headquarters are in the Josephinum Pontifical College, Worthington.

Childhood Candy Theft Is Rectified

Here's a little news item that may give some ray of hope to those who feel the world is going to the dogs. Bill Findley, owner of Findley's Market, 1958 Parsons-av, reports the following incident:

"Last week, a woman about 25 or 30 years of age came into my store and handed me a dime and walked out. She said it was to pay for a candy bar she had 'taken' from the store when she was a child. I had never seen her before and haven't seen her since!"

THE PAYOFF for winners of the Hartley Newspapers Fishing contest began this week. William Runyan, 825 Chestershire-rd (second from right) took some ribbing from the others for winning of the "world's smallest fish" division. Left to right are Donald Ferguson, 4491 W. Broad-st, with the prize for his son, Ronnie; another son Lonnie Ferguson, who also was a winner; Mr. Runyon and Mrs. Florence Emrich, 144 S. Westgate-av.

Prizes Ready For Winners Of Hartley Fishing Contest

The smoke has cleared away in the giant Hartley newspaper Fishing Contest.

There are a number of observations that we have gleaned from the contest. First, there were some really big fish caught at Madison Lake this year. The winner in the bass division was a 19-inch, four pound smallmouth—a real trophy from any fishing waters in the country. Many anglers fish a lifetime and never even see a four pound smallmouth.

The winning crappie was a 15-incher, weighing one pound, eight ounces. The catfish that brought home the bacon was 24½ inches long, and weighed almost seven pounds.

Men Have Competition

A second fact is that the women and youngsters held their own in the contest. There are several female winners, and two

Witnesses Are Asked To 'Open' Homes

Jehovah's Witnesses associated with the South Unit congregation at 1705 S. High-st, have been asked by their presiding minister Dean G. Bourne to open their homes to visiting delegates to the group's circuit convention to be held at the Ohio State Fairgrounds, Oct. 10 through 12.

In making the request after the regular Sunday services, Mr. Bourne explained, "Conventions have always been a part of the worship of Christians, and as a matter of fact the time of an assembly for worship at Jerusalem resulted in Joseph and Mary being in Bethlehem at the time of Jesus' birth."

"Hospitality to strangers is enjoined upon Christians", he continued, and we hope we may show it in full measure by providing ample accommodations."

Some 2,500 from 40 central Ohio communities as far away as Mansfield, Marion, Logan, Circleville and Washington Court House are expected. Purpose of the meeting is to give those unable to attend the international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses a little more than a month ago in New York's Yankee Stadium and Polo Grounds a first hand report of events and to coach area witnesses as to their part in the international expansion program announced there, Bourne said.

In charge of securing rooming accomodations for the South Unit is Robert Greynolds, 1055 Smbith-rd, Columbus, phone HI. 2-2443.

County Group Opposes New Amendment

The Franklin County Association of Trustees and Clerks has gone on record opposing passage of the proposed constitutional amendment providing for a federation of local governments.

The township officials group point out that township and village groups can be abolished by the amendment, thus abolishing government at the local level.

They charge that this is another step in the direction of abolishing local government in favor of concentration of power in a large central body.

It is further claimed that the large bonded indebtedness of the large cities (46 percent of the total debt in the state) would be spread out over local governments having less than five percent of the state's debt.

Retirement Values

A prominent industrialist has reached the age of retirement. Now, it is reported, he intends to spend his time catching up on his hunting, and on watching football and baseball. That is his privilege, certainly. After spending long years at work, a man has the right to do what he pleases during the rest of his life.

Yet there is something rather disturbing about the idea that a man who has been a leader in the business community can think of nothing better to do with his remaining years than to indulge in sports and games. To say it is less a personal criticism than it is a criticism of the social values that man make such an attitude not only possible, but common.
